

Manta Rays Set New Records In YMCA Event

The Manta Rays of Garrett County was one of five area swim teams which participated in the 20th annual YMCA Summer Championship Swim Meet held this past weekend at Frostburg State College. There were 21 records in A and B flight competition that were shattered during the competition and Manta Rays Gordon Savage, Erin Dabney, and Richie Orr were among the new record holders.

Savage took first places in the Junior Division 50-yard fly, 50-yard back, and 50-yard breast stroke events. He completed the breast stroke race in 39.53, which was a new record.

Dabney, who competes in the girls B Flight Cadet Division, set a record in 25-yard breast stroke with a time of 19.68.

Orr set a record in the 25-yard back stroke in the B Flight Mini-Tyke Division with a time of 32.93. He also won third place in the 25-yard freestyle.

Other Manta Rays winning first place trophies were Heather Savage, A Flight Senior Division, 50-yard free and 100-yard free; Stephanie Friend, B Flight Mini-Tykes, 25-yard free and 25-yard back; Daina Savage, B Flight Senior Division, 50-yard free and 100-yard free; Lisa Briggs, B Flight Senior Division, 50-yard fly and 50-yard breast; Dawn Scheffel, B Flight Cadet, 25-yard back; Megan Ramsey, B Flight Junior Division, 50-yard back; Patrick Skipper, B Flight Cadet Division, 25-yard fly; and Lee Collins, A Flight Tyke Division, 100-yard IM.

Second places were recorded

LOTS OF TROPHIES for a job well done were handed out to several members of the Manta Rays, Garrett County's swim team which recently completed its summer season of competition. The team members and their families convened Sunday for a picnic and an afternoon of recreation at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. William G. Savage, Turkeyneck. Team trophy winners pictured above are, left to right, front row, Kirk Myers, Stephanie Friend, Richie Orr, Preston Savage, Noelle Collins, Pat Skipper, and Josey Coviello. In the second row, same order, are Valerie Hamilton, Megan Ramsey, Gordon Savage, Lisa Briggs, and Kim Fike. Audra Speicher was not present for the photo. Below are those Manta Rays who finished with runner-up titles in last weekend's YMCA annual Championships at Frostburg State College. They are, left to right, Dawn Scheffel, Megan Ramsey, Heather Savage, Lisa Briggs, Richie Orr, Pat Skipper, and Lee Collins.

Oakland Sweeps Idamay In Pen-Mar Action As Fitzwater Wins Seventh

Oakland remained just one game behind Western Division leader Tri-Towns this past weekend in Pen-Mar Baseball League standings by sweeping a doubleheader from Idamay, W.Va., Sunday afternoon in Oakland, 10-1 and 10-6. The Oaks' record is now 12-4, while Tri-Towns improved to 13-3 with a sweep over Elkins.

Stan Fitzwater, who will likely be drafted by a professional organization this year, stretched his unbeaten record on the mound for Oakland to 7-0 as he went five innings, struck out five, did not allow a walk or a run. He was relieved by Mike Gustave in the sixth inning.

Lawrence Nesselrodt led the hitting for Oakland in the opener as he finished with two doubles and a single. He also scored three runs, stole a base and added an RBI. Phil Caruso recorded three RBIs on two hits, as did Gustave. Phil Carr rapped two hits, scored two runs, and had one steal, while Wayne Brown and Ed Wildesen each had a double.

Idamay scored its lone run on a wild pitch.

Oakland opened the nightcap with a five-run first inning, highlighted with a two-run homer by Gustave. Francis Mouse finished the contest with three hits, including a two-run round-tripper in the fourth. He also scored three runs, recorded three RBIs, and stole a base. Jim Cunningham and Terry Helbig each contributed two hits and two RBIs.

Tom Myers paced the West Virginians with two hits, while Todd Ice smacked a two-run double and Terry Ice hit an RBI single.

Mike Brady picked up the win on the mound for Oakland as he went six innings, struck out three, walked three, and allowed just one earned run. Mike Uram pitched the final inning. Oakland will host Moorefield, the first place team in the Eastern Division, this Sunday at 2 p.m., at Garrett Community College and will wrap up its regular season play on August 11 against Elkins at Southern High School.

Oakland's Steve Mohr was invited to Three Rivers Stadium on Monday for a closed try-out and, according to a team spokesman, may be drafted along with Fitzwater. "This is Oakland's strongest ever in its 12 years in the League," the spokesman said. "If Mohr and Fitzwater are drafted, it will be difficult to put together a pitching staff as strong as this year's."

Openings Remain For Frank Finch Memorial Event

There are still a few spots remaining for teams in the Frank Finch Memorial Softball Tournament, slated for this weekend, August 3-4, according to Don Savage, one of the coordinators of the event.

The tournament, which has a 24-team limit, will be played at the Broadford Park and Southern High School fields, as well as the Deer Park field if necessary. Team pairings and field draws will be decided this evening at 8 p.m. at the American Burger Center. Each team must have a representative at the drawing.

There is a $75 entrance fee, payable before the tournament begins. Proceeds will benefit the Frank Finch Memorial Fund, created for the children of the late Sheriff Frank Finch. Persons desiring more information about the tournament may contact Savage at 334-9688 or Melvin Gank at 334-735-3000.

Slingers Hold Singles Tourney

The Ringer Slingers horse-shoe pitching club held a singles tournament on Sunday afternoon at the Backbone Mountain court.

Vernon Sines captured first place in the event, followed by Carl Hultschneider, Chuck Ward, and Joe Lewis. All were awarded trophies.

The next doubles match is set for this Sunday, August 4, beginning at 3 p.m. at the Backbone Mountain court. The next singles tourney will be held August 25 at 2 p.m.

Oakland Resident Wins Deep Creek Sailing Regatta

An Oakland resident won one of four divisions in the Deep Creek Lake Invitational Regatta held this past weekend in the area of Deep Creek Lake south of Glendale Bridge and sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Yacht Racing Association.

Thomas Johnson, M.D., Oakland, won in the three races held for Laser sailboats claiming the division victory.

Morgan France, coordinator of the event, explained that there were three races, two on Saturday and one on Sunday. The 75 competitors were placed in four divisions depending upon the sailboat type; there were two divisions for Flying Scots, one for Lasers and one for Rebels.

In each race, the divisions began on a staggered start. Winners for each division were named according to their overall racing performance.

Card Of Thanks . . .

To all the friends & relatives of the late Red & Betty Martin

We would like to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all who have helped us through this troubling time.

The loss of our mother and father has left a large emptiness in our lives. The kind gifts, flowers and especially your friendship and support have helped us through.

Our mother and father had a long and happy life. We know now, much of that happiness was due to the fine family and friends they had. If our lives can be blessed half as much, we will be very lucky.

Again, thank you for everything.

God bless you all,
Bill, Donna & Doug

Rabies Clinic Cats Only

Date: Saturday, August 3, 1985

Time: 1:00-2:30 p.m.

Place: Oakland National Guard Armory

COST: $3.00 per cat

This clinic is for vaccination of cats only. Cats are the greatest domestic animal rabies threat today. Recent legislation makes vaccination of all cats over three months of age mandatory. Failure to comply could result in a $500 fine. Protect your cat and yourself by bringing it to this low cost clinic. No dogs will be allowed.

Cats should be under the control of a responsible person and brought to the clinic in a wire cage or a box with air holes. Vaccination is good for three years on cats one year of age and older. For cats three months of age to one year, revaccination will be required after 12 months.

To the Citizens of Garrett County From Newly Appointed Sheriff M. Van Evans

I would like to convey my thanks to ALL citizens of Garrett County who believed in my abilities to fill out the term of the office and expressed those beliefs to Governor Harry Hughes.

I had a deep respect for our late sheriff, Frank Finch, and I only hope I can serve this office as fairly and efficiently as he did.

I would also like to thank the Republican State Central Committee for endorsing me and to thank Governor Hughes for looking at my qualifications in making his final decision.

I am looking forward to serving the citizens of Garrett County.

Judge Hears Juvenile Cases

Garrett County Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer presided over four juvenile court cases on July 26.

The judge found a 17-year-old McHenry girl to be delinquent for a June 30 theft from the Hometown Market. The youth was charged with stealing a carton of cigarettes, valued at $8.34.

The youth was placed on supervised probation with the Juvenile Services Administration. Among conditions set by the judge for the girl were that she receive counseling, attend school regularly and refrain from further law infractions.

A 16-year-old Baltimore boy was placed in the Maryland Training School for Boys, Baltimore, after being found delinquent on an assault and battery charge. The youth was charged with a July 10 assault of Donald H. Gallier, a counselor at Long Stretch Youth Home where the boy was a resident.

The judge also ordered probation for the youth upon his completion of his term in the training school. Probation was transferred to Baltimore City.

A youth charged with disturbance of the peace at the Honi-Honi Bar, Deep Creek Lake, was found to be delinquent by Chief Judge Thayer. The judge placed the 15-year-old McHenry girl on supervised probation with the Juvenile Services Administration and transferred legal custody from her father, a county resident, to her mother, a Montgomery County resident.

A 15-year-old male, Friendsville, was determined to have violated his probation on July 10 when he stayed out overnight without permission from his parents or his probation officer. He was committed to the custody of the Juvenile Services Administration for placement in the Backbone Mountain Youth Center.

DWI Cases Heard In Court

District Court Judge Paul Stakem acquitted one person and convicted four others of charges of driving while under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol during traffic cases heard July 18.

Sharon G. DeWitt was found not guilty of a charge of DWI. Convicted of DWI charges were: Larry Hoffman, Gary C. Moore, Thomas E. Maynard and William F. Curtis. Judge Stakem fined each person $500, but suspended $250 of each fine.

Deep Creek State Park Plans Hike

Park officials at Deep Creek Lake State Park have a full weekend of activities planned including a hike and campfire programs for the entire family.

A campfire program, presented by the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service on Wildlife of Garrett County, will be held tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the Deep Creek Lake State Park amphitheater, weather permitting.

On Friday, at 10:30 a.m., a hike is planned to the Thayerville fire tower. Park officials recommendations are to wear appropriate attire as the trail is extremely steep. Hikers will meet at the amphitheater, weather permitting.

Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. a courtesy boat safety inspection will be held at the park marina.

Saturday evening's campfire beginning at 8:30 p.m. will feature a Department of Natural Resources film, "Tiffini's Lesson." In case of rain, all programs will be moved to the park garage building.

OCPD Reports New Road Signs

Chief J.K. Sines of the Oakland Police Department announced that as of July 31, a four-way stop sign was posted at the intersection of High Street and Eighth Street.

According to Chief Sines, last winter the speed limit was reduced from 35 to 25. However, speeding continued, "endangering children and other drivers in the area."

The sign was put up by the Oakland Street Department Supervisor Jim Werdebaugh and his crew.

It was also reported that on July 31 a yield sign was replaced by a stop sign at the intersection of Eighth Street and Dennett Road.

Bernards Attend WOW Convention

Tom and Shirley Bernard, Oakland, recently returned from San Diego, Calif. after attending the 40th National Convention of the Woodmen of the World/Omaha Woodmen Life Insurance Society, July 21-25.

Bernard attended the convention as Jurisdictional President of the Society's Maryland, Delaware, and D.C. Jurisdiction.

The Woodmen is a fraternal benefit society founded 95 years ago in Omaha, Nebraska. Today, the Society provides more than eleven billion dollars of life insurance protection on more than 950,000 members in 3,400 local lodges which feature fraternal, social, civic, and patriotic activities. Elected delegates from 28 Jurisdictions of the Society convene every four years to review its fraternal and business affairs and report back to the membership after the convention closes. Speakers at the convention were James E. Long, commissioner of insurance for the State of North Carolina; Roger Hedgecock, mayor of the City of San Diego; and Raymond A. Klee, executive vice president of the National Fraternal Congress of America.

Woodmen National President John G. Bookout made his report to the delegates on the progress and financial status of the organization during the past four years. National directors were also elected and installed for four-year terms.

The convention closed with an audiovisual presentation entitled, "Progress Through Fraternal Teamwork," in which Bookout outlined goals to be accomplished prior to the next national convention in 1989.

Local Girl Finds Orange Balloon

A bright orange balloon was found by 13-year old Daneille Meeks last week in the area of the White Church Road. Daneille is the daughter of Millie Loughry-Meeks of Rt. 3, Oakland, and Larry Meeks of Rt. 3, Oakland.

The only information Daneille found with the balloon was a card with the name, Steve Edwards. After much investigation by Daneille, information shows that the balloon was probably launched by Steve during a Bible School class in Aurora, W.Va.

Southern High Students Say Good-Bye To "Super Teacher" Janet Boggess

by Bernice Kepple

High school teachers probably have more influence over students than anyone else including parents, and when the teacher is able to become the student's friend, that friendship can exert even more influence over the future of that student. Influence, friendship, and support are the three words used most often by former students to describe Janet L. Boggess who taught vocational agriculture and served as FFA advisor at Southern High School for six years. Mrs. Boggess left Maryland after the close of the last school term for a new position in Montana, leaving behind a long list of achievements, a lot of memories, and many friends.

A vo-ag teacher normally spends more time each day with students and is required to teach a larger variety of subjects, not to mention after-school activities such as judging practices, home consultations concerning the student's animal project, and the Garrett County Fair.

Vo-ag students tend to be a bit more independent than other youth their age, possibly because of the responsibility many of them have had with animals and farm work since they were young. Although independence is a strong quality for a student to possess, it can often cause problems for a teacher, especially a female vo-ag teacher.

"We tested her good," said

Johnna Jones, who graduated in 1981 and was enrolled in vo-ag when Mrs. Boggess came to Southern. According to Johnna, this testing included a protest march to the principal's office after Mrs. Boggess canceled a trip to the Pennsylvania Farm Show. "It didn't get us anywhere, we still didn't get to go," said Johnna, "but it made her cry and we felt bad after we realized what it meant to her."

Johnna was both Garrett County Farm Queen and Garrett-Allegany Dairy Princess and says that Mrs. Boggess went to every contest with her to support her efforts. "When you didn't have a way to get somewhere, she was right there to take you," said Johnna. After thinking about it for a while, Johnna said, "I think she was the best ag teacher Southern ever had, and I wish I was back in school again just for her class."

An unreasonable request from a student, or an excuse for homework not done, often got the reply "tough cookies kid." Several students agree that she couldn't be pushed around but she was always fair.

Upon her arrival at Southern High, Mrs. Boggess began involving students in both state and national activities, and in the six years she taught, the name of the Oakland FFA Chapter became known throughout the state.

Five of her six years of teaching at Southern saw an Oakland FFA Chapter member holding a state office. Those officers included Region I Vice Presidents Dan Green, Johnna

The 1985 MARYLAND STATE DAIRY PRINCESS will be crowned tonight at the Sheraton Inn in Frederick. Representing the Garrett-Allegany area will be Sheila Bender of The Cove. Sheila is the daughter of Oren and Fannie Bender of Cove Run Dairy Farm. In preparation for the state contest, Sheila and the six other contestants from across Maryland attended the Tri-State Dairy Princess Training Seminar, held July 9, 10, and 11, at the Sheraton Inn in Frederick. The girls representing the six Maryland counties or areas are pictured above from left to right: front row, Kris Eckard, Carroll County; Jody Forsyth, Washington County; Kelly Vansant, Baltimore-Harford Counties; back row, Julie Walbert, South Central Area; Sheila Bender, Garrett-Allegany Counties; Kathy Myers, Upper Shore Area; and Belinda Offutt, Frederick County. At the seminar, the girls were given a chance to get acquainted with each other and to get to know more about each other's interests and dairy background. The girls were given instructions on nutrition, public speaking, giving demonstrations, hair and skin care, and table etiquette and manners. A highlight of the seminar was a visit from the current Maryland State Dairy Princess, Tarra Woodfield. According to area contest chairperson Nancy Savage, Ms. Woodfield talked with the girls about the duties and responsibilities of the State Dairy Princess. She also shared some of her experiences and some of the highlights of her reign with the contestants.

Jones, Tom DeBerry, Leonard Custer, and 1984-85 FFA State Secretary, Karen Hamilton.

Leonard Custer feels fortunate because he was a member of the first graduating class that had Mrs. Boggess for a teacher all four years of high school. "There couldn't have been a better teacher," he said. "We always depended on her and thought of her as a friend as much as a teacher."

Leonard remembers the 1983 State Horse Judging contest, where he scored top individual and the team won the state title. "Her attitude was like, wow, we did it! She made us feel like we'd really done something big, like we had just won the Super Bowl or something," said Leonard.

Leonard went on to say when things didn't go so well, if any team or individual lost a contest, her attitude was, "try again, there's always next year. She never got depressed because we lost," said Leonard. "If she hadn't been there to keep after us when she thought we could achieve something, we wouldn't have tried."

The Oakland Chapter received the State Superior Chapter award four out of the last six years; the state "Beautifying Our American Communities" award in 1982, '84 and '85; the State Safety award in 1984 and '85; and the 100-Percent Membership award in 1982 and '84.

There have been 23 State Ag Degree recipients in the last six years, including one Region I Ag-Production Star, Glen Sanders; and two Region I State Agribusiness Stars, Drew Sheally and Ken Michaels.

At the 1985 State FFA Convention, Ken Michaels received the State Star Agribusinessman award, and will go on to compete for the Eastern Regional Star, the next step toward the national award, at the Eastern Regional contest in Springfield, Massachusetts, this fall.

"Being State Star Agribusinessman is what I consider my biggest accomplishment," said Ken. He admits that he probably wouldn't have filled out all the forms and kept all the records needed if Mrs. Boggess hadn't made him do it. "She always pushed students to do what she thought they were capable of," Ken said.

Karen Hamilton, past Garrett County Farm Queen and State FFA Secretary, says that, "Mrs. Boggess was always full of encouragement and never cut you down." Karen remembers Mrs. Boggess telling her to grasp opportunities. "She always told us that there's opportunity out there and it's up to us to go look for it."

Members of the Oakland Chapter have competed and placed in many state and national contests over the last six years. In 1982 the chapter's Horse Judging Team placed first in the state contest and went on to place second in the national contest at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., with team member, Ken Michaels, placing fourth individually.

A new Horse Judging Team placed second in the 1984 state contest and was invited to compete in the International Arabian Horse Judging Contest that fall in Louisville, Kentucky. Land Judging Teams competed in both the 1982 and 1984 International Land Judging contests in Oklahoma City, Okla.

All her students say that traveling with Mrs. Boggess was always fun, and often the unexpected happened, like the horse judging team that was "mooned" by some fellows in a passing car while traveling down Route 48, or the traffic ticket no one lets Mrs. Boggess forget about. She always felt that education included a lot more than just book work, and welcomed new experiences for her students while on trips, like trying Chinese food for the first time.

Public speaking was another area she stressed to her students. Chapter member, Criss Kepple, won the 1985 State Extemporaneous Speaking contest and represented Maryland in the Tri-State Speaking Contest in New Jersey. Having won that contest, she now has the chance to compete in the Eastern Regionals later this year in Springfield, Mass., with her ultimate goal the national contest in Kansas City. Criss gives Mrs. Boggess all the credit for getting her involved in FFA activities. "She made me feel proud that my family and I are involved in agriculture," said Criss. "I don't feel that I would have planned my future studies of ag-engineering at the University of Maryland without her encouragement."

At the present time, former student and past state officer, Tom DeBerry, is a candidate for the American Farmer Degree, a national honor. He as well as others felt the importance of her support and encouragement.

The other memory her students mention is the fun they all had with her, in class, on trips, and at the fair. "Everything was funny," said Chuck Fitzwater, "we had a lot of good times, and I think she was about the best teacher I've had." John Evans remembers, "she took us on some fun trips, and the fair will never be the same without her." That seems to be the general feeling among those who inhabit the beef barn during fair week.

While in Garrett County, Mrs. Boggess was active in a number of community, county, and state organizations. She was a member of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Organization, served one year as vice president of the Garrett County Livestock Association, and organized and served as advisor of the Oakland FFA Alumni Association.

She served as Regional Coordinator for Region I FFA activities for two years, organizing various regional contests, activities, and arranging transportation to state events. She also served on a state committee to determine the dress code for official FFA functions.

Mrs. Boggess was Maryland

Vocational Agriculture Teachers' Association Treasurer for two years, spent two years on the Executive Committee, and was a member of the state FFA Contests and Convention Review and Revision Committee.

She was a member of the Maryland Vo-Ag Teachers Association, National Vo-Ag Teachers Association, Maryland Vocational Association, and the American Vocational Association.

Always interested in improving her own education, she attended the National Eastern Regional Agricultural Education Conference and Leadership Workshop in both Massachusetts and Maryland.

She was respected by other teachers and Art Refosco, principal at Southern, says that he is going to miss her. "She was easy to work with and gave up a lot of her time for the kids and the program. She did a lot for the school. She made flower arrangements for the Senior Social and ordered flowering plants for the graduating ceremonies, which she and her class later planted along with other shrubbery around the school. She was an individual who cared about the kids and the school," Refosco said.

The parents also know how much she cared for their kids, and were sorry to see her leave. As one parent summed it up, "Although we will all welcome a new vo-ag teacher, we're sure going to miss you, Mrs. B."

Last Week's Soil Moisture
Still Inadequate

According to the Maryland Crop Reporting Service, topsoil and subsoil moisture remained short this week, in spite of the rains received from the tropical depression. Five and one half days were suitable for harvesting vegetables and hay and other fieldwork.

The small grain harvest was completed during the week. The final fields of oats and wheat were combined. Oat harvest was completed a week ahead of the last two years, and well ahead of the average 75 percent harvested by the end of July. The final fields of wheat in Western Maryland have been harvested, equal to last year and the normal finish of wheat harvest.

Corn is in mostly fair condition in all areas, but some spotty areas are in poor condition from lack of rain. Eighty percent of the corn acreage had silked by July 28, ahead of last year's 70 percent and the normal 75 percent silked by this date. Nearly 45 percent of the corn crop is in or past the dough stage, nearly 10 days ahead of last year's 12 percent. Normally, one fourth of the corn has reached the dough stage by the end of July.

Apples are in fair to good condition, while peaches are in mostly poor to fair condition. Peach harvest is 50 percent completed, well ahead of last year's 10 percent and the average 20 percent harvested.

Vegetable harvest advanced rapidly during the week. Harvest of summer vegetables is well ahead of last year for all crops, and more advanced than the average harvest schedule for all crops except for lima beans and snap beans, which are equal to or slightly behind the average harvesting rate. The snap bean harvest was 8 percent completed, last year at the same time was 80 percent and the average is 90 percent. The lima bean harvest was 25 percent completed, last year was 10 percent and the average is 25 percent. Sweet corn was 55 percent harvested, and 30 percent last year, 40 percent average.

Potato harvest 35 percent dug, 20 percent dug 1984, normal 40 percent. Watermelon 40 percent picked, 10 percent picked 1984. Cantaloupes 45 percent picked, 1984 15 percent, normal 30 percent. Tomatoes 30 percent picked, 1984 25 percent, normal 30 percent. Cucumber harvest 70 percent complete, 1984 50 percent, normal 55 percent.

Alfalfa hay third cuttings were 40 percent completed, nearly 10 days ahead of the normal pace. The second cutting of other hay was completed on all but a few fields in Western Maryland, nearly a month ahead of last year. Last year 70 percent of the hay other than alfalfa had been cut twice, normally 80 percent of the crop is cut twice by the end of July. The third cutting of other hay at 45 percent complete is over three weeks ahead of last year's zero percent and well ahead of the normal pace of 5 percent cut three times by this time of year.

Weather for the week ending July 26 was quite variable. Temperatures ranged from two degrees below normal in Western Maryland to as much as two to three degrees above normal on the lower shore. Highs were mostly in the high 80's to mid 90's while lows were mostly in the mid to low 50's. Precipitation averaged 0.98 inch, ranging from 0.20 inch at Snow Hill to 3.40 inches at Thurmont.

Wolfe Attends
Southern States
Training School

Harry M. Wolfe, an employee of Bruceton Farm Service-Fratz Division, attended a Southern States petroleum sales and training school held in Winchester, Va., on July 24.

The session, one of five such conferences held across the cooperative's five-state operating territory, gave Southern States' retail dealership employees up-to-date information on petroleum supply, EPA regulations on underground storage and the phasedown of leaded gasoline. The importance of ethanol in today's market was also discussed as were several of the cooperative's promotional petroleum programs.

The school was conducted by F. Kirby Pollard, the cooperative's manager of merchandising for petroleum, tires, batteries, and automotive accessories.

Fair Board Issues
Pass Clarification

The Garrett County Fair Board has issued a clarification concerning fair passes for the 1985 fair.

Remaining the same is the "Pay One Price" gate fee of $3. This gives the holder access to all fair activities and carnival rides the day it is purchased.

The $9 weekly pass is intended to help those persons who may be working in fair booths or for senior citizens and others who want to see the fair and its activities but who are not necessarily interested in riding carnival rides. If, however, the holder of one these passes wants to ride rides, an additional $3 will be charged for each day the holder rides.

The other pass is the weekly livestock pass, issued to each 4-H or FFA member exhibiting animals at the fair. If the member is under driving age (16) a free livestock pass is also issued to one of the member's parents to enable that member to get into the fair to feed and care for the animal. The holder of a livestock pass is also able to see all fair activities, but to ride carnival rides the exhibitor must show his pass and pay an additional $2 each day.

Livestock Scales Are Approved And Ready For Fair

The Garrett County Livestock Association has announced that the new livestock scales which were installed at the fairgrounds have been calibrated and approved and are ready to be used during the 1985 Garrett County Fair.

Steers will be weighed Monday evening from 4 to 8 p.m., with sheep and swine being weighed on Wednesday.

A protective building was constructed around the scales by the Ralph Miller family: Ron and Debbie Fulk, Chuck Fitzwater, Ted Sprangel, extension agent, Lester Loughry, and Steve Kisner, the new vo-ag instructor at Southern High School.

Softball Tourney To Benefit League

The Whitacre's Apartments team of the Frostburg Slow Pitch Softball League, will sponsor a Class D tournament August 10-11, at Frostburg Lions Park to benefit the League.

The tourney is open to all Class D players. The entry fee is $65 per team, plus two softballs. Prize money, including a first place award of $300, will be presented to the top three teams, along with numerous trophies.

For more information or to register, persons may call 689-9911 or 722-4440.

Elk Garden Softball Tournament Planned

The Elk Garden High School Athletic Department will be sponsoring a double elimination softball tournament to be held August 3 and 4 at Elk Garden High School.

The tournament will be open to class "D" teams, and prize money will be awarded to the top four teams.

The entry fee is $80 and two balls. Anyone wishing to enter should contact Dave Schwinn at 446-5253.

Tax Differential

services which are duplicated by a county and a municipality. Since Mtn. Lake Park offers no educational service, this item, by law, is not eligible for consideration. Furthermore, tax differential items are limited to the amount by which they are supported by property tax revenues. Last week's article fails to mention that a sizeable amount of the Board of Education budget is from sources other than property tax.

Lastly, the article refers to an amendment to become effective July 1, 1985, when the county shall take into account special and significant benefits available to the residents of a particular municipal corporation that are not available to other residents of the county. This is apparently a reference to House Bill No. 1647 which was introduced in the last session of the General Assembly and died in committee. Consequently, this bill will not take effect July 1, 1985.

The tax differential bill can certainly be difficult to interpret or administer. However, the sole purpose of the bill is to provide a mechanism for the return of tax dollars to municipal residents who have, for years, been paying two tax rates for the same service."

At a press conference Tuesday, the Commissioners were shown a copy of the statement from the Mtn. Lake Park officials and Commissioner Ernest Gregg Jr. stated, "We do not wish to argue back and forth the issue of a tax differential. We still firmly believe this law has no place in a rural county government and we have repeatedly asked our legislators to make us exempt from a law that was perpetrated by urban areas that, indeed, have a case for tax differentials. We are not castigating the Mayor and Town Council of Mtn. Lake Park for trying to best serve their constituents. The county is serving those same constituents."

Commissioner Elwood Groves added, "We have asked many times to be removed from the mandatory portion of the tax differential law, but our legislators have not responded in kind. There is just no equitable way to implement this law in our rural county."

In response to the allegation by the Mayor and Town Council that H.B. 1647 had died in committee, Garrett County Clerk Robert Fousek responded, "I inquired of Delegate George Edwards Tuesday evening if the bill had indeed died. He said he believed that it had. Upon further researching the matter, I found that the bill had died in committee."

Sharon L. Caruthers, Lohr, with whom she resided, and the late Luther D. Lohr Sr., who died in 1981.

She was a 1984 graduate of Southern High School and had just graduated from Tri-State Beauty Academy in Cumberland. She was a member of the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church.

Surviving besides her mother are a sister and brother, Bonnie M. Lohr and L. Dale Lohr Jr., both at home; her paternal grandfather, Fred A. Lohr, Swanton, and her maternal grandparents, Mrs. Edith M. Caruthers, Grantsville, and Elvin P. Caruthers, Millersville, Pa.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home. A service was conducted yesterday at 2:00 p.m. at the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church by Rev. Richard Ogden, assisted by Rev. Gail Hixon. Interment was in the Lohr Cemetery at Swanton.

harvesting peat by scooping peat into a dump truck and hauling it to another area of land where it is spread out to dry.

Byron is not expected to be at the next meeting, but she will be sending an aide.

The peat harvesting firm sent Byron a letter July 25 about the EPA action. The Garrett County Commissioners have also sent letters protesting the EPA order to the Congresswoman, Senator Charles McC. Mathias and Senator Paul Sarbanes.

Those attending the Tuesday meeting from GCP&P were Kenneth Buckel, Rodney Grotfelty, Dale Grotfelty and John Reckner. Names of the officials from EPA and the Army Corps of Engineers were not released by Byron's office and could not be named by GCP&P officials and counsel.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I'm having a fight with my girlfriend, who insists that Karen Valentine played an English teacher in "Room 222." Please convince Denise she's wrong before we end our friendship! — C.J., Stamford, Conn.

Karen Valentine

Sorry, C.J., but Denise is right. In the first season of the ABC series, Miss Valentine's character, Alice Johnson, was a student teacher at Walt Whitman High School. But in the second season, she was made a full-fledged English teacher. Now kiss and make up!

I watch "Days of Our Lives" all the time, and wonder if Josh Taylor, who plays Chris on the NBC soap, is related to actor Robert Taylor. They do look a bit alike. — L.B., Parina, Ohio

They may look somewhat alike, but they are not related. Robert Taylor had two daughters by his wife, Ursula Thews. For your information Josh Taylor recently appeared in a Burbank, Calif., stage production of "Bird bath," a two-character play in which "Capitol" star Julie Parrish co-starred.

I was a Marine in World War II, who served in Okinawa for 11 months. I was stationed with a man named Richard Butkus, and wonder if he could be the father of the Dick Butkus I see on television. I have a photo of us together, and would like to mail it to him. Any suggestions? — F.F.C., Trenton, N.J.

You can write to Butkus, the football-player-turned-actor, in c/o Hel-Nik Farms, Route 5, Box 204, Deland, Fla. 32720. Good luck!

Hank Williams: The voice of country music

By Marc Minelli

Hank Williams has often been compared to Billie Holiday. It's easy to see why. Listen to his songs (he wrote more than 100 of them) and you'll share the pains of love and death, joy and sadness. You'll hear the voice of a troubled man, a happy man, a lonely man, a drugged man.

Hank Williams sang about cheating hearts, honey-tonkin' and ramblin' men.

Hank Williams sang about life.

Yet at the beginning of his career, Williams was often dismissed as a backwoods country crooner — one critic dubbed him "an itinerant minstrel." It wasn't until 1949 that he was acknowledged as a voice of the people.

Hank Williams died on New Year's Day, 1953. His death was officially ruled as a heart attack from excessive drinking. He was 30 years old.

To coincide with the Aug. 5 NBC telecast of "Living Proof," the film in which Richard Thomas portrays Hank Williams Jr., we're offering this trivia tribute to the King of the Grand Ole Opry.

1. What was Hank Williams' real first name?
2. Name the 1952 song that one critic said "is so good you can taste it." Clue: The Carpenters also scored a hit with the tune.
3. Who played Williams in the 1964 film "Your Cheatin' Heart"? Who dubbed the songs?
4. Williams first got hooked

on drugs when he was 17.

5. The singer first appeared at the Grand Ole Opry in 1949. He was fired three years later. What was the reason?

Bonus question: Name the significance of the following: The simple, beautiful melodies and straightforward plaintive stories in his lyrics of life as he knew it, will never die.

Answers: 1. Hiram. 2. Jambalaya, which is about the Creole stew his mother served him as a child. 3. George Hamilton. Williams songs were dubbed by his son, Hank Williams Jr. 4. He fell off a horse, and began using narcotics to alleviate the pain from a spinal injury. 5. For perpetual drunkenness. Bonus question: Williams was elected into the Country Music Hall of Fame in 1961. The phrase is inscribed on his honorary plaque.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Keeping up a late-night pace is this man's job

By Maria Tarbell

Bill Pace works the night shift. As the producer of "Late Night America," the late-night call-in talk show that airs on PBS, it's Pace's job to screen phone calls that come in from across North America. More than two million phone calls have been made — all at the caller's expense — since the show debuted in January, 1982. From the Yukon Territories to Mexico, listeners call to talk with the show's host, Dennis Wholey, and his guests, who have ranged from Jimmy Carter to Mickey Spillane, from Mr. T to Carl Sagan.

A University of Detroit graduate, the 34-year-old Pace is proud he never had to leave home to build his career. Detroit is a pretty strong television market," he explains. "ABC has an owned-and-operated station here and Kelly and Company, the nation's top-rated locally produced morning show, is also here. He smiles. Too many of my friends moved to Los Angeles and wound up producing game shows," Pace adds. "They're going nuts."

On "Late Night America," Pace is able to deal with issues of substance, such as chemical warfare weapons in space, atheism, the national debt, the death penalty and alcoholism. The last topic is especially close to Wholey's heart; he is the author of "The Courage to Change — Personal Conversations about Alcoholism" with Dennis Wholey, a best-selling book that details his own bout with the bottle.

Pace's favorite show? The 60 minutes he spent with auto magnate Henry Ford II. "You rarely get a chance to interview the man," let alone on live television, the host says. "We also did a wonderful show with Maurice Bishop, the Prime Minister of Grenada, who was killed in a coup a few months later."

There have also been many tender and nostalgic moments on the show. Example: An elderly old lady from Louisiana called to talk with country singer Mickey Gilley. It turned out that she had been his baby sitter.

We have a terrific audience, says Pace. For some reason, it's an activist audience. They're both pro and con, but they care about what's going on out there.

Oh, what silly men are we! George Hamilton stars as the delightfully daffy masked legend Zorro in "Zorro, the Gay Blade," airing Friday, Aug. 9 on CBS. (Rebroadcast)

By Renee Ross

Susan Hampshire believes that a sound mind goes hand in hand with a healthy body. "Every morning I practice positive thinking. I sit or lie down and empty my mind of everything," says Miss Hampshire, who won a trio of Emmy Awards for her starring roles in the PBS series "The Forsythe Saga," "The First Churchills" and "Vanity Fair."

ness center, where I work out with an individual trainer.

Miss Hampshire and her husband, theatrical producer Eddie Kulikundis, live in England with their young son Christopher. In addition to being a sought-after and respected actress, Miss Hampshire is the author of two books. The latest, "The Maternal Instinct," details her bout with female infertility.

The actress claims she has boundless energy because of the constant attention she pays to good health. "I must sound boring, but I don't smoke and rarely drink," she says. "When I do drink, I have wine that's been made without chemical additives."

The 120-pound actress says she tends to have problems losing weight. "When you get older," she says, "that stuff sits on your hips." Does she have any slimming secrets?

I eat three meals a day, cut out potatoes and replace cooked pudding with fruit. In the mornings, I might have one piece of toast instead of two. If you make yourself miserable and don't eat anything at all," she explains, "it's even harder to lose weight. And that's not good for your body."

Miss Hampshire's philosophy of life is simple. "Everybody's different. I'm very energetic and feel better when I do lots during the day. I get a tremendous deal of satisfaction from whatever I do, whether it's acting, writing, spending time with my family or just tending the garden."

Susan Hampshire

I think of something I really care about and enjoy. I program myself with whatever I want to get out of my day. It's similar to meditation, the actress adds, and I find it absolutely wonderful.

Miss Hampshire is no stranger to physical fitness. "I do a series of yoga-like stretches. For me, they're more successful than normal run-of-the-mill exercises. When I'm in New York," adds 5-foot-6 actress, "I go to a fit-

Jackie's jinxed line; Jan-Michael's fear

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Jackie Gleason, who recently wrapped filming his upcoming CBS movie "Izzie and Moe," had great big VII treatment while in the Big Apple. He even had an unlabeled number on the mobile phone in his dressing room trailer. The only thing is the phone didn't work.

Jackie Gleason

He tried calling me three times in one day. Three times I answered, and there was no voice on the other end. Three times I figured I got a heavy breather.

Perry puts on his best for a game-show party

By Gillian George

Game show host Jim Perry is not apologetic about spending 17 years on television, especially since he's always avoided shows that humiliate contestants and pander to audience tastes.

"I would rather host something with intelligent questions and try to subtly nudge viewers into getting interested in whatever subject I'm talking about," he says. "I even check the book that some people may even end up reading about the subject later. That sort of thing is very satisfying."

Perry regularly commutes between his Santa Barbara, Calif., home, the Los Angeles studio where "Sale of the Century" is taped, and Toronto, where he's in the 12th year of hosting another quiz show, "Headline Hunters."

When the tables are turned, what's the question most-asked of Perry? "Everybody seems to have hazy memories of the so-called game-show scandals of the early '60s," he says. "What they've forgotten, or perhaps never knew, is that most of the people involved in feeding the answers to the contestants weren't really trying to do something dishonest. They were merely trying to make their shows more entertaining by allowing contestants to reach the highest money plateau."

Perry says that, nowadays, things are squaky clean by comparison. "The way we do it on 'Sale of the Century' is fairly standard operating procedure," he explains. "Our writers come up with eight sets of questions at a time, and then the network people arbitrarily choose five. Nobody, including me, ever knows what questions will get on the air, so there's absolutely no way anybody could tip off the contestants about the answers. It works impeccably."

Apart from the educational effects Perry hopes his shows has, he has another reason for enjoying what he's doing — apart, of course, from a handsome salary and tremendous personal exposure.

"Hosting a game show is really like throwing a party. It's putting on your best face and bringing out that part of yourself that makes people comfortable and pleasant," he explains. "And when you add the exciting element of competition and get people revved up, that's when the real fun starts. Of course," he adds with a smile, "it doesn't hurt that last year, we save away nearly $2 million in cash and merchandise."

Station loses power; Billy Joel's 'Only Human'

By Marianne Meyer

Sure, it's called the Power Station tour, but if the concert versions of "Bang a Gong" and "Some Like It Hot" don't sound or look like the ones you know from the band's debut album and videos, don't blame us. Original Power Station vocalist Robert Palmer pulled out of the tour early because of the demands of his upcoming solo album, and has been replaced by Michael Des Barres, former singer for Chequered Past.

John Taylor

John Taylor, the Station's bass-playing mastermind, claims that "Michael had a special rock 'n' roll style that brought something new to those songs," but Rock View wonders whether he's not underestimating the effects of Palmer's departure. Sure, the screamers will be out in force to see the Taylor (John and Andy) half of the Power Station team, but when was the last time you ran to your turntable to hear the vocals on a Chequered Past album?

Too bad Taylor couldn't get Paul Young to take on the task. The top-ranked British vocalist finished the first leg of his summer tour with a disastrous set at New York's Iwaco Theatre, with a celebrity turnout that included Billy Joel and Christie Brinkley, members of Kiss and Scandal's Patty Smyth. John Taylor was there, too, and jumped on stage to join Young in a shout-along version of "Sex."

Other bonus guest appearances in recent weeks: While Huey Lewis looked on, Elvis Costello shared the stage for a tune at Ricky Skaggs' London gig, and Cyndi Lauper joined Patti LaBelle on one of her recent Los Angeles dates. The girls just wanted to have fun, so they dined on "Lady Marmalade" and "Over the Rainbow" before Cyndi filled in as a doo-wah backup vocalist for much of the evening.

DIPLOMACY — Billy Joel showed up at the commencement exercises for Msgr. Farrell High School on New York's Staten Island, but he wasn't wearing his cap and gown. Instead, the piano man, encased in black hat and trench coat, was shooting scenes for his new video, "You're Only Human."

A Weaver of Beauty

Magnificent tapestries, sometimes taking years to complete, decorated the walls of many homes and churches in the Middle Ages. Woven with richly colored strands of silk and wool, they often pictured scenes from the Bible. To create a beautiful tapestry required patience... skill... devotion.

Today each of us weaves a tapestry—the fabric of our lives. We sit at a loom, wondering whether the pattern of our lives will be of bright rose, green or golden threads, or whether the events will show as somber, dark colors.

A weaver in the Middle Ages worked on the reverse side of his tapestry. By looking up at a mirror, he could see how the entire design looked on the right side.

When we look up to God in worship, we can see with clarity the pattern of our lives. Attend the church or synagogue of your choice for perspective on your life's tapestry.

Kristine Maust Accepts Voluntary Service Position

Kristine Maust, of Accident, has accepted a 30 week Voluntary Service assignment with Rosedale Mennonite Missions beginning September 4. She will be serving as a nurse in Jackson, Mississippi.

She is the daughter of Elmer H. and Ida Maust of Accident and a member of Cherry Glade Mennonite Church. Following her graduation from Northern High School in 1980, she attended Rosedale Bible Institute for a year, and Garrett Community College for a year. On May 19 of this year she was awarded a BSN from the School of Nursing at West Virginia University Medical Center, graduating with a 3.6 grade point average.

Kristine has been an employee of the Summer Youth Employment Training program for two summers. While attending W.V.U., she worked as a nurse for West Virginia University Hospital and also assisted several doctors with cardiovascular research.

Western Lodge 99 Fraternal Order Of Police Meet

The Western Lodge 99 Fraternal Order of Police conducted its monthly meeting July 2 at the Deer Park Sportsman's Club, with 21 people present.

Several members will represent Lodge 99 at the National F.O.P. convention to be held at the Baltimore Inner Harbor, beginning on August 4.

Tickets for the annual summer picnic are still available. The event is scheduled for August 18 at the Deep Creek State Park, beginning at 12 noon.

New members may still join the Lodge at the current rates of ten dollars for associate members and twenty dollars for active members. Annual dues will be increasing in the near future.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for August 13 at 8 p.m. at the Deer Park Sportsman's Club. All receipts for the picnic ticket sales should be brought to the meeting.

SIX MARYLAND FOREST, PARK AND WILDLIFE SERVICE EMPLOYEES were the recipients of a variety of prizes last Thursday resulting from their winning entries in several local safety contests. A four week competition centered around the need for all Forest, Park & Wildlife employees to routinely wear their seat belts. Contest categories included poster, slogan, and essay entries. Committee members for the contest were Richard Sines, area Safety Committee representative and Mike Whitmer, a Conservation Assistant at Herrington Manor. All prizes for this contest were donated by Gerry Sword, Park Manager, and included a tackle box, an Old Spice Set, a Lec Pen, and a digital pocket calculator and wrist watch. Contest winners were all employees of Swallow Falls State Park. Pictured above from left to right, are: Foster Lewis, Potomac Garrett State Forest, winner of the poster contest; Kelvin Fearer, winner of the essay contest; Jeff Bittner, winner of the slogan contest; Leslie Eisenberger, slogan and essay winner; and Richard Sines, Western Area Safety Committee Representative. Coca-Cola Company Promotes Maryland

The second phase of the Coke/Maryland Travel Council "Capture A Maryland Memory" promotion began this week with the nine state information centers and the local tourism offices distributing free litter bags to all their visitors.

The bags show a state map and give the toll-free number for a Maryland Tourist Kit. They also carry the slogan, "Coke is it in Maryland" and give the state's toll-free recycling number.

The efforts follow a campaign which began in May to broadcast the message that "Maryland is a great place to visit." Coke trucks from the state's fifteen bottling companies carried the state's tourism slogan, red and white coke shirts were used during National Tourism Week, and free coke was given away at the state's information centers.

CIS Offering Free Booklet

There is a great deal of evidence, although not yet definite proof, that people can reduce their risks of getting cancer by eating less fat, more fiber and certain vegetables. But now do you know precisely what to eat? A free booklet titled, "Diet, Nutrition and Cancer Prevention: A Guide To Food Choices," is now available from the Cancer Information Service (CIS). The guide published by the National Cancer Institute includes lists of high fiber foods, the vegetables persons should

Something To Think About

R. Mark Durst

DIRECTOR

WHEN ILLNESS STRIKES

Most advice is easy to give but hard to follow. While it is true that the best time to plan one's funeral is while one is still healthy, this is the time one is least likely to do it. In the event of serious illness, however, there may still be time to make necessary provisions, protecting both your wishes and your survivor's feelings.

Possibly you and your spouse can talk it over. If talking about funerals is hard, if you or your family is not ready for such a conversation, you can put your thoughts down on paper.

Keep the letter informal. Try to include everything about the funeral or memorial service you'd like. You might include thoughts on the disposition of the body, type of service, who might speak, whether there should be flowers and music. Talk about the money involved if you'd care to. Often survivors spend far too much, because they're afraid to spend too little.

ESTON D. BROADWATER
ETHEL A. BROADWATER
BRENDA S. BROADWATER

A triple funeral service was conducted Wednesday, July 17, at the Hafer Chapel of the Hills Mortuary for three members of a Cresaptown family who were killed Saturday, July 13, in a two-car collision on the New Germany Road.

The Rev. Harold R. McClay Jr. conducted services for Eston D. Broadwater, 70; his wife, Mrs. Ethel A. Broadwater, 67; and their daughter, Miss Brenda Sue Broadwater, 33. Interment was in Hest Lawn Memorial Gardens in LaVale.

Born at Bond, Mr. Broadwater was a son of the late Jesse Broadwater and Annabelle (Wilt) Broadwater. He was a member of the Cresaptown United Methodist Church and a retired employee of Westvaco Corporation. A U.S. Army veteran of World War II, he was a member of the Barton Volunteer Fire Department, Westernport American Legion, Cresaptown Senior Citizens, and the Wesleyan Fellowship Bible Study at his church.

Born at Swanton, Mrs. Broadwater was a daughter of the late Josephus Howell and Ada (Bowers) Howell. She was a member of the Cresaptown United Methodist Church, Wesleyan Fellowship Bible Study, Woodman of the World, and Cresaptown Senior Citizens.

Miss Broadwater was a daughter of the late Eston D. Broadwater and Ethel A. (Howell) Broadwater. She was a food stamp clerk at the Department of Social Services in Allegany County.

The couple is survived by three sons, Mahlon Broadwater, Las Vegas, Nev.; Carroll Broadwater, Barton; and Roger Broadwater, Odenton; and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Hayes, Dundalk; and Mrs. Elaine Norris, Cresaptown.

Mr. Broadwater is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Dorcas Wampler and Mrs. Lavona Wilt, both of Savage River Road; two brothers, Dayson D. Broadwater, Dundalk; and Virgil Broadwater, Baltimore.

Mrs. Broadwater is also survived by three brothers, Albert Howell, Canton, Ohio; Elmer Howell, Deer Park; and George Howell, Essex; and two sisters, Hazel (Howell) Bernard, Swanton; and Leona (Howell) Rice, Cumberland.

JAMES E. BELL

James E. (Shay) Bell, 58, formerly of Barton, died Sunday at the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, Oakland, where he had been a patient for eight and one-half years.

Born in Barton, he was a son of the late David Bell and Anna May (Clark) Bell.

Mr. Bell was a member of the Barton First Presbyterian Church.

His only survivors are two nieces, Mrs. Daniel Laffey, Westernport, and Miss Lou Ann Matthews, Cumberland.

Friends were received Monday and Tuesday at the Boal Memorial Chapel in Barton, where a service was conducted Wednesday by the Rev. Donald Spear. Interment was in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Moscow Mills.

GILBERT H. GANK

Gilbert H. Gank, 76, of Oakland, died Saturday at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland.

Born June 20, 1909, in Hutton, he was a son of the late George R. and Mary E. Gank. He was preceded in death by his wife, Helen I. (Durst) Gank in February, 1977. He was a retired coal miner.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Juanita Dickerson of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Ilene Veasel of Baltimore; one son, Harold G. Gank of Hutton; two sisters, Mrs. Lena Lantz of Hutton and Mrs. Gladys Sisler of Detroit; three brothers, Ray Gank, and Lester Gank of Hutton, and Glen Gank of Keyser, W. Va.; 12 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Friends were received Sunday and Monday at the Stewart Funeral Home, where a service was conducted Tuesday with the Rev. Rex Coffman officiating. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

BLAINE R. DURST

Blaine R. Durst, 77, of Grantsville, died Friday at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Born June 16, 1908 at New Germany, he was a son of the late Delbert Durst and Mamie (Broadwater) Durst.

Mr. Durst was a member of St. John's United Church of Christ and the Grantsville Senior Citizens. He was the retired owner and operator of Durst Dairy Mart, serving the Grantsville area for over 25 years. Prior to that, Mr. Durst was involved in trucking.

He is survived by his widow Esther M. (Yommer) Durst; two daughters, Mrs. Eloise Finzel, Grantsville; Mrs. Mary Alice Clark, Greenwood, Del.; three brothers, Glenn Durst, Frostburg; Paul Durst, Grantsville; Gideon Durst, Accident; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys I. Durst and Mrs. Vera Merrill, both of Grantsville; Mrs. Dailey Rice, Lottsburg, Va.; Mrs. Ruby Jenkins, Randallstown; five grandchildren, and one great-grandson.

Friends were received Saturday at the Newman Funeral Home.

A service was conducted Sunday at St. John's United Church of Christ by the Rev. Connell Chaney. Interment was in Grantsville Cemetery.

The family asks that memorials take the form of contributions to the American Cancer Society or St. John's United Church of Christ.

MRS. KENNETH TICHNELL

Mrs. Charlotte Tichnell, 58, of Wilmington, N.C., died Thursday at New Hanover Memorial Hospital in Wilmington.

Born December 19, 1926, in Brownsville, she was a daughter of Mrs. Stella (Moser) Hagan, Frederick, and the late Joseph N. Hagan.

Mrs. Tichnell was a member of the Myrtle Grove Presbyterian Church.

Besides her mother, she is survived by her husband, Kenneth Tichnell, Wilmington, who was formerly assigned to Oakland as a Maryland state trooper; two sons, James J. Lightner and Kenneth C. Tichnell, both of Wilmington; three sisters, Mrs. Shirley Talbott and Mrs. Mary Crawford, both of Frederick; Mrs. Beverly Smith, Randolph, N.J.; one brother, Joseph L. (Buck) Hagan, Knoxville; a niece, Mrs. Dawn Panther, Oakland, and three grandchildren.

Friends were received Saturday at the Coble, Ward and Smith Funeral Home, where a service was conducted Sunday by the Rev. Forest Hilton and the Rev. James L. White III. Interment was in the Oleander Memorial Gardens.

WALTRUDE CLARA SUMMERS
Waltrude Clara Summers, 78, of Winchester, Va., died Wednesday, July 17, in Winchester Medical Center.

Mrs. Summers was born January 29, 1907, in Aurora, W. Va., the daughter of the late James and Margaret Wotring Fauber. She was a member of Market Street United Methodist Church and the Mt. View Reekah Lodge.

Surviving besides her husband, Matthew H. Summers, are one son, Stephen N. Summers of Romney, W. Va.; one grandchild; and two sisters, Bessie Deakins of Aurora, W. Va. and Mary White of Cleveland, Ohio. One brother preceded her in death.

A service was conducted Saturday at Market Street United Methodist Church with the Rev. William A. Jester officiating. Interment was in Mount Hebron Cemetery.

Statue Of Liberty Restoration Will Be Done In Time

Many Garrett County school children and youth organizations have collected money to help restore the Statue of Liberty. This work will be completed in time for the statue's July 4, 1986, centennial celebration, now less than 365 days away. A team of 120 American and French workers agree that the work will be done in time.

They also agree that working on the project is not just another job. Many of the workers say they feel that the statue is real, and they feel like they are her friends.

A ten-man French team has been hired to do the delicate copper embossing work on Lady Liberty's new torch and flame. The head man on the French team claims that the French did not come here for the money, but to do the restoration because the Statue of Liberty is the most important monument all over the world.

The $65 million restoration is on schedule with fabrication of a new stainless steel frame under way. This new stainless steel frame is one of the most difficult jobs needing to be done.

For 99 years, the 1,800 iron bars that form the frame have held the statue's 305-foot exterior together. The bars, curved to follow the convoluted folds of Liberty's copper gown, must be exact duplicates of the originals, down to a fraction of an inch.

Many of the bars have severely corroded over the years, and ironworkers have to heat, shape and fit to fine tolerances each new bar. The process, which includes a final acid bath for strengthening, takes three days per bar, if there are no problems.

While the American workers use the most modern technology, the French practice the craft of copper embossing called repousse, which was created in the seventh century B.C. by the Etruscans and is used by only a handful of companies today.

Most of the workers feel that the restoration is something that not only their children but their great-grandchildren will be proud of.

SPOTLIGHT-TEN

4-H AND ADULT DOG OBEDIENCE GRADUATES — Ten youth and adults complete an eight-week dog obedience class recently with a graduation obedience trial. The course, sponsored by the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service of Garrett County, was instructed by Brenda Thorn of Oakland and Ted Sprangel, cooperative extension agent. Participants had to score at least 100 points out of a possible 160 points to advance to a graduate beginners (novice) level. High scorer of the graduation group was Patty Wolfe of Oakland with her Mixit scoring 158 out of the possible 160. A beginner and graduate beginner course will be offered next spring for interested youth and adults. Pictured above, left to right, are: Christine Gregory, Oakland; John and Sam Wright, Swanton; and Shirley Foglepole, Mtn. Lake Park. Below, same order, are: George Stuck, Oakland; Bonnie Lohr, Swanton; Jamie Schmidt, Swanton; Sharon Lohr, Swanton; Patty Wolfe, Oakland; and E. Larock, Mtn. Lake Park.

Grantsville BPW Offers Scholarship

The Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women's Club is now accepting applications for a scholarship to be awarded by the club. Requirements are that the applicant must be female, must be at least 30 years of age, must have a high school diploma or have passed a high school equivalency test, and must be enrolled in a technical, vocational or academic program which will lead to a degree or a certificate of completion. For applications or any additional information persons may contact the chairman of the scholarship foundation committee, Linda Buckel, Bittinger, at 245-4287.

IRS Officials Announce Dates For Special Exam

The Special Enrollment Examination Application Packet can be ordered by writing to: Brenda Robinson Taylor, Internal Revenue Service, 31 Hopkins Plaza, Room 624, Baltimore, Md. 21201, or by calling (301) 962-3272.

This year applications must be postmarked no later than July 31, for individuals who wish to take the 1985 Internal Revenue Service Special Enrollment Examination, the Baltimore Office of the IRS has announced. No extensions of time to file for the examination will be granted.

The examination is not for employment with the IRS, but rather is given annually in each IRS district to tax practitioners who wish to apply for enrollment to practice before the IRS. This year's exam is scheduled to take two days, Thursday and Friday, October 10 and 11, 1985. The application fee is $50 for those taking all four parts of the examination, and $40 for prior year examinees taking fewer than four parts. All checks or money orders must be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service.

Those interested in taking the examination should obtain the Special Enrollment Examination Application Packet from their local IRS district office. The packet includes material on the requirements for enrollment and on the requirements for taking the examination.

Public Assistance To Be Distributed Via Automation

Families in Garrett and Allegany counties will receive their public assistance and food stamp benefits through a new Automated Income Maintenance System (AIMS), the Department of Human Resources has announced. The change to the computerized system will begin with the August issuance of benefits and is expected to affect the 4,754 families in these counties who receive AFDC, GPA and food stamps.

AIMS was developed to maintain and improve services to welfare recipients in Maryland is currently issuing benefits to families in Baltimore City, Calvert, Caroline, Charles, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne's, Somerset, St. Mary's, Talbot, Wicomico and Worcester Counties. "The expansion of AIMS to include Allegany and Garrett Counties puts us one step closer to our goal to have AIM operational statewide by the end of 1985," said DHR Secretary Ruth Massinga.

According to Secretary Massinga, AIMS will be of direct benefit to public assistance recipients by providing them with a consistent date of the month for benefit receipt, and by reflecting any changes in the clients' circumstances up to the last day of the month.

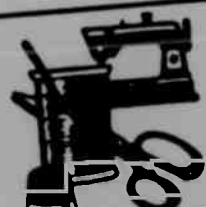

AIMS will also serve to improve DHR's management capabilities by ensuring uniformity in the determination of benefit eligibility, allowing caseworkers access to more and more up-to-date information concerning their cases, reducing the rate of error and allowing for better detection and prevention of welfare fraud.

RECEIVES COMPUTER — The students of Grantsville Elementary School will find a new computer in their computer room when they begin the 1985-86 school year. Mike Warren, head of the computer program at the school, received a check for $1,500 from the Grantsville PTA, which held a benefit at Cherrydale Farms and raised over $2,000 for the school. In the photo, left to right, are Kelly Durst and Amy Carey, students; Mary Alice Broadwater, president of the PTA; and Betty Jo Wiley, PTA secretary. Not present for the photo were Darlene House, vice president, and Judy Sebold, treasurer.

Programs Planned At New Germany Park

Special programs are continuing to be offered at New Germany State Park this week. Dr. Alta Schrock of Grantsville will present a talk on local history on Saturday, August 3. Both programs begin at 8:30 p.m. at the School House Nature Center Amphitheatre and are open to the public. In the event of rain, campfire programs are moved to the Rec. Hall near Parking Lot No. 4. Other nature programs are offered during the week and are open to the public. For more information persons may call 895-5453.

In-Service That Works

Anyone in teaching knows what in-service is. It is a meeting of teachers where new ideas, techniques, etc. are discussed and brought back to the individuals school and classroom and put to good use, right? That's what in-service is supposed to be. Unfortunately, that is not always the case. However, Pittsburgh public school employees have a system that seems to be working.

It is not a vacation, but for eight weeks every Pittsburgh high school teacher has the opportunity to participate in an in-service program that is unique.

The program puts a quarter of the city's high school teachers through a special teacher center at Pittsburgh's Schenley High School to update their subject area knowledge, learn new teaching strategies, understand adolescent problems, and even take independent research with business, city, or state agencies.

While the "visiting" teachers at the center, a team of "replacement" teachers take over their classes. The 75 resident faculty at Schenley serve as faculty for the teacher center, dividing their school day between regular classes and teacher center duties.

In the area of independent research, biology teachers spent afternoons at a veterinary hospital, and an English teacher reviewed job applications at a corporation to develop a unit for his students on writing letters of application.

The program began last year following an agreement between the city's board of education and the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers. Over one million dollars in funding was supplied by the district.

Teachers entering the program first develop their objectives with their supervisor and principal. After a two week introductory course, the teachers begin—attending workshops and lectures, teaching new students, visiting libraries, or carrying projects listed in their personalized program.

According to Judy Brant, professional resource manager at the center, other than the obvious benefits, "The greatest benefit is the heightened awareness of our own professionalism."

Tiffany.

Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Sanner, Sr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Olin Friend recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCrobie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob DeWitt, Somerset, Pa.

Tuition Money

Available Through
New Horizons

The New Horizons Program, a Single Parent/Homemaker/Displaced Homemaker Project, sponsored by Maryland State Department of Vocational/Technical Education and Garrett Community College, has available for the 1985-86 funding year which began July 1, 1985, $10,000 tuition assistance money to be used by eligible program participants in pursuing vocational training in both non-credit and credit areas. Credit tuition assistance is a new addition to the program this funding year and the New Horizons' staff is ready to make that money available to clients interested in credit classes in the vocational area.

Arrangements have also been made to assist clients with the purchase of materials to be used in taking classes such as non-reusable file boxes, workbooks, and soft backed books in the non-credit classes and up to $20 per class on college books in credit classes.

A sum of $3,000 has been set aside to assist program participants needing child care and/or transportation assistance while taking training. Income eligibility will be the determining factor in providing this assistance.

To learn more about the New Horizons Program or to determine eligibility for assistance, persons may contact New Horizons between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays at 334-9184 for more information or to schedule an appointment or visit the New Horizons office at the Oakland Center of GCC in Room 607.

NEW HEADQUARTERS HAS OPENED ON THE LAKE for A&A Realty. Pictured above are Karen Spiker, broker, and C.F. Tom Graham, sales manager, in front of A&A's new hexagonal office located on Deep Creek Drive in McHenry. The new office was designed and supplied by Mountaineer Log Home & Siding Company, and illustrates uses for the company's new contemporary profile. The new location will now house the company's main realty office, while the company's other location on Route 219, just north of Oakland, will be the headquarters for Mountaineer Log & Siding Company, although information on both businesses will be available at both locations. "We are all happy to be in our new building," said Graham, speaking for 19 sales personnel and office manager, Joyce Bishoff. A&A will continue to serve all areas of Garrett County.

A LARGE SELECTION OF PETS, FISH, AND PLANTS is available at Tropical World's new location in the Route 219 Mini Mall (formerly Youthland). Owner Barbara Visniski is especially pleased with the large selection of fresh hanging baskets and potted plants she is able to handle in the new location, along with pets and pet supplies. Tropical World is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Friday from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Energy Tips

Extension Agent for Community Resource Development
For Allegheny and Garrett Counties

One similarity that all of the home monitoring participants had in their efforts to cut back their fuel bills was to concentrate some effort on reducing the fuel needed for hot water. Next to heating, the hot water heater uses the most fuel in an average home. It also is one of the easiest places where fuel costs can be cut.

One of the first things a homeowner can do is lower the thermostat on the hot water heater. Most hot water heaters come from the factory set at 165 F., which is an unnecessarily high temperature.

Lowering the thermostat to 140°F if a dishwasher is used in the home or 110°F if there is no dishwasher will save a homeowner from $5 to $45 a year, depending on the type of fuel used. Some dishwashers have a special heat booster in them, which automatically heats the water for washing dishes. In this case, the temperature for the hot water heater can be as low as family members prefer.

Another item homeowners can do is to drain five gallons of water from the bottom of the heater tank. This drains any sediment that may be collected there, and reduces the energy needed to heat the water. (The sediment insulates the water in the tank from the heating element.)

An uninsulated hot water heater and hot water pipes can also waste energy—particularly if they are in an unheated portion of the house. Hot water heater covers can be purchased locally or can be constructed of common fiberglass insulation. A homeowner can expect hot water insulation to pay for itself within one year.

Insulating hot water pipes is also a good investment. Although the initial savings are small, every year the savings

A NEW INNLET MOTOR LODGE has replaced the old Innlet Motel. The new 20-unit modular motor lodge on Deep Creek Drive, in McHenry, is owned by Mary and Audie Roden. The motor lodge was built by Edward Wilburn, and the lakeside rooms have vinyl wall coverings, wall-to-wall carpeting, built-in vanity and hardwood room divider. The 10 upstairs units each feature a fireplace. The rustic exterior has natural siding which complements the lake setting. The motor lodge, which has four part-time employees, has been open for business since June 15.

A NEW OWNER, A NEW FACE — The new "back porch look" belongs to The Board Room (formerly Doc Holiday's), on Route 219 north of Oakland, owned by Robert Welch. The lounge is operated by Melanie Fisher, and the restaurant is operated by Linda DeWitt, each with four years of experience. The Board Room has an extensive hot sandwich menu, all kinds of salads, a variety of 16 items from the fryer, and carry-out orders, including pizza. The restaurant is open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Totally separate from the restaurant is a full service lounge, to complement the restaurant, serving all kinds of drinks, and offering a three-quarter price happy hour from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

GRANTSVILLE

The Woodmen of the World Lodge No. 41 met at the Woodmen Hall on Monday, July 22, with James Guthrie, president, presiding.

Leo Lowdermilk, Friendsville, was a guest. There were six applications received, three in Lodge No. 41 and three in Unit No. 128.

A screen door will be put on the building. A report was given on the flag which was presented to the Central YMCA Camp at New Germany.

The Woodmen of the World Ranger Unit No. 128 Grantsville, is planning a trip to Kennywood Park on August 25. Tom Bender will be the bus driver and any interested persons who would like to go are welcome. They should call 886-5362 by August 12. The fee is $12.50 and must be paid in advance. The bus will leave the fire hall at 9 a.m.

Everett Duckworth is a patient in the Meyersdale Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gnagey of Baltimore, spent this week visiting relatives and friends in the Grantsville area.

Alvin Bowser and Roy Beitzel attended the funeral of Howard Schrock in Iowa the first of last week.

Miss Renee Warnick is attending a two week art crafts school in Baltimore.

Mrs. Eleanor Richter had as her guests for Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Red Kennedy, Larry Kennedy and son, Bart.

Extended Coverage By ROB MICHAEL Agent

Sudden disaster can ruin a wonderful vacation—but you can take precautions before you leave to avoid problems or limit the inconvenience they cause.

Don't carry large amounts of cash—that makes you a target for pickpockets in any vacation spot. You're safer with traveler's checks and credit cards.

For an easier time on the road, have your trusted mechanic at home take care of all maintenance work on the car before you leave. All over the U.S. and Canada you should be covered by your regular auto insurance.

Put luggage and packages in the trunk—it's much less tempting to thieves along the way. In many cases, your homeowner's insurance will cover losses, but it's best to avoid the hassle altogether.

Have a good trip! And before you go, check over your insurance protection at

Md. Christmas Tree Growers Meet In County

Maryland Christmas Tree Growers' Association held their annual summer meeting and field day on Friday, July 26, and Saturday, July 27. The Friday session included a banquet at the Deer Park fire hall, followed by a program that featured the history of Christmas production in Garrett County, Maryland, and the nation. Approximately 180 people attended the two-day meeting.

According to Frank Custer, owner of Mountain Top Tree Farm and long-standing member of the local chapter of Christmas Tree Growers' Association, organized Christmas tree production started in Garrett County 30 years ago in 1955 with the forming of the Garrett County Christmas Tree Growers' Association. Officers in 1955 included W. W. Nace, president, and Tom Thayer, secretary-treasurer.

Custer said the following year the organization changed its name to the Maryland Christmas Tree Growers' Association, and joined 10 other states in the National Christmas Tree Growers' Association. John Adams, then chief forester for the Western Maryland railroad, was the first trustee to the national and was treasurer of that organization for five years.

Bill Nace, Tom Thayer, and John Adams were all present at this weekend's meeting and made some comments about the Christmas tree industry when it was in its infancy. Also present as guests were the present president of the national Christmas Tree Association, Therone Stone, from Michigan, and the editor of the American Christmas Tree Journal, John Feisey, from Ohio.

The founding officers pointed out that 30 years ago most

Christmas trees were wild evergreens cut from the forest, many being imported from the New England states and Canada. Custer noted, as "plantation grown trees" became available they soon replaced the wild trees, and that today, almost all of the 30 million natural Christmas trees used annually are grown especially for Christmas.

The field day on Saturday was held at Mountain Top Tree Farm, owned and operated by Frank and Lorena Custer.

There were discussions and demonstrations covering many of the operations of growing and marketing Christmas trees. There was also a tour of the farm.

Custer said several experts from the University of Maryland Extension Service, Maryland Department of Agriculture, soil consultants, tree nursery experts, and experienced growers spent most of the day demonstrating how to handle many phases of production, including handling pesticides, planting, shearing, vegetation control, and marketing. There were also exhibitors from several states showing equipment and supplies.

This was the fifth time the Maryland Christmas Tree Growers held their meeting at the Mountain Top Tree Farm.

Reports received from law enforcement agencies throughout the State of Maryland revealed that 24 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, during the week ending July 28. Of these fatalities, 11 were drivers, eight were passengers and five were pedestrians. Preliminary investigation of these accidents disclosed that alcohol was a contributing factor in five deaths, speed in 12 and driver error in 20.

Fatalities in Maryland through July 28 total 380, compared to 349 during the same period last year.

THANK YOU!

Dr. Ronald R. Tilgner, D.D.S. Will be Closing his Confluence PA office, effective August 2nd, 1985. We wish to thank everyone who came to us, for their patronage and support.

Dedication

The grand opening and dedication of the Friend Family Association of America will be held Saturday, August 3, at 11 a.m. at the new National Headquarters of the Library & Museum at the corner of First and Maple Streets.

Summer Fest V

Summer Fest V will begin Saturday, August 3, at noon with a parade from Young Bridge-Maple Street to Walnut Street and town park; Southern High School band will give a concert, queen contest, various kinds of activities, talent show, bingo, horseshoe pitching, foods, Navy Band, beverages, etc., for the day. At 10:15 p.m. Saturday, August 3 a fireworks display. Sponsored by the Town & Community Women Inc.

Children In Parade

Children in the parade are to meet at the Methodist Church at 11:30 a.m., Saturday, August 3, where they will be partially judged. After they reach the Auto Center in the parade they may disperse and watch the remainder of the parade.

Sunday A.M. Service

On Sunday, August 4, at 7:30 a.m. there will be camp wakeup activities with breakfast from 8:30 to 11 a.m., a sacred music service; church members are invited to attend.

Corrections

In last week's Summer Fest items it was incorrectly published for the fireworks date and time. It should have been: Fireworks at 10:15 p.m. on Saturday, August 3 at the Town Park.

In the article about a picnic dinner at the home of Betty Vitez, several names were incorrect. It should have been Cindy and Alice Vitez, Oakland and Mr. and Mrs. Mike DeWitt and twins (a boy and a girl) instead of sons, as stated.

Grace Lutheran

The Church Council of Grace Lutheran Church decided to cancel Sunday, August 4, 9:45 a.m. service so that the congregation can attend the Community Service at the Elementary School that morning. Members are asked to sit in a group at the service.

LCW

Lutheran Church Women will meet on Tuesday, August 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Katharine Skiratko, Pearl King and Ruth Young.

Youth Group

The First Christian Church Youth Group with leader, Mrs. Pat Schmidt visited Garrett Community College to hear the Freedom Village USA Choir from Lakemont, N.Y. on Thursday evening. The group is planning its annual picnic and swimming party in August.

Homemakers

Homemaker Club members will meet on Tuesday, August 20, at 4 p.m. to go to Raven's Inn, Rt. 40 for dinner.

Rummage and Bake Sale

The Selbysport United Methodist Women will have a bake and rummage sale on Saturday, August 10, at Peters Building, starting at 10 a.m.

Humberson Reunion

The 12th annual Humberson Reunion was held Sunday, July 28, at Friendsville Fire Hall with approximately 130 family members and guests attending. A picnic dinner was held at 1 p.m. A short business session was conducted by president Ivan Humberson. They all voted to hold the 1986 reunion at the fire hall on the fourth Sunday in July. Several members plan to do some repair work on the access road and the Humberson Cemetery on Fred Humberson's farm on Saturday, August 17. Members agreed that Ivan Humberson should continue as president and Thelma Humberson as secretary-treasurer.

GARRETT COMMUNITY COLLEGE was recently presented with a copy of the cover photograph from the "Potomac Edison 1985 Salute To Graduates" booklet. The photograph pictures three Garrett Community College students who are the sons or daughters of Potomac Edison employees seated on the lawn in front of the college. Pictured were Jeff McCauley, son of Mike McCauley; Kenny Paugh, son of Kenny Paugh; and Sheila Wagner, daughter of Nina Wagner. Pictured above, at the photo presentation, left to right, are Gerald Kremer, general manager of the Oakland Potomac Edison office; Randall Harman, president of the college; and Carolyn Shaw, editor of the Potomac Edison News, which publishes the booklet annually. Each year the booklet cover features an educational institution from the Potomac Edison service area. "We were very pleased that GCC was featured this year," said Kremer. The framed cover photograph will be hung in the meeting room of the GCC Board of Trustees.

Prizes were awarded the oldest person, Mrs. Ethel Humberson, Somerset, Pa.; youngest, Amanda Frantz, 3½ month daughter of Mark and Cindy Frantz; person traveling greatest distance, Robert Humberson, Woodbridge, New Jersey, 325 miles; couple married longest, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Friend, here, 59 years; most recently married, Gary E. and Terry Friend, Jr., here, nine months; family with most children attending reunion, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ray Friend (all four children and families) and happy birthday was sung to Mike Frantz, Hazelton, W.Va., for his 72 birthday.

Sisters Awarded Full Scholarships

Teresa Harvey

Two Salisbury, Pa., sisters were recently awarded full scholarships to four-year colleges, one located in Texas and the other in Tennessee.

Teresa L. Harvey and Christina M. Harvey, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Harvey, Salisbury, and nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper, Deer Park, are the recipients.

Teresa, 20, a 1985 graduate of Allegany Community College, has been awarded a Carr Academic Scholarship from Angelo State University, San Angelo, Tex. The scholarship is based on the student's academic record and achievements, moral character, extra-curricular activities, and leadership. At Allegany CC, she achieved a grade point average of 3.94 and was a recipient of the Ralph R. Webster Scholarship. She will major in special education for children with language and learning disorders.

Christina, 18, has been awarded a four-year Alumni Association Scholarship by Tusculum College, Greeneville, Tenn. The scholarship is awarded based upon the student's academic record and achievements, moral character, extra-curricular activities, and leadership.

A 1984 graduate of Salisbury-Elk Lick High School, she has completed one year of study at Allegany Community College. She will major in computer science at Tusculum College.

ARMED SERVICES
REVIEW

Wade Allen Deckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Deckman, Star Route 1, Oakland, has joined the United States Navy Delayed Entry Program and is slated to begin recruit training at Great Lakes Naval Center near Chicago this August.

Following basic training, he will attend Airman Apprenticeship School to prepare him for assignment into the Navy's Aviation Field. Deckman may earn a Journeyman Certificate and college credits toward an associate's or bachelor's degree through the Navy's College Program.

He is a 1985 graduate of Southern High School.

Airman Lisa K. Friend, daughter of Robert E. Friend, Oakland, and Judy L. Friend of Rural Route 2, Accident, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

She is a 1980 graduate of Northern High School.

Roberta G. Allen, daughter of George A. and Wanda G. Wassell of Bittling, has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of specialist five.

Allen is a watercraft engineer instructor at Fort Eustis, VA., with the U.S. Army Transportation Center.

She is a 1977 graduate of Old Mill Senior High School, Glen Burnie.

Airman Larry C. Reams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry C. Reams, Rural Route 1, Accident, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

During the course, students were taught aircraft maintenance fundamentals to repair and service one and two-engine jet aircraft. Maintenance management and documentation was also taught to assess aircraft readiness capability.

Graduates of the course earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1983 graduate of Northern High School.

Incorporations Hit
Record In Maryland

New business incorporations in Maryland reached a new record last year, figures compiled by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) showed today.

The incorporations total for Maryland in 1984 was 11,176, J. Arnold Feldman, director of the SBA office in Baltimore, said. "This was a sixteen percent increase over 1983," he added.

For the nation, new business incorporations in 1984 totaled 634,991, a new record and 5.8 percent higher than the previous record of 600,400 set in 1983. "The 1984 national total was almost twice as great as new business incorporations recorded a decade ago," Feldman said. "The 1974 total was 319,148.

"These new incorporations, almost all by small firms, don't always represent new businesses formed during the year," Feldman said. "Many do, of course. But an undetermined number represent existing sole proprietorships and partnerships that decided to incorporate. But the 1984 record reflects the strength of the small business community and the fact that more and more Americans are going into business for themselves."

New business incorporations in Maryland show a steady increase over the years. The SBA compilation, taken from basic Dun & Bradstreet reports, show 5,349 incorporations in Maryland during 1970, rising to 7,865 in 1976 and 8,548 in 1980.

Mennonites Plan
Special Crusade

The Mennonite Churches of the Casselman Valley are sponsoring "The Casselman Valley Crusade for Christ" to be held Aug. 18-25 at 7:30 each evening.

The speaker will be Willard Mayer of Irwin, Ohio, who is a member of the faculty of Rosedale Bible Institute with 32 years experience as a minister and Bible teacher.

There will also be congregational and special singing each evening.

The public is invited to attend the Crusade in the tent located one mile north of Grantsville along the Dorsey Hotel Road.

"9 to 9" PLANNED

The plans for the annual "9 to 9" free day of learning sponsored by the Garrett County Cooperative Extension Service are complete. The day is scheduled for Wednesday, August 21 at the Garrett Community College, McHenry Campus, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:40 p.m.

Home Economics Specialists from the University of Maryland will be teaching many of the classes along with several other qualified persons. An example of some of the classes being taught are: Diet and Cancer, Kitchen Planning, Living With Adult Children, Home-based Businesses and Retirement Planning. A total of 37 classes will be offered throughout the day. To obtain a full schedule of classes and a registration form, call 334-2145 or stop by the Extension Office in the Courthouse Annex. Registration forms are due into the Extension Office by August 9, 1985.

An added extra this year is that Potpourri of Learning Day for youth ages 8-18 will be offered along with 9 to 9 Day. A schedule of 42 classes covering a wide variety of subjects will be offered for young people. A schedule can be obtained by calling 334-2145.

These programs have joined together to offer more variety to Garrett County citizens. The day is open to all persons without regard to race, color, age, sex, handicap, religion or national origin.

FOOD NOTES

Many of you have started your home canning, but have you had your pressure canner gauge tested? If you are interested in having this done, bring your pressure canner lid to the Extension Office in the Courthouse Annex anytime during the month of August between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Also, pressure canner gauges will be tested on Saturday, August 3 at the Southern States Cooperative in Grantsville from 9 to 11 a.m. Make an effort to have your lid tested—it's a free service and can make you feel assured that your canner is accurate!

Library Corner

OAKLAND BRANCH
Halley's Comet will be the subject of the next Summer Reading Club meeting on Tuesday, August 6, at 2 p.m. Jim Hart from the Board of Education planetarium will give a slide show on the comet. This comet last appeared in 1910 and is due to reappear in early 1986.

The Saturday films for children on August 3, at 1:30 are: "The Hawk and John McNeely," "Roy, Sheepdog of the Scottish Highlands," "Broderick," and "Night Owls."

United Methodist Summer Revival Services Continue

The third of three "get acquainted" revival services will conclude this weekend, August 2, 3, and 4, at 7 p.m. at the Kitzmiller United Methodist Church. Pastor Richard Ogden is conducting the revivals. The public is welcome to attend.

Day Camp

Summer Day Camp Agape will be held August 5-9, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the North Glade section of Deep Creek Lake. Teachers will be represented from United Methodist Churches from Bloomington, Chestnut Grove, Mt. Zion, Swanton, North Glade and Kitzmiller.

Children in grades K-12 are welcome to attend. On Friday, the camp will be held at the Bittering 4-H Center from noon until 7 p.m. A spokesman for the camp said parents are to bring a covered dish to camp on Friday at 5 p.m. and are welcome to stay for the camp program. Pastors serving the camp are Rev. Hal Rotruck and Rev. Richard Ogden.

Special Education Camp Scheduled At Camp Hickory

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold a residential summer camp at Camp Hickory for Special Education students during the week of August 5 to August 9. The camp will be free of charge to all level IV students in the county, and students will be picked up Monday morning and return to their schools Friday afternoon.

Cindy Downton will be the director, and counselors will include Mary Friend, Northern Middle School; Cathy Margroff, Northern Middle School; Phil Lauver, CPA program; Bob Crowe, Southern High School; and Roseanne Yoder, Southern High School.

Also attending will be Camp Hickory counselors LuAnn Gregg, Pam Britner, Daina Savage, Rob Germain, George

Dailey and Chip Frank. Natalie Beiler will serve as full-time nurse, Doris Cooper will be in charge of crafts, and Lisa Baker will conduct a nature study. In addition, many volunteers from the area will be helping out during the week.

Twenty-two students will be attending, participating in classes which will include music, nature, arts & crafts, swimming, and physical education. Evening activities will include movies, Morris Resh with his magic show, horseback riding with the F.R.E.E. organization at Joan Sussman's farm, and a cookout and campfire with Keith Roberts and Mark Ashby providing music.

Other scheduled activities are Vicki Plevyak and her pet boa constrictor, the Ali Ghan clowns, and a visit from Smokey The Bear.

Any parents who have not been notified of the camp and feel their child might be interested in attending may call Mrs. Wilson at the Board of Education or Cindy Downton at 895-3168.

To Attend Shepherd

Cathy L. Junkins, Deer Park, has been accepted to attend Shepherd College this fall. A 1984 graduate of Southern High School, she is the daughter of Darrell E. and Nancy J.

Junkins.

Shepherd College is a state-supported, multi-purpose institution located in the Northern Shenandoah Valley, where 70 different programs are available leading to two-year and four-year degrees in business, the social sciences, education, the arts and sciences.

TO PERFORM AT FAIR — The Crellin Assembly of God Choir and Orchestra will present a program at the Garrett County Fair on Friday, August 16, at 7 and 9 p.m. They are a vocal and instrumental group under the direction of Mary Giotfelly, vocal, and Harold Hudnall, instrumental. This group has given many concerts in and out of the state, and makes its own sound with gospel and patriotic arrangements. Eddie Hershman will be playing several solos. Also appearing at the fair will be Allegheny Front, a band consisting primarily of Garrett County musicians. Wednesday, August 14, Allegheny Front will perform at 7 and 9 p.m. Rob Smith and Keith Roberts, formerly "Smith and Roberts" both play guitar with Rob filling in on harmonica and Keith providing banjo and keyboard. Bill Wharton, the only non-Garrett County member, hails from Davis, W. Va. He plays percussion for the band. Jeff Gilbert plays mandolin, pedal steel, and electric lead. Mark Ashby from Accident is the band's electric and stand-up bass player. The "Pay one price" admission at the gate of a week's pass will entitle the holder to see all these performances without an extra charge.

WHICH AGENCY TO LIST WITH?

If you are about to put your home up for sale, your first question should be—which agency will you list it with? You will be marketing one of your largest lifetime investments. It makes good business sense to select the right agent to help you do it.

The agency should be established. Years in business are important, but you also want to consider reputation. Solicit advice from bankers, attorneys and other professionals.

The agency should be motivated. It should make the extra effort to inform the community about real estate issues. Which agency asks for your business in a professional manner? The agency should be personal. A house is a piece of property, but it is also your home. You should feel comfortable and assume that the selected agency will treat you, prospective buyers and your home with due respect.

The agency should be thorough and competent. No two homes are exactly alike. You should expect the selected agency to offer a complete marketing program tailored to your particular property.

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION FIRST UNITED NATIONAL BANK & TRUST

For the purpose of organizing an association to carry on business of banking under the laws of the United States, the undersigned do enter into the following Articles of Association:

FIRST: The title of this Association shall be First United National Bank & Trust.

SECOND: The main office of the Association shall be in Oakland County of Garrett, State of Maryland.

The general business of the Association shall be conducted at its main office and its branches.

THIRD: The Board of Directors of the Association shall consist of not less than five nor more than twenty five shareholders, the exact number to be fixed and determined from time to time by resolution of a majority of the full Board of Directors or by resolution of the shareholders at any annual or special meeting thereof. Each Director, during the full term of his directorship, shall own a minimum of $1,000 par value of stock of the Association or $1,000 par value, market value or equity interest in the Association's bank holding company, First United Corporation.

Any vacancy in the Board of Directors for any reason, including an increase in the number thereof, may be filled by action of the Board of Directors.

FOURTH: There shall be an annual meeting of the shareholders the purpose of which shall be the election of directors and the transaction of whatever other business may be brought before said meeting. It shall be held at the main office or other convenient place as the Board of Directors may designate, on the day of each year specified therein in the Bylaws, but if no election is held on that day, it may be held on any subsequent day according to such lawful rules as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

Nominations for election to the Board of Directors may be made by the Board of Directors or by any stockholder or any outstanding class of capital stock of the Association entitled to vote for election of directors. Nominations, other than those made by or on behalf of the existing management of the Association, shall be made in writing and shall be delivered or mailed to the President of the Association and to the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D.C., not less than fourteen days nor more than fifty days prior to any meeting of stockholders called for the election of directors, provided, however, that if less than twenty one days' notice of the meeting is given to shareholders, such nominations shall be mailed or delivered to the President of the Association and to the Comptroller of the Currency, not later than the close of business on the seventh day following the day on which the notice of meeting was mailed. Such notification shall contain the following information to the extent known to the notifying shareholder: (a) the name and address of each proposed nominee, (b) the principal occupation of each proposed nominee, (c) the total number of shares of capital stock of the Association that will be voted for each proposed nominee, (d) the name and residence address of the notifying shareholder, and (e) the number of shares of capital stock of the Association owned by the notifying shareholder. Nominations not made in accordance herewith may, in his/her discretion, be disregarded by the Chairperson of the meeting, and upon his/her instructions, the vote tellers may disregard all votes cast for each such nominee.

FIFTH: The authorized amount of capital stock of this Association shall be 5,000 shares of common stock of the par value of Ten Dollars ($10.00) each, but said capital stock may be increased or decreased from time to time, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the United States.

No holder of shares of the capital stock of any class of the Association shall have any preemptive or preferential right of subscription to any shares of any class of stock of the Association, whether now or hereafter authorized, or to any obligations convertible into stock of the Association, issued, or sold, nor any right of subscription to any thereof other than such, if any, as the Board of Directors, in its discretion may from time to time determine and at such price as the Board of Directors may from time to time fix.

The Association, at any time and from time to time, may authorize and issue debt obligations, whether or not subordinated, without the approval of the shareholders.

SIXTH: The Board of Directors shall appoint one of its members President of the Association, who shall be Chairperson of the Board, unless the Board appoints another director to be the Chairperson. The Board of Directors shall have the power to appoint one or more Vice Presidents, and to appoint a Cashier and such other officers and employees as may be required to transact the business of the Association. The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and employees of the Association, to fix the salaries to be paid to them, to dismiss them; to require bonds from them and to fix the penalty thereof, to regulate the manner in which any increase of the capital of the Association shall be made, to manage and administer the business and affairs of the Association; to make all Bylaws that it may be lawful for them to make, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a Board of Directors to do and perform.

SEVENTH: The Board of Directors shall have the power to change the location of the main office to any other place within the limits of Oakland, Maryland, without the approval of the shareholders but subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, and shall have the power to establish or change the location of any branch or branches of the Association to any other location, without the approval of the shareholders but subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency.

EIGHTH: The corporate existence of the Association shall continue until terminated in accordance with the laws of the United States.

NINTH: The Board of Directors of the Association, or any three or more shareholders owning, in the aggregate, not less than twenty five percent (25%) of the stock of the Association, may call a special meeting of shareholders at any time. Unless otherwise provided by the laws of the United States, a notice of the time, place, and purpose of every annual and special meeting of the shareholders shall be given by first class mail, postage prepaid, mailed at least ten days prior to the date of such meeting to each shareholder of record at his address as shown upon the books of the Association.

TENTH: Any person, his/her heirs, executors, or administrators, may be indemnified or reimbursed by the Association for reasonable expenses actually incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, to which he/she or they shall be made a party by reason of his/her being or having been a director, officer, or employee of the Association, or of any firm, corporation, or organization which he/she served in any such capacity at the request of the Association. Provided, however, that no person shall be so indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in which he/she shall finally be adjudged to have been guilty of or liable for gross negligence, willful misconduct or criminal acts in the performance of his/her duties to the Association. And, provided further, that no person shall be so indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in which action, suit, or proceeding is brought by or for the benefit of a majority of the outstanding shares of the Association, or the Board of Directors, acting by vote of Directors not parties to the same or substantially the same action, suit, or proceeding, in such action, suit or proceeding which has been made the subject of a compromise settlement except with the approval of a court of competent jurisdiction, or the holders of record of a majority of the outstanding shares of the Association, or the Board of Directors, acting by vote of Directors not parties to the same or substantially the same action, suit, or proceeding, in such action, suit or proceeding which has been made the subject of a compromise settlement.

The Association may, upon the affirmative vote of a majority of its Board of Directors, purchase insurance for the purpose of indemnifying its directors, officers and other employees to the extent that such indemnification is allowed in the preceding paragraph. Such insurance may, but need not, be for the benefit of all directors, officers, or employees.

ELEVENTH: These Articles of Association may be amended at any regular or special meeting of the shareholders by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the stock of the Association, unless the vote of the holders of a greater amount of stock is required by law, and that cases by the vote of the holders of such greater amount.

Sheila Bender Is Maryland State Dairy Princess

For the first time in the history of the Maryland State Dairy Princess contest, a Garrett-Allegany Princess has won the state crown. Sheila Bender brought the Maryland Dairy Princess banner home to Garrett County after the 24th annual contest at the Frederick Sheraton Inn on Thursday, August 1.

Sheila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Bender of the Cove Run Dairy Farm near Accident. First runner-up was Kris Eckard of Westminster.

During the contest, Sheila also won the honor of being voted Miss Congeniality. "It was a total surprise," said Sheila, "I had made a bet with the first runner-up that she would win, it was a total surprise."

Judges for the Dairy Princess contest were: Irvin King of West Virginia; Mrs. Michael Weimer, a past Dairy Princess from Pennsylvania; and Mrs. Robert Kauffman, co-chairperson of the Pennsylvania Dairy Princess contest.

The contest involved a 10 minute interview in the morning. This gave Sheila the opportunity to tell about herself, what her farm responsibilities are, and other general information.

Next on the agenda was judging of the skits prepared by the contestants. Sheila, with the help of Bessie the stuffed cow who wears a T-shirt complete with the REAL Seal used on the labeling of real dairy products,

GCC President, Academic Dean Announce Plans To Leave Posts

In the midst of controversy which has shrouded Garrett Community College in the past few months, Randall Harman, college president, and Fred Learey, dean of academic affairs, this week have notified the GCC Board of Trustees of their intentions to resign their posts.

Harman will step down from his position as GCC president on August 30 and will return to his former faculty position as professor of agricultural science.

The board approved Harman's request to resign the presidency and return to teaching during an executive session Tuesday evening which was attended by all board members with the exception of Richard Browning, Sr.

Fred Learey contacted The Republican late Wednesday to report his action and submitted a letter explaining his decision which appears in an advertisement on Page 5 of today's issue. No formal action has yet been taken by the board in regard to Learey's resignation.

Pat Fischetti, board chairman, appointed a committee of board members to recommend candidates for an interim president to serve until a permanent president is chosen. Committee members are William Grant, chairman, Katharine Smith and William Goldsborough.

Chairman Bill Grant stated this morning that the committee will meet Monday evening to plan its strategy in selecting candidates to serve as interim president. "Right now, we are doing some homework to decide what we want and will expect of an interim president," he said.

Grant said that hopefully an interim president will be named by August 30.

When asked if the committee will consider candidates from outside of the college, Grant stated that that was an issue the committee will have to discuss.

Grant pointed out that the sole mission of this committee is to name candidates for an interim president. A presidential search committee will be named at a later date.

This morning, Fischetti commented on Harman's accomplishments during his almost three-year term as GCC president. "I think he took the college over at a very difficult time and did a very good job in putting the college in good financial shape at that time and putting it on the right track," Fischetti stated. "The majority of the board members had full confidence in his abilities to meet goals and objectives established and to fulfill financial responsibilities."

Harman was named interim president of GCC after the November 8, 1982 resignation of Dr. Donald Ruhl from that post. He was later named president of the college.

Until his appointment as president, Harman taught agricultural courses at the college since its inception and was associate dean of the college.

Learey Explains Resignation
The GCC board appointed Fred Learey as Dean of Academic Affairs in August of 1984. Prior to this appointment, he had served as chairman of the business division at GCC since 1976.

In his letter explaining his resignation, Learey notes he has recommended to the GCC board and president to reinstate three faculty persons — Dennis Fearnow, Don Carstens and Dr. Paul Deal — whose contracts were not renewed for the upcoming academic year. The announcement of their dismissal in April set off the controversy in the county which peaked at a public information meeting conducted by Sen. John Bambacus on July 30.

Learey also recommended that the board attempt to re-employ Hugh Trimble and Tom Bosley, two faculty members who resigned because of their disagreement with administration policies.

Although Learey expressed his belief that the college has made strides both academically and in its financial management in the past year, he believed that his continuing in his current position would be detrimental to the college and to himself.

In the meantime, the board is still working to meet the August 15 deadline set by Sen. Bambacus and Del. George Edwards to answer a set of questions the two compiled from the concerns aired at the July 30 meeting by the 34 speakers. Among issues raised by the speakers were questions about Harman's leadership and the board's approval of his new salary of $43,500.

"LIVING HISTORY: 1770-1790" was the theme of the Friendsville Summer Festival V held August 3 and 4, sponsored by the Friendsville Town and Community Women, Inc. Pictured in the line of march on Saturday is the Parade Grand Marshal, the John Hanson Patriots Fire and Drum Corps. The Patriots, from Indian Head, travel throughout the East Coast area to participate in parades. They were organized in 1969 and have 20 performing members. The Revolutionary era life and drum corps also performed in the opening ceremonies. Many other activities were held during Summer Festival V including encampment, enactment, and demonstrations by Fraser's Highlanders, the Wild Geese Mountain Men, and the American Indian Inter Tribal Cultural Organization. The festival was partially funded by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland Arts Council.

Area Residents Asked To Help Find Gray Cat

Kay Harvey and the Garrett County Health Department are asking Oakland area residents to help in the search for "Thomas", a large, short-haired tom cat with a shiny coat. Thomas is predominately gray with a white stomach and is very tame.

It is important that Thomas be located so that Mrs. Harvey's son, 13-year-old Robert William Harvey, does not need to undergo a series of rabies shots.

Robert was taking his cat, Thomas, to the Health Department's Cats Only Rabies Clinic at the Oakland Armory on Saturday, August 3, when the cat became frightened upon approaching the Armory, and escaped from his box, biting Robert in the process.

Mrs. Harvey feels that the cat could not have been exposed to rabies, however to be safe, Robert will begin the shots on Friday if the cat is not found.

The Garrett County Animal Shelter has been looking for Thomas all week, and the cat was reportedly last seen in the Dennett Road area on Sunday. Anyone with information on the cat should call: Mrs. Kay Harvey at 387-6907; the Animal Shelter at 334-3553; or Emergency Management at 334-9401.

Except for the loss of Thomas, the cats only clinic was considered very successful by Health Department officials, with a total of 154 cats given rabies vaccinations. Because of this success, a cats only clinic is being planned for the Grantsville area in the near future.

Variety Of Entertainment, New 4-H Events Mark Fair Schedule

A large variety of popular activities and entertainment plus three new 4-H events will be featured at the 1985 Garrett County Fair.

The fair which is located at McHenry will begin Sunday, August 11, at 3 p.m., with the 4-H Fashion Revue. The theme for the revue will be "A Calendar of Fashions", with 4-H members modeling clothing they have made, that which was made by others, or commercial clothing. At 7 p.m. an Inter-denominational Vesper Service will be held, followed by the crowning of the Garrett County Farm Queen. All events will be held at the stage, grandstand area.

Only commercial exhibits will be on display in the exhibit barns on Monday, August 12. Those commercial exhibits must be in place by 5 p.m. A Demolition Derby will take place at 7 p.m., sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Fire Company. Gambill Amusements will open on Monday night for their second year at the Garrett County Fair.

On Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. all 4-H, FFA, school and adult exhibits will be entered with exhibit barns opening at 6:30 p.m. and closing at 10 p.m. By 6 p.m. all livestock exhibits must be in place. The light-weight Tractor Pulling contest will begin at 1 p.m. Qualifying rounds of the Horseshoe Pitching begin at 6 p.m. A Horsemanship Contest is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. for all 4-H and FFA members. Various items of tack, grooming tools, and feeds, along with questions concerning lamenesses and breeds of horses are to be identified and answered for ribbon prizes.

Tuesday night also features Roger Ware & "Southpaw" performing at 7 and 9 p.m. and the heavy-weight Tractor Pulling contest beginning at 7 p.m.

All exhibits will be judged Wednesday morning and exhibit barns will be open to the public from 1:30 to 10 p.m. FFA, 4-H and Adult Swine judging will begin at 9:30 a.m. Adult Pony judging will begin at 10 a.m., followed by 4-H Pony judging at 10:30 a.m. Also beginning at 10:30 a.m. will be the 4-H and FFA Sheep Fitting and Showing contest, with Adult, 4-H, and FFA Sheep Judging in-

Lion Mauls Swanton Man At Local Zoo

An African male lion caged at Round Glade Wild Kingdom, Oakland-Sang Run Road, bit and clawed a 33-year-old Swanton man last night who allegedly was on the grounds after zoo hours and without permission.

Richard L. Craver was listed in "satisfactory" condition this morning at Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he was admitted last night after being transported there by the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad.

Garrett County Deputy Russell Drenning, who is investigating the incident, reported last night that the lion bit Craver's right hand and right side of his chest. Information on whether Craver had inserted his arm through the bars of the cage or whether the lion had pulled his arm into the cage was not available.

Garrett Emergency Management received the call at 8:20 p.m. Deputy Don Tucker responded to the scene along with the Rescue Squad. Dep. Drenning went to the hospital to query Craver.

Drenning said that Craver and his friend, Henry C. McClelland, were at the zoo without the permission of owner Edward Moore, Rt. 5, Oakland, or Ralph Strawser, Terra Alta, W. Va., who leases the zoo. Strawser left the zoo at 6:10 p.m. last night and the two reportedly entered the zoo at 8 p.m.

Dep. Drenning said this morning he is filing charges of trespassing against the two men. The deputy added that he filed a report this morning with the Garrett County Health Department. The animal is to be kept under observation for a period of time.

Possible Sites For New MVA Office Revealed

Maryland Transportation officials discussed possible sites for a new Motor Vehicle Administration full-service branch office to replace offices at LaVale by 1988 with Allegany and Garrett County lawmakers and commissioners August 1.

In ranking the possible sites, the officials noted that a 10.3-acre site, at Route 40 and DeHaven Road in Allegany County, was the only state-owned site of 10 studied which met all state criteria, but the state is interested in land at the intersection of Route 36 and Route 48. The first site is east of Cumberland, while the second is near Friendsville.

Motor Vehicle Administrator Marshall Rickert said his agency is still examining ways to expand satellite office service in Garrett County.

The new office, which would be advertised for bids in 1986 and completed by 1988, would cost $1.5 million to $2 million and would nearly triple the space of the 3,600-square-foot MVA office at the Seawest Shopping Center in LaVale.

During the 90-minute meeting in the Allegany County Commissioners' office, Department of Transportation Deputy Secretary David Wagner asked those present to suggest other suitable sites for the full-service office and a part-time office at Garrett County. Rickert noted that the state will accept other suggestions until MDOT selects a site by October.

State Sen. John N. Bambacus (Allegany-Garrett) and Del. George C. Edwards (Garrett-Allegany) said they hope the state expands services for Garrett County residents who live well beyond the MVA's goal of providing a branch office within a 30-minute drive from the majority of state motorists.

Edwards pointed out that Oakland residents would have to make a 110-mile round trip to an office east of Cumberland.

Although the Allegany County population continues to decline, the number of Garrett County residents is growing larger, Edwards noted.

Edwards advocated the idea

Commissioners Accept Bids For Land Fill, Bridges

At a press conference on Tuesday, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners announced that during a Road Board Session, three bid openings were received for the extension of excavation at the Round Glade land fill.

Frank Arnold was the apparent low bidder at $6.60 a cubic yard, for a total of $72,600 and 121,000 cubic yards of dirt. The Garrett County Roads Department will now review the bids and submit their recommendations to the commissioners.

Bids were also opened on bridge inspections, which is a state requirement for the county in order to receive state and federal money allocations.

Bids were received from the following companies: Beavins Company, Baltimore, $23,530; Harris-Smartiga, Hagerstown, $12,640; Wallace and Montgomery, Baltimore, $38,870; Wilson Ballard Co., Owings Mills, $50,690; and Nassaux-Hensely, Inc., Chambersburg, Pa., $86,984.

The bids were then turned over to the Garrett County Roads Department for recommendation and evaluation.

The commissioners also reviewed the status of the Wilson Road with several citizens MARYLAND'S DAIRY PRINCESS — Sheila Bender, above right, is shown being crowned Maryland State Dairy Princess by Terra Woodfield of Clarksburg, the 1984 State Dairy Princess. The ceremony was held Thursday, August 1, at the Sheraton Inn in Frederick, and was the state's 24th annual Dairy Princess contest. Sheila, however, is the first State Dairy Princess in the history of the contest to come from Western Maryland.

THE FRIEND FAMILY ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA — Friendsville Summer Festival V was kicked off last Saturday by the official opening of the national headquarters, library, museum, and Friendship Store of the Friend Family Association of America. Present for the ceremonies were Association President Byron Friend, center left, and Col. Lester D. Friend Sr., center right, founder of the association. Joining them for the ceremony were tribal dignitaries along with local and state governmental dignitaries. The association is dedicated to the collection, preservation and sharing of genealogical and historical information so that the record of their pioneer ancestor is not lost to posterity. Friendsville was selected for the national headquarters because of the family's history there having been founded by John Friend in 1765, and because of the availability of the needed building requirements both now and for the future.

Project Begins On Big Run

Members of the Youghiogheny and Nemacolin Chapters of Trout Unlimited, along with Maryland Department of Natural Resources personnel, completed the first part of a four part restoration project on Big Run.

The work, which was done on Saturday, July 27, was on the section of the stream below Savage River Road, adjacent to the campground in Big Run State Park. According to Yough Chapter President Charlie Moore, portions of Big Run are devoid of trout habitat due to stream channelization. The work done consisted of removing large rocks from the stream bank and placing them in the stream. This was done both by hand and with the use of a winch truck supplied by the Deer Park Fire Department.

Water flowing over and around these large rocks will create holes in the stream channel which will provide improved conditions for the brook trout population. A population survey of the area was done prior to the work to enable the effectiveness of the work to be assessed by comparing the results to later surveys.

The work crew consisted of Youghiogheny Chapter members: Allen Naylor, Dwayne Weaver, Grant Felton, Charlie Moore, Dave Cathell, John Coffman, Gordon Green, Jack King, Granville Halterman, Rudy Cvetnick, Chester Evans, Larry Bayles, Joe Sheffield, Jim Fearer and Todd Fearer; Nemacolin Chapter members: John Norris, Tom Vogtman and Bill Vogtman; Maryland DNR was represented by David Woronecki, Howard Steinfelt and Bob Davis.

Workday Planned At Fairgrounds

A workday to complete final preparations for the 1985 Garrett County Fair will be held Saturday, August 10, beginning at 10 a.m., announced Lee Shillingburg, fair board president.

All directors and superintendents are asked to attend. Public Relations Chairperson Loretta Opel explained that this would also be a good opportunity for 4-H clubs or FFA chapters to help with necessary repairs, grass cutting, and other ground work that must be done.

Clark Serving Jail Sentence For Striking Garrett Deputy

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney has sentenced a 35-year-old Ridgeley, W. Va. man to 18 months in the Allegany County Jail and fined him $200 for battering a Garrett County deputy.

Glynn M. Clark received his sentence in court on July 30. He pled guilty to the charge in court on May 28 at which time the judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Judge Turney suspended 17 months of Clark's sentence and placed him on 24 months of supervised probation to begin after he completes the one-month jail term which began July 31. The judge also recommended Clark for work release while in jail.

Clark was charged by Deputy Philip Buckel, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, for striking him in the chest and kicking him while he was attempting to arrest Clark on April 19.

In other court cases, Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation for a 32-year-old Kingwood, W. Va. man who pled guilty to charges of possession of marijuana and carrying a handgun. A charge of unlawful manufacturing was not prosecuted.

Representing Clark was his attorney, Lawrence Kelly, Cumberland.

Larry C. DeBerry, Sr. was charged by Tfc. R. Jay Resh, Maryland State Police, after the trooper arrested DeBerry on May 17 for suspected driving while under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol. During the course of the arrest, Resh observed a plant and four seedlings which he thought to be marijuana and observed a handgun in the glove box.

DeBerry's attorney was John Toston, public defender.

Judge Turney fined Timothy C. Liller, 20, Oakland, $250 and sentenced him to 18 months with the Division of Corrections after finding him guilty of breaking and entering a dwelling. The judge suspended the prison term and placed Liller on 18 months of supervised probation.

Tfc. Gordon Chaney, Maryland State Police, filed the charge against Liller after Clarence Duke, owner of a home on Pergin Farm Road, discovered Liller and three friends in the residence. Liller had used a hidden key to unlock a door to gain entry.

Also convicted in the same incident was Leslie A. Bittinger, 19, Deer Park, who received a $250 fine and 18 months with the Division of Corrections. The prison term was suspended and Bittinger was placed on 18 months of supervised probation.

Bittinger was represented by Michael Morrisette, an Oakland attorney, while Liller was represented by John Toston.

Betty Durst, 46, Grantsville, received probation before judgment on a charge of submitting a false statement to a police officer. The judge sentenced her to six months in the Garrett County Jail but suspended the sentence and placed her on six months of unsupervised probation.

The judge also fined Durst $100.

Tfc. David Broadwater, Maryland State Police, charged Durst with making the false complaint on May 30.

The policeman reported in court documents that Durst reported that $357 and a pocketbook had been stolen, but then found the items one week later. She failed to report it to police and her insurance company which had issued her a $112 check. The check was returned.

The judge granted Brian R. Smith, 18, Mountain Lake Park, probation before judgment on a theft charge filed by Deputy Philip Buckel. Smith received a $50 fine and six months of unsupervised probation.

Smith was charged with the June 2 theft of a front grille and two parking light rings from a car owned by Glenn Green, Sr.

A battery charge filed against Jack A. Hornby, 32, Friendsville, by Ida Hornby, Friendsville was not prosecuted.

Also not prosecuted was a battery charge against Duane Stein, 24, Grantsville, filed by Cheryl Stein.

Cases placed on the set docket were an unlawful use of telephone charge filed against Dale Beal, 36, Frostburg; a battery charge filed against Steven E. Beachy, 20, Grantsville, by Cpl. Michael Mattingly; and a battery charge filed against James L. Nicholas, 20, Deer Park, by Robin A. Nicholas, Deer Park.

A malicious destruction of property charge filed against George P. Garmon, 68, Swanton, was dismissed with prejudice. The case was filed by Eugene MacFarlane after a June 1 incident.

Two Lawsuits Filed Concerning Road Disputes

Two cases involving disputes over rights-of-way on roads were filed in the Garrett County Circuit Court last week.

Gerald F. and M. Therese Chambers, Baltimore, claim $60,000 in their suit against Robert L. and Z. Maxine Combs, Friendsville, which involves the extent of the right-of-way the Combs have for a road which crosses Chambers' property, located off the Blooming Rose Road.

In their suit, the Chambers claim that the Combs have been cutting down trees on the Chambers' property to widen the 8.5-foot road which they use as an access road to their nearby property.

At some points, say the Chambers, the Combs have widened the road up to 30 feet. In 1983, the Combs allegedly installed a large culvert upon the Chambers' land.

Also, this spring, the Combs allegedly cut a 24-foot wide swath through the lands of the Chambers and in the process 51 trees were cut down without the Chambers' permission.

The Chambers request in their case that the judge grant them $10,000 in compensatory damages and $50,000 in punitive damages.

They also ask the court to issue an injunction forbidding the Combs from further work to widen the road and to determine whether the Combs have a right-of-way and, if so, the extent of the right-of-way. They note that the Combs claim a 30-foot right-of-way.

The case was filed on August 1 by Robert Watson, an Oakland attorney.

In another case, Thomas D. Jones, James V. Jones and Abner Stout filed suit against Carl DeSignore seeking to gain access to roads to which they claim a right-of-way, but which DeSignore has barred to traffic.

The case involves property purchased by DeSignore which sits between the plaintiffs' property and Herrington Manor Road.

The Joneses claim right-of-way to one road which goes through the property while Stout claims right-of-way to a road which traverses the north side of the property.

In their suit, they say that DeSignore barred the roads in the spring of 1984.

The Joneses state they need to use the road in order to check livestock grazing on the property and they claim loss of some stock because of lack of access to the road.

They also explain that some of their property is under contract for timbering and they had to construct a temporary road elsewhere to get to the woodland.

Stout needs access to the road in order to reach his property, the plaintiffs assert.

The plaintiffs entered a motion for injunctive relief in the case to force DeSignore to remove the barriers immediately, but Judge Jack Turney, who heard the case August 1, denied the motion.

In the suit, the Joneses seek $25,000 in compensatory damages and $10,000 in punitive damages. Stout seeks $5,000 in compensatory damages and $10,000 in punitive damages.

The plaintiffs have requested a jury trial in the case.

Thomas Dabney, an Oakland attorney, filed the case in the court on August 1.

Local Government Officials Attend Training Workshop

Several members of the Garrett County Roads Department, the Board of Education, the Sheriff's Department, and the Garrett County Commissioners are attending a one-day workshop today entitled "Formulating Public Policy in Emergency Management".

The workshop, which is being held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club east of Cumberland, is sponsored by Allegany and Garrett Counties in cooperation with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (F.E.M.A.) and the Maryland Emergency Management & Civil Defense Agency. It is being conducted by former Maryland Congressman Larry J. Hogan, who is under contract to F.E.M.A.

The purpose of the seminar is to give local government officials practical training on the kinds of decisions that would be required in the event of a major disaster or emergency situation. The workshop is geared to officials who are in policy-making positions such as department heads, county attorneys, mayors, and superintendents of schools.

Hospital, Health Department Plan "Wellness Together" Booth At Fair

Fairgoers will have an opportunity to have their health habits reviewed by computer, discover eight steps to wellness, and consult local health agencies for information on their services and programs at the "Wellness Together" booth provided by Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Garrett County Health Department at the 1985 Garrett County Agricultural Fair. Staff from both institutions will feature special health related events at the booth.

Children are encouraged to bring their dolls for checkups and certificates completed by Garrett County Memorial Hospital nurses on Wednesday for one of the many special events featured during the week of the fair. Low-calorie fruit and vegetable dips with recipes and tips on eating away from home will be provided by the Hospital's Dietary Department on Thursday. Radiology and Cardio Pulmonary Department

Staff will be available on Tuesday and Friday to answer questions fairgoers may have about the x-rays on display of a lung and colon affected by cancer and give out information on respiratory diseases and allergies.

Englander's Pharmacy has donated its booth for the "Wellness Together" project. Located in the lower of the two exhibition buildings, the booth will be easily found with its colorful balloons, one for every fairgoer. Free bags that can hold brochures from local health agencies, and Band-Aid dispensers for people who complete the computerized health age appraisal will also be available. A first aid kit ($25.00 value) will be given away the evenings of August 12 through 17 to the person whose number is drawn from among those tickets filled out at the booth.

After reviewing health habits, learning eight steps to wellness, and consulting with local health agencies, visitors will be encouraged to sign up for stress reduction, weight control and smoking cessation classes to be held next year during the "Wellness Together" health education series.

New Vaccine
For Pre-Schoolers
Now Available

A safe vaccine has recently become available for children ages 2-5 which can prevent a number of infectious diseases, according to a local physicians group. This vaccine is called HIB vaccine and joins the list of pre-school vaccines such as polio, measles, mumps and whooping cough, that all children should receive prior to entering school.

The HIB vaccine can prevent a number of serious childhood illnesses. A bacteria, or "germ" called Haemophilus influenzae type B (HIB) is responsible for illness ranging from pneumonia to skin and bone infections. The most serious infection caused by HIB is spinal meningitis which occurs in approximately 12,000 children under the age of 5 annually in the United States. HIB is also responsible for more than 90% of all cases of epiglottitis in children (a potentially life threatening infection of the lower throat).

Serious HIB disease is highly contagious, so one sick child can make others sick. It is also becoming more difficult to treat HIB disease, because the bacteria is often resistant to antibiotics. So, the best action is to prevent the disease in the first place by taking the vaccine.

HIB vaccine is recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics for all children at 24 months of age; but has been found beneficial between the ages of 18 months and 5 years. The children at highest risk for these infections are under age 5, but the vaccination is not effective under 18 months of age. The vaccination is recommended to be given at 18 months of age only for children who are at a higher risk which primarily includes children in nursing school and day care centers.

AN AWARD FOR BRAVERY should be given to young Michelle Goralski who smiled as she received an injection of a new vaccine which is now available locally. The HIB vaccine, as it is called, is for children ages 2-5 and is used to prevent a variety of infectious diseases, according to local physicians. The vaccine attacks the bacteria Haemophilus influenzae type B which can cause such illnesses as spinal meningitis and epiglottitis, a life threatening infection of the lower throat. Also in the photo are Pansy Kincaid, clinical assistant for the Garrett Medical Group, and Donald Richter, M.D. Parents are encouraged by health officials to have their children receive this vaccine if the children are between the ages of 2 and 5. See story.

Dr. Donald Richter of the Garrett Medical Group stated, "Our group is aiming to immunize all children who reach age 24 months as well as all those children who are currently between ages 2 and 3. The children between 18 months and 24 months, as well as those between the ages of 3-5, must be evaluated on an individual basis to decide whether they should be vaccinated. Consultation with your personal physician is recommended in these cases." Dr. Richter also noted that the vaccine is also recommended by the Maryland Academy of Family Practice, Maryland Academy of Pediatrics, and the Center for Disease Control.

In the years since vaccines for German measles, polio, and other childhood diseases were introduced, the frequency of the diseases has so diminished that cases are rarely heard of anymore. It is hoped that with the common use of HIB vaccine, the same results will occur with meningitis and other more serious diseases.

Museum, Library
Hours Announced

The Friend Family Association of America announced this week the hours of operation of the Friend National Heritage Museum and the associated genealogical/historical library in Friendsville. Both institutions were dedicated Saturday morning during the Friendsville Summer Fest.

During August and September, the building will be open on Wednesdays and Saturdays from noon to 4 p.m. It may also be opened by appointment, which persons may secure by telephoning 746-5615.

The building is located at the corner of First and Maple streets.

Friendsville Ride
Raises $2,400
For St. Jude

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was the beneficiary of a recent "Wheels for Life" bike-a-thon held in Friendsville. Spencer Schlosnagle, chairman of the event, reported this week that $2,412.78 was raised by 37 of the 39 participants in the event.

William Sines, 13-year-old son (12 years old at the time of the bike-a-thon) of Merle and Sheila Sines, Friendsville, rode his bike an incredible 77 miles and collected a total of $747, the greatest individual effort in the event. Brian Coddington, son of Walter and Dot Coddington, Friendsville, was close behind with 71 miles and a total of $504.50, the second largest amount collected. For his efforts, William was awarded a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, a t-shirt, and a tote bag. All riders who collected at least $25 received a t-shirt and those who collected at least $75 received a tote bag.

The ride, which began at 10 a.m. (April 28) and continued until 4 p.m., consisted of a one-half mile loop along Water Street and Riverside Drive.

Volunteers who assisted Schlosnagle were Terri Thomas, Winnie Parsons, Polly Smith, Carolyn Savage, Pearl Bittner, Judy Livengood, Cherie Humberson, Linda Lucke, Tina Coddington, Sharon Garner, and Donna Fisher. Businesses contributing prizes included: Nickles, Schmidt's and Stroehman bakeries, Fike's Dairy, and the First United National Bank & Trust, which donated the savings bond. Donating refreshments and supplies were S&S Market, Humberson's Maxco, and Old Mill Grill Restaurant. The Friendsville United Methodist Church donated the use of its bathroom facilities to the participants.

Schlosnagle stated that St.

FREE CHECKUP FOR DOLLY — The smile by Teresa Field, registered nurse at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, would seem to indicate that Dolly, an Oakland resident, is in the peak of health. However, Dolly's "mother", Katelin Moomau, displays a characteristic look of apprehension. All area children will have an opportunity to have their dolls and stuffed animals examined next week at the "Wellness Together" booth at the Garrett County Agricultural Fair. Free examinations will be given on Wednesday at the booth, which is being sponsored by the hospital and the Garrett County Health Department. A variety of health demonstrations, complete with free brochures, will also be available throughout the week.

Jude's Hospital, which conducts extensive research in the fight against cancer and other childhood illnesses, receives its finances via voluntary programs, such as bike-a-thons, conducted in communities all over the nation.

Area Foresters Return From Duty In Oregon

The crew of foresters from Western Maryland who were sent to Oregon to help fight brush and forest fires have returned home, according to Regional Forester George Gilmore.

During their time in the west, the crew was one of between 20 and 30 held in reserve, and did not receive a fire fighting assignment while in Oregon. Gilmore reported that the rainy weather in Oregon did a lot to lessen the severity of the fires there.

The local crew was made up of foresters Louise Slaubaugh, Owen Handwerk, Richard Lewis and Chuck Thomas, all of Garrett County; and Harold McDonald Jr., of Allegany County. This was the second time this summer Slaubaugh, Handwerk and McDonald were sent out west to assist in fighting fires.

One-Way Coverage . . .

The 40th anniversary of the bombing of Hiroshima, Japan, received extensive media coverage this week as a variety of special events, ceremonies, speeches, protests, and remember-when documentaries were all part of the observance.

While we wish to in no way understate or downplay the horror of this devastating event, we were somewhat disturbed that some of the comments and attitudes received wide coverage, while opposing viewpoints were not given equal exposure. For example, the premier of Japan, during the ceremonies in Hiroshima on Tuesday, described the attack on Hiroshima by the United States as "inhumane". The same description was used by a number of "experts" who condemned President Truman for making the decision to drop the bomb. "We had no right to do this horrible thing."

All of the above judgments may be perfectly accurate. However, our complaint is that nothing was mentioned about the unprovoked, sudden attack on Pearl Harbor, totally without warning, by the Japanese. Nothing was mentioned about the atrocities that were being committed by the Japanese in other countries, such as China, where whole families and villages were massacred. Nothing was mentioned about the beheading of American flyers who were captured by the Japanese. Nothing was mentioned about the Bataan Death March, where more than half of the 40,000 American and Philippine soldiers who were forced by the Japanese to march 70 miles to prison camps dropped dead of starvation and maltreatment.

We agree that the bombing of Hiroshima was a horrible nightmare that must never be repeated. But in our remembrance of that day, we should also realize the feeling of the American public at that particular time toward Japan. The thousands of people slaughtered by the ruthless Japanese forces were just as dead as those citizens of Hiroshima. The use of the bomb also prevented a mainland invasion of Japan by U.S. and allied forces, which also would have resulted in a hideous bloodbath.

It is true that we must never forget the bombing of Hiroshima. But rather than spending most of our time honoring the dead, we and all other people of the world should use this dark piece of history to work toward making sure nuclear war never, never becomes a reality. Hiroshima showed all of us just what man can do to himself and, when we realize that we now have the capability of releasing a force with just one bomb that is 4,000 times the power of the Hiroshima blast, we are convinced that a full-scale nuclear war will be this world's last war.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

During our vacation in early July, we experienced the beauty of Deep Creek Lake in yet another rare and magnificent setting. Father Martin Field celebrated Sunday Mass in a grassy field at the WISP ski area. Under God's own blue sky and the shade of his full-leaved trees, with God's own earth, green with grass, a large group of Garrett County Catholic families and visiting families came together on Sunday morning and shared their love and friendship, and by their presence and participation with Father Field in this celebration of the Mass, they gave honor and glory to the Lord and thanked Him for their many blessings.

"Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; let the field exult, and everything in it!" Ps. 96:11,12

Thank you, Father Field, and members of St. Peter's for sharing with us a moment of true beauty in Garrett county and sharing this peace of the Lord.

Very truly yours,
The Frank T. Hayden family of Mrs. Matnywa Hayden

To the Editor:

You were an important part in making the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels for Life Bike-A-Thon a success. And though the campaign has ended, our appreciation of your efforts has not gone unnoticed.

We're proud of the 39 riders, all the volunteers and the citizens of Friendsville. Thanks to you and to them, we raised $2,412.78.

Because of the universal objectives of research and treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, be assured the money benefits children all over the world.

Knowing the people in our community are concerned enough to take quick action for children who need their assistance is heartwarming. You surely must take pride in helping maintain that humanitarian spark. On behalf of the children of St. Jude Hospital, thank you.

Sincerely,
Spencer Ray Schlosnagle
Bike-A-Thon Chairman

To the Editor:

As a 1961 graduate of the Garrett County school system, I want to tell you I am proud of my Garrett County 12-grade education.

My husband and I live in the inner city of Baltimore. Corruption and drug dealing are on every corner. The crime rate is very high.

It disgusts me to read some of the letters to the editor. Many writers are narrow-minded and uninformed.

Unfortunately Mr. Finch lost his life. I was glad to see the governor appoint Van Evans as sheriff.

After all, we are all Americans proud of our country. Of course there are flaws, but let's all pull together! Our country is just what we make it!

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Sutton

To the Editor:

As president of the Friend Family Association of America, I would like to express the appreciation of our organization to all those who attended the Grand Opening/Dedication of our National Headquarters Building in downtown Friendsville on August 3.

Our special thanks to Mayor Spear, the Town Council and the people of Friendsville, and the surrounding area who have assisted us in establishing the National Heritage Museum. Their concern, their interest and their many expressions of neighborliness have been most appreciated.

We are pleased to be a part of such a great community.

Sincerely,

To the Editor:

In this period of current turmoil, it is good to know that there are still some very positive things happening at Garrett Community College. One of the most successful courses the college has ever offered was the recently completed course in Garrett county history—Rivers, Roads, and Railroads. Nearly 100 Garrett Countyans participated in this course, as students, guest speakers, resource persons, or interested listeners. It was truly a time when "the community came together." All of us want to thank the person who made this course possible, Mary I. Love.

It has been my personal pleasure to have worked with Ms. Love for the past six months as she planned the course syllabus, contacted knowledgeable persons to participate, drove hundreds of miles around the county to meet with many of these persons, helped to gather photographs and other artifacts, and arranged for class meeting places. Her unselfish giving of time and energy, and her professional commitment to excellence have ensured the educational value of this course.

Her knowledge of subject and her charming wit have made each class session a delightful experience.

Because of the overwhelming success of this course and requests from persons who were unable to attend this summer, plans are now being made to repeat the course and to offer a second semester sequel on Garrett County history. Mary Love, again, will be the "prime mover" in this effort, and we are looking forward to another very successful educational experience for the citizens of Garrett County.

To the Editor:

High Street has been a through street since it became a street and to stop traffic in progress is a poor solution to the statement that people speed there. The solution is to write speeding tickets, and if that business is so good, place a permanent policeman there and the town will be much richer. If they write 10 tickets per hour at $25 per ticket then we will have some excellent revenue at no cost to the taxpayer. $250 per hour is certainly worth placement of a policeman there.

If the stop sign is a burden to you, Mr. Driver, then write to the town of Oakland and ask that it be taken down.

Thomas E. Doyle

To the Editor:

The statement last week that the tax rate differential sought by Mtn. Lake Park has become controversial is apparently correct. But it is difficult for me to understand why, now that the whole thing has been settled.

I fear that there is still a great deal of confusion and misinformation concerning the tax differential law and its application. Most of this comes from what is to me a totally inexplicable statement issued by County Administrator, Robert Fousek, and which was carried in your July 25th issue. Mr. Fousek's statement that "unfortunately, the law does not take into consideration the property owners of each municipality who enjoy traveling on 704 miles of county maintained roads; that forty-five percent of the County operating budget is paid to the Board of Education, and the children of the property owners in each municipality receive this benefit. The County does not receive credit for these benefits."

This statement is fundamentally incorrect. As attorney for the Town of Mtn. Lake Park, I negotiated with Mr. Fousek in good faith to arrive at a tax differential this year in hopes of avoiding expensive litigation. The final settlement was more than generous to the County. I do not understand why the County now desires to make a controversy over it.

The law does take into account the fact of these services. The County gets credit for the benefits to the residents of Mtn. Lake Park in that it collects a county tax rate from residents of the town. They paid, this year, the same tax rate everyone else paid. Therefore, they paid their fair share of the cost of county roads, county education, county landfill, and all other county services. What else can the County expect from them?

But the law also attempts to take into consideration the fact that residents of Mtn. Lake Park provide additional services, at their own expense, which either benefit other residents of the County who make no contribution to Mtn. Lake Park or that save the County money because it does not have to pay for them. This, the Maryland Legislature recognized as illegal double taxation. The services of which I speak fall into two main categories: road and solid waste disposal. Firstly, the Town of Mtn. Lake Park has constructed and maintains many miles of roads within the town to which County taxpayers make no contribution. County taxpayers, however, use these roads just as if they were county roads. Because the Town maintains these roads, the County Government is relieved of the duty and expense of doing so. Therefore, under the law, Town residents are entitled to an offset on their tax rate, or a rebate. The same applies to solid waste disposal. Because the Town collects solid waste within its jurisdiction, and delivers it to the landfill, it alleviates the County of the responsibility of having more and larger dumpsters, and spending more money for servicing these dumpsters. These two items along with certain items within the Town's planning budget, and certain legal expenses which are duplicated, formed the basis for the tax differential request. The original request, coming from Mayor Alexander, was for 25 cents on the tax rate, or a commensurate rebate. It is inaccurate to say that the County offered 5 cents, or $5,727.50. The County's original offer was nothing.

The Town made a counter offer for 5 cents, which the County ultimately accepted. This saved the County and the Town expensive litigation, which, of course, would have been borne in the end by the taxpayers. I fail to understand why the County government views the tax differential with such hysteria and why, in most cases, litigation is necessary.

It is true that the methodology of determining what services are duplicated, and arriving at a dollar value for them, is very complex and difficult, if one or both sides elect to be stubborn in resisting the law or unreasonable in applying it. But if both sides realize that it is only fair and just that the residents of municipalities who are paying for duplicate services receive credit therefor, and negotiate in good faith, it seems to me that they can arrive at a reasonable and equitable settlement without too much difficulty. Commissioner Elwood Groves' statement in last week's edition that "there is just no equitable way to implement this law in our rural county" ignores the fact that for Town residents to undergo the burden of double taxation is the real inequity.

Very truly yours,
Robert E. Watson

Fair Schedule

beginning at 12:30.

Also beginning at 12:30 on Wednesday will be the Adult Horse judging, followed by Draft Horse judging at 3 p.m. A Pet Show will go on from 3 to 4 p.m. at the stage, grandstand area. A Wool Fleeced contest will be held at 4 p.m. At 5 p.m. the 4-H Horse Grooming contest will be held followed immediately by the 4-H and FFA Horse judging.

Home Arts Demonstrations will be given periodically from 5 through 10 p.m. Activities beginning at 7 p.m. include: the Pony Pull; 4-H, FFA and Adult Dairy Show; Class "C" Horse shoe Pitching contest; and free entertainment by Allegheny Front on stage. Allegheny Front, a band consisting primarily of Garrett County musicians, will also perform at 9 p.m., Wednesday.

A new event, scheduled for 8 p.m. on Wednesday, will be a 4-H Bake Auction and Sale using entries from the 4-H Baked Goods Department. The auction will be held on the stage and will feature prize winning cakes, cookies, pies, and bread. The proceeds from this fund-raising auction will go to the Garrett County 4-H Council and will be divided between the 4-H Scholarship and out-of-county trip fund and the Fair Board for improvement to the 4-H building. The public is invited to attend, bid on, and buy these baked items.

Thursday is Farm City day at the fair. Exhibit barns will be open from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m., with Home Arts Demonstrations periodically from noon until 10 p.m. Beginning at 1 p.m. will be the Adult, 4-H and FFA Beef judging, and also beginning at 1 p.m. will be the 4-H

Consumer Judging contest.

From 2 to 4 p.m. the 4-H and FFA Beef Fitting and Showing contest will be held. The highlight of the day for many is the Farmers & Commercial Parade which will begin at 7 p.m. The Horseshoe Pitching, Class "B" contest will also begin at 7 p.m. Entertainment by the Garrett County Schools Talent Show Winners will begin at 8 p.m. on the stage. Finally, 8:30 p.m. marks the beginning of the 4-H and FFA Baby Beef Show.

Senior Citizens' Day at the fair will be Friday, August 16, with exhibit barns open from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m., and Home Arts Demonstrations from noon until 10 p.m. A 4-H and FFA Tractor Operators' written test will be given at 9:30 a.m. The Dairy Goat Show for 4-H and FFA members will start at 10:30 a.m. Noon marks the start of the 4-H and FFA Tractor Operators' contest.

A Computer Technology Contest will be held on stage from 1 to 3 p.m. This is another new event and 4-H members will be demonstrating the hardware, software, or documentation entries they have made. The purpose of this exhibit is to provide an opportunity for members interested in computers to exhibit a project, to stimulate interest by giving visibility to what is currently being done and allowing 4-Hers to gain new ideas for computer projects, and to encourage 4-Hers to demonstrate the ways in which computers relate to their other 4-H projects. At the conclusion of the youth demonstrations, the Cooperative Extension Service will be demonstrating the use of the computer in the Home and Farm Management practices.

The Lawn and Garden Tractor Pull will begin at 2 p.m. The 4-H and FFA Sheep Lead Contest will begin at 6 p.m. This contest involves members who have made an article of clothing from wool, who will model that clothing while leading one of their 4-H project sheep. This will be followed by the Washed Lamb Contest at 7 p.m. which shows the skill of the 4-H member who must prepare for show a wild, ungrained lamb in one hour.

The Horse Pull and Horse shoe Pitching, Class "A" competition both begin at 7 p.m. Entertaining on stage at both 7 and 9 p.m. will be the Crellin Assembly of God Choir and Orchestra. Ending the day, Friday, will be the Mason-Dixon Polled Hereford Show beginning at 8 p.m. Exhibit Barns will be open on Saturday, August 17, from 10 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. with exhibits removed at 9 p.m. Home Arts Demonstrations will be held from noon until 8 p.m. Scheduled for 11 a.m. is the 4-H Dog Obedience contest. Participants, both adults and youth, will be from an eight-week dog obedience class recently sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. A beginners and advanced class is planned for May and June of 1986, so those interested may see how the dogs and handlers perform, and find out how to become involved.

Two events will begin at noon, the 4-H Horticulture Judging contest and the Horse Show for Garrett County horse owners. This Horse Show includes all types of riding classes for exhibitors of all ages. During the Horse Show intermission, at 2 p.m., a 4-H Handicapped Riding Demonstration will be presented by F.R.E.E.

A Wood Cutting contest will be held at 1 p.m. Beginning at 7 p.m. will be the Fair Awards Ceremony where trophies will be presented to those who have won them during the week. Free entertainment on stage at both 7 and 9 p.m. will feature "The New Beginning", the Maryland 4-H entertainment

by Mary I. Love

People from Baltimore and the other 22 counties of Maryland tend to have strange impressions of Garrett County, if indeed they have heard of it. A Baltimore radio station used to give weather reports for "Southern Maryland, the Bay Area, the Eastern Shore, Western Maryland, and Garrett County."

Many Marylanders who visit Garrett County for the first time show poorly veiled surprise to find that many of the residents usually wear shoes, can use knives and forks, read books occasionally, and know that there is a world beyond county boundaries. If the visitors knew that the county had at least two Bach celebrations this year the shock might be dangerous.

Gail Bradshaw's articles about Garrett County in the Washington Post of July 5 were unusual in their well-rounded view of the county. We don't want to lose our individuality, but we don't want to be ignored or considered quaint—at least not all the time.

The year the Pirates took the Orioles in the World Series, I was asked to make a talk to a statewide professional organization which was meeting in Hagerstown in late October. The president of the association was deeply congratulatory to himself for setting a meeting in Western Maryland, and to all the people who had traveled so far to attend.

On being introduced, I remarked that people in the metropolitan area must have maps similar to the charts Columbus used, only in the case the squiggly north-south line was not in mid-ocean, but was near Frederick, and west of it was the legend, "Beyond this point lies monsters." Hammering the subject harder, I mentioned that I had driven almost directly east for 120 miles to reach Hagerstown. As a clincher, I added that in Garrett County we had liked the recent World Series. A voice sang out from the back of the room, "By Gawd, they ARE monsters!"

troupe. The troupe numbers about 45 regular members representing over one-half of Maryland counties. The program features total group numbers as well as small groups and interpretations. Instrumentalists and sound and lighting technician are also a part of the group. For the fair performance, about 20 of those 45 will perform a variety of musical numbers featuring "show tunes" from "West Side Story," "Footloose," and "Annie." Recently this group performed at King's Dominion and at special events in Pennsylvania and Connecticut and will be featured entertainment at the Maryland State Fair.

The 4-H and FFA Livestock Sale will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the show ring. The Horseshoe Pitching Championship Pitch Off will begin at 8 p.m.

This is a tentative schedule, subject to change. The Fair Board asks that fair-goers check the Farm Bureau Bulletin Board for daily schedules.

Admission to the 1985 fair will be $3 per person, age one to 100. The "One-Price" ticket covers gate admission, parking, all race-track and grandstand expenses, entertainment, and rides at the carnival.

Law Enforcement Agencies Report Area Thefts, DOP

Local law enforcement agencies are investigating three thefts and one destruction of property incident this week.

Vincent Paul Zanecki reported that, sometime between July 18 and August 2, an unknown person or persons broke into his cabin on the Turkey Neck Loop Road, removing an HS video recorder, a stereo receiver, and a cassette deck. Deputy W.C. Thomas is investigating the incident.

Deputy P.J. Pratt is investigating a theft which occurred Sunday afternoon between 1:00 and 6:00. According to reports, unknown suspects removed a 1962 Suzuki dirt bike belonging to Dean Hoag, Deer Park, from the parking lot of the 219 Drive-In. The dirt bike is valued at $300.

Oscar Clifford Grickson Jr., Library, Pa., reported that, sometime between 8:00 p.m. July 28 and 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, a stainless steel cleaver propeller, valued at $725, was removed from his 1985 Slick Craft boat which was docked outside his summer residence at Penn Marr Estates, McHenry, Tt. Smith of the Maryland State Police is investigating the theft.

Mountain Lake Park Holiness Camp Meeting Association reported that several windows in their buildings on both G Street and H Street were broken sometime between July 15 and July 31. Deputy I.E. Gneig is investigating the incident.

MVA Office

Continued from Page 1 of locating an office at a site near the Frostburg industrial park, which is located near Routes 36 and 48, or the intersection of Route 48 at Chestnut Ridge or Lower New Germany roads.

Rickert said the state needs at least six acres of land and he repeated earlier comments that MVA would consider an appropriate location near the intersection of Routes 36 and 48.

After the Thursday meeting, the Garrett County commissioners wrote Rickert a letter stating they could not endorse selection of the site east of Cumberland, but instead recommended the department consider sites along the eastern border of Garrett County or western border of Allegany County.

The commissioners also suggested the department attempt to locate a central office for its current satellite operation to units in the United States, having its beginnings in the 1760's. The unit served as George Washington's honor guard. All Revolutionary War Units were involved in a "Camp Wake-up" Sunday morning with the Maryland Militia cannon crew firing a field cannon. The mock battle was staged as part of the "Living History" demonstrations. Also taking part in the activities were Keith Casteel and The Wild Geese Mountain Men.

LIVING HISTORY OF THE 1770's AND 1790's was the theme enacted by several regiments of militia during the Friendsville Summer Festival V last Saturday and Sunday. The Fifth Maryland Regiment, 175th Infantry Army National Guard, re-created the following units: Fraser's Highlanders, 71st Regiment; Ferguson's Company, Fourth Battalion Royal Artillery; Maryland Militia; and Second Maryland Regiment. The Fifth Maryland National Guard is one of the oldest continued

Camp Agape In Session This Week

Outdoor Camp Agape opened early Monday morning, August 5, with an attendance of 149. Tuesday the attendance was 159 students and teachers. The purpose of the camp is "to bring children to the Lord," says Louise Nesime, a camp teacher. The camp is nondenominational, although it is sponsored by the United Methodist Churches on Backbone Mountain.

The theme for Camp Agape is "Knowing Our Bible." Each class, K-12, has a different Bible topic from "Adam" in kindergarten to "Relations" in grade 12. The camp is being held this week at Glen Teets' lot at North Glade, Deep Creek Lake.

Camp Agape will be at the 4-H Center at Bittinger on Friday at noon. Parents and friends are invited to bring a covered dish for dinner at 5 p.m., and stay for the camp program afterward.

Supplies for the camp first aid station were donated by Englander's, Proudfoot's, Brown's Foodland, and Ralph's Richford. Further Camp Agape information can be obtained from Linda Fleming at 387-6113.

Summer Festival Winners Announced

The winners of the various categories in the Friendsville summer Festival Parade, horseshoe pitching, and raffle were announced by Lucille Sines of the Town and Community Women.

In the children's category, the Best Decorated Bike trophy was awarded to Sabrina Sines; Best Use of Theme trophy went to Danielle Rodeheaver; and the Best Animal Costume trophy went to Terry Rodeheaver.

The Antique Car trophy was awarded to Robert Werner of Springs, Pa.; the Antique Truck award went to Willard and Alice Broadwater of Grantsville; and the Old Farm Machines trophy went to Ken Sines of Friendsville.

The Grantsville Fire Department won the Fire Department trophy, while the Southern High School Band won the Best Use of Music trophy. Twirling and Marching Unit awards were given to the Accident Legionettes and the Razzle Dazzle Drill Team of Briceon Mills, W. Va.

Best Use of the Parade Theme award went to the Friendsville Lions Club and Keith Casteel and The Wild Geese Mountain Men.

Winners of the Horseshoe Pitching Contest were: Delmar Snyder, first place; Eugene Smith, second place; and Scott Bittner, third place. The trophies given to the winners of the Horseshoe Pitching Contest were donated by Vernon Sines, owner of the S & S Market in Friendsville.

The Raffle winner, receiving a $1,000 savings bond, was Dale Hetrick of Grantsville.

U.M. Children's Convention Held

Linda Fleming of Swanton, Children's Director of the Romney District, and Hilda Claycomb of Chestnut Grove attended the National Children's Convention of the United Methodist Church in Nashville, Tenn., July 29-August 2.

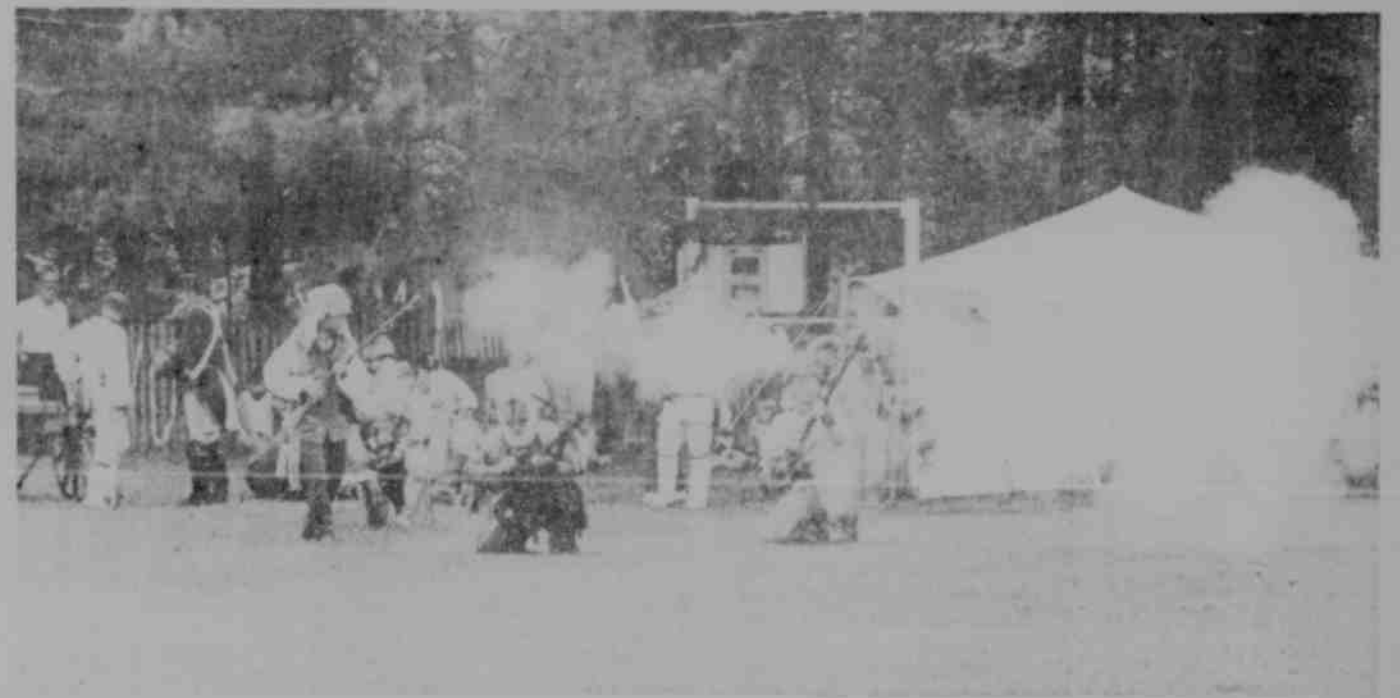

Approximately 1300 people attended. The theme for the convention was, "Children: The Word, The World." Points stressed were: children participating in worship with adults, and finding ways of helping children and their needs.

Eighty different workshops were available for those attending, with the goal of the convention to develop ministries not only for children in our local churches, but for all children.

Mrs. Fleming stated that she was especially interested in the workshop, Latch Key Children. "Latch key children are children who go home after school and wait, alone, until their parents return from work," explained Fleming.

The program explored was called Phone Friend and was developed by students at California State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. They set up a phone line between 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. for children to have someone to talk with if they were lonely or afraid," Fleming said.

Fleming went on to say, "In the larger towns no names were used during the calls to protect those involved, and three phones were manned in the church using the church phone number. In smaller localities, grandmothers manned their own phones and really enjoyed getting to know their young phone friends."

According to Fleming, the college students started with $1,000. This was enough to purchase three phones with three-way calling, brochures, and phone number stickers. Fleming is an elementary school teacher at Dennett Road and says that she would like to introduce the program to our county schools.

Conservation Of Energy Program Offered Locally

The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, Potomac Edison Company and Allegany Energy Council will sponsor a pilot project to work with local governments and non-profit agencies to monitor their energy usage and make recommendations for savings. The project will include monitoring of fuel consumption for two years, along with recording two years past fuel consumption for a total of four consecutive years of monitoring.

A walk-through energy audit will make recommendations for low cost/no cost improvements, as well as indoor, outdoor and street lighting. A furnace efficiency check will be provided and assistance will be available for the development of an energy management program.

The Energy Council will select five local government and/or non-profit agency buildings in Allegany and/or Garrett County for participation in the project. Any municipality or non-profit agency wishing to be considered should contact the Allegany Extension Office at 301-724-3320. The deadline for agencies to make application is August 23.

Admitted To Hospital Administration Group

Jeanette Loughrie, assistant vice president of Reading Hospital, Reading, Pa., was recently admitted as a member of the American College of Hospital Administration, Chicago, Illinois, at the 51st convocation ceremony of the college.

Ms. Loughrie, who has been affiliated with the hospital since 1961, is a graduate of Northern High School and Sinai Hospital's School of Nursing, Baltimore. She earned a master's degree in business administration from Loyola College.

Ms. Loughrie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Loughrie, Grantsville, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arnold, Eglon, W. Va. and the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Loughrie, Aurora, W. Va.

A ground ball hit by Jason Gray in the bottom of the eighth inning Sunday afternoon in Westernport broke a scoreless tie and gave Potomac Valley Athletic Association (PVAA) a 1-0 win over Oakland in the championship game of the Tri-Towns Little League World Series.

George Kelly led off the eighth frame for PVAA with a single, moved to second on a bunt by Cole, and was then forced out on an attempted sacrifice bunt by Shawn Townsend.

Cole and Townsend then made a double steal to third and second bases, respectively, setting the stage for Gray's game-winning grounder to shortstop.

Jack Sawyers, who tossed the final two frames, gained the win over Oakland reliever Brett Rice. Kevin Green, who was named the most valuable player in the championship game, pitched the first six innings for Oakland, allowing no runs, while Steve Strain and Jason Niner each tossed three scoreless innings for the winners.

Kevin Green and Jamie Croso each recorded singles for Oakland.

Green, Crosco, Shane Eyler, and Buck Moon, all of Oakland, were named to the all-tournament team.

Jim O'Neal, PVAA center-fielder, was named the tournament's most valuable player after hitting a total of five home runs.

The Oakland Ladies Golf Association held its second round of the Club Championship Tournament July 25.

Marianna Naylor, who was tied for the lead with Phyllis Helbig after the first round, moved into first place with a 180, followed by Mary Peterson with a 184.

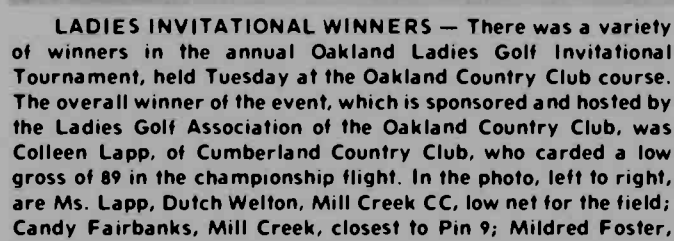

The first flight winner was Wid Brown, who fired a 190, followed by Alice McGreevy with a 194. Caryl Doe was the leader in the second flight with a 206.

In the second flight with a 200, with Martha Lou Ashby four strokes back in second place. Evelyn Jenkins had a 220 to lead the third flight, four strokes ahead of Marv Lou Shaffer. In the fourth flight, Helen McHenry was in first place with a 227, followed by Annie Colaw with a 231.

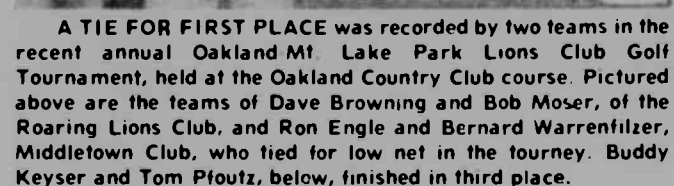

Alice McGreevy led in low putts with 30, while Mary Peterson, Marianna Naylor, and Helen Seaber were tied for second with 31. Margaret Moran and Wid Brown each had 32.

Most one-putt greens was won by Marianna Naylor with seven, while McGreevy, Brown, Seaber, Peggy Kitzmiller, and Peterson each had six.

Several members of the Oakland Club participated in the recent Guest Day event at Polish Pines. The low gross winner from Oakland was Pearl Daniels, who carded an 84. Low net was won by Mildred Foster with a 68 and Marianna Naylor won low putts with 29.

cookout was held at the American Legion Home in Oakland. Preparing the food were Mark Marucci, Butch Redinger, Dave Nordeck, Dave Cathell, and Charlie Grubb.

Ten walks and an eight-run fifth inning paved the way for a 10-7 win and the Bi-State Pony League championship title for Grantsville last Thursday evening as the local hurlers whipped host Keyser in the title game.

Rod Lipscomb smacked a double and a pair of singles for the winners while Aaron Zumpano recorded a triple and Kyle Zehr added two singles.

Pacing Keyser's hitting was Roger Bell who doubled and singled. Kevin Whitworth added a triple and Ed Canfield, Mark Liller, and John Staggars each finished with two singles.

Kyle Zehr earned the win on the mound, going the distance, while Scott Beckman was tagged for the loss.

Keyser won the regular season title with an 18-4 record, while Grantsville was close behind with a 15-7 mark.

The team of Joe Lewis and Sam Wakefield Jr. captured first place in a doubles tournament held Sunday afternoon by the Ringer Slingers horseshoe club at its Backbone Mountain court. Chuck Ward and Dave Nugent finished in second place, followed by the team of Vernon Sines and Eugene Smith. All received trophies.

The club will sponsor its next singles tournament on Sunday, August 25, at 2 p.m., also at the Backbone Mountain court. The next doubles event will be held September 15 at 3 p.m. at the same location.

Leagus now forming. A few spaces still available. Call 895-5289 or 895-5535, 8 a.m. to midnight.

The annual Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club Golf Tournament, held June 22 at the Oakland Country Club, drew a field of 72 participants, 14 from the host club and 58 from an array of other area clubs, including Westminster.

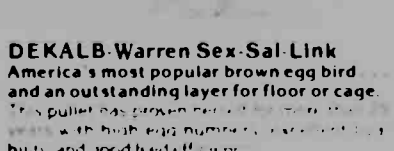

The chairman for the event was Art Calhoun, although hospitalized in Hagerstown, who supplied details from last year's tourney. Roger Glotfelty, Joe Welch, and Milford Beckman also served on the committee.

The teams of Dave Browning and Bob Moser, Roaring Lions Club; and Ron Engle and Bernard Warrenfilzer, Middletown Club, tied for first place with low net, while third place was won by Buddy Keyser and Tom Pfautz, Union Bridge Club.

Sponsors who donated prizes were the Garrett National Bank, Glottelty's Enterprises.

Buffalo Coal Company, and Beachy Lumber.

Something To Think About
R. Mark Durst
 DIRECTOR

VIEWING THE BODY

The age-old practice of viewing the body of the deceased has recently come under attack. It seems that some persons wish to deny the fact that death has occurred. One method of achieving this is to fail to have the body present during the period of the funeral, or to have the body remain if they are present!

This not only goes against tradition, it goes against ancient and modern wisdom. It is essential to admit to death's reality. Even if this is a somewhat painful experience, it can be helpful and

Oakland Splits With Moorefield
As Fitzwater Records Eighth Win

Oakland remained in second place in the Western Division of the Pen-Mar Baseball League this past weekend by splitting a doubleheader with Eastern Division leader Moorefield at Garrett Community College. The Oaks won the first contest, 6-3, behind another outstanding pitching performance by Stan Fitzwater, but were then pelted with 17 hits in the nightcap and were defeated, 14-9.

Fitzwater, who upped his season record to 8-0, gave up only one hit and no runs in five innings before being relieved by Francis Mouse in the sixth. He also fanned six batters and probably would have finished the game had he not pulled a leg muscle.

Oakland recorded all six of its runs in the second inning. Mike Gustave led off with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice fly, and scored on Dave Bender's triple. Ed Wildesen then doubled to send Bender home and Jim Cunningham followed with a two-run homer to give Oakland a 4-0 lead.

An error, followed by a Phil Caruso single, and another Moorefield error loaded the bases. Gustave came back to the plate to rap a two-run single and complete Oakland's scoring.

Moorefield rallied in the seventh inning as Joe Barr, Mark Landis, and Lynn Mathias singled for one run, followed by two more runs on an infield error.

The West Virginians came back in the nightcap to record ten runs in the first three innings and hold off a seventh-inning rally by Oakland.

Moorefield received a double and two singles, good for five runs, by Mathias, while Craig Turner drove in four runs with a three-run blast and a single and Greg Liller added three singles and scored three times.

Mike Landis doubled and singled twice and Rick Ours added a pair of singles for the winners.

Oakland was down 14-1 as the final frame opened, so the eight runs scored in that inning was not enough. Lawrence Nesselrodt led the Oaks with a three-run double and a single, good for four RBIs. Mouse doubled and singled and Wildesen picked up two RBIs on a pair of singles.

Bill Liller earned the win on the mound, while Mike Brady took the loss. Brady received relief from Steve Mohr and Gustave.

Currently leading Oakland's hitting is Francis Mouse, who holds a remarkable .531 average, followed by Dave Bender, with a .394. Bender was batting .230 just two weeks ago, but has gone seven for 11 in the past four games. Lawrence Nesselrodt is currently hitting .375. Wayne Brown has a .362 average, and Mike Gustave holds a .352 mark.

Oakland will play its last regular season doubleheader this Sunday afternoon against visiting Elkins. It will get underway at 2 p.m.

League playoffs will take place the following weekend.

told kindergarten and first grade students why they should use dairy products. "I felt pretty good, but nervous throughout the whole contest," said Sheila.

The contestants were then required to tape a radio announcement for the judges, followed by two "fish bowl" questions. The same two questions were asked each contestant individually and privately during the program to see how effectively each responded with an answer.

The first question was: "Dairy farming is a business. How would you compare it to other businesses?" Part of Sheila's answer was that, "Dairy farming takes a lot of dedication and responsibility. It's a seven-day-a-week, 24-hour-a-day job. We need to support the dairy industry."

In answer to the second question, "What do you perceive as the objectives of the dairy princess program in Maryland, and how would you go about meeting those objectives," Sheila replied: "The princess program is very important. It's important for the princess to do the representing to the best of her ability because she is representing the dairy farmers in Maryland."

She added that it's important to visit schools and to teach people, especially city dwellers, about the importance of milk and the dairy industry.

Sheila is a graduate of Northern High School and is now attending Garrett Community College, majoring in elementary education.

While in high school, she served as president of the Future Farmers of America, and was active in the school's chorus and student council. She is active in the choir at her church and is on the 4-H dairy judging team.

Sheila will be working in the dairy booth at the Garrett County Fair, serving milk punch, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings, and all day Saturday.

Other activities already scheduled for the new state dairy princess include Oriole's Dairy Day in Baltimore on August 18, and dairy booths at various county fairs and the Maryland State Fair.

Sierra Club

GCP&P board members, Goldbloom stated.

Commissioner Ernest Gregg told Goldbloom that although he agreed with the idea that the bog should be protected, he believed that the GCP&P was also sensitive to that need. He also commented that the Sierra Club's methods for pursuing its objective was wrong.

The lawsuit, Gregg pointed out, could put GCP&P out of operation which would result in a devaluation of the bog and would bring a lower fair market price. "It's wrong to confiscate someone's property," Gregg said.

In response to Goldbloom's calls for open communication, Commissioner Elwood Groves stated, "The Sierra Club has destroyed the trust of the local people. To repair their feelings will be a monumental task."

After the meeting which essentially allowed Goldbloom and the commissioners the opportunity to state their positions, the commissioners commented that the meeting did not change their position, but rather reinforced their impression that the Sierra Club "was out of touch with reality."

In a related matter, members of the GCP&P and their attorney William Walsh traveled to the Baltimore office of the Army Corps of Engineers for a meeting with officials of the Corps and the Environmental Protection Agency. Also attending the meeting were representatives of U.S. Senator Paul Sarbanes and Representative Beverly Byron.

Walsh stated this morning that those attending discussed the EPA's recent order for the GCP&P to discontinue harrowing the peat, a process in which the peat is raked for drying purposes. During the meeting, the group discussed whether the order could be modified and, if so, under what conditions.

Further details on the negotiations are to be released at a later date.

In another related matter, Del. George Edwards (R-Allegany, Garrett) has written Congresswoman Beverly Byron stating his support for GCP&P and soliciting her to do all she can for the group.

A FRONTIERSMAN AT HEART — After hatchet and black powder demonstrations by Keith Casteel and his Wild Geese Mountain Men, who were camped at the Friendsville Summer Festival V last weekend, Maryland Lt. Governor Joseph Curran Jr. decided to sample the form of self-preservation known in those days by the mountain men. A little practice could turn Curran into a top-notch marksman.

State's Jobless Rate Increases, Garrett's Drops

A large number of students and summer job seekers entering the labor force caused Maryland's estimated unemployment rate to increase slightly in June 1985, rising to 4.5 percent. In May, the rate was 4.4 percent.

However, officials of the Maryland Department of Employment and Training said that this is the lowest rate for a June since 1973 and is nearly a full percentage point below the 5.4 percent recorded a year ago.

Garrett County's jobless rate dropped from 9.4 percent in May to 9.2 percent in June.

Between May and June, Maryland's civilian labor force increased by an estimated 34,337 persons as a result of the influx of students and summer workers to total 2,289,753. Employment grew by an estimated 31,122 persons for a total of 2,187,700. The number of unemployed rose by an estimated 3,215 persons to 102,053.

Since last year, the labor force has expanded by an estimated 10,562 persons, employment has grown by 30,803 and unemployment has declined by 20,241 persons.

Garrett County's June unemployment rate last year was 10.7 percent.

Of the State's total unemployed, an estimated 31 percent received unemployment insurance benefits in June 1985. The majority of those filing claims for unemployment insurance benefits in June had previously lost jobs in construction, primary metals, wholesale trade, eating and drinking places, business services and health services.

However, mostly seasonal hiring occurred in June particularly in construction, eating and drinking places, food stores, real estate, hotels and lodging places, amusement and recreation services, banking, agribusiness, social services, federal government, and city and county government. In addition, normal hiring was observed in wholesale trade, business services, legal services, and manufacturing while layoffs occurred in education, and the manufacturing industry of nonelectrical machinery was hit by strike activity, weak business conditions as well as layoffs.

The national unemployment rate of 7.5 percent in June is a notable increase over May's 7.0 percent. In May, only Kansas and Massachusetts had lower unemployment rates than Maryland. Unemployment among black persons, nationally, rose slightly from 15.1 percent in May to 15.2 percent in June. In Maryland, the unemployment rate among black persons, reported annually, was 9.3 percent in 1984.

Members of the American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization will be back in Garrett County Saturday, August 31, and Sunday, September 1, for an American Indian Pow Wow at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

RENEGADE, a local band, made a repeat appearance by special request, at the Friendsville Summer Festival V last weekend. A large variety of musical groups also performed including Country Current, a country western Navy band; Greg Brennehan and twin sisters, Pam and Tammy, offered vocal selections; Living Water, contemporary music; and The New Horizons, sacred music. The members of Renegade, an easy listening rock band, pictured above, left to right are: Melody King, keyboard; Roger Sines, lead vocalist; Gary King, drums; Ernie King, lead guitar and backup vocalist; and Bob Browning, bass guitar and backup vocalist.

tan area, the unemployment rate remained at the May level of 5.3 percent.

Unemployment in Maryland's suburbs of the Washington D.C. metropolitan area climbed from 2.6 percent to 2.9 percent in June. However, hiring was evident in wholesale trade, food stores, real estate, business services, amusement and recreation services, federal government, and city and county government.

Western Maryland's unemployment rate was down to 7.5 percent from the 7.7 percent recorded in May. Hiring was noted in construction and layoffs were evident in education in that area.

In the balance of State, the unemployment rate fell from 6.1 to 5.6 percent as a result of seasonal hiring.

Oakland Residents Injured In Mishap

Three Oakland residents were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-vehicle accident on Route 50 Monday morning.

According to reports, a 1978 Chevrolet Caprice, driven by Walter Leo Wells, 44, Oakland, was southbound on U.S. Route 50 when at approximately 7:15 a.m. it entered the intersection of U.S. Route 50 and Mason School Road. Wells failed to yield the right of way to a 1983 Olds Delta 88 driven by Pauline Virginia Cooper, 60, Oakland, causing a collision.

Joseph Powell, three; Melanie Powell, 28; and Walter Powell, 33, all passengers in the Cooper vehicle, were treated and released from the hospital.

Tfc. R.J. Resh of the Maryland State Police investigated the incident. Wells was charged with failure to yield the right of way, and Cooper was charged for transporting a child without a safety seat.

Gladys Yvonne Welch, 53, Mtn. Lake Park, was treated and released from Garrett Memorial Hospital following an accident which occurred Saturday evening.

Reportedly, the Welch vehicle, a 1980 Dodge Mirada, and a vehicle driven by Donald Willy Popesco, Charleston, W.Va., were traveling south on U.S. Route 219 when Welch attempted to execute a left turn onto Maryland 826. The Popesco vehicle was passing several other vehicles when Welch attempted the turn, and the two vehicles collided, with Welch's vehicle continuing on and striking a guard rail.

Tfc. R.J. Resh investigated a motorcycle accident which occurred late Thursday night on the Woods Road.

Robert Eugene Lewis Jr., Oakland, 25, was driving a 1978 Suzuki motorcycle on a down grade through a wooded area when it struck a hole and overturned, throwing him off the vehicle.

Lewis apparently was not seriously injured and there were no charges filed against him.

ASCS uses crop reports to determine program compliance and to document crop acreage bases. Before program participants receive price support loans, deficiency payments and other benefits, they are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve.

A black and white photograph showing two young people milking cows in a barn. One person is kneeling and milking a cow, while the other stands nearby. The cows are white with dark spots.

Corn is in mostly fair to good condition with some spotty areas in poor condition from lack of timely rains. Corn has silked on 90 percent of the acreage by August 4. Last year 85 percent of the corn had silked by this time. The average by this date is 90 percent. Corn had advanced to the dough stage on 55 percent of the acreage. Last year 40 percent was in the dough stage while the average is 45 percent at this time of year. Fifteen percent of the corn crop is in the dent stage. Last year five percent of the corn was dented. On the average, 15 percent is dented by the first week in August.

Watermelons were 55 percent picked at week's end, ahead of last year's 15 percent and the normal 25 percent. Cantaloupe harvest is 55 percent complete. Last year cantaloupe harvest was 40 percent complete at this time while on the average cantaloupes are 45 percent harvested by August 4. Tomato picking is 55 percent complete ahead of last year's 30 percent and the average 45 percent. Cucumber harvest is 80 percent complete compared to 60 per-cutting of other hay was completed during the week, three weeks ahead of last year and one week ahead of the normal completion date. The third cutting of other hay at 60 percent complete is over three weeks ahead of last year's progress and well ahead of the average 20 percent.

four years, she has taken the baby beef project each year and also has a registered beef breeding heifer this year. She holds the offices of secretary and treasurer of the Red House 4-H Club and is the 1985 Youth Livestock Association Representative for Southern Garrett County 4-H Clubs.

She has participated in the Western Maryland District Livestock Show and the Garrett County Steer Camp. She has demonstrated beef fitting and showing and helped new 4-H members groom and prepare their steers for show.

Sherris was the 1984 Garrett County Fair Rotary Award winner for the outstanding youth exhibitor, with 71 entries winning 21 blue ribbons, 14 red ribbons, and 14 other ribbons. She received the "Best of Show" rosette two consecutive years, 1983 and 1984, in the craft department at the county fair, and was a recipient of the Ball Canning Award at the fair in 1984.

Her community involvement includes being a member of the Oakland Chapter of the International Order of Rainbow Girls and a 10-year member of the Girl Scouts. She has received the Silver Leadership Award and was a 1985 youth girl scout counselor for Brownies and Juniors at Camp Hickory. She is a member of Pleasant View Baptist Church and does volunteer work at the local nursing home.

Her hobbies include playing the piano, sketching, painting, and baking. Sherris would like to enter the field of commercial art and live in an area where she can still be involved with animals and agriculture.

Daina, age 17, is the daughter of Dr. William and Ruta Savage of Ardsley Farms in the Turkeyneck area of Swanton.

The Ardsley Farms operation is a beef breeding farm for Polled Herefords. Daina's farm responsibilities include tractor driving, raking and baling hay, feeding and tagging cattle, building and repairing fence, and cutting firewood.

From a big family, Daina has done a lot of baby sitting, and is responsible for general house and yard work. She is currently a senior at Southern High School and is a member of the National Honor Society, a three-year member of the Student Council, a United States Achievement Academy winner, a member of the Mock Trial Team, and a student tutor.

Sports are important to Daina and she has been on the Southern High School Ski Team for three years, winning two first-place trophies. She is also on the Southern High Tennis Team.

and is a basketball statistician. Daina has been a 4-H member for eight years with a blue-ribbon record book every year. She has raised five 4-H steers, two of those being class champions and her steer in 1982 was Reserve Grand Champion. She has been a 4-H Public Speaking contestant at the county level for three years, held the offices of club secretary and reporter, has been on the 4-H Livestock Judging Team for two years, and in the 4-H Fashion Revue three years.

She attended 4-H camp two years, being a Sagamore one of those years, has done demonstrations at the Garrett County Fair for three years, and was a 1984 Farm Queen contestant.

Daina has been a member of the Oakland Chapter of the International Order of Rainbow Girls for five years, is the 1985 Worthy Advisor and Grand Cross. She is on the Garrett County Swim Team and was the 1985 senior champion. She is a Miss America Coed pageant finalist, a counselor at Camp Hickory, and the 1985 Autumn Glory Princess.

She is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church where she is an Acolyte. Daina is also a member of the National Ski Patrol.

Her hobbies include windsurfing, skiing, sailing, tennis, waterskiing, swimming, and writing prose and poetry.

In the future Daina plans a career in either dentistry, medicine, or teaching.

Garrett Ranks Low In Pupil Expenditure

Garrett County public school cost per pupil for current expenses, capital outlay and debt service ranked 22nd of 24 subdivisions in Maryland according to Selected Financial Data released by the State Education Department for the school year 1983-84.

Somerset and Caroline counties were the two jurisdictions which spent less on their students than Garrett. The cost included funds from all sources. The $2,877 per pupil cost was $60 per pupil lower than Allegany County. The state average was $3,552.

The breakdown of the per pupil cost shows $1,250 for instruction, $95 for texts and supplies, $120 for administration, $167 for special education, $278 for student transportation, $248

COUNTY JAIL CERTIFIED — Garrett County Sheriff M. Van Evans received word recently that the Garrett County Jail achieved 100% compliance with standards set by the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services. Paul Hasbmann, acting executive director for the DPSCS, stated, "This is no small accomplishment. It was a very demanding job for the late Sheriff Frank Finch, his then chief deputy Van Evans and jail warden Danny Rumer. Only 50% of the 24 jail subdivisions here in this state receive this recognition." Evans and Hasbmann both gave the late Sheriff much credit for bringing "the Garrett County Jail into the 20th Century." Among the mandates set by the DPSCS are life, health, safety and constitutional issues with a "no frills" approach according to Hasbmann. They do not set physical plan standards. Pictured above, back row, left to right are, Paul Hasbmann, Sheriff M. Van Evans, and Danny Rumer. for operation of plant; teacher retirement and social security $365, capital outlay and debt service $63, maintenance of plant $60, fixed charges $215, and health services and student personnel services $18.

For that same year (1983-84) state aid provided $5.3 million while the county appropriated $4.8 million. The value of public school property per pupil was $7,133 with a total value of buildings and equipment of $36 million.

The average salary per teacher for that year was $24,046 statewide. In Garrett County, the average teacher salary was $18,032, some $6,000 less than the state average.

Aid To Nation's Schools Declines, Say NEA Leaders

Federal aid to the nation's public schools has dropped to its lowest level in 20 years, according to Congressional testimony of the National Education Association.

Thomas Shaffer, UNISERV director here for the Garrett County Teachers Association, noted that data now show that the federal government pays only 6.2 percent of the nation's education costs.

"Rising demands for school improvement and rising enrollments nationwide have placed schools between a rock and a fiscal hard place," said Shaffer, "and no state government can count on significant federal funding help."

"Even Maryland's ambitious state aid program pumping over $600 million more into its public schools over a five-year period will not be enough to offset the declining federal aid help and the extreme local appropriation shortfalls being experienced in some jurisdictions," added Shaffer.

Traditionally, federal funding has made the difference between education for some and education for all, Shaffer noted. He believes that federal funding has opened doors of educational opportunities for millions of students nationwide.

"As important as federal resources are to our public schools, education spending makes up a very small part of the federal budget, according to NEA analysis of the federal budget," said Shaffer. In the current fiscal year that ends in October, only 1.5 percent of the total federal budget or $17.9 billion is going to support education.

NEA officials have reported that national education programs have lost $6.2 billion in spending power over the past four years of the Reagan administration. This has been the result of budget cuts and inflation. That loss has translated into a 20 percent cut in services for educationally-deprived children.

For every billion dollars lost in education funds in the federal budget, some 58,000 workers in education lose their jobs, NEA officials noted.

"The federal budget spending priorities reflect the national priority shown education in this country as far as the national government is concerned," Shaffer stated. He noted that military spending represents 30 percent of the current budget; social security and other retirement programs cost 25 percent; Medicare, health and assistance to the poor is 16 percent of the budget; interest on the national debt is 15 percent, education is 1.5 percent and other spending is 12.5 percent.

"Funding for education is only a small part of the total federal budget yet it is a crucial component in our national quest for excellence and equality of opportunity," concluded Shaffer.

EMT Course Scheduled By Southern Rescue

The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad will host an emergency medical technician (EMT) class this fall at the squad hall on Oak Street, Oakland, according to EMT instructor, Mary Ellen Lichty.

The 84-hour course, taught through the Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute, College Park, will begin on August 26 and will meet each Monday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. The class is open to anyone interested in serving with a local rescue squad as well as members of fire departments. Law enforcement officers and employees of health affiliates are also welcome to register for the course.

Mrs. Lichty stated that registration must be made by August 17. Interested persons are asked to contact her at 334-2866 after 6 p.m. to register and/or to obtain further information.

She also stated that this will be the last EMT course which will involve 84 hours of class and test time. All future EMT courses will be expanded to 110 hours, a recent ruling by the Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute.

Diane Gnegy Becomes Bride Of J. Philip Rook Jr. In June Event

Diane Marie Gnegy and James Philip Rook, Jr., were united in marriage on June 15. The double-ring ceremony took place at St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House, with the Rev. Daniel Yeiser and Rev. Donald Thomas officiating. Mrs. Terri McWilliams was the organist with Dave Callis, Rod McWilliams and Miss Patricia Martin as vocalists.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gnegy, Oakland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Rook, Oakland.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a traditional white wedding gown which featured a Queen Anne style neckline and fitted natural waist style bodice with a button back and silk Venise lace trim dotted with crystaletts and pearls. The full bishop sleeves were of satin with organza and trimmed in Venise lace with lace appliques over the skirt and an inlaid panel of slipper satin at the bottom, all flowing into a chapel length train at the back. Her satin picture style hat was covered in beaded Alencon lace with double fingertip length streamers of French illusion falling to the back.

The bride's jewelry consisted of a diamond necklace borrowed from her great-grandmother and crystal earrings, a gift from the bride's parents.

The bride's silk flower arrangement consisted of lavender azaleas, white roses tipped in lavender, and wedding stars with lavender streamers falling from the front. The silk flowers were made and arranged by Miss Charlotte Roth, cousin of the bride.

Miss Linda Gnegy, sister of the bride, and Miss Charlotte Roth, cousin of the bride, served as her maids of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Melody Cain, Miss Sherry Mesner and Mrs. Helen Stephens, all friends of the bride. Miss Christa Updyke served as the flower girl.

The bridesmaids and flower girl wore floor length gowns of lavender polyester crepe with a chiffon light purple flowered bodice overlay tied at the shoulders and forming sleeves. The dresses were handmade by Mary Jane Gnegy, mother of the bride.

Miss Stephanie Evans attended the guest book. Sam Gnegy, brother of the bride, Danny Roth, cousin of the bride and Don Roth, uncle of the bride, served as greeters. Pam and Patty Gnegy, cousins of the bride, served as directors of the ceremony. Lisa Rook, sister of the groom, and Arlene Roth, cousin of the bride, were the photographers.

Randy Shaffer, friend of the groom, served as the best man. Ushers were Dave Callis, Fred Callis, Randy Robinette, and Chris Crabtree, all friends of the groom. Jason DeWitt, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The ushers were attired in silver-gray tuxedos and white shirts accented with lavender cummerbuns, bow ties, and silk rosebud boutonnieres. The groom was dressed in a silver-gray tuxedo and white shirt accented with the silver cummerbun and bow tie and a white silk rose boutonniere.

The wedding ceremony was one co-written by Rev. Don Thomas and Fred Sollow. It also included lighting of candles by the mothers of the bride and groom, The Wedding Song sung by Miss Patricia Martin and Rod McWilliams, lighting of the wedding candle by the bride and groom, and the Lord's Prayer sung by Dave Callis.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Dale Gnegy farm. A buffet luncheon of meats, salads, cheeses, and fruits was prepared by the mother and family of the bride. The three-tiered wedding cake accented with crystal posts and topped with a ceramic and crystal bride and groom was decorated with purple flowers on white icing, by the bride's mother. A double heart-shaped red velvet cake and other sheet cakes were also made by the bride's mother. The cakes were served by Mrs. Alice Roth, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Lynne Smith, Mrs. Lisa Roth, and Mrs. Marsha Roth, all cousins of the bride.

Out-of-town guests were from California, Florida, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

A shower was given in honor of the bride by her co-workers at Yount, Hyde and Barbour, Winchester, Va. A pound shower was also given in honor of the bride by Linda Gnegy, sister of the bride, Charlotte Roth, cousin of the bride, and Elaine Roth, aunt of the bride. The rehearsal dinner was prepared by the Adult Fellowship of St. John's Lutheran Church.

After a honeymoon in the Poconos and Ocean City, the couple has established residence in Oakland.

Miss Bender To Wed Mr. Maust

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bender, Accident, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Angela Dawn, to Dennis Ray Maust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maust, Harleysville, Pa.

Miss Bender is a recent graduate of Northern High School. Mr. Maust is a 1979 graduate of Souderton High, Pa. He is the owner and manager of Maust Poultry.

The couple will exchange vows in an open-church ceremony September 1, at 2 p.m. at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, located along the Accident-Bittinger Road. A reception will follow in the Church Fellowship Hall.

The couple and their families invite all friends and relatives to attend.

Callis Family Will Observe 50th Reunion

Callis family members in Garrett County are making plans for their 50th annual reunion to be held August 18 at the Loch Lynn Pavilion beginning at noon.

Local organizers have sent 250 invitations to Callis family members across the country and in England, the country from which the first U.S. Callises migrated. Also included in the reunion are persons with the surname Marriott, Bullough and Potter.

The first Callis family reunion was held at the Hoes Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday, August 18, 1935. Records show that 136 members of the Callis family attended that first reunion which included a meal, business meeting, speeches and a display of Callis family heirlooms, photographs and letters.

The late Charles Callis organized that first reunion and wrote the history of the Callis-Potter-Bullough family in America. A reunion has been held every year since the first except for four years during World War II.

An article on the Callis history, which appeared in the August 30, 1953 issue of the Cumberland Sunday Times, noted that the reunion has increased in popularity "until there is now a problem of finding a site at which sufficient parking space is available."

The main activities for the 50th annual reunion will not stray from previous reunions. There will be a meal, business meeting, games and pictures as well as time for the one activity for which reunions are held: talking.

The Callis family traces its origins as far back as the Celtic tribes that eventually settled in what is now Great Britain. The first known Callis family was the Thomas Callis family which resided in Kegworth, Great Britain.

His grandson Edward emigrated to the United States with his wife, Hannah Bullough, in 1845. Edward moved his family several times from New York City, to five areas before settling in Mount Savage. He then purchased a farm near Glade Farms, W. Va., and then sold it to buy a farm in Garrett County in 1883.

Four of Edward's 11 children, all now deceased, became county residents: Thomas, William, John and Frank.

Park Events Set At Herrington, Swallow Falls

Several events have been slated for this week at Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Park according to Buck Jarusek, park interpreter.

There will be a campfire program at Herrington Manor State Park this evening in the park's amphitheater. The program will be about mountain life and the use of mountain herbs. The program will start at 8 p.m. and will last 1½ hours.

There will be a 4½ mile track walk on Friday, August 9, at 10 a.m. The walk will deal with tracking wild game and will be done in early settler fashion. This walk, which is part of the Herrington Manor Folk Program, will begin at the Herrington Manor boathouse and will last 2½ hours.

There will be a beaver dam walk on Saturday, August 10, beginning at the Swallow Falls Park Office. The walk will be along Tolliver Creek through the State Forest to a beaver dam. It will start at 3:00 p.m. and will last 2½ hours. That evening, there will be a campfire program at Swallow Falls State Park starting at 8:30 p.m. The program will be about black bears and will be presented by Al Bourgeois, District Wildlife Manager. It will last 1½ hours and will be held in the Swallow Falls amphitheater.

There will be a canyon trail walk on Sunday, August 11, at Swallow Falls State Park, along Muddy Creek and the Youghiogheny River. Visitors can expect to see virgin timber along with natural waterfalls. It will begin at 10 a.m. at the large, lower parking lot. The walk will be 1¼ miles long and will last 1½ hours.

A Junior Ranger program will be offered on Monday, August 12. This program encourages basic outdoor activities and promotes an appreciation of the Garrett County outdoors. This program is available for ages seven through 14 at no charge. It begins at 8:30 a.m. and will be held at the Herrington Manor new office.

A non-denomination Bible Story Hour will be conducted by Mrs. Irene Hixon on Tuesday, August 13. There will be songs, stories, games and prizes for the participants. This activity will start at 10 a.m. and will last one hour.

A walk through the park with an emphasis on numerous wildflowers will be held on Wednesday, August 14, at 10:30 a.m. The walk will be led by Don Rohrback, the park's resident expert on wildflowers. It will begin at Herrington Manor's current office building.

All of these activities are open to the general public. Persons desiring more information may contact Herrington Manor State Park at 334-9180.

K. Swartzentruber Named Employee Of The Month

Kathy Swartzentruber, admitting clerk, has been selected as the July Employee of the Month at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Swartzentruber was born at Garrett County Memorial Hospital December 14, 1959, and her mother, Esther Benedict, and her mother-in-law, Doris Swartzentruber, are both on the nursing staff.

Kathy started her school career at Boston, Pa., but then moved to Friendsville. She is a graduate of Northern High School, where she was a cheerleader. She has worked in the GCMH Admitting Department since 1977.

"I like working with the public and trying to cope with the daily challenges that take place in the Admitting Office," commented Kathy about her job. The most frequent comment heard from fellow employees concerning Kathy is that "she always has a smile on her face."

Kathy and her husband, Dan, reside in Gortner and attend St. Mark's Lutheran Church. They are both EMT's for the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. They enjoy snow skiing, whitewater rafting and motorcycling. The Swartzentrubers are expecting their first child to be born at (where else?) Garrett County Memorial Hospital in September.

New Horizons To Sponsor Special Outreach Program

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College, which services single parents and homemakers with special consideration for displaced homemakers needing to enter or re-enter the job market, will sponsor an Outreach Program at four library locations on Thursday during the next four weeks starting August 15.

Lena Fratz, Outreach/Job Awareness Coordinator for New Horizons will visit each library to meet with current program participants in these locations to facilitate ease in filling out new program intake forms so participants may continue to receive services from the program. This is necessary due to changes in program operation. Also, if clients wish to register for credit or non-credit classes and need child care and/or transportation financial assistance, these forms can be filled out at the same time.

Interested persons who have not previously participated in the program are also invited to attend these outreach sessions in order to learn about the New Horizons Program, the services offered to eligible participants, and to register to become program participants in order to receive these services.

The schedule for this Outreach Program is as follows: Grantsville Library, August 15, 1 to 4 p.m.; Accident Library, August 22, 1 to 4 p.m.; Friendsville Library, August 29, 1 to 4 p.m.; and Kimmel Library, September 5, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Anyone interested in taking part of this Outreach Program for the purpose of participating in or continuing to participate in the New Horizons Program is asked to call 334-9184 in order to give the New Horizons staff an idea of how many persons to expect at each library. New Horizons office is open weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

The "Happy Hands" group met recently in the home of Mildred Peterson. Devotions were opened by the leader, Marian Friend, asking those present to answer by reciting a verse of Scripture. Churches Merge In Loch Lynn

Rev. Russell Hamilton, pastor of the Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church, announced this week that his congregation will merge with the Fellowship Bible Church, Mountain Lake Park.

The Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church was established in 1896 as a United Brethren Church. Their first building was erected in 1899. In March of 1985 the congregation was received into the Evangelical Free Church of America.

The Evangelical Free Churches are a group of 900 independent congregations joining in fellowship and ministry. They hold strongly to the inspiration and inerrancy of the Scriptures, and the fundamentals of the faith, according to Rev. Hamilton.

He said, "We enthusiastically welcome the congregation of the Fellowship Bible Church of Mountain Lake Park to join us in worship, fellowship and ministry."

The Fellowship Bible Church was formed about two years ago by Pastor Robert Lee, and had been meeting at the old Mountain Lake Park campgrounds. Pastor Lee is a 1980 graduate of Tennessee Temple University with a degree in Bible and Communication. He has further studied at the Temple Baptist Theological Seminary.

Both congregations will be meeting at West Third and Roanoke Avenues in Loch Lynn. Rev. Lee said, "I would call this a consolidation of strength as we merge the leadership of two congregations of the same philosophy of ministry and doctrinal positions. I look forward to working with and learning from Brother Hamilton as he becomes my pastor."

"Our original goals as we started the Fellowship Bible Church of establishing a Bible preaching ministry of lasting significance can be realized in this merge. We are essentially two new churches united in purpose and now united in our efforts."

Rev. Russell Hamilton will serve as the pastor of the united congregations. He is a graduate of Taylor University, Upland Indiana, and has a master's degree from Grace Theological Seminary, Winona Lake, Indiana, 1961.

SEVENTH ANNUAL HORSE A THON — The Garrett County Chapter of the American Cancer Society held a successful "Horse A Thon" recently with a total of $1,600 raised. The "Horse A Thon" was sponsored by The Mountain Top Saddle Club and was held at the Thomas Brothers Farm near Friendsville. Garrett County Cancer Society Director Nancy Nemith is pictured above, right, presenting an appreciation plaque to Doris and Rit Thomas, owners of Thomas Brothers Farm. The trail covered ten miles of wooded terrain and a covered dish dinner was held at the end of the trail. Hot dogs and Coke were contributed by the saddle club. Pictured below is Tina Carr, winner of one of the five trophies awarded. Tina was the recipient of the "Hard Luck" trophy after completing the ride on her pony which would have rather stayed home. An appreciation plaque was presented by William Nemith, Garrett County Cancer Society director, to Marvin Miller, president of the Mountain Top Saddle Club for their help with the project.

The Fellowship Bible Temple radio ministry, directed by Rev. Lee, will continue as a ministry of the church Thursday and Friday mornings at 9:30 on WMSG Radio, Oakland.

Rev. Hamilton said that everyone is welcome to attend the new church.

Mathias Rep. To Visit County

Tessa Gillespie, representative for Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., Baltimore Staff, will meet with constituents in the county who may need assistance in dealing with federal programs, or have suggestions on legislation before Congress. The representative will be at the Garrett County Courthouse in Oakland on Friday, August 16 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Lung Association Slates Program

A free session entitled "Care and Cleaning of Home Respiratory Equipment" will take place August 26 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the meeting room of South Cumberland Library, 100 Seymour Street, Cumberland.

Ron Burkey, CRTT, will be the featured speaker and invites all Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis) patients, their families, friends and other interested persons to attend.

This service is provided by the American Lung Association of Maryland and supported through contributions to the Christmas Seal fund.

For more information on this and future seminars, persons may contact program coordinator Gary Divelbliss at 777-4235.

Revco Stores Join Search For Missing Children

The Revco drug store in Oakland has joined efforts with the Lost Child Network and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children to help locate America's missing youngsters. The film processing center in the Revco store is the focal point for linking customers of the nation's largest drug chain with this public awareness program.

Revco is inserting the descriptions and pictures of lost or missing children in all processed film orders. Each month the flyers will carry photos of four children listed as missing by NCMEC in Washington, D.C., which maintains a toll-free number, 1-800-843-5678, for information about these children.

"Revco is concerned about the issue of child safety and sees this program as a natural vehicle to get this important information out to our communities," said Sidney Dworkin, Revco's chairman of the board and chief executive officer. It is estimated that a half million people each week will see the faces of missing children through this ongoing program.

Revco recently donated $10,000 to fund the opening of the Lost Child Network's first headquarters in Leawood, Kansas.

"Our primary objective is to assist in protecting America's most precious resource—our children," Dworkin added. "We are pleased to get behind and participate in this worthwhile endeavor."

The flyers included in each bag of processed snapshots or slides will also provide safety tips for both parents and children on the problems of child abduction or runaways.

The program was developed by Guardian Photo, one of Revco's photofinishers, along with the Lost Child Network, a group of Kansas City area police officers. Guardian is assisting Revco's other photofinishers—Berkey, Colorcraft and Phototron—in preparing the flyers for distribution in their service areas.

Revco D.S., Inc. operates 1,996 stores in 28 states with annual sales topping $2.4 billion. There are 36 Revco stores in Maryland, one of which is located in Garrett County.

YOUNGEST RIDER AND OLDEST RIDER — The Cancer Society's annual "Horse A Thon" drew 48 horses and riders of all ages for the ten-mile trail ride at Thomas Brothers Farm near Friendsville. The "Youngest Rider" trophy was awarded to two-and-a-half-year old Danielle Harman (pictured above) of Accident who rode in front of her father, Paul Harman. Ray "Huckleberry" Humbertson, of Markleysburg, Pa., (pictured below) was the recipient of the "Oldest Rider" trophy. Winning a trophy for trailering his horse the greatest distance was Eugene Jacks of Red House, and a trophy for the most sponsored money was presented to Cindy Cerroni of Library, Pa.

Furnace Retrofit Program Includes Garrett County

The Maryland Department of Human Resources has selected Garrett County for one of seven pilot projects for a furnace retrofit program to help low income households permanently reduce their heating bills. The Garrett County Community Action Committee will administer the program in Garrett County.

According to Pam Nelson, operations director at Community Action, the County program hopes to serve 250 families beginning in October.

Ms Nelson stated that furnace modifications will be performed for eligible households where the furnace is operating at an efficiency rate of 73% or less. Community Action will contract with local contractors to install burners, clean systems and plug leaks. Furnaces are to be brought to an 80% efficiency rating or better.

The Department of Human Resources continues to monitor the project for one year to assess actual energy consumption savings.

The Garrett County Program will be administered through the CAC's Weatherization Program. Additional information can be obtained from Rich Tepper at Community Action at 334-5121.

Lynn's trim tips? Good sense and discipline

By Renee Ross

After years of riding the gain lose gain again dieter's roller coaster, Lynn Redgrave is confident that she's finally conquered a lifelong weight problem.

Lynn Redgrave

I've reached a point where I don't even consider myself on a diet anymore," says Miss Redgrave, who, at her heaviest, was 50 pounds overweight. "I've learned to retrain my habits. If I'm at a party, for instance, I can make a conscious decision whether or not to eat that tempting piece of cake."

The actress, who recently starred in the Broadway play "Aren't We All?" with Rex Harrison and Claudette Colbert, admits that even her fame as a member of the legendary Redgrave acting family couldn't protect her from self-destructive overeating.

"People think that if you're successful or in the public eye, somehow you're superhuman," Miss Redgrave says. "But my weight problem went way back to my teens. I was very insecure about my looks — about everything, as many people are. For me, overeating was a terrific barricade against the world," adds the 42-year-old actress, who catapulted to stardom in the 1966 film "Georgy Girl."

As her career progressed, Miss Redgrave says she was able to stay camera-slim by starving herself for each role, then putting the pounds back on as soon as each project ended. "For years, I woke up in the morning obsessed with how I was going to get through the day just eating one tiny meal," she recalls.

But nearly four years ago, she decided to end her dieting woes forever. "I'd had my third child," she remembers, "and while nursing her, I gained 12 pounds, then put on 17 more. I finally made up my mind and joined Weight Watchers."

The internationally-famous diet program worked so well for her that Miss Redgrave now serves as their key spokeswoman. She hosts Lifetime's Weight Watchers show, and has just released her first video, "Weight Watchers Magazine Guide to a Healthy Lifestyle."

"I'm pro-Weight Watchers, but my advice is to find the weight-loss program that's right for you," says the 5-foot-10, size 8 actress. (She laughingly refuses to reveal her precise weight.)

"A woman recently stopped me and told me she joined Weight Watchers and lost 55 pounds," Miss Redgrave says. "It was wonderful. But remember, there's no magic trick to weight loss. It's just good sense and lots of effort, but it's worth it."

Two videos to shake away your rerun blues

By Marc Minelli

Many of us suffer from VCR Videocassette Reruns, a little-known ailment that afflicts those with a limited home video library. It's a menacing plague that creeps up when least expected. There you are, with guests to entertain, and what do you plop into the VCR? "Halloween II" — for the sixth time? "Horror!"

Luckily, there's a simple cure. Drop Daffy Duck, forfeit Faye Dunaway (no more "Momme Dearest"), leave Lucy behind and get your hands on some of the more eclectic home videos. We've shopped around, and have come up with two videos that not only will cure your VCR blues, but will keep you amused and entertained, no matter how many times you screen them.

"The Best of Spike Jones" (Available by mail order only, from 1040 South Fairfax, Los Angeles, CA 90019. $39.95 plus $2.50 postage and handling.) Forget Weir Al Yankovic. Dismiss Dr. Demento. Spike Jones was — and always will be — the father of musical mayhem. This tape, compiled by Jones' son, Spike Jones Jr., proves it. "Sophisticated people thought Dad was corny," says Jones Jr., "and corny people thought he was sophisticated." The video consists of clips from Jones' 1952 and 1954 TV shows (each vignette boasts exceptional clarity and sound), clips in which the accomplished, gum-chewing musician satirizes music through the use of cowbells, foghorns, slide whistles and other assorted paraphernalia. One gem: A midget (Billy Barty) sports Liberace, sneering, sniggering and singing "I'm in the Mood for Love." He's then joined by Jones and his City Slickers — in drag. Offensive? Perhaps. Hysterical? Of course. This tape is subtitled "The Craziest Video on Earth." It certainly is the funniest.

Let's tap. (Kari Lornmar, $39.95.) Ann Miller devotees rejoice! You'll be a tap-happy hooter if you follow Bonnie Franklin's almost-easy-to-follow instructions. "This is the perfect tape for the klutzes of the world and people who want to exercise but don't want to feel like they are," says Miss Franklin, who claims a two-hour tap-workout will "leave you wonderfully sweaty." One drawback: The cassette does not come with any supplementary how-to guide, so take one step at a time.

Ex-beauty queen now reigns as soap queen

By Kimberly Redmond

"The Guiding Light" is my favorite soap opera, and Reva Lewis is my favorite soap character. What can you tell me about Kim Zimmer, the actress who portrays Reva?" — T.D., Galax, Va.

Kim Zimmer

Miss Zimmer created the character of Reva Lewis in November 1983. This year, she was nominated for a Daytime Emmy for her portrayal. The actress has also portrayed the popular Nola Daney Aldrich on "The Doctors," as well as Echo DiSavoy on "One Life to Live."

She is an accomplished singer who has appeared in New York City nightclubs, she's also a dancer and a professional stage fighter. She appeared in the film "Body Heat." Before embarking on her acting career, Miss Zimmer was a champion swimmer and diver in her home town of Grand Rapids, Mich. She was also a runner-up in a Miss Michigan beauty pageant. Miss Zimmer is married to actor A.C. Weary, who has portrayed roles on several soaps, including "One Life to Live." The couple have a 4-year-old daughter, Rachel. Is it true that "Young and Restless" characters, Traci Abbott and Danny Romalotti are married in real life? — C.J., Goodlettsville, Tenn. Sorry, you have fiction mixed up with fact. Traci, played by Beth Maitland, and Danny, played by Michael Damian, are not married in real life. They aren't even married in real life anymore — the soaps writers split up the duo a few months ago.

Michael Damian

'West 57th': A new show not just for Yuppies

By Maria Tarbell

I'm sick of shows with names that try to metaphorically describe what they're about," says Andrew Lack, the 38-year-old producer of "West 57th," the news magazine premiering Tuesday, Aug. 13 on CBS.

Since I have been getting in a cab and coming to West 57th Street for eight years, that's what I decided to call the show," adds Lack, sitting in his office not far from the offices of "60 Minutes," an in-house competition. "I was looking for a simple, credible way of identifying who we are and where we're coming from."

From the casual-but-slick opening credits — pop music plays as the camera zooms into a typewriter keyboard, over to a researcher fielding telephone calls, then down to the CBS cafeteria, where the show's reporters talk among themselves about the stories they've turned in that week — it's obvious that a new kind of magazine show has hit the airwaves.

Some industry insiders have dubbed the show "Yup to the Minute," mainly because the four reporters — former White House correspondent John Ferrugia, "CBS Evening News" correspondents Meredith Vieira and Jane Wallace, and Bob Sirott — are under 40 years of age.

Lack takes issue with this generalization. "Only 4 percent of the TV viewing audience fits into the Yuppie category," he says. "That's hardly enough for a successful prime-time program. We don't sit around and think that's not a story that will appeal to del owners so we can't do it. We're doing stories that interest us."

What does interest the "West 57th" staff? Lack's keeping mum about most of the 30 five to 10-minute-long segments already in the can, but a few segments have been previewed by Behind the Scenes, including one that tracks down recipients of organs donated to science by the family of "Cover Up" casualty Jon-Erik Hexum. Another shows a young man having a bad trip on PCP (angel dust), as he snarls, growls and bites into the bars of the hospital bed he's been strapped into.

For me, Lack explains, the PCP piece came into focus when I read a newspaper story last year. It said that nearly 35 percent of emergency hospital admissions in the DC area were PCP-related. I said, "We've got to get inside of those hospitals. That's how it works in this business," he adds. Sometimes reading just one fact will bring a story into being.

CINDY SAYS

Celeb quotes: Facts or fodder of the famous?

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK — Dean Martin on his Rat Pack pal Shirley MacLaine: "I don't want to say anything about the fact that she's always traveling physically, mentally and spiritually, or about her beliefs in other lives. I can only tell you Shirley keeps calling me from places where there are no area codes."

Dean Martin

Milton Berle on another Rat Packer, Frank Sinatra: "He's gone so crazy that his birthplace is now officially listed as Hoboken, Connecticut."

And, finally, a quote from Ben Gazzara: "I'd really love to take off for Bali. That's my favorite place. It's where you get rid of your anxieties, tensions, ambitions, hates and all those negatives you piled up before you got there."

Remember Harry Ritz, leader of that daffy 40s menage a trois The Ritz Brothers? He's ailing at the Actor's Home in California.

Remember Mercedes Metambridge, Oscar winner for her role in "All the King's Men"? She's touring in "Martha Norman" — a night, Mother, and recently invited her grandkids to see her at the St. Louis American Theater. Says MM: "I want them to experience one of the fine, old beautiful theaters before they're all torn down."

How is Jackie Gleason keeping his weight down? "He doesn't eat anything — not one thing — for breakfast. He does the same for lunch. The Great One eats only one meal a day — dinner. Jan Michael Vincent is keeping busy. He's written a script for his CBS series, "Airwolf," and he's also planning to direct an episode soon."

Kristoffer Hanson and Marlo Thomas star in "The Last Honor of Kathryn Beck," a TV movie about a woman who gets tangled in a terrifying police campaign, airing Wednesday, Aug. 14 on CBS. (Rebroadcast)

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I work with a woman who's a dead ringer for Angela Lansbury. Matilda looks so much like the actress that I'd like to submit her photo to that look-alike agency I've heard about. Can you supply its name and address? Also, can you give me Miss Lansbury's address? — I.V., Brantford, Ontario, Canada

Angela Lansbury

The company that boasts famous facsimiles is Ron Smith Productions. You can write to them c/o 9000 Sunset Blvd., No. 407, Hollywood, CA 90069. Miss Lansbury's mail may be addressed c/o 'Murder, She Wrote', Universal Studios, Universal City, CA 91604. I recently caught a rerun of 'The Black Shield of Falworth,' a 1954 movie starring Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh. Was the film based on a book? If so, can you give me its name? — S.R., Jacksonville, Ill.

Barbara Bush, Herbert Marshall and David Farrar also starred in the film, which was based on Howard

Pyle's novel 'Men of Iron.' Cheryl Ladd was brilliant as Grace Kelly in the TV movie of the same name. I'd like to tell her so. How about an address from my favorite columnist? — J.W.N., Greenville, Texas

Write to Miss Ladd c/o 151 El Camino, Beverly Hills, CA 90212. Good luck! Has Timothy Dalton, the actor who starred in the Arts & Entertainment Network production of 'Jane Eyre,' appeared in other films? — G.G., Roselle, N.J.

Cheryl Ladd as Grace Kelly

The 41-year-old British actor was 24 when he made his debut in 'The Lion in Winter,' starring Peter O'Toole and Katharine Hepburn. He's also appeared in 'Mary, Queen of Scots' and the remake of 'Wuthering Heights.'

(Do you have a question about TV? Write Val Carew at 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, NY 10166. Questions cannot be answered personally but those of general interest will be answered in future columns.)

SHOW AND TELL

Will Kopell's ship come in for another season?

By Gregory Garver

HOLLYWOOD — "The Love Boat" is sailing on rocky seas — the ratings have fallen in the past season — but some people involved with the ABC series are optimistic. The show has hired a new team of younger, more enthusiastic writers, and the cast is hopeful the show will have a chance to push full speed ahead for many more seasons. Still, there are a worried few. "Most of us are making contingency plans in case this is the last season," admits Bernie Kopell, who plays Adam Bricker, the ship's doctor.

"In this funny business of ours, it's a question of survival. The industry generally looks at people who have had a long series in a very jaundiced and limited way," he says. "They say, 'He's a TV actor, he can handle a page or two,' and they totally disregard your life before that series."

Before "The Love Boat" set sail, Kopell had a long career as a stage actor. But with the success of his film and TV career, he's been away from the theater for 18 years.

"In 1982," he recalls, "I was compelled to do a play because I began to have serious doubts if I could still do one." This fall, as part of his "contingency plan," Kopell will do two of Murray Schisgal's one-act plays at the same time he is working on "The Love Boat."

The idea behind this masochistic double-duty work, Kopell says, is to show the industry that he is more than just a TV actor.

"I have to show them what

Bernie Kopell

I can do," he says. "I've got to amaze them, prove that I can actually handle a two-hour situation from beginning to end and sustain it. The fact that I've been doing it since I was a youngster doesn't matter," he adds. "I have to show them all over again."

And though the actor says that he'd consider doing another TV series, his preference "is to spend some time on stage, and get some of the joy of that back again."

Fortunately, "The Love Boat" pays well, and Kopell doesn't have to worry about money. He credits his wife, Yolanda, with keeping the Kopell family solvent.

Yolanda comes from a family who had a very unfortunate experience with money," he explains. "So she developed an enormous talent for dealing with it."

Editor's note: Gregory Garver interviewed Kopell on a "Love Boat"-sponsored cruise.

COMFORT INN OPENED FOR BUSINESS — Through the effort of area workers, cooperation of city officials and material suppliers the Comfort Inn in Frostburg opened its doors Saturday, August 3, for business less than 100 working days from ground breaking. The owner and builder, Atlee R. Snyder of McHenry, will be offering 100 room units featuring imported marble floors in the bathrooms, six-foot tubs, jacuzzi baths, king and queen size beds, to regal honeymoon suites, two family suites, two handicapped rooms, two executive meeting rooms, and a physical fitness center open for public membership. In addition, in cooperation with the American Lung Association, ten percent of Comfort Inn rooms are non-smoking rooms. The Comfort Inn chain has pledged to donate $1 for every reservation booked through the special toll free number, 1-800-228-LUNG. "We are very pleased to be a part of such a worthwhile endeavor," said Cindy Sweeney, manager of the property. "Not only will our non-smoking guests be comfortable, but we will be helping to raise money for a very important cause." Sweeney says that the rooms are designed to fit low-budget tourists as well as luxury-conscious executives, and are centrally located near major routes. Pictured above, left to right, are: Cindy Sweeney, general manager; June Ray, Sue Huff, and Barbara Leydig, all front desk personnel.

Governor Hughes Appoints Task Force To Survey Malpractice Insurance

Governor Harry Hughes recently appointed a task force on medical malpractice insurance and named James MacGill, retired circuit court judge, as its chairman.

The Governor said he was setting up the task force in response to problems resulting from soaring cost of malpractice insurance and the effect on health care. Some physicians have abandoned practice or threatened to do so because of increases ranging from 30 to 135 percent in malpractice insurance premiums in Maryland in the last year.

"The task force should carefully evaluate the impact of higher professional liability insurance on the continued availability and affordability of medical services, as well as the impact of the increasing number of malpractice claims and awards on the practice of medicine and the overall costs of health care," the Governor said in his letter of appointment to Judge MacGill.

In addition, the Governor requested the 26-member task force to examine the possibility of comprehensive reform of legislation in the area of medical practice.

He said this might include limitations on non-economic losses in malpractice claims, limitations on punitive damages, and limitations on attorney's contingency fees. He also suggested that the task force look into the possibility of modifying or eliminating certain provisions to limit double recovery of insurance benefits and provisions "designed to deter the pursuit of frivolous medical injury claims as well as defenses."

The Governor said he decided to set up the task force after discussions with Senate President Melvin A. Steinberg and House Speaker Benjamin L. Cardin.

Besides MacGill, who retired in 1980 after 26 years as associate and chief judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit embracing Anne Arundel, Carroll and Howard Counties, the task force will include the following: George W. Liebmann, of Baltimore, who headed the Governor's Commission on Health Care Providers Professional Liability Insurance, vice chairman of the new unit; Lieutenant Governor J. Curran, Jr.; Harold A. Cohen, executive director of the Health Services Cost Review Commission; State Insurance Commissioner Edward J. Muhl; Walter Tabler, director of the Health Claims Arbitration Office; State Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene Adele Wilzack; Virginia Layfield of Princess Anne, representing the Maryland Hospital Association; J. John Spinnella of Cockeysville and Edgar E. Isaacs of Phoenix, representing the insurance industry; Drs. Israel Howard Weiner of Lutherville and James Paul Durkan of Baltimore, representing the health profession; George W. Shadoan of Potomac, Leo A. Hughes of Catonsville, Donald L. DeVries, Jr. of Baltimore and Albert D. Brault of Rockville, attorneys; Claudia Reid of Cabin John, nurse-midwife; and former Baltimore Circuit Judge Robert B. Watts and Constance H. Baker, of Baltimore, named to two of the three seats reserved for general members of the public. A third general member is to be appointed.

Also named from the General Assembly were: Delegate Nathaniel Exum (D-Dist. 24, Prince George's Co.); Casper R. Taylor, Jr. (D-Dist. 2, Allegany and Washington Cos.); Kenneth H. Masters (D-Dist. 12, Baltimore Co.); Joseph E. Owens (D-Dist. 19, Montgomery Co.); and Senators Walter M. Baker (D-Dist. 36, Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's & Talbot Cos.); Nathan C. Irby, Jr. (D-Dist. 45, Baltimore City); Thomas P. O'Reilly (D-Dist. 22, Prince George's Co.); and Gerald W. Winegrad (D-Dist. 30, Anne Arundel Co.).

New Officers Installed By Lioness Club

New officers for the Deep Creek Lake Lioness Club, McHenry, were installed at the annual picnic on June 23 by G. William Baker, District 22-W Committee Chairman of Public Relations and Past District Governor.

Melanie Foley Rodney was installed as president. Ms. Rodney had served as president for the last six months, following the resignation of the former president.

Other officers who were installed included Nancy Deckman, first vice president; Terry Kratoch, second vice president; Kate Schenk, secretary; Carol Cervi, treasurer; Vennae Bevan, Lioness Tamer; and Henni Garner, Tail Twister.

A special award for Lioness of the Year went to Carolyn Martin, who has served on numerous committees and held the office of Treasurer for two years. The award for club spirit was given to Henni Garner, and Melanie Rodney was presented with a corsage for acting as president until the election.

The regular monthly meeting for July was held at Deep Creek Lodge July 25, with Terry Kratoch conducting the meeting due to the illness of the president. Plans were made for a pig roast and quilt raffle to be held at Deep Creek Lodge, McHenry, October 5.

Members of the club operated a successful Food and Bake Sale booth at Mt. Lake Park Days.

Committees for 1985-86 are as follows: Mary Foley, Publicity and Scrapbook; Lois Lear, Telephone; Mary Foley, Newsletter; Carolyn Martin, Program; Vannae Bevan, Cards and Flowers; Phyllis Vitez, Ways and Means; Carolyn Martin, Lioness of the Year; Nancy Deckman, Membership; and Margie Funk, Nominating Committee.

Attendance awards for perfect attendance were presented to Carol Cervi, three years; Lois Lear and Carolyn Martin, two years; Kathy Schenk, Melanie Rodney, Phyllis Vitez, and Henni Garner, one year.

Elaine Mutchlev, Pat Johnson, and Grace Stitt were accepted as new members to the club.

They hold hands, but she pulls back, just a little. The water's cold, and even though the breakers are not that formidable they look pretty big to her. But he keeps tugging, determined to prove his own bravery, and pretty soon she follows, laughing, and they splash in.

Watch children and you will see that often one takes over, leads the other, bolstering his or her courage in the process.

Maybe we could take a lesson from them. We all need to lead someone else sometimes, and to be influenced at other times. All of us need a place, where we can recharge ourselves and our energies and beliefs. A place where we can pause and heed a wisdom that will better prepare us for the living of life.

The Church is great for that. Visit your Church or Synagogue this week.

INEVITABLE INEVITABILITIES

August 11, 1985

Background Scripture: Zechariah 1:1-6, 2:1-12; Revelation 18:1-24; Zechariah 8:1-17

Reading the prophets of the Old Testament, it is easy to pick-up an overwhelming sense of doom. Tragedy and destruction seem inevitable. Yet, if we read carefully we will discover that there is nothing quite so inevitable as that which seems inevitable. In other words, none of this HAS to be.

In fact, the purpose of prophecy is not to pronounce doom, but to prevent it. As Zechariah says, "But he will turn again and favor you if only you return to him" (1:2). The prophets do not pronounce what will happen, but only what will happen if the people do not change the direction in which they are moving. Doom comes, therefore, not because it is inevitable, but because the people hear the prophecies and still do not change their ways. "Don't be like your fathers were," says Zechariah, "The earlier prophets pled in vain with them to turn from all their evil ways" (1:4).

GOD'S WORD ENDURES

There is a lesson to be learned from both the Bible and the history of the world. That lesson, says Zechariah is that "God's word endures." The commandments he gives to us do not pass

Hummel Named Head Of Health Systems Agency

Paul R. Shockey, president of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland has announced the appointment of Kery C. Hummel as executive director, effective August 1, 1985.

Hummel was named acting executive director on May 1 when James R. Stanton resigned to become the executive director of the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission in Baltimore. Hummel's appointment was approved by the Governing Board at its regular meeting on August 1. The Board consists of county commissioners and other representatives of Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Frederick counties.

Hummel received a master's degree in health care administration from Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas.

Familiar with many aspects of the health care industry, Hummel's professional training also includes health planning experience ranging from undergraduate work as a hospital orderly to administrative resident for the Amarillo Hospital District, Amarillo, Tex., to planning analyst for Riverside Hospital at Toledo, Ohio.

Hummel joined HSAWM in May 1978 as coordinator for health resources development. He later served as staff liaison with several HSAWM committees and from December 1980 to May 1982 he was director of programs for the agency. When named acting executive director, he was director of operations for the HSAWM.

Hummel has also taught in public schools in Texas.

Hummel was second vice-president of the Cumberland Lions Club for 1984-85 and was chairman of the Cumberland Health Education Center for 1982-83. He has been the organizer for St. Luke's Lutheran Church since 1980.

He is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators and Sigma Tota Epsilon, professional management fraternity.

Sarbanes Rep To Visit Oakland

Senator Paul Sarbanes has announced that his Western Maryland representative will be in Oakland on Monday, August 12, to seek citizens' views and assist with problems relating to the Federal Government.

"I have asked Mrs. Nina Conway, my Western Maryland representative to be available in the County Courthouse, Garrett County Commissioners' Meeting Room, in Oakland on Monday, August 12, from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., so that she may meet with concerned citizens and report to me the views of Garrett Countians about current local national issues and the difficulties they may be having with Federal agencies.

"This meeting is very important in helping me stay informed of my constituents' needs and to better represent their interests in the Senate," Senator Sarbanes said.

Constituents who are unable to meet with Mrs. Conway during this time may contact her at 1906 Frederick Street, Cumberland, Md 21502; (301) 722-5369.

"Is it really one of the worst cases you've seen, or are you just saying that to make me feel better?"

Frostburg Couple Files Lawsuit Over Accident

A husband and wife, who were injured in a motorcycle accident near Grantsville in 1982, have filed suit for damages in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Rowley C. Bucy, and his wife, Nona R. Bucy, Frostburg, filed the suit against Jerry E. Frantz, Grantsville.

The Bucys stated that they were riding a motorcycle west on U.S. Route 40 toward Grantsville about 5 p.m. September 6, 1982. As they approached the intersection with U.S. Route 219, the defendant, driving a pickup truck east on Route 40, made a left turn into the path of their motorcycle. They said it caused their motorcycle to skid and fall over along the surface of the road, causing injury and property damage.

County Teachers To Attend State Leaders' Meeting

Three members of the Garrett County Teachers Association will attend a statewide leadership conference sponsored by its affiliate the Maryland State Teachers Association from August 12-16 at Salisbury State College, according to MST/NEA university Director Thomas Shaffer.

Representing GCTA will be Mike Ruiz, president; Irene Sigel, vice president and Esther Bender, secretary. John Helmuck, of Allegany County and member of the MST/NEA Board of Directors, will also attend, noted Shaffer.

The week-long training will include ten specialized schools and seven mini-sessions held on Wednesday. The theme for the 1985 I.T.I. is "4 2: teachers and political action equals results." The conference is designed for local association leaders to become knowledgeable in specific areas of the association's program at all three levels of activity, Shaffer said.

Michael Butera, recently named MST/NEA Executive Director, and formerly Executive Director of the Maine Teachers Association, will be attending his first statewide gathering of association leaders since being named executive director of the 30,000-member MST/NEA this past June.

Cardiac Rescue Technician Course Stated For Fall

The Region 1 Office of the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems (MIEMSS) and the Region I Office of the Advanced Life Support Coordinator have announced that a Cardiac Rescue Technician (C.R.T.) class is planned for this Fall in Allegany County. The class will be co-sponsored by Allegany Community College.

The class will provide about 180 hours of clinical and classroom instruction to eligible candidates. Instruction will be provided in anatomy and physiology, airway management, recognition and management of various respiratory, cardiac and trauma disorders, pharmacology, EKG interpretation, IV therapy, EMS laws and communications skills. Upon successful completion of the course, candidates will be eligible to take the certifying examination given by the Maryland State Board of Medical Examiners.

The class will begin in November and will be taught by Jonathan G. Newman, NREMT-P, and Michael H. Walls, NREMT-P, the Region I advanced Life Support Coordinator. Applications will be accepted up to September 9 and are available from Michael H. Walls, Advanced Life Support Coordinator, The Memorial Hospital and Medical Center, Cumberland, MD 21502 or by calling 777-4119.

Board Of Public Works Moves To End S&L Crisis

In what Governor Harry Hughes called "an important step in solving Maryland's savings and loan crisis," the Board of Public Works Friday approved the final form of notes which may be issued to help Maryland-chartered thrift institutions meet the net worth requirements of the federal insurance program.

"With this action, we can move rapidly to get additional associations under federal insurance," the Governor said. "This will remove a great liability from the State and most importantly, will remove restrictions now imposed on some deposits."

The General Assembly, during the May 17 special session which created the Maryland Deposit Insurance Fund (MDIF), authorized the fund to issue bonds to help Maryland S&Ls obtain federal insurance protection.

The Legislature set a $100 million ceiling on the bond authorization. However, the state and federal officials worked out an agreement under which the bond anticipation notes, instead of the bonds themselves, might be used by the State to help otherwise qualified S&Ls meet federal net-worth requirements.

Authorities have explained that this would help preserve the State's coveted Triple-A bond rating without necessitating postponement of major capital improvements usually financed through bond issues.

The fund has given preliminary approval to requests from 17 associations for certificates

WORKERS, TEACHERS, AND PUPILS cooperated to make the Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church Vacation Bible School a success, according to Rev. Russell Hamilton. The Bible School was held from July 29 to August 4, with an average attendance of 114 pupils, a high attendance of 123, and 29 teachers and workers. The offering for the week will be used to help national pastors and their families in Ethiopia and Evangelical Free Church Missionaries in the Philippines. Pastor Hamilton said "It was a joy to see the excellent spirit and results of this Vacation Bible School." Pictured above are those pupils, teachers, and other workers who were involved with the Bible School.

Friday's action by the board—consisting of Governor Hughes, Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer William S. James—was the latest in a series of steps taken by Hughes and other State officials to resolve the S&L crisis. In recent weeks, the Governor has:

- met with numerous federal officials, including the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and the chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, to discuss ways to bring additional association under the federal insurance system;

- has personally intervened to help prevent the shut down of a tomato cannery on the Eastern Shore which threatened the livelihood of 32 growers and a $1.7 million crop. The cannery had been unable to obtain financing because of a debt held by Old Court Savings and Loan Association, which is under court conservatorship;

- has relaxed restrictions wherever possible on deposits held by associations who are still in the process of applying for federal insurance or have not yet been cleared for full operations under the MDIF;

- has met with representatives of out-of-state financial institutions which have expressed interest in acquiring or merging with Maryland-chartered S&Ls;

- has convened numerous meetings of a team of government and private sector experts working on different aspects of the S&L crisis to move toward removal of withdrawal restrictions and alleviation of hardships experienced by depositors of the former MSSIC-backed institutions.

Of the 102 associations formerly insured by the private agency, 16 have been approved for federal insurance, 15 have received conditional FSLIC approval, and 59 others have returned to normal operation after the Governor's lifting of restrictions on withdrawals.

New Furnace Check Program Noted By MDHR

The Maryland Department of Human Resources, in conjunction with the Alliance to Save Energy, has announced the beginning of a new furnace retrofit program to help low income families permanently lower their heating bills. According to DHR Secretary Ruth Massinga, the one-year pilot program will begin in October to provide free furnace efficiency checks and improvements to about 2100 low-income households in Baltimore City, Baltimore, Garrett, Howard, Prince George's, Queen Anne and Washington Counties. Maryland has committed $1.7 million for the program from the Maryland low-income home energy assistance block grant program and refunds from companies that overcharged for oil.

"We are committed to enhancing the limited resources of low-income families," said

Secretary Massinga. "Programs such as this serve as a complement to our other energy assistance and weatherization programs and help in providing a long term solution to the energy problems of Maryland's poor."

Furnace modifications, known as retrofits, will be performed in the pilot areas on eligible low income households where the furnace is operating at an efficiency rate of 73% or lower. Private heating contractors will install high efficiency flame retention burners, clean the system and plug all air leaks. "These measures should restore the furnace efficiency to a rate of 80% or better and will save up to 25% on the households' heating bill," said Cheryl Grice, director of the Weatherization Assistance Program, which is administering the Furnace Retrofit Program.

For one year following the retrofit, the Weatherization Assistance Program will monitor and document the households consumption pattern, efficiency and energy savings. If successful, the program will be expanded statewide next year.

Training for state administrators, staff from the local weatherization programs and heating contractors will be conducted by the Alliance to Save Energy at the Westside Skills Center in Baltimore. The Alliance, a nonprofit conservation organization, provides training and program support to States for heating system improvement projects.

State Police Serious About 55 MPH Limit

"Let there be no doubts the Maryland State Police remain firmly committed to the 55 MPH speed limit," said Colonel W.T. Travers, Jr., Superintendent of the State Police, Friday.

The effects of reducing the maximum speed limit from 70 MPH to 55 MPH have been substantial, he said. The speed limit was initially reduced to save fuel during the energy crisis in 1974, however, lower speeds had an additional effect; the single greatest reduction in traffic fatalities in history. "In the past 10 years the 55 limit has continued to save lives and sharply reduce the number of serious injuries in motor vehicle collisions," Travers said. "Accident statistics have shown that increased speed results in reduced reaction time to avoid collisions and both the risk of injury and the severity of injuries sustained." The probability of a fatality in a crash roughly doubles as traveling speed increases from 45-60 MPH, and double again as speed increases to 70 MPH.

In response to a trend of ever-increasing speeds by motorists on Maryland's 55 MPH Highways, State Police instituted rolling roadblocks in early May. To date, over 1,500 operations have been conducted throughout the State's 900 miles of 55 MPH roads. Troopers have also become more visible with the display of distinctive marked tags on all unmarked patrol cars. "Fortunately, motorists will voluntarily comply with Maryland's speed laws and, in past months, speed surveys indicated that motorists are beginning to slow down with the first reduction in speed in nearly 12 months."

For those motorists who insist on speeding, a variety of enforcement techniques are being utilized, according to Travers. Radar teams with unconventional vehicles are in operation in many areas around the State and the use of VASCAR and Aerial Speed Enforcement have increased.

"We must remind motorists that we are serious about enforcing Maryland's speed laws and we caution that if they do not obey the speed limit and continue to speed, enforcement action will be taken," Travers concluded.

NEWS from

THE MARYLAND FOREST, PARK & WILDLIFE SERVICE

Garrett County Project Forester Ernie Metz is available to help forest landowners meet the state erosion and sediment control plans. Changes in the law now require landowners and loggers in every county to follow certain basic management practices. These practices will prevent accelerated soil erosion and sedimentation during and after forest harvest operations. If done correctly, these practices will benefit both the logger and landowner. Proper road layout, construction and stabilization provide better access for forest management, outdoor recreation and improved wildlife habitat. Waterway protection also benefits recreation and wildlife as well as fisheries and other water uses.

The required practices for land will need to be spelled out in an erosion and sediment control plan. A copy of the "standard plan" may be obtained from loggers, foresters or the Soil Conservation District office. "It is useful if there are no main streams on your land and if it is not too steep," Metz said. Where streams and/or steep terrain occur, a forester may be needed to help design a "custom plan" for special needs.

In either case, harvest sites will be checked by an inspector from the Maryland Water Resources Administration or the local county inspections department.

Questions about how the sediment plan may affect a forest harvest operation may be directed to Metz at Mt. Nebo work center; phone 334-3296.

Bond Changes Are Proposed By Debt Committee

Maryland's Capital Debt Affordability Committee is urging Governor Hughes and the General Assembly to:

- cancel nearly $50 million in state bonds which were authorized but never issued and reduce proposed authorization levels by an additional $50 million over the next five years,
- begin a long term program to eliminate the need to sell general obligation bonds for the state's capital construction program, thereby reducing Maryland's general obligation debt,
- exercise more control over special authority debt and make the State's housing bond programs more self-supporting, and
- authorize a maximum of $220 million in general obligation bonds to support the Fiscal Year 1986 Capital Budget.

Maryland's Capital Debt Affordability Committee, which consists of State Treasurer William S. James (Chairman), State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, State Budget Secretary Louis Stettler, State Planning Secretary Constance Lieder and public member, Paul B. Merrit, is required to make recommendations concerning the State's debt each year.

In releasing the report James and Goldstein noted that, in view of the $100 million emergency bond authorization arising from the savings and loan crisis, the committee believes strong action must be taken to reduce currently authorized but unissued debt as well as to reduce future authorizations of new debt.

Among the bonds recommended for cancellation are the Memorial Stadium improvement loan of 1980, which was contingent upon long term leases by both the Orioles and the Colts, and Program Open Space loan authorizations dating to 1969 and never needed because they have become a "back-up" funding source for the program.

The committee noted that its long term program to phase the general construction loan budget into Maryland's operating budget would require additional funds in the State budget each year, over the life of the phase-in. By eliminating debt service costs, the State's capital program would ultimately become an annual operating expense. Eliminating interest payments will mean the State will get more for its construction dollar, according to committee members.

In addition, the committee called for the establishment of more effective control on the total amount and time of offering of special authority debt and changes in the state's housing bond program. Among those proposed changes would be channelling housing program resources to the truly needy and using mortgage loan repayments to repay the principal and interest on outstanding general obligation bonds instead of using them to finance new loans. In this way, the committee believes the programs would become substantially self-supporting.

In its report, the Committee notes that Maryland continues to climb out of debt. "Since June 30, 1983 total outstanding debt has declined by $178.6 million, and should decline by another $192.1 million by June 30, 1988," the report predicted. Maryland's outstanding general obligation bonded debt as of June 30, 1985 totaled $2,231,295,000.

Staff support to the Committee was provided by Dr. Robert Rader, Chief of the Bureau of Revenue Estimates, and Ms. Joan Shrets, of the Department of Budget and Fiscal Planning.

Maryland Trail Map Available

Maryland offers 2,955 miles of trails for persons to explore while enjoying the state's scenic beauty, learning about Maryland history or building physical stamina at the same time, according to the Maryland Department of State Planning (DSP).

The Maryland Trail Study map details 12 types of trails located across the state which include routes designated for cross-country skiing, jogging, back-packing, or nature observation. Persons can also explore Maryland on a snowmobile, in an off-road vehicle, in a kayak, on horseback, or on foot.

The inventory, maintained by DSP since 1981, reveals that 89 percent of the available trail mileage is open to the public. Although few of these trails are designed specifically for the needs of the handicapped, many are accessible to persons with physical disabilities.

Among the most prominent trails in Maryland are 40 miles of the Appalachian Trail, a 16-mile segment of the Tuscarora-Big Blue trail, 181 miles of the C&O Towpath, as well as 231 miles of the East Coast Bicycle Trail.

Support facilities such as camping areas, shelters, youth hostels, and parking are also available throughout the state making these trails accessible to more people.

In addition to locating the trails and describing the types of activities they are best suited for, the map provides a list of organizations and agencies to contact for further information about trails and activities of specific interest. It also lists groups who are actively involved in the development and maintenance of trails in various parts of the state.

A map illustrating the type and location of Maryland trails is available from DSP's Comprehensive Policy Planning Division for $2. Persons may write to Trails Coordinator, Department of State Planning, Room 1101, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland, 21201.

Finance Officers Urge Creation Of Federal CFO

Maryland State Comptroller Louis I. Goldstein, returning from the 70th Annual Meeting of the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers (NASACT) in Salt Lake City, Utah, said the fiscal officers of the 50 states are urging the creation of a Chief Financial Officer for the Federal government to impose fiscal discipline. The group is also opposing elements of the Federal Tax Reform Program which endanger the states.

Goldstein, who was elected to the executive committee of the National Association of State Comptrollers within NASACT, noted that the lack of firm fiscal control and direction in the federal government's financial management led the national organization to urge the creation of a Chief Financial Officer of the United States.

In the states' view, a new federal CFO could provide accurate federal fiscal information, develop uniform accounting standards and adopt other financial goals in the interest of the American taxpayer.

"As the chief financial officers of our respective states, we felt that no federal entity currently exists that can adequately carry out this function," Goldstein said. "Instead, this function is split up among the Office of Management and Budget, the U.S. Treasury Department, the U.S. General Accounting Office, the U.S. General Services Administration and the Joint Financial Management Improvement Program.

In addition, we are urging Congress to reject all tax reform proposals which would adversely affect the issuance of state bonds and the deductibility of state and local taxes from federal income tax," he said.

Goldstein also noted that other topics of concern addressed at the Salt Lake City, Utah meeting included the stability of financial institutions as they relate directly to the investment of public funds.

Goldstein served as president of the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers in 1989 and has continued to serve as a member of the Tax Exempt Bond Committee, frequently testifying before Congress on matters concerning municipal bonds.

Sarbanes Cosponsors Legislation On Childhood Vaccines

Senator Paul Sarbanes (D, Md.) has cosponsored legislation to improve the quality and safety of childhood vaccines, assure a stable supply of vaccines to protect children from deadly and infectious diseases, and provide just and expedited compensation for those children who are injured by an adverse reaction.

"Maryland took the lead in this area last year by passing the first law in the country addressing the need to provide parents with information about vaccines and to help monitor adverse reactions to them," Sarbanes said. "Dissatisfied Parents Together spearheaded these efforts and together with the American Academy of Pediatrics have worked hard to develop this national legislation and I commend them for this. Because communicable dis-

COSTLY HOBBY — These damaged road signs collected by the Garrett County Roads Department have cost the county over $1,300 since January 1. Roads Administrator Paul Shockey said, "This senseless vandalism" is costing the county money that "could better be spent on roads repairs, etc..." Each sign costs between $30 and $40 to replace. Shockey is presently working with local law enforcement agencies to help monitor and prosecute such vandals. The Garrett County Commissioners are also presently working with Crime Solvers to aid in the apprehension of the persons shooting road signs. Shockey is asking for the cooperation of all Garrett County citizens in reporting these crimes.

August 15 is the deadline for entries in the 1985 Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service Photography Contest. Amateur photographers are welcome to enter their photographs that were taken in state parks, forests or wildlife areas since August 1, 1984. Entries must be 8"x10" matted, black and white or color prints. Each contestant may submit a maximum of four entries.

Contestants will have a chance to win first, second and third place prizes at both a local and statewide level. The contest site for Garrett and Allegany is Rocky Gap State Park.

This contest is strictly for amateurs. An amateur is defined as anyone who does not make more than one-half of his/her yearly salary from taking and selling photographs. Employees of the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service are not eligible.

For the local contests, first place winners will receive prizes with an approximate value of $30.00, $20.00 for second place winners and $10.00 for third place winners. First place statewide winners will receive a 16"x20" matted and custom framed enlargement of the first prize photo; second place winners an 11"x14" matted and custom framed enlargement of the second prize photo; and third place winners an 8"x10" matted and custom framed enlargement of the third prize photo. All statewide winners will also receive 8"x10" prints of the winning photographs.

For a brochure, with entry form, persons may contact the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, Md. 21401; telephone (301) 269-3771.

To accomplish this, legislative action is necessary to address problems we have only recently become aware of, and which jeopardize our ability to vaccinate our Nation's children. I believe this legislation, through its fair and comprehensive approach, will be successful in meeting these goals."

The National Academy of Sciences, in a study released on July 29, takes a similar approach by recommending the establishment of a new, national commission on vaccines whose duties would include guaranteeing that an adequate supply of various vaccines exists and developing a new system to compensate people injured by a vaccine.

Everybody loves a barbecue. The taste is great and outdoor cooking keeps the house cooler. Be sure to observe these important safety precautions for your protection.

Place the grill outdoors, well away from the house, so that wind swept flames can't reach anything flammable.

It's smart to keep a bucket of sand nearby to smother too high flames, or use baking soda on burning food.

NEVER use gasoline or kerosene to start a charcoal fire. Use a safe liquid or electric fire starter, following manufacturer's directions.

If the fire starts to die down and you want to revive it, DON'T squirt on more lighter fluid. DO moisten a few pieces of charcoal with fluid, outside the grill, and then add them one at a time.

Dispose of ashes carefully. Douse them with water, stir, and then douse them again.

Local DAVA Unit Receives National Award

The Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, Mt. Top Unit 29, was honored during the recent National DAV and DAVA Convention in New Orleans, La., with a national award in the legislative category.

During 1984-85, Unit 29 conducted a program of letter writing, phone calls, and attendance at meetings held in the county by elected officials, viewing their thoughts on legislative concerns concerning veterans and their families.

Hazel Meyers, Unit 29 commander, expressed that the unit appreciates what each member did and urges them to continue their correspondence with legislators to let them know that unit members are aware of affairs concerning veterans and intend to do all they can to prevent veterans' benefits being cut or deleted. "Sandra Corbin, our legislative chairman, deserves special recognition for her work on behalf of the unit," said Meyers.

The annual picnic was held by DAV and DAVA Mt. Top Chapter, Unit 29, recently at Broadford Park with approximately 50 attending.

Members partook of the good food, swimming, horseshoes, and visiting. Joining the local unit were Gloria and Louis DelBroco of Unit 26, St. Mary's County, and Edith and David Lichty of Unit 2, Cumberland.

Young St. Paul's Members Receive National Honor

The Society of Distinguished American High School Students announced recently that seven students from St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, have been selected as members in its honor society for 1985.

The students' sponsor, Rev. Allen C. Ridenour, pastor of St. Paul's, was presented with The Society's National Appreciation Award for "assiduous devotion to the development and encouragement of student leaders."

According to a Society spokesman, membership in this national honorary is designed to be not only an honor, but also an incentive for those exhibiting top performance while in high school. To be accepted, students must have excelled in academics, extracurricular, or civic activities.

Local students awarded this honor for 1985 include: Joell

Winters, Shawn Reed, Johnna Marple, Misti Ridenour, Doug Evans, Stan Lambert and Tracy Umstot.

As members, these students will have the opportunity to compete for college scholarships through The Society's National Awards Program. This scholarship program, now in its 17th year, is funded by 130 colleges and universities across the nation. To preserve the honor, these members' names and their accomplishments will be listed in The Society's 1985 Membership Registry.

PERFORMING WITH WORLD CHAMPS — Kristi Bowling, a graduate of Southern High School, is currently a member of the Garfield Cadets Drum and Bugle Corps, a two-time world champion corps based in Garfield, New Jersey. Miss Bowling is a member of the color guard unit of the corps, which has been in competition since June. Rehearsals began back in November for this summer's tour, which will cover much of the United States and Canada. The tour consists of long hours of practice with performances almost every day. The members sleep on the tour buses while enroute to the next competition. The culminating event of the season will be the Drum Corps International Championships, slated for August 13-17 in Madison, Wisc., where the Garfield Cadets will defend their world title against about 40 other top corps from all over the world. Kristi is the daughter of Nancy Spiker, Frederick, and the granddaughter of Carl and Flora Burton, Oakland. She will return to Hood College this fall just days after the conclusion of the Cadets' marching season.

Medicaid Cards To Include Health Insurance Indicator

Beginning this month, Medical Assistance clients' cards will be marked to indicate if the client has some form of health insurance, the Medical Assistance Administration of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene announced recently.

If the Medicaid recipient is known to have health insurance coverage, the code "INS" will be indicated on the card.

Including this indicator will assist health care providers in billing the insurance carrier, possibly resulting in an increase in reimbursement to the provider. This would occur when the insurance benefits exceed the amount paid by Medical Assistance.

Health care providers, such as physicians, hospitals, and therapists, can obtain insurance information from the Medicaid recipient and seek payment from the insurance carrier.

If it is not possible to get the insurance information from the recipient, health care providers may call the Medical Assistance Insurance Operator at 225-1765 or 255-1773 for the details of insurance coverage on file with the Medical Assistance Program.

The change in Medical Assistance procedures is the first step in an effort to institute a cost avoidance program to replace the present "pay and chase" method in Maryland, according to a MDHMH spokesman.

Maryland's Medical Assistance Program has been paying for medical services first, then seeking recovery of funds from the insurance company, if the Medicaid recipient is privately insured.

Approximately eight percent of the state's 340,000 Medical Assistance recipients have some form of health insurance.

Junior Woman's Civic Club Meets

The Junior Woman's Civic Club held a "Family Night" picnic at the Dennett Road School Gym last Thursday.

A new member, Kim Greene, was initiated into the club, and plans were made for a hoagie sale on September 15. Plans were also finalized for the "Pizza Shack" booth at the Garrett County Fair.

The JWCC is working with the Appalachian Center to plan a Fashion Show for October 19, and a board meeting will be held August 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Durenda Sheally.

The next meeting will be September 5 at 6:30 p.m. at the Starlite Restaurant. The topic will be "Get to Know JWCC".

McIntire Leads National Drive To Save Fort

Charles McIntire, a native of Oakland, has been named to the Executive Committee of the Patriots of Fort McHenry, a non-profit organization of business and civic leaders who are conducting a national campaign to raise funds to renovate and restore historic Fort McHenry National Monument and Historic Shrine, birthplace of the national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

McIntire is vice president and manager of Stebbins Anderson in Towson. He maintains homes in Baltimore and Garrett County.

He is a descendant of the Henry McComas family. McComas and Daniel Wells are credited with firing the shot which killed British General Robert Ross, forcing the British to halt their advance on Baltimore in 1814.

McIntire's great-grandfather, Dr. J. Lee McComas, was a distinguished surgeon in Maryland during the 1850s and 1860s. His grandfather, Dr.

Henry McComas, practiced medicine in Garrett County and served in the Maryland State Senate.

McIntire is married to the former Barbara Stephenson, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Randol, Mountain Lake Park.

Anna McNallie Resigns County Planning Post

Garrett County Planning Administrator Anna McNallie has announced she will resign her county post on September 20 to accept the position of Planning Director of Clinton County, Pa.

McNallie submitted her letter of resignation to the county commissioners Tuesday in which she noted, "It is with real sadness that I shall leave Garrett County, for I love this place deeply and have worked with many fine people during my years here. The best thing about Clinton County is that except for not having a Deep Creek Lake, it is exactly like Garrett County."

The commissioners during the Tuesday press conference expressed their regrets in accepting McNallie's resignation and commended her for the work she did while planning administrator for the county.

"Ms. McNallie is a very dedicated employee who achieved a career advancement and we wish her well," commented Commissioner Elwood Groves.

The commissioners have named John Nelson, county zoning administrator, as the acting planning director.

The commissioners noted they are examining the two departments of zoning and planning to determine whether they can be combined under one administrator.

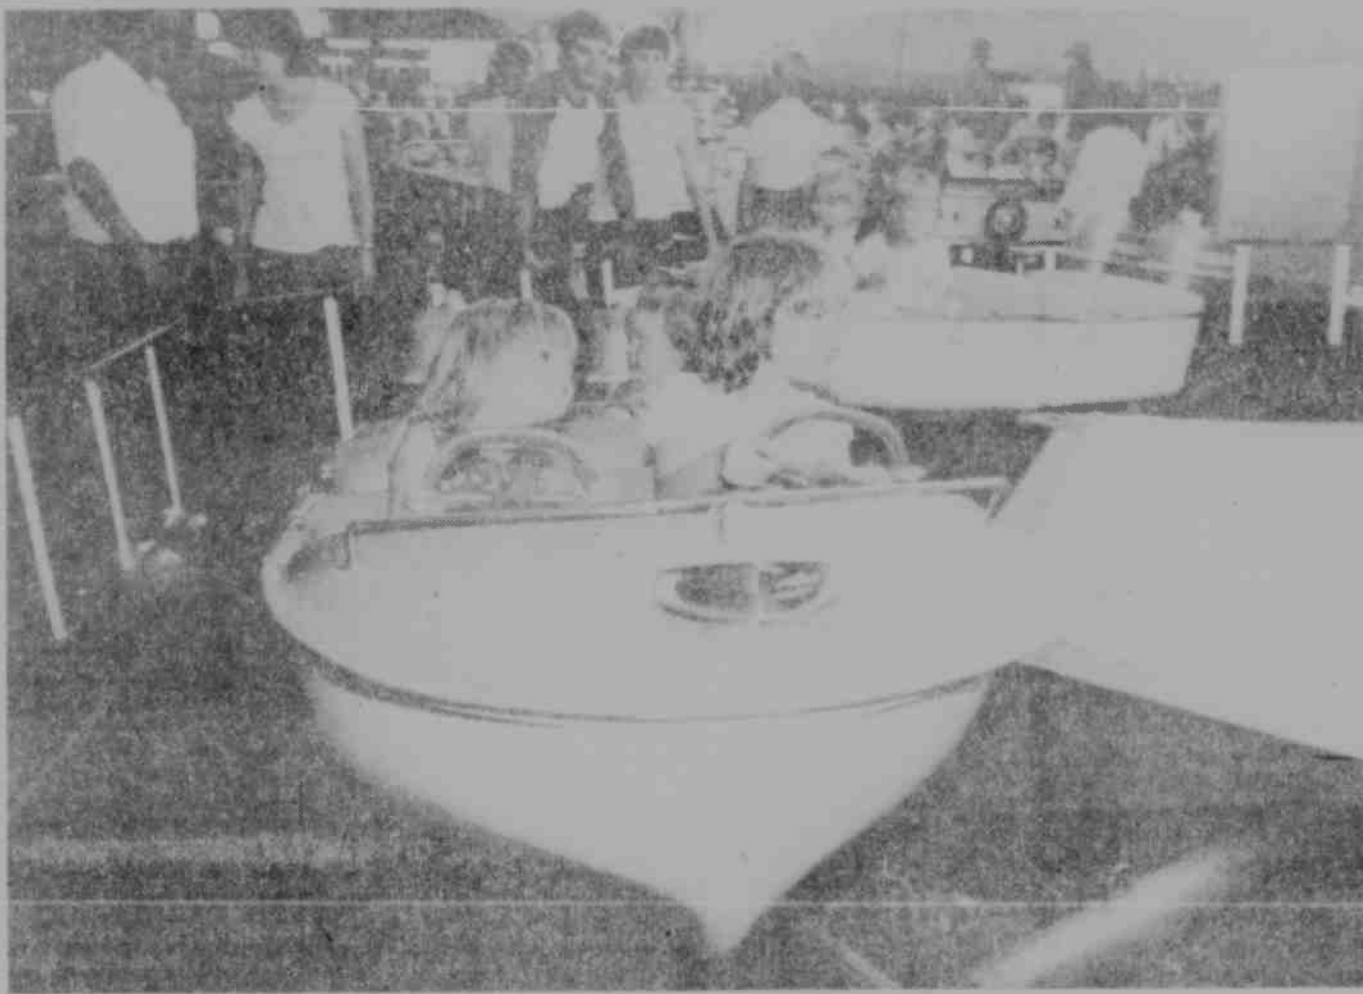

"We haven't made any firm decisions on such a merger," stated Commissioner Ernest Gregg. "At present, it is only a temporary merger."

McNallie was named to the planning administrator post in May 1984 after the resignation of Tim Dugan. Prior to serving as planning administrator, McNallie worked as a senior planner for the county for four years.

During the five years she has worked in the county, McNallie drafted the county recreation plan which was adopted in 1983 as well as worked with the Garrett County Planning Commission on revising the land use plan for Deep Creek Lake. McNallie was involved in formulating the lake carrying capacity computation contained in the lake plan as well as proposing the rural residential zoning category.

Weaver Convicted On Drug Charge, PSI Ordered

A Duncansville, Pa., man was found guilty of distribution of cocaine by Judge Frederick Sharer in Garrett County Circuit Court on August 8.

Judge Sharer ordered a presentence investigation for Craig L. Weaver, 27, who was one of three men who faced drug charges in court Thursday. The three were among the 18 persons recently arrested by Maryland State Police on drug charges.

Four charges against Weaver were not prosecuted while all charges against William Joseph Simanski, 24, Gallitzin, Pa. and Kenneth F. Carney, 25, Lilly, Pa., were not prosecuted.

The three men were arrested by state police on Feb. 23 after a drug transaction around midnight near Village Inn, Deep Creek Lake.

In court Thursday, State's Attorney James Sherbin explained that charges against Carney and Simanski would not be prosecuted because all of the evidence showed that Weaver controlled the drugs and acted alone in the drug transaction which was witnessed by Tfc. C.R. Smith who was working in an undercover capacity at the time.

Besides distribution of cocaine, all three men were charged with bringing cocaine into the state of Maryland, distribution of cocaine, possession with intent to distribute cocaine and conspiracy to distribute cocaine.

Arnold Brothers, Harris-Smariga Get Contracts

At a press conference Tuesday the Board of Garrett County Commissioners announced that contracts had been awarded to Arnold Brothers Inc. of Oakland for excavation at the Round Glade landfill and to Harris-Smariga of Hagerstown for county bridge inspections.

County Clerk Robert Fousek said Arnold Brothers was the low bidder for the excavation work at $72,600 which calculates to $.60 a cubic yard and 121,000 cubic yards of dirt.

Harris-Smariga was the low bidder for bridge inspections at $12,640. Fousek said the bridge inspections were mandatory in order for the county to receive state and federal monies to repair existing bridges.

Also Tuesday, the commissioners announced that John Nelson, Garrett County Zoning Administrator, would be acting as temporary director of the Planning Commission. That position will be left vacant by Anna McNallie, who has accepted the position of planning director in Clinton County, Pa.

When asked if they planned to merge those two departments permanently, the commissioners said they would study that possibility but were not making a firm decision at this time.

At the press conference, Commissioner Elwood Groves II said he would be attending a Tri-County Council meeting

School Board Adopts Budget

The Garrett County Board of Education adopted a $14,266,290 budget for fiscal year 1986 during its meeting August 8. The budget was $168,611 less than originally requested by Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, due to changes in several receipt areas in the budget.

The school board adopted the budget even though negotiations with one employee group, supportive supervisory staff, are still at an impasse and with the understanding further revisions may be necessary depending upon allocation of federal revenue sharing funds by the Garrett County Commissioners.

Two major changes to the budget were in the estimated school system receipts: the county tax levy was changed from a requested $5,716,658 to the $5,406,315 the county commissioners granted the board and the estimated carry over from the previous year was increased from $140,000 to $277,000.

State receipts also increased from an expected $1,806,261 to $3,146,825. Included in the state receipts was an addition of $341,677 to the transportation budget to pay for costs of split shifting Northern High and Northern Middle school students this year while NHS is undergoing renovation. This amount has been saved over the past years for this purpose.

The school board also approved cuts to the budget including $10,000 from transportation for activity buses, $76,000 from heating expenditures, $4,000 from maintenance equipment and $1,908 from legal fees in administration.

Appropriated amounts in the school board budget expenditures are: administration, $557,407; instructional salaries, $6,951,906; instruction, other, $652,559; pupil services, $106,326; health services, $3,075; transportation, $2,034,680; operations, $1,371,668; maintenance, $295,253; fixed charges, $1,111,977; food service, $5,900; capital outlay, $288,650; and special education, $86,889.

Board Changes Calendar

In other business during its meeting, the school board approved changes in the 1985-86 school calendar which will primarily affect elementary students in the northern end of the county.

The first day of school for all schools in the southern end of the county and for Rt. 40 Elementary School will be a half-day on August 28. Northern Middle and Northern High School students will report in accordance with the split shift plan and will have a full day of school, that is Northern Middle School students will attend their first day of school from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and NHS students will attend from 12:35-5:30 p.m.

Elementary school students in Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville and Yoder will not have school on August 28, but will report for a full day of school on August 29. Teachers at these schools are to report for a half-day inservice on this day.

Schools will be closed on Monday.

Board Appoints Massi Northern Middle Principal

Wilda Massi, assistant principal at Southern Middle School, has been named the new principal of Northern Middle School by the Garrett County Board of Education. Massi will succeed Thomas Fowler who recently was appointed principal of Broad Ford Elementary School.

Massi holds a bachelor's degree in English and German from Berea College, Berea, Ky. She received her master's degree in guidance and counseling from Frostburg State College where she also received her administrator's and supervisor's certificate for secondary schools. She is also a National Certified Counselor.

Massi has 22 years of experience in education serving first as a German teacher in Brandenburg, Ky. before coming to Garrett County where she served as an English teacher at Southern High School for eight years.

In 1978, she was appointed as a guidance counselor at Southern Middle School, a position she held for two years before being named assistant principal at that school.

In discussing her new position, Massi stated, "I have truly enjoyed every job that I have ever had. I look forward to this new position as principal of Northern Middle as the ultimate challenge of my career up until this point I have heard nothing but wonderful things

Rescue Personnel Discuss Tax Idea With Legislators

Senator John Bambacus and Delegate George Edwards met with the leadership of Southern and Northern Garrett County Rescue Squads Wednesday to discuss the possibility of legislation which would create a special rescue tax for Garrett County.

The meeting followed earlier discussions between the squads, the Garrett County Commissioners, and the leadership of the Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association. At those meetings creation of a special 2¢ tax, the revenue from which would be equally divided by Northern and Southern Garrett County Rescue Squads, received favorable reviews. Currently county fire departments receive partial financial support through a 5¢ tax on the property assessments. Ambulance-rescue squads must rely solely on their fund-raising activities.

Nancy Trimble of Northern Rescue stated, "The need for the rescue tax is based on the increased number of ambulance calls and the staggering costs for EMS equipment." For example there has been over a 100 percent increase in ambulance calls since the services began and the cost of one new modular ambulance now exceeds $60,000.

"The effect of having to raise money, as well as run calls, places an extreme burden on volunteers and increases the problem of burnout and loss of squad membership," Ms. Trimble noted.

Phil Rook, president of Southern Garrett County Rescue stated, "Even with this aid (rescue tax), squads will have to continue fund raising activities, but at least some of the pressure will be removed."

Both Delegate Edwards and Senator Bambacus expressed

Split Shifts, School Bus Routes Explained By School Officials

An air of enthusiasm was emitted from Northern High School Principal Ed Green as he told those attending the Aug. 8 split shift information meeting, "I am confident we are going to have a good year."

Green was one of five speakers at the meeting attended by about 85 people who heard how the two schools will operate during the split shift sessions this school year, how transportation will be provided and how a volunteer network to check on absentee children will be organized.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, introduced the new principal of Northern Middle School, Wilda Massi, who will succeed Tom Fowler.

Ed Green told the group consisting primarily of parents and students, "I am ready to start tomorrow."

He reiterated parts of a letter mailed to all families with NHS students which outlined how the high school will operate. He explained that high school students will arrive at NMS at about 12:20 p.m. where they will report to the school cafeteria. While there, teachers will take roll and announcements will be made.

At 12:35 p.m., bells will ring and the students will enter school classrooms to begin their classes.

He explained that extra and co-curricular activities will continue for the school and that coaches will have the option to hold practice in the morning or evening.

Dr. Ryscavage reported that the county school board has approved removing limitations on 08 absences at the two schools for this school year. This absence code covers work or school activities authorized by the school principal.

Green pointed out that teachers at the two schools have agreed to give up their planning time during the school day and will teach six, 42-minute periods a day. The advantages, he explained, will mean class sizes will be smaller and more courses will be offered.

Green added that the high school telephone numbers will ring into the middle school this year, so that families may still use those phone numbers.

Because many vocational courses could not be housed in the middle school, Green said that two vocational courses will be conducted at Camp Hickory and others will be offered in a section of Northern High School which will be partitioned off from the rest of the school because of the construction activity elsewhere in the school.

Plans are to open the new vocational wing of the school in December.

Students will be served lunch in two shifts, Green explained. The first shift will begin at 2:55 p.m. and the second at 3:30 p.m.

Green added that he and school guidance counselors were able to satisfy over 90 percent of students' requested schedules for this school year. He added that he and the two counselors will be at the school the week of August 19 if there are students and parents who wish to discuss any scheduling problems.

Daina Savage Is Crowned 1985 Farm Queen

Daina Savage was crowned the 1985 Garrett County Farm Queen, in a ceremony sponsored by Farm Bureau, Sunday evening on the fair stage.

Daina, who is the 17-year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Savage, will be a senior at Southern High School, where she is involved in Student Council and athletics. She has been a member of 4-H for many years, and was a contestant in the 1984 Farm Queen contest.

The new Farm Queen will spend the week passing out ribbons, helping with fair activities, and representing agriculture.

The first runner-up is Sherri Wilt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilt. Sherri will help the queen with activities during the week, and served as queen on Tuesday while Daina was in Timonium for the State Farm Queen orientation. The state contest will be held during the Maryland State Fair.

A welcome was given by Farm Bureau President Clark Kolb and an introduction of the contestants was given by Women's Committee Chairperson Donna Grottelty.

Sheila Bender, the Garrett-Allegany Dairy Princess, welcomed those present on behalf of the dairy industry.

Judges for the evening were introduced. They were Bruce Hotchkiss, editor and publisher of the Delmarva Farmer; Jack Miltenberger, Allegany Farm Bureau president and president of the new Allegany Ag-Expo; and Linda Conner, a past Garrett County Farm Queen now LOCAL BANK DONATES TO OVFD — The First United National Bank & Trust recently presented a $250 donation to the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department as its annual contribution. According to an OVFD spokesman, the funds will be used to help pay for the Department's 1985 Gruman pumper, which arrived in Oakland two weeks ago and should be placed into service within the next week. The pumper has a 1,250 gallon per minute pump and rests upon a Hendricks chassis. It is powered by a 10 horsepower Detroit diesel engine and has an Allison automatic transmission. The cost of the new piece of equipment is approximately $118,000. One fund raiser currently underway to help pay for the pumper is a satellite dish raffle, tickets for which may be purchased from any OVFD member. In the photo, left, is Mark Durst, vice president of OVFD, and Jim Shaffer, of the marketing department of First United National.

GCC Business Department Offering New Management, Accounting Courses

A new course in managerial accounting and internships in the fields of accounting and management are among the innovations in the Business Department at Garrett Community College this year.

Enrollment in the Business Department, which includes transfer programs in business administration and secretarial education; two-year occupational degree programs in business administration with accounting, small business, banking, or secretarial science concentrations; and certificate programs in business administration, banking, option, and secretarial, is the fastest-growing area of study at the college, according to a GCC spokesman. Last year, 160 students were enrolled full-time in business programs, with another 68 part-time students in the department. This accounted for almost a quarter of the enrollees at Garrett last year. In addition, many students majoring in other fields are taking advantage of the opportunity the spokesman said, to take one or more business courses to improve their employment prospects following graduation.

Offered for the first time this fall will be Managerial Accounting, which will focus on procedures and principles of cost accounting, including process and job order costing, problems of joint and by-product costing, cost behavior and volume-profit relationships, responsibility accounting standard costs, flexible budgets, cost structures for planning and control, and the integration of cost systems into management planning and control.

Managerial Accounting will be taught by Mike Will, full-time business instructor at Garrett Community College. Will, who received a master's degree in business from Frostburg State College in 1980, has taught business, management, and accounting at Frostburg and Allegany Community College. He has been employed at GCC since January, 1985.

Internship courses in accounting and management worth three credits each will be offered to business students in their final semester prior to graduation. The internships are designed to provide the opportunity to integrate academic knowledge with professional work experience, to develop professional skills, mature decision making, self confidence, and independence necessary to gain the advantage in today's business world. Each course will require a minimum of 106 hours at the work site along with periodic written progress reports.

According to Will, several local businesses have already expressed an interest in providing work sites for the student interns. He encourages any business that might be interested in participating in the program to contact him at the college for further information on the program benefits and requirements.

Robert Crone, chairman of the college Arts Division, said, "The growth being experienced by the business department at GCC is part of a nationwide trend in college enrollments by major. Today's students are very interested in learning marketable skills that can be readily utilized in finding a job following graduation.

"We are also seeing a growing number of women pursuing education and employment in the field of business, which has traditionally been a male-oriented profession," he continued.

"Women returning to work or entering the work world for the first time are attracted by the solid job skills and promising employment outlook that business provides. Female business majors now outnumber men at GCC as women seek to move beyond entry level positions in the world of business. The college is committed to providing the learning experiences that today's new breed of student requires."

Will stated, "The implementation of a Hotel-Restaurant Management program at Garrett provides the business major with the opportunity to require specialized skills in the hospitality field, which has been cited as a major growth industry in upcoming years. This should give business majors added flexibility in the work world."

For information on registering for the fall semester at GCC persons may contact William Ewing, director of admissions, at 387-6666. Persons considering full-time enrollment should contact him as soon as possible to allow time for placement testing, academic advisement, and registration prior to the start of classes on September 11.

Bench Warrant Ordered For Frostburg Man

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney ordered a bench warrant for Thomas K. Doyle, 20, Frostburg, when he failed to appear in court for a trial scheduled for August 6.

Tfc. David W. Broadwater charged Doyle with assault and possession of a deadly weapon with intent to injure following a June 24 incident near Finzel. Wayne L. Ritchie, Frostburg, filed the complaint.

In other court cases, Judge Turney convicted Joseph Whitacre, 23, Oakland, of a malicious destruction of property charged filed by Alveda J. Whitacre after a May 30 incident when he removed the electrical wiring from under the hood of her 1985 Dodge Daytona. Damages totaled $800.

Whitacre received a sentence of 12 months and a $50 fine. The judge suspended the sentence and placed Whitacre on 12 months unsupervised probation.

Charges of battery and intoxication against Whitacre were not prosecuted. He was represented by John R. Toston, public defender.

The judge convicted David Shaffer, 36, Swanton, of a charge of trespassing on posted property filed by Robert C. James, Oakland when he dumped refuse, including a pine tree, limbs and trunk, without permission on "Thousand Acres."

He received a sentence of three months, which was suspended. He was then placed on six months unsupervised probation and ordered to remove the debris he deposited.

The judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Benjamin N. Wilt, 31, Morgantown, following a disturbance of the peace charge filed by Tammy L. Wilt, Mt. Lake Park. Wilt was represented by John Toston.

The judge granted probation before judgment for Ronald L. Bierman, Jr., 18, Cumberland. Bierman was found guilty April 14 after Dep. David Crossland filed a battery charge against him. His unsupervised probation was reduced from 12 to six months.

Charges of battery and malicious destruction of property against Ronald O. Kiser, 36, Oakland, were not prosecuted because the complainant Jerry A. Cline, Oakland, did not wish to pursue the charges.

American HV Test Systems Plans Open House

American HV Test Systems, Inc., of Accident, is celebrating the 10th anniversary of its founding. One of the activities planned to mark the occasion is an Open House scheduled for Friday, August 23, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

In announcing the Open House, Keith R. Reed, founder and President of the Company said, "I am grateful to many people in Garrett County for the support they have provided over the years. As we mark our 10th anniversary, I thought many local citizens would enjoy visiting our factory to see what we really do here. My employees and I are proud of what we have accomplished over the years and look forward to showing our facilities to people from the community."

American HV Test Systems, Inc., was founded in 1975 by Mr. Reed, who came to Garrett County in that year from Brewster, New York where he served as Executive Vice-President of a company producing a similar product line. Mr. Reed first established temporary production facilities in July of 1975 in the old Kolb's Feed Store in Accident while his permanent plant facility was being built. In December of 1975 American HV moved into its permanent quarters in the Central Garrett Industrial Park with a work force of four persons.

Thomas Jones, Executive Director of the Garrett County Development Corporation assisted Mr. Reed in finding a location for the new company. Through Mr. Jones' efforts and with the assistance of the Garrett County Commissioners, financing was secured through the Garrett National Bank.

Financing to establish American HV was provided by the use of Garrett County's ability to borrow funds for industrial development purposes and the Company's own borrowing capability. Financing for land and plant was 100% financed by Garrett County through a lease/purchase agreement extending over a twenty year term. The initial machinery, equipment, and operating capital financing was provided by a local commercial lender and guaranteed by the Small Business Administration. Later the terms of this loan were renegotiated and the loan itself was transferred to a New York City bank.

The original building was constructed by the HMF Enterprises on a ten acre plot in the Central Garrett Industrial Park. The building contained 8,000 square feet of production space and 2,000 square feet of office space.

Late in 1977 sixty percent of American HV Test System's stock was purchased by the individual companies within a Swedish-Swiss consortium of high voltage testing equipment manufacturers. These companies include the Swedish firm ASEA AB and the Swiss firms of Micafil AG and Emil Haeefely & CIE AG. Mr. Reed continues to hold the remaining forty percent share of the company. As a part of the operating arrangements between American HV and its European owners, American HV's sales force markets in the U.S. test equipment produced by the consortium firms. Similarly, the European firms market American HV products around the world.

Early in 1981 American HV announced a major expansion program that would double the size of the factory. Because a large number of American HV's products are physically quite large and long in process times, it is necessary to have these items on the production floor for some time. This problem, coupled with the problem of building height limitations as they impact the assembling of the larger systems built by American HV, made it imperative that a new building be constructed as soon as possible.

The new facility was completed at the end of 1981. This building was attached to the original structure by HMF Enterprises. Though similar in design to the original building, the new one provides ceiling clearance twice as high as in the original. The additional height, along with a 20-ton overhead crane enables American HV to produce larger units more efficiently.

The Company grew from four employees at the end of 1975 to 28 at the end of 1980 to 51 today.

"Welcome" Sign To Be Installed

A "Welcome to Friendsville" sign led the discussion at the Friendsville Town Council meeting on Monday, August 5. The town is in the process of installing the sign to enable local business establishments and civic organizations to welcome motorists to Friendsville. Councilman Spencer Schlosnagle will be offering these establishments and organizations a place on the sign marked by a metal plaque.

The mayor and council has accepted a bid by Beall, Garner, Screen and Geare, Inc. for insurance coverage on all municipal property.

Council signed a letter of agreement with the Friend Family Association to lease the Old Bank Building on Maple Street for a period of 12 years. Council accepted a proposal from Mitch Hetzel to operate the water and sewer facilities for a term of one year.

The next monthly meeting has been changed because of the Labor Day holiday to Tuesday, September 3, with the water and sewer meeting held on Wednesday, September 4.

Local Family Hosts Japanese Exchange Student

The Allen Brenneman family, on Fox Town Road near Bittinger, is hosting Japanese exchange student, Maho Fukada, as part of the Labo Exchange Program. Maho arrived on July 24 and will be with the Brennemens until August 19.

The Brennemens hosted their first Japanese student in 1979, making Maho the fifth student who has visited them. Over the years, the family has entertained one boy and four girls between the ages of 12 and 17.

Maho lives in Toyota, Japan, and is from a family of five, plus her grandparents who live with them. She is 13 years old, and came to the United States mainly because she wants to learn more about American life

The city of Toyota is widely known as an automotive metropolis, proving itself a regional leader in industrial production, with a population of 295,198. Automobile production in Toyota dates back to 1938 when the first Toyota Motor Corporation factory was built, giving the city its name.

Maho is interested in many of the same hobbies as the members of her host family. They include embroidery, volleyball, cooking, and traveling.

The Labo International Exchange Foundation is a non-profit organization authorized by the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The main purpose of the foundation is to foster friendship and cultural exchange by sponsoring homestay programs in several countries.

Over the years, Japanese young people have stayed with 4-H and Mennonite families in almost every state in this country and several Canadian provinces. American and Canadian young people and accompanying adults, in exchange, stay in Labo homes in Japan.

State Police Investigating Area Thefts

Officers from the Maryland State Police are currently investigating several cases of breaking and entering and theft in the county.

Tfc. Larry Rosage is investigating a theft which occurred at Bowman's Equipment Company in McHenry sometime between August 6 and August 9.

Rosage said entrance was gained to the building through a large door opening on the second floor in the rear of the building. Reportedly, the door was unlocked. Taken in the theft was a gas-powered chain saw valued at $419. Police said nothing else was taken from the premises.

Two juveniles were arrested on August 6 for theft of two shotguns and a rifle from the residence of Larry F. Schenk, McHenry.

The theft occurred on August 5. The juveniles received a detention hearing on August 6.

One juvenile was placed in Noye's Children Center, Rockville.

Tfc. Larry Rosage investigated.

Tfc. Dale K. Williams is investigating a breaking and entering and theft at a unoccupied business which occurred sometime between August 7 and August 11.

Williams said unknown persons removed a complete condensing unit from a walk-in cooler from the rear of Randy's Tavern valued at $1,200. The investigation is continuing.

Tfc. Williams is also investigating a breaking and entering and theft which occurred Saturday at the Rendezvous Tavern, McHenry.

Williams said $90 in cash was taken when unknown person(s) entered the establishment through a rear window. Nothing else was disturbed.

Tfc. C. R. Smith is presently investigating the theft of two batteries from two trucks belonging to Asplundh Tree Expert Co. The batteries are valued at $45 each.

The vehicles were parked front to front on the south side of Center Street in Oakland when the theft occurred sometime between August 2 and August 5.

Trickett Named To Second Term On State Post

Phyllis B. Trickett, Oakland, has been reappointed by Governor Harry Hughes for a four-year term, which began June 30, as a member of the Maryland Commission for Women.

Mrs. Trickett took her oath for the commission yesterday at the office of the Clerk of Garrett County Circuit Court, and was presented her commission signed by Governor Hughes.

Trickett is a local business woman and has been involved in community activities for many years.

THE GENTLE RESIDENTS OF A MENTAL HOSPITAL are featured in "The Curious Savage", a two-act, five-scene play by John Patrick which is being performed by Act IV at the Wisp Resort on various dates from August 13 to September 11. The action of the play takes place in a wing of a mental hospital where the patients are nearly cured. Three greedy people have their stepmother committed in order to get her money. However, she manages to outwit them with the help of the patients and staff of the hospital. The play, which is produced with permission of Samuel French, Inc., New York, N.Y., will be performed on August 13, 14, 17, 24, 28, and 31, and September 10 and 11. Reservations may be made at Englander's Pharmacy or by calling the Wisp Resort at 387-5581. Pictured above, in costume, are the members of Act IV. Seated, from left to right, are Patty Daniel, Frances Acton, LuAnn Hartley, and Ruth Smouse. Standing, same order, are Chris Bock, Mark Robeson, Clay Sheridan, Barbara Kirkham, John Smith, Linda Fousek, and Bill Kolbe. Seated in the front is Gerald Snelson, director.

Ginseng Season To Begin Today

Maryland's annual ginseng gathering season will open August 20 and last through December 1, according to Robert Wood of the Maryland Department of Agriculture.

Wood issues the yearly ginseng collecting permits which have been required under Maryland law for the past few years.

The $2 state permits are needed by gatherers of the rare and fabled root to legally sell their harvest in commercial channels. Buyers are required under law to record the permit numbers and identifications of their suppliers when they seek a Federal export permit for the root.

In 1984, according to Wood's records, some 149 collecting permits for ginseng were issued in the state. Forty of the permit holders reported selling 109 pounds of root at an average price of $146 per pound.

"The plant is uncommon enough that a pound or two of dried roots represents a great deal of effort," Wood said, "and searching for ginseng is obviously not a way to become wealthy. It does provide a good excuse, if one is needed, to get out into the woods."

Wild, American ginseng is prized in parts of the Orient and the best price for the root is paid by exporters who cater to those markets. In Maryland ginseng is found mostly west of Frederick in the rich soil of shady hardwood Appalachian forests.

More information about ginseng collecting permits may be obtained by calling Robert Wood at 841-5920.

CONSERVATION CORPS CLEANING UP — The Garrett County/Maryland Conservation Corps is completing an eight-week program at Savage River this summer. The program is a joint effort of the Department of Natural Resources and the Western Maryland Consortium (local JTPA office). The Conservation Corps consists of 30 JTPA Summer Youths, four of whom received an Award of Excellence from the Garrett County Board of Education. The main objective of the program is to clean up the tributaries which empty into the Chesapeake Bay. They are also beginning to prepare for the site of the 1989 Whitewater World Championship slalom and down-river canoe races. The crew has cleared brush from the river banks, cleaned the primitive camping area, widened and graveled roads, and removed trash and debris from the area. Those overseeing the program include M. Sue Shockey, supervisor, Western Maryland Consortium; Linda Weeks, liaison of the MCC Program; Warren Groves, Savage River superintendent; and Gladys Anderson representing the Private Industry Council. The two crew leaders are Russell Alexander and Ronald Aronhalt. Corps members pictured above include, top row, left to right, David Kinzey, George Locke and Lee Shillwagon; second row, Russell Alexander Jr., Roy Knotts, David Dorsey, Tim Everly, Bill Hesen, Kevin Peterson, Kevin McNeil, Tony McKinley, Curtis Bowman, Keith House, Doug Solomon and Ronald Aronhalt; first row, Wayne Lipscomb, John Shahan Jr., Amy Filemyr, Brenda Teter and Floyd Detrick Jr.

No Takers . . .

We find it interesting, but not surprising, that no developer came forth to build a state resort/conference center at Rocky Gap State Park near Cumberland. Although two dozen developers made inquiries and expressed some interest, not one of them presented a proposal by last week's deadline.

While we wish no ill toward the people of Allegany County, we must admit that this major stumbling block in the project makes us smile just a little bit. We argued furiously against the development of the center in Allegany County for a variety of reasons, the major one being that a Garrett County developer, Helmut Heise, already had a similar project underway, not with preliminary drawings and studies, but within months of actual construction when the project for Allegany County was approved by Governor Hughes.

Other reasons for our opposition were that taxpayers' money is to be used to build the center in Allegany County, while the Heise project will be completed with private monies; that unemployment in Garrett County is always higher than in Allegany County; that the Heise project was already surrounded with many of the desired features of the center, such as a golf course, ski area, and Deep Creek Lake; and that such a center in Allegany County could seriously harm the tourism trade and economy in Garrett County since potential convention-holders would be more likely to not travel the extra 50 miles west to Garrett County.

Now, of course, Allegany County officials are scrambling to find out why there were no proposals and figure out a way to get the project rolling again. We would rather they direct their efforts into some other form of development that would not threaten our county's economy.

We recall that County Commissioner Ernie Gregg stated months ago that he did not believe any developer would want to pursue this project. We hope that his prediction continues to hold true, at least until the final phase of the Heise project is complete.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: In a letter from Robert E. Watson, attorney for the town of Mtn. Lake Park, in last week's edition of The Republican, concerning the tax differential, he referred to a statement issued by the office of the Board of Garrett County Commissioners as being written by County Clerk Robert Fousek. It was learned this week that the statement was not prepared by Fousek, but instead by Dwight Stover, attorney for the Commissioners.

To the Editor:

As president of the Old Timers Softball League I thank each sponsor and individual who dug into their pockets and hearts to make the Frank Finch Memorial Tournament a success.

A special thanks to Doug Ellis for two days of scorekeeping, Melvin Gank for helping organize this event and Tip Top Trophy for donating the plaques.

The amount of money we raised was exceeded only by the good feeling of giving and sportsmanship.

Thanks again.

To the Editor:

There are but a few features in life that are fairly certain. Laxatives generally produce results. So far, death is certain, and taxes are borne by most. However, terrorist actions are avoided against the Soviet block countries, and only occasional assaults are made against Jewish interests.

Why? Because the world network of political criminals (let's stop calling these "criminals" "terrorists": it's much too much a sentimental term in their eyes), know that retribution would be swift, furious, thorough and certain! In this regard, we have much to learn from the Soviets and the Israelites.

Very truly yours,
R. Dan Ritchie
Member, Maryland Republican State Central Committee, Split Shifts

shift sessions, explained the schedule for NMS.

Middle school students will arrive at the school at 7:15 a.m. and classes will begin at about 7:38 a.m. Lunch shifts will begin at 3:47 a.m. with sixth graders being served first, seventh graders second and eighth third.

Fowler noted that the middle school students will attend six periods rather than the eight periods they had last year. He explained that the sustained silent reading period will be eliminated this year and that the related arts and physical education courses will be combined into one period on a rotating schedule.

The periods will be 40 minutes each which is the exact length of time of periods in previous years, Fowler explained. He emphasized that students will receive the same quality of academic instruction in language arts, reading, math, social studies and science.

Student groupings, such as for gifted and talented study, will continue as in previous years, Fowler noted.

Students will be dismissed from their classes at 12:28 p.m. to allow time to stop at their lockers before boarding their buses.

Fowler noted that the NMS phone numbers will also remain the same and that a phone answering recorder will be used when school is not in session.

Because NMS teachers will also teach six straight periods, Fowler stated that classes will be smaller for the middle school students.

from school today."

Hamilton noted that NMS and NHS parents will receive a letter about the program in the mail several weeks before school while parents of elementary school students will receive letters the first week of school. Volunteers are needed Hamilton noted.

Transportation Explained

Mike Sines, director of pupil transportation, told the group that for this year, "We have totally destroyed school bus routing in the northern end of the county and are starting anew."

Copies of the school bus routes were published in the Aug. 8 issue of The Republican and will be published in the Aug. 16 issue of The Citizen Record and in a future issue of the Cumberland Times/News.

Sines explained that school buses will serve the individual routes for each group of students separately.

Northern Middle students will begin meeting their school buses at approximately 6:30 a.m. and will be returning home by 1:30 p.m.

In some areas, Sines explained, some students will be taken to elementary schools by different buses where they will board a shuttle bus which will take them to the middle school. This will free buses to begin picking up elementary school students who begin their school day during the regular 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. schedule, Sines noted.

Northern High School students will board their school buses at 11:15 a.m. and return home by 6:30 p.m.

Sines noted that some adjustments may be made in the bus schedules in the first two weeks of school. He added that the success of the transportation of students will depend solely on the school bus contractors, who he indicated have been extremely cooperative.

In discussing the schedule for the winter months, Sines noted that there will be a meeting in October of school officials, county and state roads officials and police to discuss transportation arrangements. Results of the meeting will be announced through area media.

Dr. Ryscavage noted that school delays will be difficult to implement for NMS, although one hour delays may be a possibility.

Information regarding any adjustments in school schedules due to inclement weather will be provided to the following radio stations: WCBC Cumberland, WTBO and WKGO Cumberland; WFRB Frostburg; WMSG and WXIE Oakland; WKLP Keyser; WMBB Uniontown; WRQG-WALI Cumberland and WVAQ Morgantown.

Among questions asked by those attending the meeting was whether field trips would be affected. Tom Fowler commented that most field trips will be unaffected, although some may be. Dr. Ryscavage noted that buses will be available from the southern section of the county, but that needs will have to be assessed on a day-to-day basis.

Another asked where NHS graduation will be. Ed Green commented that although nothing is definite, he is considering an outside graduation.

Green and Fowler responded to the question of whether students will have to share lockers.

They pointed out that the school's 616 lockers will be divided so that half will be used by NMS students and half by NHS students. High school students will be sharing lockers, but only about 70 middle school students will need to share.

One student was concerned with violation of fire codes when high school students would be crowded in the cafeteria. Green replied that school officials have worked with the state fire marshal and that after the first day of school, vocational education students will report directly to their first vocational class.

Another question concerned student parking. Green commented that high school students will be allowed to drive to school according to school policies, but they will be required to park in the high school parking lot.

Second Meeting On Split Shifts Set For Aug. 19

A second public informational meeting concerning the Northern High/Northern Middle split session will be conducted Monday, August 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Northern Middle School cafeteria, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, has announced.

As in the first meeting, conducted on August 8 (see separate story), Board of Education staff will explain student schedules, extra-curricular activities, food service, transportation and other arrangements which have been brought about as a result of having to house Northern High School students at Northern Middle while the high school is under renovation this year.

In addition, there will be a question and answer period.

tribute cocaine. The maximum sentence on the felony drug charge on which Weaver was convicted is 20 years in prison while the maximum fine is $25,000.

In court documents, police reported that Simanski, Carney and Weaver were at the lake establishment along with Smith and Renee Stefanick. Police reported that Weaver sold a bag of cocaine, valued at $2,000, to Stefanick who handed the bag to Smith for his inspection. Shortly thereafter, the three men were apprehended.

Weaver's attorney in the trial was Richard Bricken, Rockville. Attorney for Simanski and Carney was Lawrence Kelly, Cumberland.

State/County Officials Address

MHRPC's Excess Bed Study

State and county officials are expressing their concern and lending their support to hospitals concerning the proposed elimination of some 5,000 excess licensed hospital beds in the state of Maryland. The Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission recently hired consultants to do an in-depth study on the excess bed problem because of legislation on health cost care containment.

State Senator John N. Bambacus expressed his views on the excess bed issue in the form of a letter to Governor Harry Hughes recently on behalf of Maryland's health consumers. "It is my view that studies and recommendations concerning excess licensed hospital beds across the state reveal the symptoms of an industry in transition without identifying the disease," he said.

Bambacus said consumers and providers in Western Maryland are asking why the Maryland health regulatory system allowed 5,000 excess beds to be licensed in the first place and why the same regulators will be allowed to initiate possible solutions. "There is a growing awareness here that our system has forgotten its responsibility to the consumer, is out of touch with national health regulation trends, and insensitive to basic geographic and demographic differences between service areas," he stated.

The Senator stressed that

5,000 extra beds and the inability of Maryland's regulators to impact hospital charges as successfully as the Federal Government's Prospective Payment System are both symbols of ineffective regulation. He said he felt it was "time for a review of Maryland's health regulation 'that includes all parties - consumers, physicians, hospitals, insurers, and regulators.'"

Also concerned over the excess bed study is the Board of Garrett County Commissioners. Although the study will have little impact on Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Frostburg Community Hospital could conceivably lose all but their outpatient services if the study's recommendations are approved by state health officials and passed in the legislature. The commissioners sent a letter of support to the Frostburg hospital's administrator, G. William Udovich.

The letter stated, "The Frostburg Community Hospital serves many residents of Garrett County and its service to these residents and those of other surrounding communities would greatly be missed should the hospital close its doors. It also provides employment opportunities to a number of our residents and as you are well aware, the need for employment of our citizenry is a great concern of this board."

The commissioners offered their assistance and support of the hospital.

vehicle not authorized with his license and driving without registration plates.

A Mtn. Lake Park man was treated and later released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital Friday after being involved in a three-wheeler accident.

Charles M. Powles, 22, was injured when the Yamaha three-wheeler he was operating overturned in a wooded area on the Hollen property.

Powles was taken to the local hospital by Jeff Meyers, the owner of the vehicle. Cpl. J.C. Ralston of the Maryland State Police investigated.

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

On Filing for the Homeowners Tax Credit

by James Burley

Anyone who has been a homeowner for any length of time is probably aware of the existence of the Homeowners Tax Credit Program. This is the program which provides credits towards property taxes when they exceed a percentage of the homeowners' income. The credit does not cover the full amount of the property tax but works on a sliding scale, with credits diminishing percentage-wise as income levels increase. The result is that the greatest benefits relative to income go to those at the lower income levels.

In qualifying, there are three basic requirements: (1) You must own or at least have a legal interest in the property for which the credit is being sought. (2) The property in question must be a dwelling and it must be your principal residence where you live at least six months of the year, including July 1, 1985. (3) Your net worth, excluding the property for which you are seeking the credit, must not exceed $200,000 as of December 31, 1984. Having satisfied these requirements, the credit will be calculated according to your gross income for the 1984 calendar year. Gross income includes all income from whatever source, before deductions, and whether or not taxable for federal or state income tax purposes. It also includes social security benefits. If others are in the household, it means your combined gross income. Although you may own more than one property, you are allowed to claim credit for just one dwelling—the one that serves as your main residence. The credit is allowed to a maximum of $40,000 of the assessed value. It is applied against the ad valorem taxes imposed but does not cover any additional fixed charges such as those made for water and sewer benefits.

This is not a fully automatic tax credit program, and the Applications are also provided in the state income tax packet that is mailed at the end of each year.

Earlier this year, the Maryland General Assembly made some changes in the program, but these are not slated to take place until July, 1986. Moreover, the General Assembly will convene again before this date and possibly make other changes. Presently, the maximum tax credit that anyone can receive is $1,200. There is no age or disability requirement. The credit is calculated according to the homeowner's income and the actual tax bill. For example, if the total household income is $10,000, then the tax limit is $280.00; and the tax credit applies to the difference between this and the total amount of the tax bill, up to a maximum of $1,200. If the tax bill, for instance, totals $880, then the tax credit would be $600.

The average credit paid out last year to Maryland homeowners was $426.00. The average has been increasing over the past several years by about $30.00 a year. If this trend continues, the average credit for this year would be about $456.00.

September 1 is the deadline for filing the application. To be considered, applications must be received, or at least postmarked, by this date.

The Garrett County Al-Anon Family Group will meet Monday, August 23, at 8 p.m. at the Community Building.

THE DEMOLITION DERBY, sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Fire Company, was one of the first events to be held this week of the Garrett County Fair in McHenry. Each driver attempted to protect the engine of his car while disabling the cars of his opponents. The driver of the last car still running after four heats, two consolations, and a feature was the winner.

THE CUPPETT AND WEEKS CIRCUS HAS ENDED FOR THIS YEAR, but the memory of a happy time is remembered by all who attended. The first annual circus was held July 27, planned by the Activity Department in conjunction with Frances Moorehead, on the front lawn of the nursing home. The circus was co-sponsored by Circus World of Orlando, Florida, and Stroehmann Brothers, Inc. of Cumberland. Approximately 400 persons attended the circus. Attractions in the "Doublet of Cirque" included the Appalachian Mountain Square Dancers, Chrissie's Twirlers, and The Midnight Ramblers. There were many clowns for the afternoon, and Pam, The Care Bear, even showed up. A blue and gold macaw from South America was on display, compliments of Round Glade Wild Kingdom. Prizes were won by almost everyone at the duck pond, nickel pitch and grab bag. There were several concession stands which included: ice cream cones, lemonade, cotton candy, popcorn, hot dogs, and Coke. The Disabled American Veterans had a bake sale table. All the residents enjoyed the circus, and as resident Patty Gonder said, "I loved the circus, it lets us get outside, which we need, and although the sunburn was a little painful, it was great that the sun was shining and not raining." She also reported that they sold all of the lemonade at the concession stand and that she met such nice people that day. Pictured above, from left to right, are: Frances Morrehead, coordinator; Pam "The Carebear" Francis, from Keyser, W. Va.; and Sheila Hauser, activities director. Pictured below enjoying the circus are two spectators, Vida Sliger and her son, Billy.

WALTER G. MERRILL

Walter G. Merrill, 82, of Barton, died Thursday in the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, Oakland.

Born in Barton, he was a son of the late John A. and Lilly F. (Chaney) Merrill. He was a member of the Cherry Grove Church of the Brethren.

He is survived by a brother, Delwood Merrill, Barton.

Friends were received at the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, where a service was conducted Saturday by the Rev. Connell Chaney. Interment was in the Merrill Cemetery.

HARLEY A. BOWMAN

Harley Andreas Bowman, 67, of Oakland, died Friday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Born March 30, 1918 in Garrett County, he was a son of the late Henry Lincoln Bowman and May (Bowser) Bowman.

He was a veteran of World War II and a member of Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion.

Surviving are his widow, Louise (Holland) Bowman; a son, James Edward Holland, Deer Park; a brother, Samuel L. Bowman, Mountain Lake Park; four sisters, Mrs. June Edgar and Mrs. Mabel Sines, both of Oakland; Mrs. Dolly Mayhew, Westernport and Mrs. Sarah Kilgore, Clyde, Ohio, and two grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home, where a service was conducted by the Rev. Donald Wilson. Interment was in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

MISS EMMA KRAUSE

Miss Emma R. Krause, 83, of Accident, died Tuesday in Meyersdale Community Hospital.

Born in Elk Lick Township, Pa., she was a daughter of the late George Krause and Elizabeth (Opel) Krause.

She was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, Ladies Aid of the Church, and of Cove Home-makers. Miss Krause had been employed as assistant personnel mover for the Department of the Navy.

Surviving are two brothers, Lewis Krause, Upper Marlboro; Russell Krause, Reisters-town; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Friends will be received at the Newman Funeral Home in Grantsville today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

A service will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran Church by the Rev. Mark Ochsankel. Interment will be in the church cemetery. The body will be taken to the church one hour prior to services.

The family suggests expressions of sympathy take the form of memorials to St. John's Church Memorial Fund.

RUSSELL G. UPOLE

Russell G. Upole, 69, of Deer Park, died Monday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born August 16, 1915 in Gleason, W. Va., he was a son of the late George T. Upole and Alta J. (Paugh) Upole.

Mr. Upole was a retired coal miner. He was a member of Local 2478, United Mine Workers of America, at Bayard.

Surviving are his wife, the former Dorothy A. Ervin; three daughters, Mrs. Pamela G. Teter, Friendsville; Mrs. LaDonna R. Butler and Miss Sharon K. Upole, both of Deer Park; two sons, Russell E. Upole, Mtn. Lake Park; Allen A. Upole, Deer Park; five sisters, Mrs. Helen Smith, Manchester, Ky.; Mrs. Catherine Sines and Mrs. Lulu Weeks, both of Deer Park; Mrs. Virginia Leonard, Keyser; Mrs. Della Glaze, Oakland; two brothers, Woodrow P. Upole and Harold H. Upole, both of Deer Park.

Fashion Revue Opens Garrett County Fair

The 4-H Fashion Revue was featured as the opening event for the 1985 Garrett County Fair. Held Sunday on the fair stage, the event used the theme "Fashion Calendar" to show examples of clothing worn by Garrett Countyans throughout the year.

Narrators for the Fashion Revue were Ellisa Schofield and Criss Kipple. Competition models were those 4-H members who had made their own outfits, while non-competition models wore clothing which was purchased or made by someone else.

The competition was divided into three age groups, juniors, intermediates, and seniors. Those modeling in the junior division were: Deanna Ritchey, red; Karen Wilhelm, blue; Milissa Thomas, red; May Laughton, white; Barbara Leininger, blue; and Joyce Broadwater, red. The champion in the junior division was Barbara Leininger.

Those modeling in the intermediate division were: Ruth Evans, red; Monica Miller, red; Toramy Ritchey, red; Tara Wildesen, blue; and Norma Broadwater, red. No champion was chosen in the intermediate division.

Seniors modeling included: Pam Gnegy, blue; Miriam Evans, red, and Lori Dodge, blue. Lori Dodge was chosen

Representing Garrett County in the State Dress Revue will be Pam Gnegy, Miriam Evans and Lori Dodge.

Judges for the contest were: Debbie Barnard, Nancy Geisler, Jane Wagner, and Patty Zimmerman.

Non-competition models were presented with Participation

Ribbons. They included: Krista Thomas, Dove Wassell, Michael Ritchey, Darla Friend, Angie Friend, Amber Close, Ellisa Schofield, Dixie Browning, Sherri Wilt, Criss Kipple, Heather Miller, Heather Savage, and Denise Livengood.

Committee members who planned and prepared for the Fashion Revue were: Modeling/Grooming Workshop Instructors, Susan Livengood, Denise Livengood, Anna Rhodes, and Tammy Thomas; Lighting, Tim Kepple; Planning committee, Norma Gnegy, Pam Gnegy, Lorene Dodge, Lori Dodge, and Criss Kipple. Staging assistance was provided by the Garrett County Farm Bureau; decorations were made by county 4-H members and parents; and the Garrett County Fair Board provided the facilities, ribbons and premiums.

Refreshments, provided by the county 4-H clubs, were served by hostesses Dana Friend and Jodi Rush.

During the program several state awards were presented. The Monte Vista Club was one of the 19 outstanding 4-H clubs in the state of Maryland in 1984 and past-president, Pam Gnegy, and current president, Lori Dodge, accepted a plaque for the club.

Pam Evans was given a trophy and a certificate for being the senior state winner in the Nutrition Essay contest, and the Howard Kepple family was given a certificate for being chosen the Garrett County 4-H Family of the year.

Two Attend LWV Convention In Salisbury

Dorothy Leighton and Barbara Flinn represented the Garrett County League of Women Voters at the 47th annual convention of the League of Women Voters of Maryland. It was held recently at Salisbury State College in Salisbury.

Officers and directors were elected, the budget passed, and a program adopted. Prior to the convention a committee from LWVMD State Board substantially revised the program positions, consolidating and simplifying that which had become unwieldy. After much discussion and consideration, and a number of amendments, a new program was passed.

The delegates voted on two new program items for the next biennium: first, a study of correctional institutions and parole and probation procedure in Maryland; and second, a study of the impact of the coal industry in Maryland. These two study items join state program items already being studied; housing, financing education, drunk driving laws, hazardous waste management, land use, state constitution, redistricting and reapportionment, local government, fiscal policy, the election process, and the administration of justice.

The highlight of the convention was the presence of Dot Ridings who is national president of the League of Women Voters of the United States. As Friday's banquet speaker, who spoke about League accomplishments and concerns, she stated that, "LWV has been at the head of most every reform since its founding. Partisan, no, political, you bet!"

Ridings urged members to give the 1985 Civil Rights Restoration Act first priority. She stated, "This is our most pressing issue and demands our immediate attention."

The LWVUS advocacy agenda includes study items regarding early projections, easier registration laws, the Voting Rights Act, tax policy, arms control, the MX missile strategic defense, international cooperation through the UN, and protection of our natural resources, ground, water and air.

The purpose of the League is to promote political responsibility through the informed and active participation of citizens in government. Membership is open to all citizens over 18 years of age, and the public is welcome at all unit meetings.

The next meeting of the local League will be a family picnic for members, guests, and prospective members, at the home of Connie Margison, 113 South Eighth Street, Oakland, beginning at 4 p.m. on Saturday, August 24. Dinner at 6 p.m. will be a "pot luck" affair.

The local League, this year, will focus their study on the impact of the coal industry in Garrett County, the federal deficit, national security, promoting recreational opportunities, options for county government, correctional institutions, parole and probation, and funding of entitlement programs, with a legislative review by Senator John Bambaucus at the April meeting, and a "get together" with elected officials in December prior to the opening of the legislature. These meetings are open to the public and are held the fourth Monday of the month, according to Barbara Flinn, president of the Garrett County League.

"We really would like to see many more county citizens come to the meetings, get interested and involved in League study, and join the League," stated Flinn, who feels that the issues studied should be of concern to every county resident.

OAKLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roper and son, Stuart, Exmouth, England, are being hosted this week by Rev. Raymond Ursin, Oakland, and will be staying with Mr. and Mrs. James E. Frantz, McHenry, next week. They came to America to attend the wedding of their son, Andrew, to Mary Kaye Frantz, which will take place this Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Pine Grove Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. Faye Nally spent the week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Daly, Fayette, Catherine, and Joseph, Allendale, N.J. On her return trip, her daughter Mrs. Linda Feldman and sons Timothy, Samuel, and Jerry, Columbia, are spending the week here with their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Florance, Bethesda, visited the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Meese, over the weekend. The Florances were celebrating their 48th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Lawrence Groves was hostess to the Guild of St. Mark's Lutheran Church at her home in Loch Lynn Wednesday evening.

WHY CONDO FEES VARY

When prospective condominium buyers come to us for help, they all seem to have the same perplexing dilemma. They wonder why the monthly condominium charges vary so much from complex to complex within the same price range. How can such a buyer determine what is a fair amount and what isn't?

There are many reasons why monthly condo fees vary widely. Some fees include insurance and property taxes and others don't. Some fee schedules are prepared by professionals and contain adequate reserves for maintenance, improvements and replacement. Unfortunately, other fee schedules are sometimes drafted by optimistic individuals who are more interested in selling unsold inventory than in managing accurately and efficiently.

If your purchase is handled by a full-time residential agent, you will be gaining a larger degree of buyer protection. Be safe. When you look over the budget and the fee schedule, have a professional at your side to protect your interests.

Oops. They got us, too . . . and we're supposed to know these things. We recently touted the David Abodaher biography "Iacocca" as the paperback version of the best-selling hardback Iacocca autobiography. They're not the same book. But we have both in stock and we've figured out the difference so now you can read either the unauthorized paperback or the autobiographical hardback, "Iacocca" at The Book Market.

Oakland Withdraws Protest Against Elkins, Finishes In Second Place

Until last night Oakland was tied for first place with Tri-Towns in the Western Division of the Pen-Mar Baseball League. However, the members of the team decided at a special meeting to accept a loss to Elkins this past weekend, even though Elkins used an ineligible player in its 5-2 win.

Oakland went into its final doubleheader of the season needing to sweep Elkins to have any real hope of finishing in first place. Meanwhile, Tri-Towns was expected to sweep Cumberland in its final match-up to finish with a 16-4 record and maintain its grip on first place. However, Tri-Towns split with Cumberland, while Oakland defeated Elkins 9-0 in the first game and received a forfeit win in the second after protesting the West Virginia team's use of a non-eligible player as pitcher. Therefore both teams finished with 15-5 records and it appeared until last night that a playoff game would have to be held to determine the Division winner.

"Even though we had the league by-law on our side, we withdrew our request for a forfeit from Elkins for the good of the league," stated Terry Helbig, Oakland player and spokesman. "We have a lot of respect for the managers of the teams involved and we decided it would really complicate things if we insisted on a playoff game." Tri-Towns will now face either Moorefield or Hyndman, also tied for first place in the Eastern Division, to determine the League championship. Hyndman and Moorefield will face each other this Saturday morning and the league championship series, a best of three events, will be held August 24-25.

The season is not yet over, however, for Oakland and the remainder of the teams because the Pen-Mar League Tournament will be staged this weekend on Cumberland area fields.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, Tri-Towns will face LaVale at Donahue field, while Moorefield and Cumberland will meet at the Allegany Community College diamond. Oakland will face Idamay at 3:30 at ACC, while Hyndman and Elkins will square off at Donahue.

The tourney will continue on Sunday at 1 p.m. when the winner of the Tri-Towns-LaVale game will meet the Moorefield-Cumberland winner at Donahue and the Oakland-Idamay victor will face the winner of the Hyndman-Elkins contest at ACC. The championship contest will be played at 3:30 at ACC. All tournament games will be nine innings.

Highlights of Oakland's 9-0 win over Elkins on Sunday were a three-run double by Phil Caruso in the six-run second inning and a pair of two-run doubles by Ed Wildesen. Dave Bender added two hits, including a two-run double, while

Western Maryland Triathlon Slated For August 24

The Coors Light Beer-Western Maryland Triathlon will be held Saturday, August 24, beginning at 10 a.m. Sponsored by the Deep Creek Pacers Running Club, Inc. and Coors Beer, the course will consist of 1/2-mile swim, 12-mile bike and three mile run (15 1/2 miles total) at the Wisp Ski Area in McHenry.

Registration fee is $10 and must accompany the entry form. Entries must be postmarked by August 17. There will be no registration on the day of the event.

There will be five top male and five top female winners in five age groups: 19 and under, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50 and over. T-shirts will be awarded to the first 125 entrants.

For more information and entry forms persons may contact Steve Forsythe at 304-789-2846 (after 5 p.m.) or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council at 301-334-3888.

Lady Golfers Play Following Breakfast

The Oakland Country Club Ladies Golf Association met for the August breakfast meeting on Thursday, August 8, with Sue Pagenhardt, president, presiding.

Following the meeting the play for the day was Captain's choice.

The first place team, which posted a 74, was composed of Pearl Daniels, Ginny Lohr, Martha Lou Ashby, and Anne Colaw. In second place with a 75 was the team of Diana Kennedy, Frances Alongi, Mary Lou Shaffer, and a guest from Venice, Florida, Joan Brown.

In a three-way tie for third place, with a 79, were the following teams: June Bray, Sue Pagenhardt, Caryl Doe, and Judy Johnson; Anne Jesnak, Nancy Kight, Eleanor Stemple, and Jacquelyn Shirer; and Marianna Naylor, Roberta Pfirrmann, Julia Sines, Phyllis White, and Norma Nelson.

Peggy Kitzmiller won the 50-50 drawing.

The final round of the club championship tournament will be held Thursday, August 22. A member-guest day will be held August 29.

Bluegill, 11 oz., 10 inches, caught by Elaine Marple, Oakland.
Winners are named weekly and each receives a citation and patch. The fishing contest, which is sponsored by Johnny's Bait House and the Promotion Council, began May 1 and runs through September 30. All fish must be registered at Johnny's Bait House on Route 219 at Deep Creek Lake.

Old Timers Hold League Tourney, Bethlehem Wins

The Mt. Top Old Timers Softball League held its league championships this past weekend at Terra Alta Park.

Bethlehem captured the Division A title and the overall league championship, while Oakland Equipment won the Division B crown.

Members of the Bethlehem team each received a plaque. My-Ole-Timers sponsored by My-O-Tire, won the second place league trophy and Bausch & Lomb placed third.

The league will hold a meeting the first week of October to elect new officers and expand the league by adding at least three new teams.

Tennis Tournament Slated At Southern

A tennis tournament will be held at the Southern High School tennis courts on August 23, 24, and 25.

The categories of play for men and women will be advanced, intermediate and beginner. Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in each division. For more information, interested persons may contact Fred Pratt at 334-3501.

School Board

day, September 2 in observance of Labor Day.

On October 11, students in the southern Garrett County schools and in Route 40 will be dismissed at 1 p.m., to allow a half-day inservice for staffs in those schools. All other schools will be in session for a full day.

All schools will close on October 18 for the Maryland State Teachers Association the last days for teachers. Commencement for both high schools will be Sunday, June 1, 1986.

Board Discusses Redistricting

Members of a committee assigned last year to study redistricting school lines in the county submitted a report to the school board in which they identified general problems in the current school district lines.

Al Coviello, director of pupil services, outlined the group's procedure over the past year and noted the committee members met with school officials in Garrett and Allegany counties as well as state school officials to gain their ideas.

The committee also analyzed schools in the county based on the physical plant, staff efficiency, enrollment trends, utilization of buildings, cost efficiency, district boundaries and transportation.

Committee member Mike Sines, director of pupil transportation, pointed out that in certain areas in the northern end of the county district boundaries for elementary schools are not well defined. He noted one particular area where buses run for three different elementary schools.

Coviello presented four points which need further study by the committee. He pointed out that the school district lines must be clarified, particularly to help reduce transportation costs; that more study should be done on whether any schools should be closed in the county; that the status of Loch Lynn Elementary School needs to be evaluated and that more information is needed on projections for enrollment for Broad Ford, Loch Lynn, Dennett Road and Red House elementary schools before redistricting of school lines can be considered.

The school board agreed that the committee should continue its study of the subjects Coviello outlined. Also serving on the committee is Dr. Charleen Evans-Thomas, director of elementary education.

Coviello discussed briefly the problems at Loch Lynn Elementary School. He noted that the school's physical condition is bad. The school currently houses 150 students, which is almost full capacity, but enrollment projections show that in the early 1990s there could be 200 students within that school district.

Building a new school for the district has been slated as a capital project after Northern and Southern high schools are renovated, but due to changes in state guidelines, Coviello indicated chances are slim that the project as planned will be approved.

Redistricting school lines might send more students to Dennett Road and Broad Ford elementary schools. Coviello noted, but even though those schools have room for more students now, in another 10 years they may suddenly be overcrowded due to increased enrollment projections for those school districts.

Another option is renovation of the existing school building.

Dr. Ryscavage reported that at present, school officials are not sure what direction they should take for that school. They have talked with state officials on the subject, and have planned further meetings.

McNallie

In discussing her past year as county planning administrator, McNallie praised the efforts of the county planning commission. "The Garrett County Planning Commission was the finest government body with which I have worked," McNallie stated.

McNallie noted she plans to do all she can to insure a smooth transition in the change of planning administrator.

HORSE HOBBLES OR A HALTER? — Horse owners were given a chance to identify various items of tack and grooming tools, view and answer questions about parts of the horse from teeth to chestnuts, and answer horse health related questions during the Horsemanship Contest at the Garrett County Fair. Organizing the contest this year was Cissy VanSickle with the help of Sharon Rodeheaver and Carol Bass, assisted by Robin Leyda and Bill Savage. Shown above are several of the 38 contestants of all ages from pre-junior through adult. Winners in the pre-junior class were: Jason VanSickle, first; Chad Campbell and Heidi Sue Hauser, who tied for second. Junior winners were: Jackie Campbell, first; Dawn Moreland, second; and Julia Moreland, third. The intermediate class winners were: Darren Lambert, first; Bobbie Jo Harvey and Becki Sanders, second place tie; Dixie Browning and Heather Miller, third place tie; Caroline Geroski, fourth; and Stephanie Will, fifth. Senior winners included: Cindy Cerroni, first; Heather Perando and Liz Sisler, second place tie; Mike Kepple, third; Eric Martin and Cindy King, fourth place tie; Tim Kepple and Dove Wassell, fifth place tie. Close scores and many ties marked the adult class, and the winners were: Lisa Corrick and Joan Sussman, tied for first; Sue Savage and Alison Geroski, tied for second; Bernice Kepple and Sandy Savage, tied for third; Dixie Schmidt, Bev Miller, Susie Smith and John Ackerman, tied for fourth; and Debbie Campbell, fifth.

next Thursday at noon as a representative of a special committee. He said this was the second meeting of that committee and that they plan to discuss merger options for TCC and TCC's relationship with the state of Maryland.

On his return to the county that day he will also represent the county at a dedication of the newly completed section of highway on Interstate Route 48, west of Hancock, on the Siding Hill.

The commissioners also announced Tuesday that The Sincell Publishing Company has applied for an Industrial Revenue Bond for the expansion of the existing building and the purchase of new equipment. The company is requesting $260,000.

Finally, John Braskey announced that he will be meeting with Governor Harry Hughes on August 24 to discuss candidates for the Judge for the Maryland Court of Special Appeals which will be vacated by Hon. James S. Getty on September 1.

Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Frederick A. Thayer is among those seeking an appointment to that post.

A slate of candidates will be selected by the Appellate Judicial Nominating Commission which will forward its list to the governor who makes the appointment.

living in Allegany County. The 1984 Farm Queen, Criss Kepple, presented the judges with gifts of fruit baskets.

The two contestants were interviewed by the mistress of ceremonies, Valerie Frazee, the 1976 Garrett County Farm Queen and first runner-up in the 1976 Maryland Farm Queen contest. In this interview, they told the judges and the audience farm chore was making hay, with the heat and scratches that must be endured.

While the judges were making their decisions, the audience was entertained by Karen Quidas, 1984 Maryland State Farm Queen, and special guest speaker Jack Mathews, State Farm Bureau Information Director.

Flowers, as a special appreciation gift, were presented to Dot Leuba for her years of help with the Farm Queen Contest, and she was named an honorary Garrett Farm Queen.

Criss Kepple gave a tearful farewell address, thanking the Farm Bureau for the opportunity to represent agriculture during her year as Farm Queen, and assuring them that she would continue to speak up for farmers, especially Garrett County Farmers.

Dot was named an Honorary Garrett County Farm Queen by Farm Bureau for all her help with the contest over the years. She has coached the queen contestants, teaching them how to walk on stage while wearing high-heels and hoop-skirts without knocking over the potted plants. This year's contest was Dot's last effort and Mistress of Ceremonies Frazee represented Farm Bureau by saying how much they appreciated what she had done and that they will never forget her and her work for the queen contest.

Roth Selected All-Star
Volunteer Leaders Weekend was held August 2-3, at Jackson's Mill and was attended by a number of the organizational and assistant leaders in Preston County 4-H work. Mrs. Elaine Roth and her daughter, Arlene, of Horse Shoe Run, were in attendance. Mrs. Roth was inducted into the West Virginia All-Stars. This is an organization of older 4-H members and leaders who are recommended for the honor because of the contribution they have made to further 4-H work. Mrs. Roth is the assistant leader of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club.

Craft/Bake Sale
A craft and bake sale will be held August 24, at the Amboy church pavilion beginning at 10 a.m. A homemade quilt is being awarded that day to someone and tickets will be available during the day. Also for sale will be coffee and doughnuts.

Ethiopia Studied
The Eglon Extension Homemakers met August 6. The club will not sponsor an exhibit at the Buckwheat Festival; a book will be donated to the Ruth Enlow Library in memory of Lela Roth, a former member of the club, and a donation was made to the Mental Health Association drive for funds.

Rebecca Teets, chairman of the Safety and Emergency Preparedness Committee, read hints on seat belt safety and poison prevention and distributed Mr. Yuk stickers and various safety information bulletins.

Dues for the next club year are due in September and will be $4.50. The club invites interested persons to attend the next meeting. The topic, lead by Nina Layman, will be "Coping With Change."

A study topic was "Ethiopia" which Jean Winters presented using information, pictures illustrating the place mentioned were supplied from the National Geographic magazine.

Hostess for the day, Mary Rembold, had a display of old school papers, both from the Eglon School and from Aurora High School, as her special feature and for her devotions read "Things to do in August."

Attending the meeting in addition to the above named were Cynthia Bachtel, Ruth Teets, Avenell Parsons, Sandra Hauser, Leticia Bonner, Mildred Wilt, Barbara Heckert, Ardis Teets and Craig Rembold and Beth Ann Hauser.

Rebecca Teets was selected to serve as Homemakers of the Year because of her performance of duties and interest when shown in furthering the work of the club.

Reunion Corrections
In the fiftieth anniversary reunion of the Aurora High School Class of 1935, the name of Homer Shillingburg was omitted from the list of attendees.

The Class of 1975 held their reunion on Friday evening, August 2, rather than the Saturday evening date given.

Kathy Maust Bach Becomes Bride Of Timothy McMillan In June Event

Wedding vows were exchanged by Kathy Maust Bach and Timothy Neil McMillan on Saturday, June 22, at 5 p.m., at Marantha Assembly of God Church in Grantsville.

Pastor William Moyer, who pastors at the Grace Memorial Church, Seton Drive, Cumberland, performed the double-ring ceremony. A pre-service concert of wedding music was provided by Lori Robertson, pianist/soloist, and Larry Yoder, soloist.

A pink, silk, long-stemmed rose was presented to the groom's mother by the bride and the bride's mother by the bridegroom during the ceremony, while "You're My Inspiration" was being sung.

During the wedding the bride and bridegroom and their parents participated in a candle lighting ceremony to represent the union of their two lives as one in Christ. The bride pinned a pink rose boutonniere from her bouquet on the bridegroom while "To Me" was sung.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Maust, Grantsville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. McMillan, Midland.

The church was decorated with candelabras and the altar was decorated with baskets of pink roses, blue and white carnations. The family pews were decorated with white bows containing lilacs of the valley.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father while a special song chosen by the couple "You're My Only Love" was sung, the bride was attired in a Victorian styled gown of candlelight ivory Chantilly lace and organza. The basque bodice featured a sheer lace V-yoke edged with a satin ribbon and lace ruffle, a high Venise jewel neckline and Juliet sleeves. The sleeves and bodice were accented with pearls and silk Venise lace. The ruffled waistline held the organza skirt which fell to a flounced hemline with a ruffle, sweeping to a cathedral train. A Juliet caplet of matching lace, trimmed with pearls and sequins held a full length veil of bridal illusion.

Her jewelry was a diamond bracelet that her father had given her mother on their wedding day, an opal ring, a gift from her son, and a pearl and diamond necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride carried a silk colonial bouquet of white and lilac carnations, blue and pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath, enhanced with a lace collar and white and pink streamers. All bouquets, corsages, and decorations were silk flowers designed by Anna Goebel, Ellerslie.

Maid of honor was Joyce Friend, Friendsville, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Beth Cooper, Cresaptown; Kay Beachy, Grantsville; Paula Resh, Grantsville, all friends of the bride; and Debbie Bittinger, Lonaconing, sister of the bridegroom. The girls were dressed in blue, pink and lilac silk floor length gowns enhanced with lace and carried bouquets of blue and white carnations and pink roses with streamers to match their gowns.

Flower girls were Tiffany Beachy, Grantsville, friend of the bride's son, and Jennifer Wiley, Grantsville, cousin of the bridegroom. They were attired in blue floor length dresses made by Betty Jo Wiley, Grantsville, cousin of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was Joel Nahari, Norfolk, Va., friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Charles Lawrence, Culpeper, Va., friend of the bridegroom; Mark McMillan, Midland; and Hughie McMillan, Frostburg, brothers of the bridegroom, and Dwight Bittinger, Lonaconing, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The groomsmen wore light tan tuxedos trimmed in dark brown with shirts to match the girls' gowns.

Adam Carl Bach, Grantsville, son of the bride, and Zachery Roy Bittinger, Lonaconing, nephew of the bridegroom, were ring bearers. They wore light tan tuxedos with blue shirts.

Patty Champlin, Springs, Pa., and Donna Sipple, Grantsville, friends of the bride, passed out wedding programs and bird seed packets. Guests were registered by Wendy Smith, Westernport, friend of the bridegroom, as they entered the church.

The bride's mother wore a street-length, knit dress with matching jacket enhanced with lace. A white carnation encircled with blue roses corsage was pinned on by the bride. The bridegroom's mother chose a street length rose colored knit dress and also wore a white carnation encircled with pink roses corsage.

A buffet dinner followed the ceremony at the Grantsville Holiday Inn which was decorated with a blue, pink and lilac scheme. Music was provided by Perry Kamp and Co. Beverly Colmer, Cumberland, cousin of the bridegroom, and LaWana McMillan, Frostburg, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, assisted by Sandra Naumann, Accident, friend of the bride, cut and served the cake. The five-tier cake was baked by Shelby Gable and featured two water fountains and staircases descending to two four-tier side cakes adorned with figurines of the bridal party.

The wedding was video taped by Jim Buckalew and Charles Lawrence and sound taped by Sam Beachy and Winston Hershberger.

For a trip to Paradise Stream Resort in the Poconos, the bride chose a white and multi-colored striped jumpsuit with white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses and blue carnations. The bridegroom wore blue pants and a blue plaid shirt, a gift from the bride, and a pink rose boutonniere.

Upon their return, the couple established residence along Chestnut Ridge Road, Grantsville.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Northern High School and a graduate of the Somerset Nursing School, Somerset, Pa. She is presently employed at the Thomas B. Finan Center, and Dr. Walter Naumann's office, Accident.

Mr. McMillan is a 1975 graduate of Valley High School and Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, W.Va., with a bachelor of science degree in park administration and natural sciences. He took his internship in North Carolina. He is also presently employed by the Thomas B. Finan Center.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at the Silver Leaf, Frostburg.

A surprise grocery shower was given in honor of the bride by Joyce Friend, maid of honor, assisted by the bridesmaids.

Bowers-Weeks Wedding Date Set

Vickie Lynn Bowers and Warren Frederick Weeks announce their forthcoming marriage on Saturday, August 24. The ceremony and reception will take place at the residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Weeks, in Deer Park at 2 p.m. Miss Bowers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bowers of Swanton. Miss Bowers and Mr. Weeks are both graduates of Southern High School.

Some invitations are being sent, but all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Susan Claycomb, Kenneth Rexroad Wed During June 22 Ceremony

Susan Elizabeth Claycomb and Kenneth Ray Rexroad exchanged wedding vows on June 22. The double-ring ceremony took place at Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church, Swanton, with the Rev. Hal R. Rotruck officiating. Mrs. Kathy Rotruck was the organist with Mrs. Kim Rush as vocalist.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Hilda I. Claycomb and the late George C. Claycomb, Swanton. The groom is the son of George and Freda Rexroad, Swanton.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Merle Claycomb, the bride wore a gown of organza and Chantilly lace. The bodice featured an illusion neckline with a stand-up collar accented with pearls and sequins and puffed sleeves accented with satin ribbons and Chantilly lace. A fitted waistline with lace accent fell to a full organza skirt which was accented with ruffles, satin ribbons, and a semi-cathedral train. A bridal hat with matching lace trim held a floor length veil of bridal illusion. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses, baby carnations, and daisies.

Miss Kelli R. Harvey, Bloomington, friend of the bride, served as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carla Llewellyn, Miss Robin Tichnell, and Miss Yvonne Bever. Miss Cindy Tichnell served as the flower girl.

The maid of honor and flower girl wore orchid gowns, and the bridesmaids wore yellow gowns. All carried nosegays of daisies and carnations, and each wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bride.

Robert Shahan, Deer Park, friend of the groom, served as the best man. Ushers were Douglas Bernard, Richard Gilbert, and Darrell Bolyard. Jamie Bolyard served as ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a rose gown, and the groom's mother wore a lace-trimmed jacket over a mauve gown.

The altar was decorated with gladiolus, mums and spiraling candelabras, and musical selections were "You and I" and "I Won't Last A Day Without You."

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Bloomington Fire Hall. The cake was baked by Janet Tichnell and decorated in orchid and yellow by Vickie Bernard and Debbie Bolyard, both sisters of the groom. Vickie Bernard cut the cake, and Debbie Bolyard served the punch. The food was catered by the ladies of Chestnut Grove United Methodist Church.

A bridal shower was given by Eloise Tichnell, aunt of the bride and Debbie Nicholas, cousin of the bride.

After a honeymoon in Ocean

City, the couple has established a residence in Swanton.

The bride is a graduate of Bruce High School. The groom, a graduate of Southern High School, is employed by Mountaineer Log & Siding.

Street Repairs, Traffic Signs Are Topics Of Accident Council Meeting

Accident Mayor Wayne Fratz and Councilmen Hobert Bowser, Richard Carlson, James Smith, and Charles Strauss met August 5 to discuss a variety of town business topics. Among the topics discussed were street repairs, traffic signs, and property taxes.

Stormwater Drainage

During the first two weeks of July, almost 14 inches of rain fell according to the daily measurements at the town's sewage treatment plant. The mayor convened a special meeting of the town council on July 15 to discuss complaints from residents and to make an on-site inspection of some of the stormwater drain problems. With only one exception, the town was able to respond within its resources to the stormwater runoff problems of the property owners. The State Highway Administration also did some major repair work on storm drains crossing the state maintained U.S. Rt. 219, the main street through town.

Street Repairs

Raymond Coddington of Accident, with whom the town contracted to patch and repair town streets, has completed the work on all streets needing such repairs. In addition, the town plans to contract for paving Deakin Street from U.S. Rt. 219 to the town park, as well as the parking lot in front of the Accident Municipal Building. Some streets will also have ditches graded to alleviate stormwater runoff.

Traffic Signs

The council approved the posting of two new traffic signs near the intersection of South Street and Accident-Bittinger Road. The signs will be erected on South Street indicating to motorists to "Stop Ahead." Since the new U.S. Post Office will soon open at this intersection, the council recognized the need for additional traffic safety.

Energy Conservation

In response to a memorandum to local government leaders from the Allegany County Cooperative Extension Service, the town will apply for participation in a pilot project to monitor energy usage and make recommendations for savings. The town council is particularly interested in energy savings at the two water pumping stations and the wastewater treatment plant, all of which were constructed in the mid-1970's and are basically total electric. Accident is also interested in recommendations for a new heating system for the municipal building housing the town hall and garage. The project is sponsored by the Allegany County Extension Service, Allegany Energy Council, and Potomac Edison. Buildings in Allegany and Garrett counties are eligible to participate.

Property Taxes

Town Clerk Marjorie Fratz reported that over 60 percent of the property owners of Accident had taken advantage of the 5 percent discount and paid their real property taxes during the month of July. The town offers a 4 percent discount for payment in August and 3 percent in September. Additional information concerning payment is printed on the tax bills which were mailed July 1 for tax year 1985-86.

The council approved a request from the Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., for a tax credit for 1985-86 for the old elementary school property. Since the town deeded the property to CAC, a non-profit agency, CAC has been working to line up financing for all phases of the project and has received no income. The tax credit was granted for the current tax year only.

Summer Employment

Through the Garrett County Board of Education's Summer Youth Program, four high school students have been placed in Accident to work under the supervision of the town's full-time employee. They are Jimmy Soult and Patrick Buttorff of Accident, and John Kinzey and Dale Guthrie, Jr., of Grantsville. The students work between 24 and 32 hours per week.

REV. DONNA SHOGREN, a native of Butler County, Pa., and a resident of Terra Alta, has been holding services for people who are interested in forming a United Presbyterian Church in the area. The group has been meeting this summer for evening vespers at the Seventh Day Adventist Church on U.S. Rt. 219, north of Oakland. The next service will be held Sunday, August 25, at 6 p.m. Coffee will be provided, and those attending are asked to bring cookies. Pictured above are Rev. Shogren and her husband, Paul.

Park Events Set At Herrington. Swallow Falls

Several events have been slated for this week at Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Parks according to Buck Jarusek, park interpreter.

There will be a campfire program at Herrington Manor State Park this evening in the park's amphitheater. The program will be on mountain life and the use of mountain herbs. It will start at 8 p.m. and will last 1½ hours.

There will be a 4½ mile track walk on Friday, August 16, at 10 a.m. The walk will deal with tracking wild game and will be done in an early settler fashion. This walk, which is part of the Herrington Manor folk program, will begin at the Herrington Manor Boathouse and will last 2½ hours.

On Saturday, August 17, the Mountain Men will be camping in Swallow Falls State Park. They will have their camp set up in the field above the pavilion. Demonstrations will be given on tomahawk throwing, knife throwing and much more. Along with the Mountain Men, there will be a trapping demonstration at 3 p.m. That evening there will be a campfire program. The program will be hosted by the Mountain Men and will deal with old pioneer stories. The program will be in the park's amphitheater starting at 8 p.m. and will last 1½ hours.

There will be a canyon trail walk on Sunday, August 18, at Swallow Falls State Park. The walk will be along Muddy Creek and the Youghiogheny River. Visitors can expect to see virgin timber along with natural waterfalls. It will begin at the park's large, lower parking lot at 10 a.m. and will last 1½ hours.

A Junior Ranger program will be offered on Monday, August 19. This program encourages basic outdoor activities and promotes an appreciation of the Garrett County outdoors. This program is available for ages seven through fourteen at no charge. It will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will be held at the Herrington Manor new office.

A non-denominational Bible Story Hour will be conducted by Mrs. Irene Hixon on Tuesday, August 20. There will be songs, stories, games and prizes for the participants. This activity will start at 10 a.m. and will last one hour at the Herrington Manor amphitheater.

All of these activities are open to the general public. Persons desiring more information may contact Herrington Manor State Park at 334-9180.

New Germany Park To Host Campfire Events

Special campfire events will continue next week at New Germany State Park.

A nature film for the whole family will be shown on Wednesday, August 21, and marshmallows will be toasted in the open campfire afterwards.

Officer Tim Doolan of the Maryland Natural Resources Police will present a live demonstration of a deer-detecting dog on Saturday, August 24. The dog is used in locating deer, especially illegally killed deer. This is the first time such a demonstration will be given in Maryland.

All campfire programs are held at the Old School House Nature Center Amphitheater and are open to the public. In the event of rain, the programs will be moved to the Rec. Hall located near Parking Lot #4.

Other programs have been planned during the week are also open to the public. For further information, persons may call 895-5453.

Programs Slated At DCL State Park

Many activities are planned for this weekend at Deep Creek Lake State Park, beginning at 8 p.m. tonight with a campfire program at the amphitheater, weather permitting. A film, "Yellowstone Cubs," will be shown.

On Friday, at 10:30 a.m., interested persons may meet at the amphitheater for a hike to Brant Mine.

Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 4 p.m., a courtesy boat safety inspection will be held at the park marina.

The Saturday evening campfire, beginning at 8 p.m. at the amphitheater, will feature Gerald Sword, Herrington Manor park supervisor, talking about "A Ghost From The Past."

The public is welcome at all park programs.

Human Resource Officials Explain AIMS Program

Baltimore officials from the Maryland Department of Human Resources spent August 7 in Garrett County, explaining and demonstrating to Delegate George Edwards and county social services personnel the newly implemented Automated Income Maintenance System (AIMS). The three state officials included: Ernestine Jones, executive director of the Income Maintenance Administration, Maryland Department of Human Resources; Ann Rosenfeld, assistant director of the Automated Income Maintenance System; and Bud Simon, assistant to the secretary, Department of Human Resources. In addition to Delegate Edwards they also met with County Department of Social Services Director Robert Shaffer, and Assistant Director Beverly Beard.

Garrett was the twelfth county in the state to convert to the new system, after Baltimore City, Talbot, Queen Anne, Kent, Caroline, Dorchester, Wicomico, Worcester, Somerset, St. Mary's, Calvert, and Charles counties. Also becoming operational on August 1 was Allegany County.

The Md. Department of Human Resources has developed the system to assist in the administration of the Public Assistance and Food Stamp programs in Maryland. AIMS is designed to help maintain, and where possible improve, the level of service to recipients of these welfare programs. This system will be operational, statewide, by the end of 1985.

Under the new system, all eligibility decision and benefit calculations related to public assistance checks and food stamps will be made by computer, via the Baltimore Data Center. Public assistance checks will be automatically generated and mailed from Baltimore. The system will expedite and enhance the delivery of services to applicants and recipients of public assistance and food stamps, with increased accuracy, statewide uniformity, and less potential for fraud.

Robert Shaffer, Garrett County director, reports that conversion to the new system went very smoothly. It took the "conversion team" four and one-half days, working twelve hours per day, to load all of the public assistance and food stamp cases into the computerized system. Shaffer also reported that as of June there were 952 households in Garrett County receiving food stamps, and 408 households receiving a public assistance check.

All households have received information regarding the new eligibility and issuance system. Shaffer emphasizes that, although eligibility calculations and check issuances are now computerized, each applicant and recipient will continue to receive personal interviews at prescribed intervals of time. Each client will continue to have a designated caseworker with whom to maintain a "personal touch" with the local department.

Area Christian Women's Club Plans Luncheon

The Oakland Area Christian Women's Club will hold a luncheon Wednesday, August 21 at 11:30.

The speaker for the day will be Jo Kipe of Odenton. She is an area representative for Christian Women's Club of Maryland, enjoys cooking and entertaining, and is writing a book called "Instant Entertaining".

Special music for the luncheon will be provided by Nina Wagner, and the special feature will be Fun Frolics.

A free nursery will be provided at Deep Creek Baptist Church on Route 219.

The price for the luncheon will be $5.50. Anyone wishing to make reservations should call Brenda Thorn at 334-8506. All reservations must be honored.

Change In State Retirement System To Be Argued

Oral arguments will be made next month in Richmond concerning the constitutionality of the recently enacted changes in the Maryland state retirement system, according to Thomas Shaffer, UNISERV Director for local teachers Association in Allegany and Garrett counties.

The week of September 9 has been set aside for argument in the case Maryland State Teachers Association, et al versus Harry Hughes, Governor of the State of Maryland, et al. The case is on appeal from the U.S. District Court in Baltimore to the Fourth Judicial Federal Appeals Court in Richmond, noted Shaffer.

MSTA and other allied organizations contend in their suit that the State reneged on earlier law of 1979 providing teachers and other public employees with contractual rights to certain retirement benefits when it provided various options to teachers in its 1984 law.

"We are contending that the contract clause of the U.S. Constitution has been violated by the State's 1984 action and that the test for impairment of such contracts was not met by the State," Shaffer said.

"Some 80,000 retirement system participants are affected by this unilateral action of the 1984 Maryland General Assembly and we intend to exhaust every legal remedy available to seek redress. The next statewide elections are just a year away and our 30,000-plus members will be reminded of the delegates and senators who voted against us," Shaffer concluded.

In the new system, members were granted four options, one of which was to increase their payroll contribution to 7% of salary in order to maintain an unlimited cost-of-living benefit at retirement. Some 77% of the teachers selected this option, according to Shaffer. The State's Department of Fiscal Services had estimated prior to passage of the '84 law that only 21% would choose this option. "It is clear that the state's fiscal liability to the overwhelming majority of its workers remains very high. Only 5% transferred to the new pension system," remarked Shaffer.

Sheriff Evans Releases July Activity Report

Garrett County Sheriff M. Van Evans this week released the activity report for the month of July, 1985.

Records indicate that 404 complaints were answered by the department throughout the county. Numerous patrol checks were made checking homes and businesses for security.

A total of 316 papers were served relating to civil, law, criminal, equity, juvenile and miscellaneous matters.

Deputies arrested 37 individuals on various charges including: assault and battery, theft, CDS violations, driving while intoxicated, destruction of property, failure to appear in court and others.

Jail inmate population was 33 at the beginning of the month. To that total, 66 were added and 64 were released, leaving inmate population at 35 at the end of the month.

Monthly activity added over 20,000 miles to departmental vehicles while answering complaints, serving papers, transporting prisoners, making patrol checks, etc.

C&O Canal Boat Festival Set

The annual C & O Canal Boat Festival will be held Saturday and Sunday, August 24 and 25, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at North Branch C & O Canal Park. It will be the ninth Canal Boat Festival since the Canal Boat replica was completed by Naval Reserve Seabees and other volunteers for the Bicentennial Celebration in 1976, using funds mostly derived from selling souvenir Canal Boat stock.

The festival will be held in a nature area beside the historic canal locks, and most of the activities will occur under the shade trees beside the canal.

The festival will include arts and crafts, live music, demonstrations of old time home making skills such as spinning, cloth dyeing, chair canning, and quilting; displays of hand made jewelry; soft doll crocheted items, leaded crystal mobiles, needle point, candlewicking, and dried flower wall plaques.

Also featured will be exhibits such as antique wood crafting tools, railroad memorabilia and model trains by National Railway Historical Society, frontier living demonstrations by Will's Mt. Renegades in primitive costume, nature and wild life exhibits, guided tours of the Canal Boat cabin by Alpha Delta Sorority and interpretive talks on the operation of the canal docks by Park Rangers. Charlie Cole and Mexico Farms will provide free rides on horses, ponies, and buggies.

According to Sarah Mason, festival chairman, food will be available from non-profit groups operating food booths to support various charitable and civic projects. Booths will be operated by Alhambra, Western Allegany Kiwanis, Mt. Tabor Church, McKinley, Chapter 12, Eastern Star, and William Paca Lodge.

Anyone wishing more information on the festival should contact Sarah Mason at 301-777-7563. The festival is located three miles south of Cumberland on Route 51. A donation of 50 cents per person over 12 is expected.

DON'T LET WINTER TAKE YOUR HEATING BILLS FOR A RIDE.

When temperatures take the plunge this winter, your heating bills needn't climb. Not if you're on Columbia's Budget Payment Plan. The plan averages your bills into 12 equal payments, so there are no peaks and valleys because of the weather. Instead, the monthly amount stays the same — higher than you now pay in the summer, but a lot lower in the winter.

Rather than ups and downs, your gas bills stay on a smooth, even track all year round.

It's easy to be a Budget Payment customer, too. All you do is pay the Budget Amount on your August bill, and you'll be billed that amount every month. Your meter will continue to be read as usual, and each month's bill will continue to show the amount of gas you used. A review in March determines if your budget amount needs to be adjusted because of weather.

Another good idea: sign on for Checkfree, too. It automatically makes your gas payment from your checking account each month, so you save time, postage and check charges.

Join the Columbia Budget Payment Plan. You'll take the ups and downs out of your heating bills — and leave the high cost of winter behind.

MHRPC Executive Director Issues Statement On Hospital Bed Study

by James R. Stanton
James R. Stanton, executive director of the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission, issued the following statement recently at a public hearing on the Booz, Allen and Hamilton study of excess hospital capacity in Maryland. The study has been under fire from many health institutions in the state because of the proposed elimination of licensed hospital beds and services revealed in the report. Although the study recommended the closing of 13 beds at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, administrator Larry Beck said there would be little impact on the local hospital because of projections in the same study that indicated a need for some 29 additional beds by 1990.

The health care industry, in Maryland and across the nation, is facing some serious problems. The cost of delivering and obtaining health care continues to rise, and we've reached a point where neither government nor private insurers will simply sign the tab with no questions asked. Faced with a growing crisis, Maryland's legislature, with the participation and advice of the industry, of labor and business, and of health care consumers, enacted a comprehensive package of health care cost containment legislation during its 1985 session.

A key component of the cost containment program addressed what many consider our most immediate problem: the excess capacity in our hospital system. Senate Bill 655 called for an "institution-specific study," to locate the unused hospital beds, to give us a picture of where we stand now, and to serve as the basis for a plan to reduce this excess capacity. The consulting firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton was commissioned to complete this study by July 1.

We want, again, and as many times as it takes, to clarify for you exactly what this study is and does, and what it is not and does not do. It is, if you will, a kind of CAT-scan of Maryland's hospital system, revealing from a purely statistical perspective where in that system excess bed capacity is found. It analyzes some strengths and some weaknesses, and ranks hospitals within jurisdictions according to certain specific criteria.

It is absolutely essential that everyone understand what the consultants' study is not. It is neither regulation nor law. It is not the hospital capacity plan mandated by the legislature. The Booz-Allen study will be given close consideration as we design regulations to facilitate the orderly and voluntary downsizing of excess capacity in our hospitals.

The ISS is not a "hit list"; the legislative mandate directed that the study consider the relative situation of specific hospitals, and the consultants focused on the worst-case scenario of closure to illustrate the extent and the seriousness of the problem of surplus beds.

We realize and regret the power of the word "closure." Yes, the situation is serious, but we have every faith that hospitals will act voluntarily to reduce excess capacity. We will give them both the incentive and the time to do that, and many have already begun. We have neither changed nor violated the legislature's intent: delicensing a hospital, though the legislation gives the Secretary that power, would be the very last resort.

We understand how important a hospital is, how deeply it is woven into the tapestry of its community. It is essential, however, that we not let our emotional reaction to the hypothetical closing of all or part of a particular institution distract us from the problem. The tremendous cost of the estimated 5,100 surplus beds in our state, and from the far less drastic solutions we will propose.

In developing the Hospital Capacity Plan, much more than the study will be considered. We are holding two rounds of hearing in each of the five health planning regions of the state, and not because we are required by law to do so. We are actively seeking public reaction not only to the study, but also to the regulations we will propose by early September.

As the legislation directs, we will consider the economic impact of downsizing, and each area's projected economic and population growth. We will consider community sentiment, and a community's continued access to good, affordable health care. We will develop a plan that focuses on and facilitates actions that hospitals within a given jurisdiction can voluntarily undertake, not simply to downsize, but to deliver better care in more creative and efficient ways.

Ideally, we would all like more time: more time to digest and react to the study, more time to deliberate over the regulations. But the legislature has given us a deadline. By October 1, we must have regulations in place that can respond to and fine-tune the entire system, that will enable us both to cut back rationally, and to encourage growth in needed specialties and services.

The implication is clear. Our legislators haven't given us much time because time is a luxury we cannot afford. Adjusting to the changing demands and directions of health care means coming to terms with surplus beds right now. The whole country will be watching us in Maryland. No other state has yet come to grips with the declining demand for hospital beds. We want to develop a plan that will reduce capacity, and at the same time keep hospital care within the reach, geographically and financially, of all of our citizens.

The study that we're here to talk about will be used as a statistical starting point, to craft a set of tools we can use to streamline our health care delivery system. The situation should worry us, but not frighten us. We recognize the faith and trust you place in your community's hospitals. We are placing the state's faith and trust in our hospitals, to react responsibly and voluntarily to the complex of problems caused by unused beds.

Columbia Gas To Reduce Rates

Columbia Gas of Maryland announced this week rates will be reduced by about $6 a year for the average residential customer, starting this month. For the average customer, it will mean about six percent reduction in the bill.

A residential customer will save $4.68 a month, based on typical usage of 10,000 cubic feet of gas per month on an annual basis, according to Thomas Lindsey, Jr.,

Columbia's Cumberland manager. "The price cut is to reflect lower costs of buying gas for our customers, and we are very pleased to pass along these savings, dollar for dollar," Lindsey said.

The reduction will be reflected in bills mailed to customers beginning August 11.

The reduction was made possible by Federal Energy Regulatory Commission final approval of an agreement between Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., its customers, including Columbia of Maryland, and other parties which provides for substantial rate reductions. Columbia Transmission is a major supplier of gas to Columbia of Maryland.

"Columbia has a continuing, long-term commitment to obtain the lowest-cost gas supplies we can," Lindsey said.

"Lower pricing and better, more efficient natural gas appliances now available enhance the desirability of natural gas as an energy

Westvaco - Owned Mines To Cut Workforce In Half

Westvaco Resources, Inc., the wholly owned coal-mining subsidiary of Westvaco Corporation at Luke, has announced that it will reduce its total work force by nearly one-half on August 31.

Kenneth K. Kennedy, president of W.R.I., indicated that these reductions at the mining operation were caused by a change in the company's mining plan and the need to reduce operating costs.

Kennedy explained that the current coal markets are very depressed and that the entire U.S. coal industry is seeing a major shrinkage in its total markets caused, in part, by importation of foreign coal and shrinking export markets. W.R.I. had provided more than one-half of the 1,000-ton-per-day of coal used at West-vaco's Luke mill. Hourly employees at W.R.I. are represented by Local 1543, United Paperworkers International Union. Prior to the reduction there were 52 hourly and salaried employees at W.R.I.

NHS Class Of '65 Has Reunion

The Northern High School Class of 1965 celebrated their 20th class reunion July 20 with a dinner at the Grantsville Firehall followed by a dance at the American Legion.

Kenneth Keplinger, class advisor, led the class in the invocation prayer followed by a moment of silence for deceased classmates: Floyd Hoover, Danny Nicklow, Clarence Friend Jr., and Ronald Durst. After the meal, Carol (Edwards) Schlossnagle, class president, led the class in reminiscing over the past 20 years with each class member taking part.

Prizes were presented to the following classmates: Robert Beitzel, youngest child; Thelma (Clark) Richmond, traveling the farthest; Wanda (Holliday) Folk, largest family; Dottie (Thomas) Sines, changed the most; Larry Suter, changed the least; Robert Brant, married longest. Prizes were also given to Jim Hetrick and Henry Oester for promptly returning their questionnaires.

Door prizes were won by: Jerry Fike, O'Dell Miller, Henry Oester and Joe McKenzie. Mrs. Ruth Patterson, advisor, celebrated her birthday that evening and was presented with a floral centerpiece and card signed by each classmate.

Each classmate and spouse was presented a baby blue carnation corsage or boutonniere, centerpieces and flowers were made by Flowers and Things of Grantsville.

The planning committee for this 20-year reunion was Linda (Sheffield) Handwerk, Nancy (Bowser) Durst, Linda (Fisher) Edwards and Roger Minnick. The planning committee for the 25th reunion will be Floyd Ellis, Gary Buckel and any other interested classmates.

Zoning Board Has Public Hearing

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals conducted a public hearing August 1 to review the following docketed cases:

Approval was given to an application made by Nicholas Dzendzel Jr. for a variance affecting the rear yard set-back requirements for an accessory building. Dzendzel wishes to construct a storage building which will extend to within 22 feet of the Penelec line instead of the required 40 feet. The property is located on Marsh Hill Road.

Oakland Agway

You've seen the rest, wait for the best! Frozen food orders coming soon. Order by 9-28, pick up by 10-17.

22 51

The board also approved an application made by Helen C. Owen for a rear yard set-back variance. Owen wishes to construct an addition to her residence which would extend to within 24 feet of the Penelec line; encroaching three feet closer to the Penelec line than the existing structure. The property is located on Turkey Neck.

One request was denied by the board. An application made by Mr. and Mrs. Andre Fortin for a rear yard set-back variance to construct a residence which would extend to within 25 feet of the rear property line instead of the required 40 feet. The Fortin's request was denied because the total lot area was too small according to zoning regulations.

Zoning Administrator John E. Nelson reports that the board will make a decision at their next hearing on an application made by the Butt family to construct a drive-in restaurant adjoining the Deep Creek Archery Range and Miniature Golf on Route 219. Other applications are also expected before next month's hearing by the board.

Ball Retires From Columbia

American Indian Pow Wow Slated

The American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization is sponsoring their annual Pow Wow Saturday and Sunday, August 31 through September 1, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. The theme of the Pow Wow this year will be honoring the Native American Veterans. This is the first time this event will be held in Garrett County, and a gathering of Native Americans from all nations is anticipated.

The public is invited to attend and observe Native American ceremonies, singing, dances and activities. Admission will be $2 for adults and is free for children under 12. Native American arts and crafts, as well as a variety of food will be offered.

The term "pow wow" has come down through the ages to mean a gathering where Indian people dance and sing. The most important part of the pow wow is the dance, and some of the dances include the Gourd Dance, Men's Straight or Traditional Dance, Snake Dance, Buffalo Dance, Hoop Dance and many others.

For further information contact the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council at 334-9888 or David Lugitt, American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization Public Relations Chairman at (301) 495-4636.

Before Buying A New Home Appliance, Air Conditioner or Furnace . . .

COMPARE ENERGYGUIDE LABELS

It Can Save You A Lot Of Money!

The price you pay for a new home appliance is only part of your expense! The operating cost after you install it in your home is where the dollars can really add up. That's because all appliances are not alike—some are much more efficient than others. That's why the ENERGYGUIDE label is so important because it tells you what it will cost to operate your new appliance. So read and compare the big yellow label attached to all new refrigerators, freezers, dishwashers, water heaters, washers, air conditioners and furnaces. It will tell you far more than just the purchase price. For more information call or stop in at your nearest Potomac Edison office and ask for your free copy of "A Consumer's Guide To Appliance Labeling." Then when you buy, make sure your new appliance is energy efficient.

Sanitary Commission Hears Reports On Kitzmiller Water, DCL Sewer

The Kitzmiller water system and the Deep Creek Lake Sewer system were the projects demanding the most attention from the Garrett County Sanitary Commission at their August 6 meeting.

Kitzmiller Water System
The Kitzmiller Mayor and Town Council members attended the August 6 meeting to discuss operation and maintenance of the Kitzmiller water system. An agreement which exists between the town and the sanitary commission is structured so that the sanitary commission would assist the town in getting funding and in constructing the system. After the system is completed, it would then be turned over to the town for operation and maintenance.

At this time, the town has no certified operator to run the system, and the meeting was arranged because the town and sanitary commission needed to come to an understanding of what kind of service will be needed by the town and what service the sanitary commission can provide.

A decision was reached, and approval given, that the sanitary commission will provide an operator for the system on a year-to-year contractual basis. The town will provide personnel to assist, then will determine when they can have someone trained to eventually take over the system.

Henry Doyle, of Greenhorn and O'Mara, gave a report on the status of the system. The paving is being completed in the town, and water lines are being flushed out and prepared to be put into service. The treatment plant and the water tank are complete.

A telemetry board must be replaced after being struck by lightning. Until it is replaced, the system cannot be operated automatically, and the commission does not desire to put it into operation until it is operating properly. This involves the automatic controls between the tank and the treatment plant, and no word has been received on its replacement.

Deep Creek Lake Sewer
Engineer Henry Doyle provided the commission with a Deep Creek sewer project report. Contracts 10 and 12 are essentially completed. Contractor H.J. Schneider has reduced his work force and closed down his office, but has a few people working to complete the job. The sanitary commission is pushing him to get the last of the punch-list items completed.

Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel reported that an odor problem continues, and the sanitary commission has asked the designing engineer, RK&K, to provide recommended solutions. The recommendation received from the engineer was to add hydrogen peroxide to the sewage to provide more oxygen and prevent the sewage from becoming septic.

The commission has also ordered a fan to force gasses through the odor control units. The fan was delivered but was damaged in shipment and had to be returned for repairs. When redelivered, the fan will be installed at the Lake Shore Drive pump station. Hydrogen peroxide has already been used in some of the pump stations and quantities have been increased. Sealing the pump stations has greatly reduced the problem.

The sanitary commission has asked Greenhorn and O'Mara to review RK&K's recommendations to see if this is the proper way to proceed, as the hydrogen peroxide has a high operation and maintenance cost.

Beitzel feels that most of the odor problems are under control and says that the district will be working in the areas still having problems until the odor is under control.

The sanitary commission has approved the purchase of tools for the treatment plant and the sewer system.

A late claim which had been filed by the contractor concerning Contract Nine has been settled. The contractor had filed a claim for an excess of approximately $200,000. This was a delay claim because of the court-ordered stoppage of the project at the beginning of the work. The claim settlement was negotiated in the amount of $95,000, and change orders have been submitted for approval.

A grant participation bond for the amount of $6,125,000 needs to be retired on November 15. The money from the issue was invested through the Maryland National Bank, is now in an account, and the bonds will be paid off on the date required.

Bids for the Route 219 under-water crossing were opened August 5, with the apparent low-bidder being Walker Diving Contractors. This is the same company that put in the under-water crossing at the Glendale Bridge. A request will be submitted to the Maryland State Health Department for approval of the bid. The work for the relocation of the line, and the removal of the sewer line from the Route 219 bridge will occur this fall.

The Office of Environmental Programs had previously denied any EPA funding for this portion of the project, but after numerous meetings, letters, and a long struggle, the sanitary district was successful in getting the state to reconsider. The state will now provide grant funding for changing the lines due to the eventual destruction of the bridge.

Beitzel stated that this will have a very favorable impact of the project's user-fee costs, because without funding the fees would have increased.

The district has also received favorable funding consideration from the state for the purchase of lab equipment for the treatment plant. The district will be advertising for bids for this equipment, which will enable the lab at the Deep Creek Lake treatment plant to be placed in operation.

The equipment at this lab will also be used to test other sewage systems in the county and private plants. This testing is required to meet state regulations.

Mtn. Lake Park
The sanitary commission executed a sewer service agreement between the district and the town of Mtn. Lake Park for the 1986 fiscal year.

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

On 1985 Property Tax Rates

by James Burley

The property tax year begins July 1st and continues through the following June 30th, and most property owners will have received their regular real property tax bills—meaning those based on the full tax year—by the middle of July.

As a help in understanding the tax bill, remember that it takes three things to produce the bill. The first is a valuation of the property, which in the case of real property is normally done on a three-year cycle.

The valuation is based on market value. The second is an assessment rate applied to the valuation. For most real property, the assessment rate is called the growth factor. It applies to all taxable real property on a statewide basis, except that property classified in the same category as agricultural use, which is assessed at 50% of its value. The growth factor is determined annually, and for this year it is 43.5%. The assessors of the State Department of Assessments and Taxation are responsible for making the valuations, and the department determines the growth factor based on the aggregate of these valuations. The third element that goes into producing the property tax bill is the tax rate. This is solely the responsibility of, and is determined by, the respective local governments.

The average tax rate for the year 1985 dropped by 3 cents, from $2.38 per $100 to $2.35. This is no doubt good news to property owners, in that it is the first drop in several years. Last year, for example, the average remained the same as for the year before. Of the 24 counties, including Baltimore City, 13 were able to lower their rate. Ten counties kept theirs the same, and in one county there was an increase in the rate. Two counties—Talbot, and Baltimore—were able to set their rates at a level equal to or lower than the constant yield rate for the year. Baltimore County, which reduced its rate by 13 cents, for example, was able to set its rate at a half cent lower than the constant yield rate—the only county to find itself in this happy situation. Garrett County made the largest rate reduction, dropping its rate by 16 cents, from $2.68 to $2.52. Baltimore County made the second largest rate reduction, followed by Anne Arundel, which reduced its rate by 11 cents, from $2.68 to $2.57.

Allegany County increased its rate by 14 cents, from $2.56 to $2.70 per $100; but, in fairness, an explanation for this is necessary. There, the county has established a number of tax rate differentials for the incorporated towns and municipalities; and these differentials are in some cases substantially lower than the general county rate. Certain other counties also have tax rate differentials for their incorporated municipalities which are lower than the general county tax rate.

In addition to the basic tax, which is based on the valuation of the property, some of the subdivisions, particularly those within or containing metropolitan areas, have other fixed charges added to them which relate to special services, such as water and sewer benefits. These charges are separate from the tax rates which apply to the valuations.

Over and above the local tax rate and fixed charges for special benefits, the state also imposes a property tax,

Maryland Census Reveals Shifts In Population

Governor Hughes announced that special tabulations analyzing area to area migration of Maryland residents are available from the Department of State Planning (DSP) in Baltimore. These statistics are based on research from the Statistics Income Division of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

By matching information keyed to the taxpayer's social security number, IRS prepared a data base used by DSP's Office of Planning Data to tabulate the numbers of Marylanders moving out of state or moving from county to county within the state. Figures are also available for persons moving into Maryland from other parts of the country. Tabulations are available for selected time periods from 1978 to 1983.

Net migration figures are derived by combining the number of persons who moved out of the county with the number who moved in during a given time period.

For example, if ten persons move away from a county, but nine persons move there from other areas, the county has a net out-migration of 1.

Data illustrates that while Maryland population is increasing at a rate of 7.5 percent each year, the causes for growth are internal. Migration into the state is not the cause of Maryland's swelling population since it is balanced by migration of Marylanders to other states.

The most important reason for Maryland's growth is that the number of births is exceeding the number of deaths in the state. Movement within the state to areas experiencing rapid growth is also a significant development revealed by these statistics.

Anyone wishing more information should contact DSP's Office of Planning Data at 301 West Preston Street, Room 1101, Baltimore, or call 301-225-4500.

Free Trees Given By National Arbor Day Foundation

The National Arbor Day Foundation will give ten free trees to people who become Foundation members during the month of August.

The six to twelve inch trees, which are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America, will be shipped postage paid, complete with planting instructions, between October 15 and December 10, which is the proper time for planting.

Trees will include a Colorado Blue Spruce, Red Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Red Oak, European mountain ash, Black Walnut, Silver Maple, Norway Spruce, Green Ash, and Sugar Maple. According to the Foundation, these trees were selected because they provide a wide range of benefits, including flowers, berries, nuts, shade, and foliage.

The Foundation is a nonprofit organization that is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting.

Anyone wishing to become a member of the Foundation and receive the free trees must send a $10 membership contribution to Ten Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by August 31.

The club, whose members spend a part of each year in Florida, had approximately 58 members attending the picnic.

Green Reunion Held Sunday

The thirteenth annual Green family reunion was held Sunday, August 4, at the Glottelty pavilion with approximately 80 people attending.

Family members and friends participated in games and activities throughout the day. A basket lunch was served and Bill Reny gave the blessing.

Game winners included Summer Cook, Joyce Murphy, Scott Spiker, Ruth Tasker, D.J. Bray, Mindy Spiker, Barbara Pennell and Paul Lesofsky. Guess table winners were Shirley Spiker, who guessed the weight of a fruit basket; Gerald Smith and Lillian Tasker for "pickle count"; Bill Green for "guess the time" and "wrapped candies;" and Donnie Bray for "hidden object."

Cakes, pies, fudge, and brownie walks were conducted with Janeen Bray, Mindy Spiker, Patti Smith, Debra Green, and Amy Reeves winning the prizes.

Stanley Taylor was awarded the prize for having the hairiest face, and his daughter, Stacy, had the greenest eyes. The woman with the most dimples was Ruth Tasker.

Scavenger Hunt winners were Jenny Smith, Shelly Taylor, Marie Cooper, Mary Green, Debra Green, Jimmy Brown III, Courtney Green and Renee O'Neil.

Sheridan Green traveled the furthest to attend the reunion, coming from Harlingen, Texas, a distance of 1,961 miles. Rick and Karole Beitzel were the youngest married couple, married 14 months.

Five new babies were recognized that have been born since August 1, 1984. They included Shasta Marie Tasker, Randy Clay Beitzel, Raven Brittany Cook, Lisa Nichole Green, and Timothy Eugene Taylor.

Three grand prizes were awarded. A rural country barn mailbox was won by Zelda Green; a food processor went to Loring Green; and a grill and lawn chairs to Janeen Bray.

Prize table items were drawn and election of officers concluded the day's events. New officers include: Carl Spiker, president; Bill Green, vice-president; Ruth Tasker, secretary/treasurer; Shirley Spiker, historian; Lillian Tasker and Patti Smith, trustees.

The fourteenth reunion is tentatively scheduled for August 3, 1986.

Extended Coverage By ROB MICHAEL Agent

What are you worth? Are your assets protected if you're sued for a million dollars—and lose? They could be, at little extra cost.

Umbrella liability insurance protects you where your ordinary insurance leaves off, taking over in case of extraordinary judgments.

Your underlying homeowners and auto policies usually have to be raised to qualify for coverage, but the cost is far less than if you had to raise each policy to a million or more.

In many cases, the umbrella also adds extra liability protection—for libel and slander, for instance—that you would not ordinarily have. (You should have a separate umbrella for your business).

Umbrella policies are usually sold in increments of $1 million—not so far-fetched a figure, in light of current jury awards—yet the premium can be as little as $100 a year, a small price for peace of mind.

What's your protection profile? Come in for a no-obligation talk with the experts at:

Energy Tips

by Patricia Driscoll Easterday
Extension Agent for Community Resource Development
For Allegany and Garrett Counties

Monitoring of fuel bills can be an important component of any energy management program. Awareness of past fuel consumptions and records of energy management practices can help people see where the largest energy consumers are, as well as indicate the impact energy management practices are making.

The Allegany Energy Council and the Cooperative Extension Service will be sponsoring two energy monitoring programs this year.

The first program will be a pilot effort for local government and non-profit agencies. It will involve recording two years of past fuel usage and monitoring two years of fuel usage during the actual pilot effort. Participating non-profits and local governments will receive a walk through energy audit that will recommend low cost/no cost energy management practices, as well as indoor and outdoor/street lighting recommendations. A furnace efficiency test will be completed on participating organization's buildings. Fuel consumption will be monitored on a computer at the Cooperative Extension Service. The development of the computerized energy monitoring system will enable the organizations to document their consumption, their usage and their savings. In addition, assistance will be given to develop an energy conservation plan for that particular organization.

The second program will be the home monitoring program. This year will be the third year the home monitoring program has been offered to residents of Allegany and Garrett counties.

Selected participants will receive a free energy audit with recommendations for saving energy, including cost pay-backs of specific recommendations. Their consumption will be monitored and compared to energy-saving improvements that are made. Information on how they saved energy will be used as the basis for educational programs for residents. Participants in past home monitoring programs have saved as much as $950.00 off of their fuel bills, with an average of $389.00 savings per year.

Both the home monitoring program and the pilot effort for local governments and non-profits are available in Allegany and Garrett counties. For more information on either of these programs, contact the Cooperative Extension Service, or at 202 South Third Street, Oakland; telephone: 334-2145.

Class Of '35 Holds Reunion

The class of 1935 of Aurora High School celebrated its 50th anniversary on July 27 in the Aurora Memorial Building, with a baked steak dinner served by the United Methodist Women.

During the business meeting, Ernest Shaffer was re-elected as president, and Mary McMillen was re-elected as secretary and treasurer.

Plans were made to hold the next reunion at the same time and place preceding the Old-Timer's reunion in five years. A moment of silence was observed for four deceased members.

Short talks were presented by two former teachers, Rev. Grant Nine and Charles Harriman. Each classmate also offered several comments.

Those attending were Rev.

and Mrs. Nine, Morgantown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harriman, Terra Alta; Tom and Mary (Myers) McMillen, Rowlesburg; Quinter and Eileen Slaubaugh, Beltsville; Ernie and Mildred (Stemple) Kalvalck, Aurora; Virgil and Lalah (Spessert) Miller, St. George; Doyle and Gladys (Danham) Wiles, Weirton; Amas and Eldean Lantz, Shinnston; Ernest and Marguerite Shaffer, Aurora; Galen and Lorraine Fike, Eglon; and Homer Shillingberg, Aurora.

Quilt Show To Be Held In Finzel

A quilt show will be held at the Finzel Community Building (the firehouse) on Tuesday, August 20, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A number of books on quilting and quilt patterns will be made available during the show, which is sponsored by the Finzel Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library.

All types of quilts may be displayed. For further information call Mary Margaret Ward or Pat Bodes at the Finzel Branch Library, 689-8388.

Diabetes Group To Have Picnic

The next meeting of the Garrett County Diabetes Association will be in the form of a group picnic at the Broadford Park Pavilion on Monday, August 19, at 5:30 p.m.

Members are asked to bring two covered dishes (a main dish and either a vegetable, salad or dessert), eating and drinking utensils, and beverage.

Blood sugar testing will be done at the picnic.

Local Church To Hold Revival

The Swallow Falls Dunkard Brethren Church is planning a revival starting August 16, and closing with the morning service on August 25. That service will be followed by a basket lunch on the grounds.

There will be services each evening at 7:30 p.m., except Saturday, August 24. The Sunday morning worship service starts at 10 a.m. Brother Virgil Leatherman will be the speaker.

SHOULDER FASHION TALK

The shoulders will be important in fashion during the 1985 fall and winter season. Some will remain extended and broad and will be highly padded. Also, look for rounded and curved shoulders. Shoulder emphasis will be seen on casual jackets, coats, dresses, jumpers, evening wear and lots of other clothes.

You may ask just what this look can do for you. The following will help you answer this question:

*If your shoulders are naturally narrow or sloping, no one will know with the seasons' thick and wide padding.

*If your shoulders are naturally very square and broad, you have it made—but use very little padding.

*If your waistline is large, it will appear smaller in proportion to the seasons' wide shoulder looks.

*If your bustline is too large or too small to suit you, the soft fall of the loose fabric will conceal even these problems.

*As for skinny or large legs, dropping your hemlines to meet the longer fashion look will also camouflage their size.

This seasons' fashions will be a plus for all figure types, so let's enjoy!

FOOD NOTES

Gardens have an abundance of zucchini and sometimes it seems like it will never all be used. Here's a delicious recipe that everyone in your family will enjoy:

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE

In a greased casserole dish, layer sliced potatoes (peeled or unpeeled), sliced zucchini, sliced onions, sliced tomatoes and slices of cheese (American or Cheddar). Repeat the layers. Cover the casserole with a lid or aluminum foil. Bake in 350° F. oven for 45 minutes to 1 hour. This recipe can also be adapted for use in the microwave oven or in the crockpot.

Local Persons Enter Nursing At WVU

The West Virginia University School of Nursing will begin studies on August 26 with 66 women and five men accepted for entrance.

The class includes 64 West Virginians and seven residents of four other states. Local students included in this class will be Anita Louise Sisler and Debra Dawn Titchener, of Bruceton Mills in Preston County; Kathleen Ann Knotts, of Horse Shoe Run in Preston County; and Marlene Agnes Sturgill, of Oakland.

Applicants must have completed at least two semesters of prescribed courses at WVU or another accredited college or university to be eligible for admission to the School of Nursing.

The school's three-year curriculum consists of both nursing and general education courses. Graduates receive the bachelor of science degree and are qualified to take the licensing examination to become registered nurses. Many later enter the WVU master's degree program in nursing.

Steve Kisner To Teach Vo-Ag At SHS Grantsville SS

Vocational Agriculture teacher, Steve Kisner, has been hired to teach at Southern High School. Kisner is a graduate of Terra Alta, W. Va., High School, and attended Potomac State College for two years, graduating from the ag-technology program with an associate arts degree. He received his bachelor's degree in ag-education from West Virginia University, and taught vo-ag for five years at Calhoun High School in West Virginia.

He left teaching two years ago to take over the family farm in West Virginia where he was raised. During that time he also worked as a field representative for Bruceton Farm Service in Bruceton Mills, W. Va. He and his wife, Dorinda, their son, Cross, and daughter, Seegee, still operate the 245 acre farm with its 40-cow dairy herd.

Kisner has several goals for the vo-ag program at Southern, the major goal being to get organized and continue the efforts and activities the students have been involved with in the past. He will try to expand the Supervised Occupational Experience Programs (SOEP) of individual students and hopes to be involved in all FFA activities students express an interest in. "Basically," said Kisner, "I want to provide as much education and related activities needed to promote either advanced ag-education or ag-related occupations."

Stockholders Meet

Cleland Beitzel, Bittering, and Marvin Kinsinger, Grantsville, were elected to the local Grantsville Stockholder Committee at the Southern States Annual Membership Meeting held at the Grantsville Fire Hall on August 6. Over 100 stockholder-members and their families attended the session. Daniel J. Yoder, Bittering, was selected chairman of the local Grantsville Service while William Merrill, Grantsville, was named vice-chairman.

Elected to the Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee were: June Beachy, and Mrs. Norma Bowser, both of Grantsville. Mrs. Rosella Miner, Grantsville, was chosen chairman of the Farm Home Advisory Committee while Mrs. Beachy was named secretary.

Jim K. Stutler, Lost Creek, W. Va., a member of Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, reported on the over-all Southern States operations. This report also included a slide-tape presentation entitled "Teamwork: Always in Season."

The report on local operations and services rendered to farmer-members in the community was given by Tom Boggess, manager of The Grantsville Service. He reported that total volume for their operations for the past year was about $1,654,981.00.

There was also a special recognition ceremony for new board members, Farm Home Advisory Committee members, as well as those from these groups who were retiring. These included: Eldon Sechler, Delvin Mast, Cleland Beitzel, Marvin Kinsinger, Mrs. Mary Kamp, Mrs. June Beachy, and Mrs. Norma Bowser.

Other highlights of the meeting included "Share-a-Craft" and music by the Brenneman Family.

Record Crop Yields Forecast For Maryland

If expectations are realized, Maryland farmers will have record yields for wheat, rye, and potatoes this season along with record tying yields for oats and barley.

Wheat production at 5.85 million bushels is expected to be 3 percent below 1984's production of 6.02 million. A decline of 10,000 acres harvested, to 130,000 acres, more than offset the expected record yield of 45 bushels per acre. Rye yields are expected to average 33 bushels per acre, 1 bushel above the 1984 record of 32 bushels, while oats yields are expected to average 59 bushels per acre, equal to the record yield of the 1981 crop. The August 1 forecast for barley yields is 60 bushels per acre, down from the July 1 forecast of 63 bushels per acre.

If yield forecasts are realized, this year's barley crop would tie the yield record set in 1980. Barley production is estimated at 5.64 million bushels, up 2 percent from 1984. Potato yields are estimated at 220 hundredweights per acre which is 5 hundredweights above the 1982 record. Total production of potatoes is set at 352,000 hundredweights, 19 percent above last year.

The first forecast of corn yields for 1985 in Maryland indicates that farmers will be harvesting 92 bushels per acre compared to 118 bushels last year. Resulting production would be 59.8 million bushels, down 14 percent from 1984. The first forecast for sweet potatoes shows yield expectations to average 165 hundredweights per acre compared to 1984's yield of 160 hundredweights. Production is estimated at 182,000 hundredweights, an increase of 3 percent from last year.

Forecasts for peaches and apples are unchanged from last month. Peach production is expected to total 2.0 million pounds, about one-tenth of normal. Apple production is estimated at 80.0 million pounds, equal to last year.

Showers Keep Crops Growing

Rains, mostly scattered showers in varying amounts, kept crops developing normally across most of the state, according to the Maryland Crop Reporting Service. The southern counties west of the Bay received only light showers during the week and as a result topsoil moisture remains short in that area. Elsewhere topsoil moisture is adequate. Subsoil moisture is adequate in the north central and western areas and short in the other parts of Maryland. Farmers worked 5.7 days in their fields harvesting vegetables, hay, corn silage and tobacco.

Corn is in mostly fair to good condition. Corn acreage was 95 percent silked by August 11, slightly ahead of last year's 90 percent but equal to the normal pace. The dough stage had been reached by 65 percent of the corn. Last year showed 50 percent in the dough stage while normal is 60 percent for this time of year. Dented corn stood at 20 percent, just ahead of the 10 percent dented last year and equal to the average dent. Thirteen percent of the corn silage had been cut by August 11, about ten days ahead of last year, which showed no silage cut by this date. Normally corn silage cutting does not begin until the middle of August.

Vegetable harvest remains ahead of last year. Lima bean harvest was 75 percent completed. Last year 60 percent of the lima beans had been harvested by August 11. Snap beans were all harvested except for a few fields, slightly ahead of last year and average 95 percent harvested. Sweet corn was 80 percent picked, equal to 1984 and average. Potatoes were 80 percent dug compared to last year's 65 percent. Watermelons were 80 percent harvested, well ahead of last year when half of the crop was picked and the average 55 percent picked. Cantaloupes were 70 percent picked compared to 75 percent picked by this time last year and the average 75 percent.

Tomatoes were 70 percent harvested, behind the 80 percent for 1984 but ahead of the normal 65 percent. Cucumbers were 85 percent picked at the end of the week. Last year showed 80 percent of the crop harvested by August 11, which is normal progress.

The apple crop is in mostly good condition while peaches are in poor condition. Peaches are 75 percent picked. Last year 50 percent of the crop had been picked by this date, and on the average 40 percent of the crop is picked.

Hay harvest slowed during the week due to rains in the main producing areas. The third cutting of alfalfa hay was 55 percent complete, well behind 1984 when 75 percent of the crop had been cut three times and the average three cutting percent of 65 percent. The fourth cutting of alfalfa hay is just beginning on a few fields. The third cutting of other hay was 85 percent completed at week's end, well ahead of the 5 percent cut three times in 1984 and the normal third cutting of 20 percent.

Weather

Weather for the week was cool with scattered showers. Temperatures averaged mostly 3 to 5 degrees below normal. High temperatures were in the mid 80's to low 90's while lows were in the mid 50's to low 60's. Precipitation averaged 0.68 inch ranging from a low of 0.25 inch at Patuxent to 3.01 inches at Snow Hill.

Smut on Sweet Corn

Often home gardeners find Sweet Corn damaged by a fungus disease called Corn Smut. Damaged sweet corn may have irregular shaped whitish-gray galls or out-growths on stalks, tassels and ears. When the ear is infected it swells into a large fungal mass within the corn husk. If the gall is broke, it releases a mass of black spores. Since the disease over-winters in the soil it is best to remove damaged corn from the garden. However, because the spores float easily on the air, it is impossible to completely keep the disease from damaging sweet corn. No sprays or dusts are effective in combatting smut of sweet corn. Sweet corn varieties vary in susceptibility to smut. Nearly everyone's favorite, Silver Queen, unfortunately is quite susceptible to Corn Smut. Wet, rainy weather increases incidence of Corn Smut.

Fertilize Strawberries

Mid-August is the suggested time to fertilize strawberry plants. This applies to both new plants made this past spring and to older beds which produced fruit this year. As a guide, apply a pound and a half of 10-10-10 fertilizer for each 50 foot row. This should be scattered directly over the plants which are in a row from 12 to 18 inches wide. This is the only time of the year that strawberries should be fertilized. The fertilizer aids flower bud development between now and cold weather. Buds remain tucked away down in the plant crowns to push out early next year and later form the fruit. If the planting is quite crowded, plants should be thinned so they are six to eight inches apart. When overcrowded plants compete so much with each other they cannot produce well. Crowding also leads to fruit rot during wet weather at harvest time. While plants are being thinned is a good time to remove weeds which also compete with strawberry plants.

Milk Production Up In Maryland

Maryland milk production during June 1985 totaled 140 million pounds, up 13 percent compared to a year ago. The total number of milk cows, at 121,000 head, remains constant with June 1984 while milk per cow was up 135 pounds per head, or 13 percent.

The value of grain fed to dairy cattle on July 1, 1985 decreased $1.45 per cwt. compared to a year earlier. The quantity of grain and other concentrates fed daily increased one pound per day, or 7 percent.

United States June 1985 milk production totaled 12.4 billion pounds, 6 percent above June 1984 and the highest June production since 1947. The total number of milk cows averaged 11.0 million head during June, up 41,000 head from last month and up 224,000 head, or 2 percent, from a year ago. Production per cow average, 1,128 pounds during June, 43 pounds more than the June 1984 average.

Corn Plantings Exceed 1984's

Maryland corn growers have indicated they have planted 745,000 acres this year, 60,000 acres more than in 1984, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's crop acreage report.

National average farm prices for the crop are expected to range between $2.60 and $2.70 per bushel, five to 25 cents above the national average loan rate. Farmers averaged about $3.25 a bushel for corn a year ago.

The USDA report indicates farmers intend to harvest for grain 650,000 acres of corn this year, compared to 590,000 acres last year.

Olin S. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Maryland State ASC Committee, said Maryland farmers enrolled 300,000 corn base acres in the 1985 feed grain acreage reduction program and designated 30,000 acres for the acreage conservation reserve to keep corn supplies in line with demand and strengthen prices. "These farmers will be eligible to receive price support loans, target price protection and other program benefits," he said.

The county loan rate for 1985 crop corn is $2.82 per bushel. The nine-month price support loan helps farmers pay operating and production costs and allows them time to assess the market or to hold grain for sale or feeding later.

Nationally, farmers intend to plant 83.2 million acres of corn, three percent more than last year. Corn growers are expected to harvest 74.8 million acres for grain in 1985, four percent more than in 1984.

BITTINGER-GLADES

Church News

Harry Fox held worship services in all three of the churches of the Bittering parish on Sunday.

It was announced that several persons had heard from Pastor Rockwood in Cheyenne, Wyoming to another home this week, and they escaped the floods that recently struck the city.

Holy Communion will be observed in all churches this coming Sunday. Dr. Beryl Maurer, Morgantown will officiate.

Funeral services were conducted for Dan Yommer on Sunday afternoon by Pastor Dan Yeiser at the Newman Funeral Home in Grantsville.

Pastor Fenton Platter and his wife, Mabel, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Sunday at The Church of the Brethren in Salem, Va. The congregation at Bethesda Church of the Brethren was among the congregations invited to attend.

Lectors on Sunday were Maxine O'Brien, St. John's; Donna Buckel, Emmanuel and Glenn Burrow, Zion.

Bittering Picnic
 The annual Bittering picnic will be held in Brennenman's Grove on Saturday, August 17. Everyone is invited to attend.

There will be homemade cakes, pies, sandwiches, chicken dinners, soft drinks and ice cream for sale. There will also be entertainment.

Zion LCW Meets

The LCW of Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, held their monthly meeting in the church on August 6 with five members present. Mrs. Nellie Yommer presented the study theme "Paths of Spirituality."

Mrs. Yommer also presided over the business meeting, and minutes on the July meeting were read by Mrs. Joe Resh. Subscriptions were received for the devotional guide "Light for Today." There being no delegate from Zion attending the LCW synodical convention in July, the Bulletin of Reports was received from the Synodical Unit; also "The Kolonia" from the unit.

A gift offering was received as a memorial to the late Clyde Yommer. This was forwarded to LCW Specific Ministries, designated for the Kugler School of Nursing in India. A quantity of clothing was sent to Rocky Boy Lutheran Indian Mission in Box Elder, Montana.

The washcloth shower for the Lutheran Home in Kane, Pa., will be concluded on September 4.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, September 4, at 2 p.m. All members of the congregation are invited to meet at the church one hour prior to the LCW meeting to rehearse the hymns to be sung for Sunday worship during September.

Russell and Homer Brennenman visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin

Frye, Detour, on Tuesday.

Mary Brennenman and Esther Knox visited Ruth Markley in Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Esther Knox in the Pleasant Valley area, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Reckner, Jamestown, Pa., are visiting Ida Reckner for several days.

Jimmie Forney and wife, Avella, Pa., were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lee Forney on Saturday. They all had dinner at the Casselman Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Klotz were Sunday afternoon visitors of the Forneys.

Martha Glatfely attended the DeWitt reunion on Sunday at Fred Glatfely's grove.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brennenman were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bender and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bender and sons, Kelly Passwaters and Kristen and Wesley Brennenman. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Brennenman is spending the week at the Allen Brennenman home as are Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Faub, Fredericksburg, Ohio, who are here for a conference in Grantsville this week.

Lois and Jerry Radcliff and son, Jeremy, visited Melda Bittering the past weekend and attended the wedding of the Eric and Bernadine Bittering.

Paul Bittering, California, called his mother, Melda Bittering, and informed her that he will be leaving on August 10 to go to Panama for a season. Paul is an officer in the United States Army.

SANG RUN

Mrs. Rose McCullough spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeWitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wright and son, Germantown; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cruman and daughter, Damascus, Jeff McKenzie, Eloise McKenzie, Frederick, and Tom Davis, Baltimore, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen DeWitt, to attend the DeWitt Reunion. Other visitors were Josephine Long, Oakland; Jim Dunithan, Manassas, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Dale DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. Rick DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. John DeWitt, Mrs. Anthony Yoder and son and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Auil.

Brad Harvey, Deer Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Friend visited Mr. and Mrs. Milton DeWitt the past week.

Mrs. Milton DeWitt visited her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Mayle, Monday.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of William Blaine Friend would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone who helped in anyway following the illness and death of our loved one.

We would like to extend a special thanks to the Northern Rescue Squad, WVU Hospital, Newman Funeral Home, Rev. Howard Pentz and for the use of the Friendsville Fire Hall.

Thank you,
 Mrs. Gertrude Friend and family

The warning signal will be sounded once after detonation of 15-second duration as an all clear signal.

From April 11, 1985 through December 31, 1985, in compliance with all 1976 State and Federal laws.

Blasting will occur either between the hours of 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., or between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, weather permitting. This schedule will be followed except during adverse conditions that will prevent blasting, or if the operator or public safety requires unscheduled detonations.

At least 10 minutes prior to all detonations all access roads will be controlled to prevent unauthorized entry. A warning signal will be sounded at least 15 minutes prior to detonation with 3 blasts of 10 seconds duration. The warning signal will be sounded once after detonation of 15-second duration as an all clear signal.

EARLY PUBLIC NOTICE

The Town of Kitzmiller, MD has received notice of funding from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Baltimore Area Office, to undertake a Single Purpose Program to meet Public Facilities and Housing needs. Portions of the Project Area are located in the 100 Year Flood plain, as noted on the Flood Insurance Administration Map dated 8/24/84. Alternatives to the Project were reviewed. There are no adverse impacts which could result from the Project. A Public Hearing was held on July 1985 to discuss the Small Cities Application. No objections to the Program were received.

James Barrick, Mayor Town of Kitzmiller, MD
—Adv. 24-11.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice to the public of no significant effect on the environment and request for release of funds.

Date: August, 1985
TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

On or about August 29, 1985, the Town of Kitzmiller will request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release Federal Funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and 1977, as amended, for the following project:

Project Name and Location: Small Cities Single Purpose Program to meet Public Facilities and Housing Needs (portion of ED 13)

Brief Description: A two year Single Purpose Project including the rehabilitation of 28 substandard dwellings for lower income households and the installation of a gravity collection sanitary sewer system and individual sewer taps.

It has been determined that such a request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly the Town of Kitzmiller has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

The reasons for such decision are as follows:

The short term adverse impacts of the proposed project during the construction phase are expected to be minor and in any event, will be modified by controlling the practices of contractors. The long term impacts, including secondary and cumulative impacts over time, are expected to be overwhelmingly favorable.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the Town of Kitzmiller which documents the environmental review of the Project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying upon request between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

No further environmental review of such Project is proposed to be conducted prior to the release of funds for the release of Federal Funds.

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the Town to the Office of the undersigned. Such written comments should be received at Kitzmiller Town Hall on or before August 29, 1985. All such comments received will be considered and the Town will not request the release of Federal Funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date of the release of funds.

The Town of Kitzmiller will undertake the project described above with Block Grant Funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1979 and 1977, as amended. It is further certified to HUD that the Kitzmiller Town Council and James Barrick in his official capacity as Mayor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making and action, and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the Town of Kitzmiller may use the Block Grant Funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is one of the following bases: (a) that the certification was not in fact executed by the Chief Executive Officer of the Applicant; or (b) that the Applicant's Environmental Review Record for the Project indicates omission of a required decision, finding or step applicable to the Project in the environmental review process; or (c) that another Federal Agency, acting pursuant to Section 309 of the Clean Air Act or Section 102 (s) C of NEPA and implementing regulations, has submitted a written finding to HUD that an applicant's project is satisfactory from the standpoint of public health or welfare or environmental quality.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD Area Office, 10 N. Calvert Street, Baltimore, MD 21202. Objections to the Release of Funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objections received after August 29, 1985 will be considered by HUD.

Garrett Families To Be Featured In History Book

A new history of Garrett County families will soon be published. Wayne Bittinger, of Bedford, Pa., has written a book that begins with the pioneer Bittingers and branches out to include many Garrett County names - including Brenneman, Broadwater, Durst, Fazenbaker, and dozens of others.

"Some genealogies contain little more than names and dates," Bittinger said, "but this book is packed with lots of Garrett County folklore and history." He compares the style of his books to the well-known Foxfire series.

This book is entitled The Bittinger, Bittner, Biddinger, and Bidding Families and Their Kin of Garrett County, Maryland, and is now in production at McClain Printing, in Parsons, W. Va. Over the past 22 years, the author of this book has been a frequent visitor to local libraries and the Garrett County Courthouse, piecing together a collection of family histories. Hundreds of local residents - some now long deceased - have been interviewed.

Bittinger's research has preserved tales of the Civil War, folk medicine, hunting, and the lives of the pioneers of this and neighboring counties. "Much of this 900-page book consists of very readable character sketches," Bittinger said.

Included are the life stories of: the owner of the first coal mine in Garrett County, the first man to have a sawmill on Savage River, and the first person to ride across the great stone bridge east of Grantsville. Also included is an eyewitness account of a 1902 barn raising at Accident, where two were fatally injured.

This limited edition book is being sold only by advance order. Books are priced at $28, plus $2 for postage and handling. Orders can be placed this month with Wayne Bittinger, R.D. 1, Box 267, Bedford, Pa. 15522. Delivery is scheduled for Christmas, 1985.

Roadway Mishaps Claim 21 Lives

Enforcement agencies throughout the state of Maryland reported 21 motor vehicle traffic fatalities during the week ending August 11. Of these fatalities, 10 were drivers, five were passengers, five were pedestrians, and one was a bicyclist. Preliminary investigation of these accidents revealed that alcohol was a contributing factor in three deaths, speed in two, and driver error in 17.

Fatalities in Maryland through August 11 total 431, compared to 385 during the same period last year.

New Horizons Rep To Visit Accident Library

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College, a special program which provides services for single parents and homemakers who need to enter or re-enter the job market, will have a representative at the Accident Library on Thursday, August 22, from 1 to 4 p.m., to assist program participants and prospective program participants with entry or re-entry into the program.

There have been changes in the program operation for the 1985-86 funding year and it is necessary for previous clients to re-enter the program by filling out new intake forms in order to continue to receive services from the program. Also any new persons who may wish to begin participation in the program are asked to meet with the New Horizons staff representative, Lena Fratz, at the Accident Library on August 22, to facilitate ease of entering the New Horizons program.

If clients wish to register for credit or non-credit classes in vocational education at this time and need child care financial assistance and/or transportation assistance, forms can be filled out at the same time.

Interested persons who have not previously participated in the services offered by New Horizons are encouraged by Barbara Frey, New Horizons director, to visit the Accident Library to learn about the program and services offered to the public.

A New Horizons staff representative will meet with interested persons at the Friends-vile Library on August 29 from 1 to 4 p.m., and at the Finzel

Library on September 5, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Producer finds cable TV a perfect political forum

By Marta Tarbell

You could call Tom Patchett "Mr. Television."

The 45-year-old producer of "Washington," the new comedy series that began its run on cable's Showtime channel last week, has spun a long string of network hits. He's written for such cutups as Dick Van Dyke, Carol Burnett, Bob Newhart and Sandy Duncan. He also joined MTM Enterprises and produced "The Tony Randall Show," "We've Got Each Other," and the ill-fated variety series "The Mary Show," starring Mary Tyler Moore.

After a stint as a screenwriter — "The Great Muppet Caper" and "Up the Academy" — Patchett returned to network television, writing and producing the short-lived, sharp-tongued 1983-84 series "Buffalo Bill."

Now Patchett has moved over to cable, and he's excited about "Washington," which was developed by Showtime executives from a comic strip of the same name. "Washington" stars Tom Callaway.

The show's about Bob Forehead, a guy who wants to be a game-show host.

Explains Patchett, "but he gets talked into running for Congress instead. He wins, and he knows nothing about politics. So 'Washington' is about his education — the ins and outs, the give and take of politics. It's a fairly intelligent show, with something to say about politics and about the way politicians operate."

Tom Callaway

We can say things," he adds, "the way we want to say them."

But he wants to make sure no one thinks he's complaining about his old network employers. They have a lot of advertising dollars at stake, he says. "They have to compete, there's no two ways about it. But on cable, you can afford to take some chances."

So Patchett has the luxury of producing a show where the No. 1 priority is to make people laugh.

It's a sophisticated show, and you'll have to listen a little more carefully to it than you would to "Gimme a Break." Patchett says, "We're not in competition with 'Gimme a Break,' but we're not writing down to anyone. That's what I like best about the show. It's aimed at people who think."

STAR STYLE

French lives stress-free as he works for 'beauty'

By Renee Ross

Victor French scoffs at the mention of the job stress. "I'm certainly not riddled with it, or under any great pressure. That's because I love what I'm doing," says French, who stars as former policeman Mark Gordon on "Highway to Heaven." "The hours are long, but what I'm working on is so much fun!" adds the 50-year-old actor, who shares directorial duties with his on-air sidekick, longtime friend Michael Landon.

Victor French

The actor admits that his younger days were full of painful struggles for self-understanding. "I used to have a terrible temper," he recalls. "I was confused about who I was."

But, over the years, he's developed a philosophy based on straightforwardness in everything he does. "I've had plenty of time to investigate myself," he says. "I realized I didn't have to walk around full of nonsense all my life, and that's what I tell young actors who ask me for advice. Set a level of taste and personal standards at the beginning of your career, and you won't be exploited."

French worked on stimulating his imagination while growing up. "I've always loved boxing," he remembers. "As a kid, our family was too poor to go to boxing matches, so I listened to them on the radio and staged my own matches in the living room — playing the roles of both boxers."

"As for my own exercise," he adds, "I've got a small gym in my garage. But it's hard to make time for a workout when you get up at 4:30 a.m. and go to sleep at 9 p.m."

French says he feels a strong responsibility to accept TV roles in which he believes. "If, after seeing one of my shows, a guy doesn't kick his dog or is nicer to someone at work the next day, the actor says, 'I'd say it's been a success.'"

Helen Keller once wrote, "Nothing that we do today for the sake of beauty is ever lost." That phrase has always stuck with me. It changed my life and I believe it can change the world."

A 'dull' Jane Pauley candidly tells all

By Marc Minelli

She's married to Pulitzer Prize-winning "Doonesbury" cartoonist Garry Trudeau, earns close to $1 million a year by interviewing some of the world's most famous people and wakes up more than five million people every weekday morning. Yet Jane Pauley considers herself dull.

Anyone who works the hours I work (she rises every weekday morning at 4 a.m.) has to be a little dull," insists the 34-year-old co-anchor of NBC's "Today" show. "I wake up, go to work, come home, feed Ross and Rachel (her 20-month-old twins), talk with Garry and go back to sleep. How could I not be dull?"

Coming Attractions recently caught up with Miss Pauley, who will join her "Today" show colleagues for a special prime-time "Today" show, airing Monday, Aug. 19 on NBC. She spoke about her career, her marriage, her competition, her fears and her future. The comments are candid — and hardly dull.

On being a career woman mother wife. "When I found out I was pregnant, I was riddled with guilt because I was afraid I'd be too tired for my career and Garry. I knew I couldn't be a full-time newswoman, a full-time mother and a full-time wife. I knew I had choices and options, and I picked a schedule best for me. Garry wanted a wife who worked. Thank God he's a feminist!"

On criticism. "It used to hurt a lot when people said or wrote bad things about me. For many years, I tried so hard to be liked, it was very important for me to be taken seriously. I wanted NBC to make me one of the boys. Now I can't afford to worry. I don't want to waste time."

On her fears. "I'm embarrassed by being a star. I hate parties. I loathe social events. Garry and I don't go to them because I'm afraid I won't have anything to say. I'm afraid of looking two feet tall."

On her competition. "I used to watch 'Good Morning America,' but for some strange reason, the backstage monitors no longer pick up ABC. I rarely watch the other shows. But I was interested when Phyllis George joined CBS Morning News. I was threatened by her because she is a real professional broadcaster. Now I guess you could call us friends."

On her future. "Sometimes I wonder if there's a show better suited for me and my talents, a show that will better fit in with my children's schedules. Maybe if the other networks ever came to me, I might think of a move. But why should I give up a good thing?"

SHOW AND TELL

Miss DeBari's dilemma? Small role, big show

By Gregory Garver

HOLLYWOOD — Irene DeBari has a tenuous job. She portrays the wife of Lt. Ray Callahan (Rene Enriquez) on "Hill Street Blues," a job that she calls "semi-regular." She doesn't have a contract, so she can't ever be sure when she's going to work.

And now that Enriquez's character has been promoted — he will become a captain in a different precinct — the actress has no idea how often he will be on the NBC series, much less herself.

But, Miss DeBari says, looking at the bright side of things. "Rene says that on those shows he'll be on, his character will be heavily featured and I hope that maybe I'll wind up with a few good shows as well."

Miss Enriquez, a native of Argentina, says she's always wanted to act. But she knew her conservative father would never approve. He lumped actresses in the same category as prostitutes.

When she was offered the lead in a Buenos Aires production of "The Diary of Anne Frank," however, Miss Enriquez's father allowed her to accept the role. The play ran two years. The actress then stepped into another play, "The Bald Soprano."

When her father found out about it, he pulled her off the stage.

Irene DeBari

Still, the actress won a scholarship to New York's prestigious Actors Studio where, coincidentally, she first worked with Enriquez. The actor and actress are, in fact, so close that he's the godfather of her 3 1/2-year-old daughter, Bronwyn. The actress is married to Douglas Sinclair Winnie, an executive for an energy company.

If Miss DeBari's looks familiar, it may be because she's also the star of the Hispanic version of "Sesame Street." She has appeared in 260 episodes of the show. "My mother," she says with a laugh, "thinks that is respectable."

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Reckell's not related; Denise's disappearance

By Kimberly Redmond

I'm convinced that handsome hunk Peter Reckell, who portrays Bo Brady on "Days of Our Lives," is related to Randy Owens, the lead singer for his country music group Alabama. "Am I right?" — O.W., Bay Springs, Miss.

Peter Reckell

Close but no cigar. Reckell is not related to Randy Owens, perhaps it's the long hair, beard and mustache that has you fooled.

Whatever happened to Denise Alexander, the actress who used to portray Dr. Lexie Williams Webber on "General Hospital"? She's been gone from the small screen for about four years. — R.S., Hermonston, Ore.

Miss Alexander, who previously portrayed Susan Hunter Peters on "Days of Our Lives," seems to have disappeared since her departure from "GH." The actress claimed that she was working on some projects (such as feature films) when she left

"GH," but so far, we haven't seen her appearing in any other TV shows — daytime or nighttime.

I have a bet with my mother that John Heilly portrayed Dean Stewart on "As the World Turns" before he joined "General Hospital" in the role of Sean Donnelly. Mom says he played Paul Stewart on "ATWT." Who wins? — G.H., Walkerville, Mich.

You do. Heilly portrayed Dean Stewart for several years before he moved to California. He's since appeared in numerous nighttime series, including "Dallas." Paul Stewart has been played by several actors, most recently by Dean Santoro.

ROCK VIEW

Duran trio's new sound; Cliff's in 'Paradise'

By Marianne Meyer

DURAN DERANGED — Advance reports on the Simon LeBon, Nick Rhodes, Roger Taylor album, due out this fall, claim it's going to be far in left field compared with their Duran Duran efforts. The trio recorded the LP in a Parisian studio where several visitors — including Grace Jones, Sting, avant-garde percussionist David Van Tieghem and former Pink Floyd guitarist David Gilmour — dropped by to contribute a note or two. One lucky listener who's heard an early mix of the sessions describes the tracks as "totally unlike Duran — more like Pink Floyd." The videos should be something else. Stay tuned.

WORKS IN PROGRESS — Reggae star Jimmy Cliff can be seen in "Club Paradise," Harold Ramis's new comedy starring Robin Williams and Twiggy. Catch it next spring. Julie Brown ("The Homecoming Queen's Got a Gun") has signed a movie deal to bring her wacky music video style to the big screen. Hall and Oates appearance at New York's Apollo Theatre was recorded for a full-length video package. REO Speedwagon also has a concert in the can.

TOL RIST TRAP — Boston's Z Club Records found

a unique way to finance their video for local favorites Ball and Pivot. According to Billboard, the band's manager approached the tourist board of Aruba, which has a great need for tourist dollars but little money for promotion. In an unusual move, the Aruban government put up $15,000 to subsidize the production of "Down." Ball and Pivot's video shot on the island. The government also provided free hotel rooms for the musicians and crew. The Arubans hope that the traveling clip will attract Boston press and cable play, a market they believe has strong tourism possibilities.

Brant Gumbel and Jane Pauley will share their evening with viewers when "The Today Show" airs in prime time, Monday, Aug. 19 on NBC. The special telecast, "Today at Night," airs live from New York City's Rockefeller Center.

Jimmy horses around; Liberace & co. drink up

By Cindy Adams

NEW YORK Jimmy McNichol always and forever known as Kristi McNichol's kid brother, will be playing the horses from now on. Not at the track, but on a computer at Hollywood's Coast to Coast Data.

Jimmy McNichol

The California company runs a service McNichol calls Equinovation. It matches up horses from across the country in hopes of generating a Kentucky Derby favorite.

You might say it's a business with which James is definitely involved.

Burt Reynolds is enamored of Shirley MacLaine's daughter, Sachi Parker. Professionally speaking, that is. On her first time out, Sachi played Bobbi the barmaid in Burt's flick 'Stuck.' Now, Burt wants her for another role. When he's tuned off his own ear-splitting tunes, who does Elton John turn to? No, not Grace Bumbry. No, not Connie Francis. He grooves on heavy rock as in Cyndi Lauper and Prince.

Late one recent afternoon, a thirsty Liberace and pal wandered into a Fifth Avenue restaurant that only serves lunch. The staff was closing up, and Lee & Co. were turned away. A waitress, clutching a champagne bottle and two glasses, scampered after them, and convinced them to stay. They did. They drank. And 45 minutes later, Lee took a rag in his hand and helped tidy up. How nice.

Tourism, Travel Spending Jumps

11.3% In State

In a just released study, the U.S. Travel Data Center says that tourism and travel spending in Maryland grew 11.3% in 1984.

According to Kurt Alverson, director of the Maryland Office of Tourist Development, Department of Economic and Community Development, who commissions the annual study, some of Maryland's rural counties had the greatest gains over 1983.

St. Mary's County leaped ahead by 45.6%, because of the 350th celebration last year. Somerset County jumped 25%. Two towns in that county, Crisfield and Princess Anne, are building more new tourism related businesses.

Anne Arundel County topped all 23 counties and Baltimore City in total travel expenditures with $1.15 billion. Besides growth in Annapolis, BWI Airport contributed a large piece of this figure. For example, Piedmont Airlines flies 80 flights a day from BWI, an increase from six flights in 1983.

According to the Travel Data Center, 75% of the cost of an outbound passenger ticket's cost stays in the county where the airport is located. Washington County, for example, benefited to the tune of $283 million partly because of the Hagerstown airport.

Baltimore City ranked second with $541.5 million, followed by Worcester County (Ocean City) bringing in $495 million; and Montgomery County with $340.12 million.

Garrett County recorded $28,307,000, 11th highest among the state's 23 counties and Baltimore City.

Alverson said, "The study reports that these expenditures directly generated more than 84 thousand jobs in the State, representing 4.7 percent of the State's nonagricultural employment."

"At the same time," Alverson continued, "the State's travel-generated employment rose 6.8 percent last year, compared to a 4.5 percent increase in the total State nonagricultural employment."

Travel expenditures in Maryland have posted a 59 percent increase starting with $2.47 billion in 1980 to $2.7 billion in 1981; $3.08 billion for 1982, $3.45 billion in 1983, and $3.8 billion in 1984. Travelers spent nearly $1.37 billion more last year than in 1980.

Highland Arts Unlimited Opens Membership Drive

Highland Arts Unlimited opens its membership campaign this week for the 1985-86 season, its 13th year of providing cultural enrichment for the area. In making the announcement, Mrs. Dorothy Stephen, president, noted that families "may enjoy an outstanding series of programs featuring well-known artists at only a fraction of the booking costs."

Opening the season Monday, September 16, at the Church-McKee Arts Center Auditorium on the campus of Potomac State College will be the United States Air Force Tactical Band, a 45-piece ensemble headquartered at Langley Air Force Base, Va. Their repertoire ranges from the light classics and Broadway hits to patriotic specials and music from the "big band" era.

This concert is free and open to the public. Membership in HAU does not automatically admit patrons. Ticket requests must be made by mail with a stamped, self-addressed envelope enclosed. Only two tickets will be distributed per request on a first-come, first-served basis. Requests should be sent to Highland Arts Unlimited, P.O. Box 63, Keyser, Mrs. Stephen said "HAU regrets this inconvenience," but only under these conditions could the band be booked.

Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass will present a mixture of country, bluegrass and popular tunes on Thursday, October 17. The group is composed of two trumpets, two trombones, a banjo and three rhythm members, guitar, bass, and drums.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's great comic opera, "The Marriage of Figaro," will come to Keyser on Monday, November 11. Sung in English and presented in modern dress, this Figaro is a fast-moving show, which the New York Times described as "superb music, admirable singing and a charming production."

Richard Morris, virtuoso organist, will appear in concert Thursday evening, November 21. Morris studied with the late Robert and Jean Casadesu and Nadia Boulanger in France and also at the Academic for Music in Vienna.

He is one of a small number of organists who have appeared as soloists in New York's Carnegie Hall as well as Town Hall and Lincoln Center. He brings his own Rodgers touring organ.

For the Christmas season, HAU has scheduled for Tuesday, December 3, the Famous People Players of Toronto, Canada. They employ a combination of black-light theater styles of Japan and Czechoslovakia with the wizardry of life-size puppets such as Liberace, Michael Jackson, Barbara Streisand and Kenny Rogers.

Scheduled for Thursday,

January 18, are Carlotta and Bill Wellington, performers of traditional music. The Wellingtons are artists-in-residence in Grant County. Patrons will hear sea chanteys, ancient ballads and fiddle tunes played on banjos, fiddles, guitars and both the hammered and lap dulcimers.

A travelogue of modern Ireland is scheduled for Tuesday, January 21. The guide will be the Reverend David R. Peters, pastor of Grace United Methodist Church, who spent several weeks there with his family this summer. This program will be held at the Keyser Presbyterian Church.

The Bob Thompson Jazz Trio will perform on Wednesday, February 19. A native of New York City, Thompson, a contemporary jazz pianist, now makes his home in Charleston, W.Va.

His third record album "7 In 7 Out" has been receiving national attention since its release last year. His trio was recently seen on the WV Public Broadcasting show "Mountain State Celebration."

The Ruth Mitchell Dance Company of Atlanta, Ga., will bring its critically acclaimed young dancers to Keyser on Monday, March 3. The Atlanta Magazine said, "The dancers perform with verve and spontaneity and an admirable degree of technical control." The program will provide an opportunity to see some modern ballet.

The Alpha-Omega Repertory Theatre of America makes a return engagement to Keyser on Tuesday, March 25, with Neil Simon's Broadway hit comedy, "Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

This is the 18th season for this Rockport, Tex. based national touring company, which appeared in Keyser three years ago.

Closing out this year's attractions will be a concert by the Wheeling Symphony on Sunday, April 27, at 3 p.m. This 60-piece ensemble is observing its 57th anniversary.

In addition to the 11 programs mentioned, HAU will sponsor an art exhibit at the National Bank of Keyser from August 30 through mid-October entitled "Beauty of the East." The exhibit is on loan from the Huntington, W.Va., Galleries, and features animal images by contemporary artists.

Season subscribers may choose from a variety of membership categories: (1) Contributor, $25.00; (2) Supporter, $40.00; (3) Patron, $50.00; (4) Sustaining Member, $100.00; and (5) Angel, $50.00 and up. All gifts are tax deductible.

The "Contributor" category admits one person to all programs. The remaining four categories admit one or two adults in a family and children in that family 18 years of age or under.

Highland Arts is a non-profit organization established for the purpose of bringing the "lively arts" to the area and its schools. HAU receives financial assistance from the Arts and Humanities Division of the West Virginia Department of Culture and History, from Potomac State College, and from community subscribers through the sale of memberships.

All programs begin at 8 p.m. with the exception of the Wheeling Symphony's. All will be held at the Church-McKee Arts Center with the exception of the travelogue.

Hard questions

Who made God? I asked the second grader. He would like to know, but this is hard to answer. As an adult we have the faith that God always was and always will be.

The second grader's life is in a framework of "who," "when," "why," and "how." He wants to know "Who made God?" and we cannot always provide the answers.

By our attitude and interest in his questions, he will accept the fact that it is OK to wonder and ask even if we cannot always supply answers.

Our place of worship helps us learn how to talk to our children and others about the hard questions of life.

GOD CAN'T LOSE

August 18, 1985

Background Scripture: Joel

Devotional Reading: Joel 2:14-17, 3:14-16

The title I selected above jars me a bit. I find myself questioning the theology of it. But the more I wrestle with it, the more I am convinced that, taking the long, long point of view, it is quite true: God cannot lose, although human beings may certainly delay God's plan by failing to live by his will and heed his warnings.

That, of course, is why so often he has sent messages like the words of Joel: "Turn to me now, while there is time... Come with fasting, weeping, mourning. Let your remorse tear at your hearts and not your garments" (2:12). Because he is not anxious to punish us, "Perhaps even yet he will decide to... give you a blessing instead of his terrible curse" (2:14).

There, then, is the facet of our Christian hope: if we return to him, we can escape the doom of the prophecies.

GREEN AGAIN

But there is another aspect of our hope, too. Even if we do not turn in time to avert the consequences of our sins, God will eventually turn our mourning into joy. Unfortunately, there are times when we learn the lesson only after we have paid the terrible price. Although the cost of our sins is great, it is better to pay that price than not to learn at all.

And, once we have learned that lesson or lessens, in God's own time he will fashion something even better out of the ashes of our defeat. As Joel put it to the people of Israel, "Then the Lord will pity his people and be indignant for the honor of his land" (2:18). Thus, even in the midst of the suffering we bring upon ourselves, we can take hope in the future because we know that it is in God's hands alone. So, no matter how terrible things are now, "Let the flocks and the herds forget their hunger; the pastures will turn green again" (2:22).

A NEW DAY!

On the ruins of our failures, God builds a new day and a new world, not just the restoration of the old. Often, when we have built poorly (sinfully), there must be some tearing down before God can do his own building-up. "After I have poured out my rains again, I will pour out my Spirit upon all of you!" says Joel. "And I will pour out my Spirit even on your slaves, men and women alike" (2:29). The new order will be a more inclusive human community.

God's will, not human sins, rule the universe—and that is why God can't lose.

Imitation Rock Produced At WVU
Aids Prediction Of Mine Subsidence

Mix gelatin, cornstarch, water and vegetable oil. Add sand, and what have you got? Imitation rock, also known as model material to researchers in West Virginia University's College of Mineral and Energy Resources.

The researchers illuminate the model material with laser light in experiments to learn more about predicting mine subsidence.

"An overwhelming conclusion that is common to all mining researchers is that a better method to predict mine subsidence in this country is needed," says the project leader, A.W. Khair, associate professor of mining engineering. "If the extent of subsidence can be predicted, then procedures can be used to minimize damage."

That damage has cost West Virginians an estimated $500 million. Nationally, the figure is estimated to be $12.5 billion.

Dr. Khair and his research assistants, brothers Richard and Gary Begley from Oak Hill, are focusing their study, funded by the WVU Energy Research Center, on room-and-pillar mines.

Khair theorizes that different combinations of cornstarch, sand, water, gelatin and vegetable oil can imitate a mine roof. From an engineering perspective, the mixtures display the characteristics of rock that cause it to remain solid or to fracture and break.

Once recipes are developed, Khair will layer the simulated rock into a Plexiglas model of a room-and-pillar mine. The model has a collapsible roof that he can control to cause various kinds of cave-ins.

By directing a helium-neon laser beam at the model, the researchers create an interferogram, a type of laser holographic image that records the changes in the model caused by the collapsed roof. The laser technique can easily detect and record the movement of a single grain of sand.

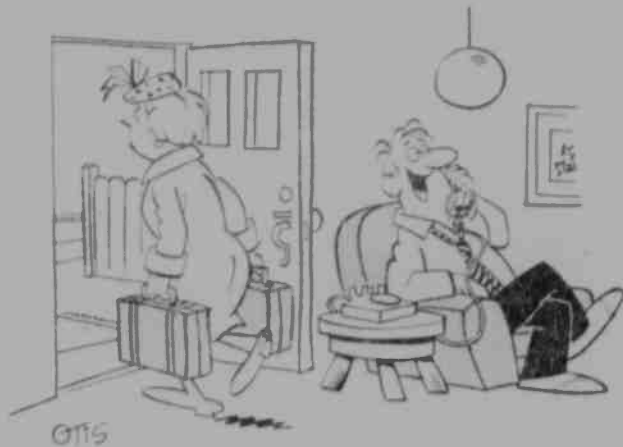

Guided by the interferogram, Khair can produce a surface displacement profile which shows the angles and depths of the subsidence.

Thus far he had demonstrated that the laser will be an effective measurement tool for this type of work. In future research, Khair wants to find out if the method will yield clues to predict when subsidence will occur. As yet, researchers have not found a way to predict how long a mine roof will be stable.

Richard Begley, instructor of technology at Fairmont State College, says that lasers can be applied to other mining problems as well. "Holographic interferometry has high potential in coal mine ground control in general," he says.

The researchers' work has been featured in the 18th Annual State-of-the-Market Report of Photonics Spectra, a journal that calls itself the spokesman for the optical, electro-optical, laser, fiber optic and imaging industries.

State appropriations allow the WVU Energy Research Center to support this and other energy research.

Tuition, Fees
At WVU For
'85-'86 Unchanged

Sometimes you're better off not keeping up with the Joneses. While six neighboring institutions have raised undergraduate and graduate tuition and fees for the 1985-86 academic year, West Virginia University deliberately hasn't.

"We believe that a WVU education should be kept affordable consistent with maintaining high-quality instruction and fulfilling the research mission of the University," said Frank A. Franz, provost and vice-president for academic affairs and research.

According to Carol Kayla of the WVU Office of Institutional Research, universities in neighboring states that have raised prices for this academic year include Kentucky, Maryland, Ohio, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Virginia Tech.

WVU resident undergraduate tuition and fees total $1,160 annually, lowest of any of the seven institutions.

"That makes us a bargain for West Virginia residents," Kayla said. "Kentucky's rates were closest to ours but they are still 5.5 percent higher at $1,238 annually."

The institution experiencing the highest percentage increase in undergraduate tuition and fee hikes was Virginia Tech, she said.

"Its undergraduate rates increased by 11 percent," she said. "Ohio University showed the lowest percentage increase with undergraduate tuition and fee raises of about 3 percent."

WVU's undergraduate tuition and fees for non-residents - totaling $3,140 - also remain below the charges at each of the other schools. But increases in recent years have moved the University's non-resident costs above in-state costs at Pitt and Penn State. For years WVU's low non-resident rates made it especially attractive to undergraduate students from Pennsylvania.

"WVU's non-resident undergraduate rates are now about 4 percent above the resident undergraduate rate at Pitt, which is $3,010 annually, and 14 percent above Penn State costs, which are $2,760 a year," Kayla said.

On the other hand, WVU graduate rates at $1,220 are the lowest of any of the schools. Kentucky ranks second with annual costs at $1,344 annually for its resident students.

For graduate non-resident costs, WVU places second behind Virginia Tech whose graduate non-resident costs total $2,574 compared to WVU's $3,340.

Legal Secretarial Courses Set By
New Horizons

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College in cooperation with the Continuing Education Department of GCC will offer a new concept in vocational training this fall with Legal Secretarial Training I and II. These classes, to be held on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for 14 weeks, begin September 10 at the Oakland Center at GCC.

Material to be covered in the course of instruction will include legal terminology involving spelling and definition of legal terms, legal typing to learn to type legal forms, deeds, wills, and other papers involved in legal proceedings, and legal office practices and procedures to learn to handle the everyday procedures in a legal office including calendar events, setting up appointments, setting up court dates and handling clients.

New Horizons has tuition assistance plus child care and/or transportation financial assistance for eligible persons interested in enrolling in this specialized training program. Class size is limited to 15 and enrollment will be on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information persons may call New Horizons at 334-9184 or to register for the training visit the New Horizons office at the Oakland Center of GCC in Room 607 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Edwards Receives
DAV Citation

Delegate George C. Edwards has been awarded a citation by the Disabled American Veterans, Department of Maryland, for having rendered outstanding achievement to the state and national organization.

The citation was awarded by Walter D. Hyle Jr., adjutant, and Thomas H. Bland, commander of the state organization, for this achievement, enabling the Disabled American Veterans to become a united organization to work for the benefit of the disabled in the community, the state and the nation.

State Recipients Of Food Stamps
Given Assurance

Attorney General Stephen H. Sachs announced recently that U.S. District Court Judge Herbert Murray has issued a preliminary injunction assuring 180,000 food stamp recipients in Maryland continued payment of $425,000 in monthly benefits pending the outcome of a suit seeking to block a federal decision to cut food stamp allotments here.

In an unusual move, the Judge's ruling also prevents the federal government from imposing any subsequent fiscal sanctions on Maryland regardless of the outcome of the state's suit, which Sachs filed on June 25 on behalf of the State Department of Human Resources (DHR) and Secretary Ruth Massingha.

"... (T)he staggering fiscal sanctions and administrative penalties to which . . . (the state) would be subject absent a preliminary injunction cannot be ignored," Murray wrote in the 19-page ruling. "Given the financial status of these (food stamp) recipients, the Court believes that any reduction in their food stamp benefits (pending the outcome of the suit) could irreparably injure their daily subsistence. Moreover, the Court believes that, absent a preliminary injunction, the threatened (federal) sanctions would impinge on the state's ability to 'budget for and manage the Food Stamp program,'" Murray said in the ruling.

Sachs's suit, in which the state was joined by the Legal Aid Bureau, challenges a decision by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to include a new state grant of $17 million in energy assistance payments to welfare recipients in the definition of their "income" for the purposes of determining the level of food stamp aid they will receive.

When the state legislature enacted two similar energy assistance grant increases for fiscal years 1983 and 1985, the federal government agreed that the money was for energy payments and therefore not "income." On June 12, the federal government reversed its position and said it would count this year's energy assistance grant as income and therefore would reduce food stamp allotments to Maryland recipients.

Sachs's suit notes that USDA's regulations exempt energy assistance payments from the definition of income and asks the Court to find that USDA's latest decision violates those rules.

Trial of the suit is scheduled to begin in October, according to Assistant Attorney General Nancy Shuger, who argued successfully for the preliminary injunction.

DECD Seeking Developers For Mortgage Program

The Department of Economic and Community Development is seeking builders and developers interested in participating in the Homeownership Development Program (HDP). HDP provides advance commitments for permanent mortgage financing at below-market rates for newly constructed or substantially rehabilitated for sale housing.

The program is offered by the Community Development Administration (CDA), the state's housing finance agency. CDA typically provides advance commitments for no more than one-third of the development or subdivision.

The maximum sales prices for units permitted under the program is $70,000, except for targeted areas, which have a limit of $77,000. The targeted areas include Baltimore City, the City of Hagerstown and Allegany, Caroline, Dorchester, Garrett, Kent and Somerset counties. However, priority will be given to units priced under $60,000 and to developments with the lowest priced units within each jurisdiction. CDA also will consider the geographical distribution of developments, the quality of the homes, neighborhood services and amenities, and the developer's ability to promptly use program funds. Projects submitted should be able to be built, sold, settled and mortgage loans purchased by CDA within one year from the availability of funds.

Although the mortgage interest rate for the program will not be known until bonds are sold in September, the rate is expected to be substantially below the current market rate; perhaps 10 percent or lower. Builders may elect to buy-down the mortgage interest rate to two percent below the mortgage interest rate established at the time the bonds are sold. The program is expected to open and funds will be available in late October.

Housing offered under the HDP will be available to households of two or more persons earning $33,000 or less per year and to single person households earning $28,000 or less. Developers will be required to reserve 35 percent of the units receiving CDA financing for households with limited incomes for 45 days.

Developers or builders interested in participating in the program should call the Community Development Administration at (301) 269-3524 to obtain preapplication forms. The completed forms must be submitted by August 15, 1985.

DECD Releases
Revised Building Codes Profile

The Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development has released a revised edition of the booklet "Profile of Building Codes and Regulations in Maryland."

The booklet lists building, electrical, mechanical, plumbing and energy codes in effect in each local jurisdiction in the state, as of June, 1985, and provides information about the appropriate local officials to be contacted for further details. Also included are mandatory statewide codes and regulations, their effective dates, and addresses where they may be obtained.

Although the booklet does not explain the specific requirements of each code, architects, engineers, builders and building officials will find it useful as a reference and resource document. DECD officials said.

Available at no charge, "Profile of Building Codes and Regulations in Maryland" can be obtained from: Building Codes Administration, Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development, 45 Calvert Street, Annapolis, Maryland 21401, or call (301) 269-2701.

Quarry Mishap Claims Life Of Deer Park Man

A Deer Park man died yesterday morning when the bulldozer he was operating at Browning's Limestone Quarry fell into water.

Charles William Speicher, 62, was found at 8:30 a.m., and pronounced dead at Garrett County Memorial Hospital at 9:47 a.m., according to a spokesman from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

The accident occurred at the limestone quarry, located eight miles north of Oakland, just off U.S. Route 219. Reportedly, Speicher and the bulldozer were found under the water. The victim was employed by the quarry as a heavy equipment operator. Attempts were made at the scene to revive him. The Sheriff's Department said they believed the accident occurred at about 3:00 a.m.

Police said the mishap may have been accidental but the final determination will not be made until federal inspections have taken place at the quarry, which is presently sealed off.

Garrett County Emergency Management dispatched Deep Creek firemen, the Southern Rescue Squad, and the State Police Medevac helicopter to the accident scene.

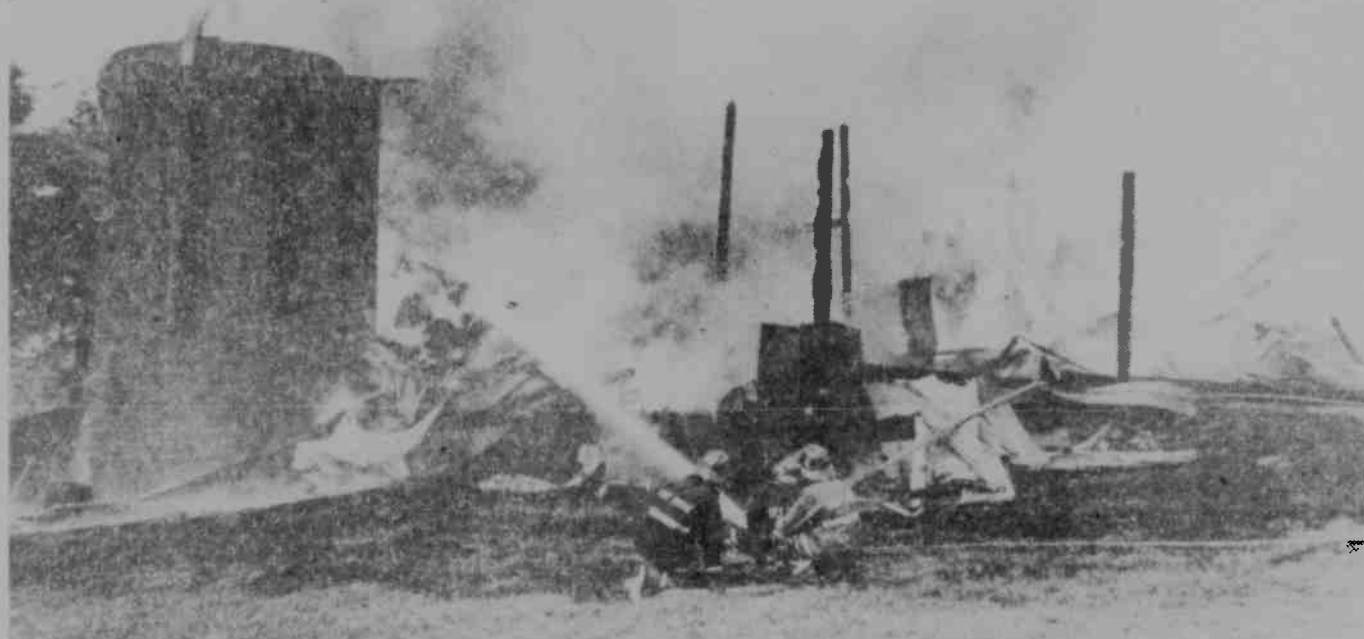

Born November 12, 1922, in Deer Park, Mr. Speicher was a son of the late Harry F. Speicher and Ada C. (Miller) Speicher.

He served with the U.S. Army for four years during World War II and later served in the U.S. Air Force for nine years.

He is survived by his wife, Virginia A. (Friend) Speicher; one foster daughter, Mrs. Barbara McDonald, Oakland; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Debra Hinebaugh, Maitland, Fla.; Miss Esther Thayer, Oakland; two stepsons, David Thayer and Michael Thayer, both Oakland; two sisters, Kathryn Speicher and Mrs. Edith Jack, both Oakland; one brother, Harvey Speicher, Oakland; two foster grandchildren and five step-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the Stewart Funeral Home today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Services will be conducted at the funeral home Friday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Ellis Harvey and the Rev. Francis Williams. Interment will be in Paradise Cemetery, Deer Park.

POURING ON WATER, but to little avail, are members of the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department after they were called to the scene of a barn fire yesterday on the Russell Teets property, Rock Lodge Road. Although the barn, 7,000 bales of hay and straw, plus some equipment were destroyed, the firefighters were successful in their efforts to save the nearby farmhouse and other surrounding structures. The livestock that was in the barn was also saved. Children playing with matches were apparently responsible for the blaze. See story.

Search Continues For Missing Trio At Eagle Rock

A search for three missing persons in the Eagle Rock area began yesterday afternoon after the trio, who apparently set out to go berry picking, failed to return. The three are still reported missing today, however, and a full search resumed this morning.

A spokesman from Garrett County Emergency Management said they received a call at about 1:30 p.m. yesterday and dispatched the Maryland State Police to begin searching for Richard Allen Smith, 24, his wife, Donna Sue Smith, 29, both of Swanton, and a niece, Connie Sue Smith, 13.

According to Tfc. Cindy Smith, the couple and young girl had gone berry picking with Teresa Smith, Connie's sister, and Becky Smith, three, Richard and Donna's daughter, when Donna and Connie became separated from the group. Tfc. Smith said Richard reentered the woods at about 2:00 p.m. to look for them, leaving the other two at the car near the quarry on the Eagle Rock Road.

Tfc. Smith reported the three became lost in the Eagle Rock area of the Potomac State Forest and some private property. The group had been out since 10 a.m. yesterday. The area is known for its rocky and mountainous terrain, according to Emergency Management.

A search involving some 50 persons including volunteers from the Southern Rescue Squad, Deer Park and Oakland fire departments, Forests, Parks, and Wildlife Department, and Department of Natural Resources began at approximately 6:15 p.m. last

American Indian Pow Wow To Honor War Veterans Labor Day Weekend

The American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization (AIITCO) will hold its annual Pow Wow at the Garrett County Fairgrounds over the Labor Day weekend, Saturday, August 31 through Sunday, September 1. The theme of the Pow Wow will be the honoring of the Native American War Veterans.

Pow Wow traces back to a word used by the Narragansett Indians of the Eastern Seaboard Algonquian people. Early settlers took the term to mean a gathering and the interpretation became standard. In recent years, the term pow wow has come to mean a time when Indian people gather to dance and sing. Rather than a ceremony, it is a social function where different tribes of different backgrounds and customs come together in friendship to share good feelings.

According to AIITCO vice president, Joe Strickel, the Pow Wow will be open to the public, giving spectators the opportunity to view the singing, competitive dancing, food, arts and crafts of the Native American people. Spectators are invited to bring their cameras and lawn chairs and plan to spend some time unmerged in Indian culture.

Traditional food, such as corn soup, fried bread, and Indian tocos, will be sold, and crafts people will display and sell their art works and crafts. The variety of arts and crafts expected includes bead work, silver jewelry, buckskin goods, soapstone carvings, wood and stone carvings, bone carvings, and Navaho rugs.

In the interest of the American Indian's role in the military, this year's theme will honor veterans. Native Americans have always honored their warriors with song and dance. AIITCO wishes to rekindle this tradition. American Indians gained citizenship in the United States during World War I, due to their distinguished service. They also served in World War II, Korea and Vietnam.

In the early 1980's, Bob Kelly, a member of the Crow Tribe of Montana, conceived an idea for a plaque honoring those who fought in Vietnam and Vietnam

Dr. Mitchell Appointed Acting Dean At GCC

Dr. Lillian Mitchell has been appointed acting Dean of Academic Affairs for Garrett Community College by O. Randall Harman, college president. Dr. Mitchell's appointment was approved Thursday by the College Board of Trustees. She will serve as acting dean until June 30, 1986.

Dr. Mitchell has been a member of the GCC community since 1972, when she served as coordinator of human services and associate professor of psychology and education. In 1975 she became chairperson of the Department of Social Sciences, and in 1984 she was appointed director of academic programs for the college. She was promoted to full professor in July of this year.

"I feel very gratified to have the confidence of the Board of Trustees and the support of the faculty in accepting the position of acting dean," Dr. Mitchell said. "I will make every effort to work for the good of the college community this year. GCC has an excellent and dedicated faculty. With their assistance and cooperation, I feel that I can help the college move forward in a very positive direction."

"These are challenging times at the college," she continued, "but concern for the students and academic standards have never been sacrificed by the faculty. We intend to maintain these priorities as we move ahead in the forthcoming year."

Dr. George Dailey, chairperson of the college's Academic Forum, commented on Dr. Mitchell's appointment. "The selection of Dr. Mitchell as acting dean has done wonders for morale at GCC. She commands the support of all Forum members, and because of this I am sure that the transition to a new administration will be a smooth one. Dr. Mitchell has earned the best of reputations as an educator and administrator during her many years at GCC, and under her expert guidance, the college will continue to offer all of its students quality educational experiences."

New Obstacle Being Battled By Peat Company

Another obstacle was flung in the path of Garrett County Processing and Packaging Corporation last Friday, when the Sierra Club asked for a restraining order which effectively closed down operations at the peat harvesting company.

The Sierra Club's reason for obtaining this restraining order was "to preserve the bog."

Company stockholders, Dale Glatfelter, Dr. Melvin Brown, and Ken Buckel, traveled to Baltimore yesterday for an evening hearing with Federal Court Judge Howard in an effort to have the restraining order overturned.

Judge Howard requested that company officials and Sierra Club representatives come to a compromise which would be effective until a federal hearing which is scheduled for September 13.

As a result of last night's discussion, Judge Howard lifted the restraining order, allowing the peat harvest to continue with these restrictions, no work will be done on the property owned by GCP&P that was purchased in 1983, work may continue on the adjoining property being leased by the company with only a specified number of inches of peat allowed to be harvested between now and September 13.

At the September 13 hearing, Judge Howard will make his decision as to whether or not the company may resume operation on their own property.

GCC Trustees Address Questions Raised At Public Info Meeting

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees in a letter dated, August 12, addressed questions and concerns raised at a public information hearing held at GCC on July 30, which was conducted by State Senator John N. Bambacus and Delegate George Edwards.

Lasted below are the highlights of that letter. Persons interested in obtaining a complete copy of the letter may contact Bambacus or Edwards.

Under the heading of Board Policies and Procedures, questions were raised about the administration's refusal to meet with the Academic Forum and student representatives being denied access to board meetings. The board explained that the forum was directed by the president to go through the communication channels prior to coming back to him and that they did not come back to him, but sought outside channels. The board said that anyone wishing to be on the agenda of a board meeting must first submit a written request to be placed on the agenda. "There had been a request by students to be placed on the agenda, but subsequently, we were told the students requested removal from the agenda and that a written statement would be handed out at the board meeting," the letter stated. The letter also said that students did not enter the meeting in question, and that at subsequent meetings, procedures had been followed and students did address the board. They also added that the board agenda and minutes are routinely distributed to the student representative, faculty representative, staff representative, the Garrett County Commissioners' office, press representatives, as well as the board and administration.

In Promotional Efforts, a question of what was being done to attract and retain students and faculty was submitted by the state officials. The board stated that they were not able to find that particular question raised at the public meeting, but they did respond to it stating that every year the director of admissions and other personnel go to local high schools and high schools in the surrounding

Fischetti Steps Down As GCC Board Chairman

Citing "personal business obligation" as his reason, Garrett Community College Board of Trustees chairman, Pat Fischetti, resigned that post Tuesday at a special meeting of that board.

The board of trustees also met last Thursday with State Senator John Bambacus and Delegate George Edwards to present their responses to the questions which were submitted to them following the public information meeting of July 30.

Some of the questions were discussed and the elected officials agreed to make public the responses. (See separate story.)

Following their meeting with Bambacus and Edwards, the board accepted the resignation of Fischetti, who indicated that he would not have adequate time to devote to the chairmanship of the board. Fischetti will remain on the board and serve as chairman of the board's subcommittee on board policy.

After the acceptance of Fischetti's resignation, Katharine T. Smith was unanimously elected as the board's new chairman. Smith is a native of Wheeling, W. Va. and a graduate of Marietta College. She has served on the board since 1980 and as vice chairman since January of this year. William B. Grant was elected vice chairman of the board.

The board then reviewed a recommendation from former academic dean, Fred K. Learey, concerning the reappointment of some former members of the college's staff. The recommendation was made hours before Learey's resignation and was submitted without explanation. In view of the change at the college's helm, the board decided that the recommendation would be

AN AMERICAN INDIAN POW WOW, honoring veterans, will be held at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry Saturday, August 31 and Sunday, September 1. American Indians from the eastern states and as far west as Oklahoma will attend the Pow Wow to join in the singing and competitive dancing, and to honor native American war veterans of all eras. Representatives of the American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization are pictured above as they appeared during the Friendsville Summer Festival V. From left to right, they are: Richard "Red Bear" Baker, an Isleta Pueblo Indian, in traditional dress, president of the AIITCO; Walter A. Reyes, a Guatemalan South American Indian, dressed as a traditional Southwestern Plains Indian; Barbara Early, dressed as a White Mountain Apache; and Joe Strickel, an Osage Indian in traditional dress, vice president of the AIITCO. The public is invited to watch and participate in the Indian singing, dancing, food, arts and crafts. A gate admission of $2 will be charged for adults and children under 12 may enter free. Barn Destroyed By Fire Caused By Youngsters

A large barn located along Rock Lodge Road near Mosser Road, which housed over 7,000 bales of hay and straw, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon after two children apparently started the blaze while playing with matches.

The two-story, 52-by-80 foot frame structure, built around 1920, was owned by Russell Teets. Also lost in the fire were a hay elevator, forage, hay wagon, and milking equipment. Thirty head of cattle and four milk cows were successfully removed from the burning structure and were uninjured. Guy Carola, fire investigator for Garrett County, estimated the loss to be in excess of $100,000.

Carola stated that two children were in the barn playing with matches and "were lucky to get out" because the fire spread so rapidly. Mrs. Teets and her daughter, Vicki, attempted to extinguish the blaze with a fire extinguisher and by smothering the flames with other material, but their efforts were in vain.

Several neighbors reportedly assisted in removing the animals from the barn and then restraining them from going back into the burning structure.

Responding to the scene at about 1:18 p.m. were the Deep Creek and Bittering fire departments and soon afterward, the Accident VFD. Upon their arrival, firefighters found the entire structure involved in flame. They concentrated their efforts on protecting nearby

Owned by Johnna Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, the 1,272 pound British Cross steer brought the high bid of $2.70 a pound. The Garrett National Bank donated half of the steer to the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department and half to the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department. Several Area Mishaps Noted

Maryland State Police investigated several vehicle accidents which occurred in the area during the past week.

At approximately 8:00 p.m. Monday, a single-vehicle accident occurred on the Anush Road.

According to police reports, Elizabeth Marie Durst, 36, Grantsville, was traveling down a hill on the Anush Road in a 1969 Ford F-100. The brakes failed when she attempted to apply them, and she steered across the road into a ditch.

The vehicle then struck a drain and jumped from the ditch, hitting a tree and overturning in the roadway.

Ms. Durst and her two passengers, Teresa M. Durst, 11, and Kim M. Durst, 13, were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney investigated the incident.

An accident occurred on the Salisbury Road at approximately 9:15 p.m. last Wednesday.

Patricia Ann Hyson, 57, Grantsville, was operating a 1973 Ford Torino when a dog darted out in front of the vehicle. Mistaking the dog for a child, Ms. Hyson swerved to avoid it, causing the vehicle to skid across the road. It then struck a parked vehicle, crossed back to the right side of the road, and struck an embankment.

Ms. Hyson and a passenger in the vehicle, Dorothy Catherine Bittinger, 33, Grantsville, were transported to and released from Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Tfc. R.C. Georg was the investigating officer.

A two-vehicle accident occurred on Rt. 219 at approximately 10:00 a.m. last Wednesday.

According to police reports, a 1983 Ford T-Bird operated by Juanita Dickerson Fletcher, 66, Washington, D.C. was stationary in the southbound lane, waiting to make a left turn. A 1987 Plymouth Fury driven by John Herman Opel, 78, Accident, struck the Fletcher vehicle in the rear.

Tfc. L. Rosage investigated the accident, charging Opel with failing to control his speed.

Two local drivers were charged for driving while under the influence of alcohol following two accidents which occurred in the area last weekend.

According to reports, Daniel Lee Tichnell, 25, Kitzmiller, was traveling north on Rt. 495 in a 1974 Mercury Comet when it crossed the center line at approximately 7:20 Friday evening. The vehicle then struck a 1984 Chevrolet C-20 driven by Rodney Alan Sweitzer, 18, Swanton.

Sweitzer's vehicle then left the right side of the roadway, striking a mailbox and a guardrail. The Tichnell vehicle ran off the road and into a ditch.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney investigated the incident, charging Tichnell with DWI, consuming an alcoholic beverage while driving, and failure to keep right of the center line.

Elaine Carol Hetz, 23, Grantsville, operator of a 1976 Chevrolet Chevette, was traveling east on the Glendale Road at 3:00 a.m. Saturday when her vehicle began to skid.

It crossed the center line, ran onto the shoulder on the left side, and struck an embankment.

Tfc. R.M. Hershberger investigated the accident, charging Hetz with negligent driving, failure to keep right of center, and DWI.

Twelfth Rabies Case Of The Year, Cat Clinic Set

Three cases of rabies were reported in the county this week, bringing the total to 12 animals confirmed positive since January 1.

On Sunday, August 11, a raccoon came into the yard of Jacob Yoder on the Posey Road, west of Grantsville. The raccoon began circling and Yoder used several tires to confine it and called the park ranger at New Germany State Park to pick it up. Before Ranger Baker from the park could get to the Yoder home, the raccoon got out of confinement and fought with the family dog. The dog did not have a rabies shot and had to be destroyed.

Another raccoon entered the property of Jeffery Harvey on Bowling Springs Road, one mile from Deer Park, fought with the family dog and a dog belonging to Jonathan Harvey. Both dogs had to be destroyed. Jeffery Harvey handled one of the dogs after it had been in contact with the raccoon and is now undergoing shots.

The third raccoon this week, came onto property owned by Bruce Taliaferro, half a mile north of McHenry, in the middle of the day. The raccoon began circling and was shot by Taliaferro.

Statewide, this makes 645 positive cases of rabies in Maryland this year, 585 of those being raccoons.

Because of the success of the cats-only clinic in Oakland recently, a cats-only clinic is scheduled for Grantsville on Monday, August 26, from 5 to 6 p.m. The clinic will be held in the Grantsville Fire Hall. Cats should be on a leash or confined in a box, burlap bag, or old pillow case.

No dogs will be allowed, and cat owners may bring their cats to the clinic without fear that dogs will scare the cats.

Checking Policy Introduced For Absent Students

A group of concerned parents of Northern Middle School students has formed to develop a policy of checking with parents whenever a student is absent from school. The group feels that such a policy is especially necessary in the coming school year due to the split-shift plan which will be in effect for both middle and high school age students in the northern end of the county.

A pilot program for the two schools will go into effect on the first day of school, and a similar program will be implemented in the five elementary schools in the northern end of the county shortly after school begins. Parents will not be required to use this system, but may participate as soon as school begins, or choose to join at any time during the year.

Ellenor Hamilton, a member of the group, said, "If a student has met with an accident or been a victim of crime, this notification process will greatly reduce the number of hours that pass before parents are aware that their child is missing. It has been noted that, as a side effect, truancy rates are often reduced in areas where a similar policy has been used."

She went on to say that this particular program differs from those used by many other schools because parents, rather than members of the administration, will be doing most of the calling.

A letter explaining this policy, which has been approved by the Board of Education, will be sent to all parents of Northern Middle and Northern High School students in the next week. Included with the letter will be a participation/consent form which should be mailed to the student's school.

On any day that a student will be absent, parents are asked to notify the Main Volunteer for their school and local calling area. Someone from the school will also call the Main Volunteer with the names of participating students who are absent.

If the Main Volunteer has not heard from the parent of a child who is absent, he or she will notify the Group Callers, one of whom will call the child's parent. The purpose of the call is only to inform the parent of the child's absence, and no questions will be asked about the reason for the absence.

Special Musical Program Stated At St. Paul's

A music program of gospel and songs of faith will be presented at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland on Sunday, August 25, at 4 p.m. featuring Dr. David W. Sheets, organist, and Anne Bell, soloist.

Some of the songs to be included are: "Take My Hand Precious Lord," "Search Me O God," "Just A Closer Walk With Thee," "I Ask The Lord", and "He Touched Me". Dr. Sheets will do a medley of organ music.

A free will offering will be taken to benefit the United Methodist Children's Home at Burlington.

The public is invited to attend.

Judge Sentences Michael Reams For Manslaughter

An Oakland man was committed to the Department of Corrections by Garrett County Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer during a recent trial in circuit court.

Michael R. Reams, 25, was found guilty of charges of manslaughter and a handgun violation following the shooting death of Timothy Armstrong on January 12. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the judge on July 9.

On August 15, Reams was sentenced to three years and fined $100 as well as the costs for the manslaughter. In addition, he was sentenced to 2 years and fined $1500 for the costs on the handgun violation. The two sentences will run concurrently.

Reams' attorney was Daun R. Weiers, Oakland.

In other court cases, the judge found Paul L. Sweeney, 53, McHenry, to be guilty of charges of possession of cocaine.

Sweeney was apprehended and arrested in the Deep Creek Lake area on April 3, and a search resulted in his arrest for possession of cocaine.

The judge sentenced Sweeney to 2 years, but suspended one year of the sentence. He will be placed on supervised probation for the balance of the term.

Sweeney was represented by Daun R. Weiers.

The judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation for three Grantsville men following an incident which occurred March 7 at Billy Bob's Bar in Grantsville.

Timothy D. Wilt, 20, and William H. Wilt, 19, faced charges of battery, resisting arrest, and destruction of property. Their bail of $500 was stricken. Charles Loman Wilt, 48, faced charges of battery and resisting arrest. His $500 bail was revoked.

Charges of disorderly conduct, destruction of property, trespassing and intoxication against William Wilt following an April 11 incident were not prosecuted.

Armand M. Pannone, Jr., Cumberland, represented the three men.

A bail review hearing was held for Clayton Lewis Donham, 28, Loch Lynn on April 15. The judge reduced his bail from $20,000 to $2,000, and an affidavit of surety was filed.

Donham is serving time for counts of child abuse and sexual abuse of a minor in an incident which occurred during the fall or winter of 1981.

JOINING THE FACULTY of Garrett Community College this fall as instructor of natural resources will be James M. Mullan, pictured left with "Bob", a stuffed mascot of the wildlife program, and Mike Logsdon, director of the Science Division at GCC. Mullan, a native of Cumberland, is a graduate of West Virginia University, and holds a master's degree from Frostburg State College. Mullan will instruct in the forestry, wildlife, biology, and math areas at the college.

James Mullan Joins Faculty Of Garrett CC

James M. Mullan, Cumberland, has been appointed to the position of instructor of natural resources at Garrett Community College, according to Mike Logsdon, director of the science division at the college. Mullan, who was a student at GCC in his freshman year, was graduated from West Virginia University with a bachelor of arts degree in biology in 1981. He completed his master's degree at Frostburg State College this spring. His studies at Frostburg were under the auspices of the University of Maryland Center for Environmental and Estuarine Studies' Appalachian Environmental Laboratory, which is located on the Frostburg campus. While in Frostburg, he served as a lab instructor in mammalogy for one semester.

"I'm extremely pleased to have the chance to teach at Garrett, especially since I was once a student here," Mullan said. "I'm looking forward to meeting the students this fall, and hope to help the Forestry and Wildlife program at Garrett to grow in the next several years."

Mullan will teach courses in Dendrology, General Ecology, Introduction to Forestry, Biology of Game Animals and Math for Technicians this fall at Garrett.

"We were very impressed with the range of abilities and areas of competence that Jim possesses," Logsdon said. "His knowledge of the community college system, his emphasis on the hands-on approach to teaching and learning, and his experience at the Appalachian Environmental Lab are all factors that will make him a real asset to the Forestry and Wildlife Program at Garrett."

Oakland City Police Report Two Incidents

The Oakland City Police Department reported two incidents which occurred in the area recently.

At approximately 1:10 this morning, Donna Lee Schramm, 19, Oakland, was arrested for intoxication.

Cpl. Ron Beeghly found Schramm staggering in the roadway on Liberty Street and made the arrest. She was then transported to the Garrett County Jail, where she is presently awaiting a bond hearing.

Cpl. Beeghly was assisted by Deputy William Thomas of the Sheriff's Department.

Chief John Sines investigated a breaking and entering which occurred in the Knights of Pythias Building on Third Street sometime between 2:30 p.m. yesterday and 8:10 this morning.

According to reports, someone entered the residential office of Appalachian Crossroads by kicking the door down. The hinges were also removed from the door of a neighboring office.

Apparently nothing was stolen during the incident.

Community Service Clothing Drive Begins

"If you're cleaning out your closets for new winter clothes, why not donate your old clothes to the less fortunate?" stated a spokesman for Community Services, an organization sponsored by the Seventh Day Adventist Church, located on U.S. Route 219 north.

The semi-yearly clothing drive is now beginning and those wishing to donate good, used clothing may drop them off at Linens and Blends, located at the 219 North Mini-Mall, or Frontier Custom

OVER 70 CASES OF FOOD were donated and nearly $700 was raised at the semi-annual WXIE/Garrett County House of Hope Food Drive on August 3 in downtown Oakland. Paul McCloud, WXIE radio personality, is shown above helping unload the food. Other helpers during the day included Pat Gregg, WXIE radio personality; Chuck Nolan, Garrett County sheriff's deputy; and Gary Bray and John Smith. An interesting twist to the Fundraiser came in the form of a phone call from Ted Kopple from ABC's Nightline, who challenged county residents when he pledged $2 for every $10 raised from 1 to 2 p.m. Over $400 was raised during that hour. The House of Hope, directed by Sisters Joanna Sinko and Mary Ann Mazza, supplies needy families with food when all other avenues of assistance have been exhausted.

The drive officially begins Monday and clothes will be accepted at the Seventh Day Adventist Church

State Police Report Local Auto Theft

A truck belonging to Dale M. Carpenter, McHenry, was stolen from a private driveway along Deep Creek Drive, McHenry, sometime between 8:30 p.m. Friday and 7:00 a.m. Saturday.

The complaint was filed to the Maryland State Police by Delos M. Carpenter, also of McHenry. According to reports, he left the truck parked in a dirt driveway on the east side of his residence, located across from Water's Edge Court. When he arose Saturday morning, the truck was gone.

Carpenter reported that the keys to the vehicle had been either lost or stolen while he was at the Diesel Institute of America, Grantsville.

The truck, valued at $6,500, was described as a 1984 four-wheel drive Ford F-150, white with an orange side stripe.

Tfc. R.C. Resh is continuing investigation of the incident.

Harold C. Davies, Charleroi, Pa., reported a breaking and entering which occurred at his summer residence on the White Oak Road.

According to police reports, the incident occurred sometime between 9:00 a.m. August 14 and 9:00 a.m. August 15. An unknown culprit attempted to pry the back door of the cottage open, and also forced a window and screen open.

Several closets inside the cottage were searched, but apparently no property was stolen, and there was no damage to the inside of the house.

Damages to the door and window screen totaled $110.

New Industry Needed . . .

The economic status of Garrett County right now seems to be, in general, reasonably strong. Local businesses report having a good year so far, the county appears to be packed with visitors (the traffic is terrible!), and although our unemployment rate remains above the state and national average, it is significantly lower than it has been.

However, there seems to be an ominous shadow lurking just around the corner which could shatter our economy and we believe major steps must be taken now to soften or eliminate the effects of what is to come. We refer to the future of the coal industry, this county's largest employer, which has been suffering for months and for which the future appears even more dismal.

If, for example, Mapco decides to shut down the Mettiki mine, an event which could happen within the next five years and which will most likely be done with little or no warning, we are suddenly going to have approximately 500 persons out of work and that many families in big trouble. If these people have nowhere else to go for employment, the results will be absolutely devastating. Few local businesses would be spared from its negative effects. The other mining companies in the area are also struggling to remain above water.

In our opinion, a much stronger effort must be made now, led by the county commissioners, to bring in new, large, clean industry, so that in the event of a mining crash, there will be other employment available. We believe that Tom Jones, director of the Garrett County Development Corporation, is doing all he can to do to bring in new industry. However, his budget is extremely limited and he has almost no staff to assist him.

One possible solution, or at least part of a solution, would be to create a new tax, a move which is certainly not a popular political move, but one which could do wonders to bolster our future economy. Because our county's largest "industry" is tourism and recreation, this could be some form of an entertainment tax, charged on everything from renting a cottage or boat on Deep Creek Lake, to skiing at the Wisp, to playing golf at the Oakland Country Club, to dining at one of our fine restaurants. It could be limited to one or two percent, and the proceeds could be used for more aggressive programs to attract industry.

We know this is not a popular idea and it would be additional headaches for the proprietors of these entertainment-related businesses who would have to collect the tax, but we see it as a viable alternative, especially if it can bring about a stronger economy in the form of new local industry. Those of us who reside here, along with the many people from out of the county, who enjoy what this county has to offer should be willing to pay a few dollars extra each year to ensure that these present attractions, and a host of new ones, will be around in the future.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Laurels to Dr. Tom Johnson and Dr. John Porcaro!

While visiting our son at Deep Creek Lake from Fernandina Beach, Fla., my husband became ill and needed immediate attention.

The expert care which he received from these two fine doctors and the staff at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, changed a very sick man into a well person, able to enjoy life once again. And, to top it all, they are all most friendly and caring people!

Thank you, doctors and staff!

Mrs. Rose Yuzuk

To the Editor:

In the early summer of 1983, in an article reporting on the "three" theatres then existing in Garrett County, this paper remarked that this affluence of the performing arts was welcome, but that it would probably end with the "survival of the fittest"—or words to that effect—I am not attempting an exact quote. The article proved to be prophetic. The "equity" group headed by Dr. Press from Frostburg performing in the Blue Barn lasted one unsuccessful season. The Garrett County Playhouse—having served the county illustriously and well for 30 years—closed last year, leaving treasured and lasting memories. One did, as predicted, survive—not necessarily the "fittest"—but most certainly the one by its very makeup most closely associated with this county and this community.

Act IV Productions, Inc., a non-profit organization, is made up of people ranging in age from 17 to 70 who live and work in this county and who commit their time and talent for a less than adequate remuneration of expenses in an effort to provide live theatre for the residents of and visitors to this county. We have performed in the Wisp area for the past four years—having had three very successful seasons.

Early in 1984 when Dr. Press, through this column, was asking the people of this area to not only welcome, but urge him to return, I was prompted to reply, perhaps jokingly, telling him to Peter Pan as he exhorted the audience to "clap for Tinker Bell!" lest she die forever. Now having fallen into my own trap, I am stepping into that role and asking the local "patrons of the arts" to support their own in keeping live theatre well and prospering.

Act IV has survived mostly on its own with help from the Garrett County Arts Council, through the grant program of the Maryland State Arts Council. We have managed to purchase and now own our lighting equipment; we have acquired properties and costumes through the years, and have built and paid for our flats and platforms. We manage to pay expenses and to reimburse our actors and technical staff to some extent for merely the cost to them of their participation. What we need most is the same enthusiasm and support given by this community to the Playhouse. We are good; our performers are experienced and professional in their approach to their performance. Our shows for the most part have been well received by the various and diverse audiences who attend—mostly strangers—we do not see too many "fanular faces." We have on occasion not measured up to the quality we like to maintain, a problem not germane only to Act IV.

We comprise an excellent nucleus for attracting drama students from nearby small colleges to use our stage for the enhancement of their studies. Our local natural resources of talent in this art form are rich indeed. We can make theatre in Garrett County a well-known and respected attraction, but we need all the local support we can get. So, with "tongue in cheek" and "foot in mouth" (a difficult undertaking) I ask you to "clap for Tinker Bell."

Frances D. Acton

To the Editor:

This letter refers to the comparison chart on the editorial page of The Republican Thursday, August 15, 1985 issue.

First, a 2% non-existent increase was added to the America column, which leads one to wonder how much was subtracted from the others. Truthfulness? It would appear the word is not in the anti-gunners vocabulary.

I cannot determine from the heap of lines on the lower left hand corner of the chart whether there is a signature or just a pile of scribble marks. The person apparently cannot write, so it naturally follows that this same person cannot read either. If I ever sink low enough to create such a distorted piece of garbage, I would also be ashamed to make my signature legible.

OK TOWER... WE'RE REVIEWING OUR CHECK LIST... BRAKES, LANDING GEAR... RABBIT FOOT... HORSE SHOE... LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT... ST. CHRISTOPHER MEDAL...

At any rate, the chart tells us all we need to know about the narrow, biased mentality and the utter disregard for the truth of those who create this sort of material, and those who are willing to waste space publishing it.

Sincerely yours,

George L. Porter

Goldsborough Resigns Post On GCC Board

Garrett Community College Board of Trustees member, William Goldsborough announced Tuesday that he would resign his position on that board. He continued to serve on that board since his election to the Garrett County Board of Education in November of 1984, awaiting a replacement appointment from the governor's office.

Goldsborough has refused compensation from the college since November, but said he felt he would serve until the governor made his decision. A spokesman from Governor Harry Hughes' office said early this week that he will make the appointment soon.

Early this year, Hughes received a letter from the office of Attorney General Stephen H. Sachs, signed by assistant attorney general, Linda Lamone, informing him that under Article 35 of the Declaration of Rights, Goldsborough could no longer serve on both boards and receive compensation for both offices.

Goldsborough said he had contacted state officials before running for the Board of Education and was given the okay, but after winning the election there was pressure from local people for him to resign one position or another. He then contacted appointment secretary for the governor, Connie Beims, who suggested that Goldsborough step down as chairman of the college board and not receive any compensation for serving on that board. Goldsborough did inform the board of trustees in February that he did not want compensation for his duties on that board.

Goldsborough stated, "In light of the recent controversy at the college, I chose to serve without compensation and I did step down from the chairmanship in February. Since the sudden urge of unknown persons to get me off the board of trustees, I have decided to resign that post and I sent a letter to Governor Hughes on Tuesday informing him of my resignation, effective immediately."

Goldsborough said this morning he has not received word from the governor yet.

The Republican State Central Committee has submitted four names from their party to replace Goldsborough. They include Dr. George B. Stolz, Friendsville, David Martin, Oakland, Rob Michaels, Oakland, and Bradley A. Stewart, Oakland.

An attempt to contact Governor Hughes this morning was unsuccessful.

HUD Rehabilitation Program To Begin In Kitzmiller Sept. 1

The town of Kitzmiller has obtained a grant in the amount of $500,000 from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). According to Wendell Keaton, community development coordinator, $144,600 of this money will be used to construct the new sewer project, $81,900 will be used to help eligible property owners pay for sewer connections and tap fees, and $213,500 will be used to help lower-income households make necessary repairs to their homes. Low interest rate loans and grants will be made available to eligible property owners to bring their homes up to Section Eight Existing Housing Program standards, under the FY 1985 Small Cities Program, which means making their homes safe and sound.

The improvements will be handled through a combined grant and loan assistance program; grants being for only the very low-income home owners. A grant can equal up to 50 percent of the cost of repairs to the home, with a limit of $5,000 maximum in grant money. The other 50 percent of the cost of repairs can be paid with a low interest loan.

Keaton explains that certain criteria must be met by homeowners to be eligible for the rehabilitation program. The applicant must own a residential property for a period of at least six months before applying for assistance. The homeowner must be clear of any tax debts to the town. Specified income limits must be met by applicants. These limitations are set by HUD for participation in the Section Eight Existing Housing Program.

The proportion of grant to loan assistance and the interest rate depend upon family size and household income. Interest rates for homeowners with income below HUD Section Eight limits varies from zero to three percent, with special consideration given to very low income households. To qualify for the low-interest loan, a family of one must have an income of $11,550 or less, while a family of eight or more must have a maximum income of $20,650 or less. Deferred loans may be taken as a second or third mortgage on the home, and not paid until the home changes owners. Homeowners can not get grant money, only HUD will only grant up to 50 percent of repair costs, and the other 50 percent must be acquired through a low-interest loan.

Landlords who are renting to income eligible persons can also get loan assistance if the low-income renter lives in the home for a specified number of years. Up to four rental units in the same ownership may receive rehabilitation assistance. The interest rate for landlords is five percent.

Interested homeowners should apply at Kitzmiller City Hall. Assistance, if needed, will be provided in filling out forms and applications. The Community Development Coordinator, Keaton, will then do an intake sheet which includes the number and ages of persons living in the home, the homeowner's income, and expenses such as annual utilities, taxes, and mortgage.

He and town officials will then review the application and determine what mix of grant and loan money will be available to the applicant.

The next step involves an inspection of the home to help the homeowner determine what improvements are necessary to meet minimum safety standards, energy conservation needs, and property improvement standards.

Keaton stresses that under HUD requirements, all minimum needs and standards must be addressed. For instance, if it is determined that a home needs a bathroom and new wiring, money will not be granted or loaned for a bathroom only. All improvements must be made to meet standards, not just one improvement.

Keaton and the consulting firm, Community Programs, Inc., will then prepare specifications for the needed repairs and improvements, prepare cost estimates, and explain available programs of financial assistance.

Recommendations will be made for choosing and planning the most worthwhile improvements to the property, and a list of reputable home improvement contractors will be provided. The homeowner will solicit bids and choose a licensed contractor.

Follow-up inspections will be conducted while the work is in progress and upon completion of the work.

Interested homeowners, especially elderly and low-income homeowners, should contact the Kitzmiller Town Hall, at 453-3449, as soon as possible. A limited amount of money is available, and will be proportioned on a first-come, first-serve basis. The town anticipates doing 28 homes, spending approximately $7,500 on each home. Interested contractors, Happy Birthday, Ellie . . .

by Mary I. Love

Rain, snow, or whatever, a slightly built man walks along Route 219 north of Oakland, six days a week, morning and evening. He sometimes turns to look at passing cars, but if he doesn't get a ride he isn't discouraged.

On Thursday afternoon he also walks around Oakland, carrying a bundle of newspapers or hauling them in a coaster wagon, delivering over 200 of them each week.

Early every weekday he is at Englander's Pharmacy, lugging trash cans in and out, moving papers and boxes, doing the odd jobs that need to be done. He is friendly, but not generally one to stop work and chat.

If further introduction is needed, this is Ellis Nazelrod, who lives on Foster Road with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Nazelrod. He is excited this week, for today is his birthday. Birthdays are important to Ellie, and he has a scrapbook of his birthday pictures.

It's also important that in 1982 he was nominated for Maryland's Handicapped Person of the Year, and was honored at a dinner in Baltimore for his initiative, resource, and perseverance in becoming a productive worker.

Ellie has always had a severe hearing impairment. He had no opportunity for formal education until he was 46 years old, when he entered an adult basic education program at Garrett Community College. One of his teachers remembers him as exceptionally conscientious and highly motivated.

Because of all this, we'd like to wish Ellie many more happy birthdays to record in his scrapbook.

Our Turn

I Haven't A Clue

By Pam Ashby

My sister got married Saturday to a delightful Englishman. The wedding was lovely, and after spending much time with the groom's parents, Joyce and Charles, last week, I think I am finally breaking the language barriers.

Upon their arrival, Charles inquired something about Lou. I assumed he meant great Aunt Lou and explained that she had passed away some 10 years ago. Why was he asking about her anyway?

I thought it would be jolly good to have Joyce and Charles for dinner (I mean supper) one evening. I prepared a feast fit for the Queen of England, or so I thought. Joyce thought my Brown 'n Serve rolls were Yorkshire pudding. Great! I impressed her until she tasted them. Okay, fine.

I was really hoping they would enjoy the strawberry cream cheese salad I had whipped up on my hectic lunch hour that day. Joyce asked if it should be eaten with the meal or as a dessert. I said, "Whatever you prefer, love."

She said, "I don't think I care for it now."

I said, "You mean with your meal?"

She said, "Actually, dear, not at all, if you want me to be honest."

Actually, I love honesty. Well, anyway, they did enjoy the roast beef, except that I neglected to put mustard on the table for dipping. I'm used to my brood putting catsup, or sauce as the English say, on everything.

Saying "cheers" in England simply means thanks, but my poor husband, not realizing it, must have raised his glass a dozen times during the course of the meal.

After dinner, we decided to play Trivial Pursuit. The Ropers knew the game since there is also an English version. I put chips out for snacks.

I said, "Charles, would you care for some chips?"

He said, "Yes, I haven't had any since home."

So why didn't he take a handful? Because the English call French Fries chips. It seems I was offering him crisps, not chips. Undaunted, I decided we could still have a delightful evening. It was delightful, except Charles kept inquiring about Lou. I couldn't seem to make him understand she was dead.

Later in the week, a friend of mine and I decided to take the Ropers to lunch in the northern end of the county. Now I know my driving isn't perfect, but Joyce looked horrified the entire trip. It seems I forgot Americans drive on the "wrong side of the road." It didn't help matters either that my friend recited the Lord's Prayer from the back seat no less than 23 times during the trip and that Charles kept right on asking about old Aunt Lou, the grouch that no one ever liked anyway.

One of the nicest things about meeting the Ropers has been my improved grammar and tone of voice. Now, if you ask me a question I haven't an answer for, I won't say in a barely audible tone, "I dunno." Rather, I'll say in a lilting tone, "I haven't a clue, love."

Note: Is my face red? I just looked up the word "loo", not Lou. It means—get this—toilet or water closet. Gosh, I hadn't a clue about the loo. Cheerio and toodle-pip.

licensed to work with HUD, should also contact the town hall or Keaton's office, 334-4200, and leave their name and license number.

The Kitzmiller Town Council will plan a public hearing sometime within the next three weeks, and a date for that hearing will be announced next week. This will be a two-year program and will be ready to begin September 1.

Another feature of the program is that the town has made a tentative agreement with the First United National Bank & Trust to provide below-market rates of interest for credit worthy customers who don't meet HUD income deadlines, allowing other Kitzmiller citizens to improve their homes and property also.

The planned sewer project in Kitzmiller will get assistance from the EPA, and the state, as well as the $144,600 HUD grant for the treatment plant and sewer system. The HUD grant was the turning point in making the project a reality, said Keaton. The additional $81,900 HUD grant will be used for income eligible people to pay for tap fees and sewer connections one year from now when the system is ready for hook-ups.

Bathroom facilities are one of the top priorities for rehabilitation. According to the Kitzmiller Facilities Plan, prepared by Thomas Bourne, consulting engineer, 130 homes of the 176 year-round housing units were surveyed, with 98 having insufficient or non-existent disposal systems. The report showed that one septic tank discharges directly into the river, 41 homes still have pit privies, 15 homes have direct discharge into the river, and 41 homes discharge directly into the millrace.

Braskey Issues

Clarification On

Earlier Statement

Among the topics of discussion at a press conference conducted by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners Tuesday, was a clarification statement by Commissioner John Braskey, concerning a news story in last week's edition of The Republican.

Braskey stated, "I would like to clarify the article that appeared in last week's paper concerning my meeting with Governor Hughes. Through my fault, there was a misunderstanding."

Braskey continued, "I will be meeting with Governor Hughes on August 24, as a member of the board of directors of MACo. There is no discussion slated for the judgeship vacancy to the Maryland Court of Special Appeals."

The commissioner concluded, "What I wanted to point out is that if the opportunity arose for me, I would inform the governor that Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer is highly respected, not only in the legal community, but the community as a whole. I believe he earns that same respect as a judge throughout the state. I would only add that it would certainly be a wise and prudent decision if the governor did appoint Judge Thayer to that position."

Braskey, along with commissioners Ernest Gregg Jr. and Elwood Groves II, will be attending the Maryland Association of Counties (MACo) annual summer conference this weekend in Ocean City.

Some of the topics to be included at the conference are the Garcia case and ramifications for county governments, local land preservation and recreation plan, landfill technology, state housing initiatives, time management, tourism, etc.

Braskey's meeting with the governor will, in fact, be dealing with 1986 MACo legislation, county liability and insurance coverage, solid waste funding assistance, state revenue sharing, state funding for various projects (i.e. landfills), and finally, the governor's reactions to the actions of the president and the congress pertaining to county loss of general revenue sharing and possible state windfall due to federal tax reform.

Also Tuesday, the commissioners announced that they had met with the chairman of the airport task force and several of its members for an update on current activities.

Commissioner Gregg stated that the board of commissioners is in the process of submitting an initial application for construction funds at the airport. "In reality, we realize the likelihood of receiving such funds is pretty limited because of priorities of FAA officials that were discussed earlier this year."

The county board also met with representatives from the county's rescue squads, who are looking for ongoing funding mechanisms in order to meet capital expenses.

The representatives are looking for a $02 per $100 assessed county tax rate, such as the local fire departments receive to aid their funding.

"We realize how invaluable these volunteer departments are to the county and we know they have a real problem, so we are planning a public information meeting to gather input from the community and to increase public awareness of the situation," said Commissioner Braskey.

Oakland Artist's Display To Open Roper Gallery

A series of paintings by Western Maryland artist Donald Cook will open the 1985-86 exhibition year at the Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery at Frostburg State College, it was announced this week by Dustin P. Davis, head of the College's department of art and art education.

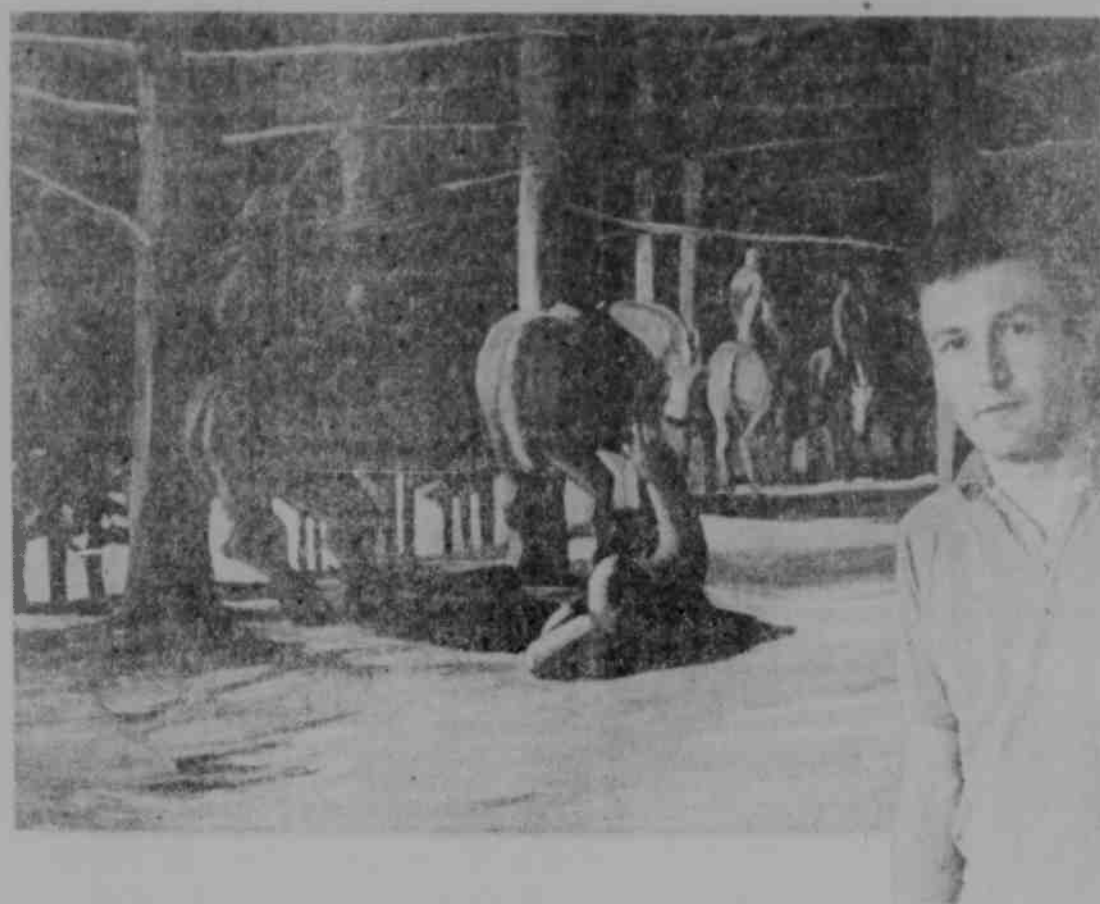

The exhibition opens Friday, August 30, at 7:30 p.m., and the public is invited to attend. The works will be on display through September 22. Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p.m., Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday.

In addition to his appearance at the opening, Cook will deliver a lecture at the College on Wednesday, September 11, at 7:30 p.m., in the Roper Gallery. He will also conduct a painting workshop at FSC on Thursday, September 12.

Born and reared in western Maryland, Cook lived in Annapolis for the past ten years and recently moved to Oakland. His parents, Donald and Elizabeth Cook, continue to reside in his home town of Midland.

"An artist of great skill and virtuosity in handling his paint, Cook's earlier works were affectionate, nearly super real portraits of the people, buildings and landscape of his home town," stated one admirer.

In recent years, Cook's work has taken a surreal and expressionistic twist. He says he has become "devoted to agrarian imagery and themes. It is a certain atmosphere of a lost world that I intend to recover in my world and couple with contemporary rural images and

The show will open on Friday, August 30, at 7:30 p.m., and run through September 22. Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p.m., Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday. Concurrent with the exhibition, Cook will deliver a lecture, "A Picture-Maker in the Wilderness," at the Roper Gallery on Wednesday, September 11, at 7:30 p.m. The following afternoon, Thursday, September 12, the artist will conduct a painting workshop in the FSC painting studios. hel and there is much in his work that forms a direct link to theirs and the later artists of the Expressionistic movement. "Most particularly, there is a current of raw, primeval emotion that makes itself felt in all aspects of the work: strong, powerful color often cast in slanting light, active heavy brushwork and curving, distorted figures that allegorically represent ideas rather than specific people," a spokesman said.

Cook's works have recently been exhibited at the Shearwater Gallery in Annapolis, Maryland House of Delegates Office Building, Sage Gallery in Washington, D.C., Washington County Museum of Fine Arts, Maryland Institute College of Art, Morgan State University Gallery and the Maryland Art Place in Baltimore.

The show at Frostburg State is being made possible in part by a grant from the Maryland State Arts Council.

Cook was recently exhibited in the 53rd Annual Cumberland Valley Artists Exhibition at the Washington County Museum in Hagerstown, where he received the Tri-State Electrical Purchase Award for painting. Cook will also be featured in the upcoming show, "Seeing/Thinking/Feeling," sponsored by the Maryland Art Place, Baltimore, which will tour Maryland in late 1985 and '86. In addition to his studio practice, Cook is a member of the Md. State Arts Council's Artist-in-Education Program. In conjunction with this program, he will conduct an A/E workshop at Southern High School in October of this year.

Lohr Youngster Named Maryland '85 Petite Star

David Andrew Lohr Jr., two-year-old son of Dave and Amy Lohr, Deer Park, was named Maryland's Petite Star 1985 in the statewide Tiny Stars of America contest held Sunday, July 21. The event was held at the Baltimore/Washington International Holiday Inn and involved children who were chosen as finalists about one month earlier.

As Maryland's state titleholder, David received an engraved marble trophy, plaque, and medal. He was also awarded an expense-paid trip to Chicago, Ill., to compete for the national title against youngsters representing the other 49 states.

Accepts Voluntary Missions Service

Dawn Opel, Grantsville, has accepted a 55-week term of Voluntary Service with Rose-dale Mennonite Missions. She will be serving as a teacher's aide at 42 Little College, a day-care center in London, Ohio. Miss Opel is the daughter of Donald and Mary Opel and a 1983 graduate of Mountain View Christian School in Springs, Pa. She has also studied at Rose-dale Bible Institute and at Garrett Community College. She is a member of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church.

Judge Suspends Sentence Of David E. Liller

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney has suspended the sentence of David E. Liller, 23, Oakland.

On May 7, Liller was sentenced to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail following a theft of various drugs from the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. However, at a hearing on August 6, the judge suspended the remaining 14 month sentence, placing Liller on 24 months supervised probation.

Liller was also instructed to receive alcohol abuse counseling with the Department of Health and to make a sincere effort to seek employment and remain employed.

One reason for the suspension was that the defendant has been in the Garrett County Jail since the beginning of May. Another was that his brother, Richard Liller, is interested in working with him to control his alcohol abuse problem, and alien has employment for him during the warm weather months.

Liller was represented by John R. Toston, public defender.

In another court case, the judge found William E. Curtis, 29, Deer Park, to be guilty of a theft.

Joni L. Simmons, supervisor of Browning's, Inc., filed the complaint when Curtis removed a carton of cigarettes from the store.

The judge sentenced Curtis to 18 months, then suspended the sentence and placed him on 24 months supervised probation. He was also fined $55.

new ARRIVALS

The births of four infants this week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital were announced this morning by a hospital spokesman.

A son was born August 16 to Stephen Wayne and Pamela Susan Goldsborough Smith, Deer Park.

A son was born August 19 to Joseph R. and Abbie N. Schrock Kauffman, Oakland.

A daughter was born August 21 to James W., Jr. and Ellen Wilma Hare McCrobie, Oakland.

Admissions were reported at 72 with 71 discharges. This morning's census shows 61 patients.

Deborah C. and Rodney B. Warnick, South Deerfield, Mass., announce the birth of a son June 14 at Cooley Dickinson Hospital, Northampton, Mass. The paternal grandparents are Wm. Mahlon and Dorothy (Urbas) Warnick, Grantsville. The great-grandparents are Virgie Warnick, Frostburg, and the late Willie B. Warnick.

The Blessed Events column in last week's issue falsely reported the names of the parents of a daughter on August 14. Their names should have been reported as Richard Lee and Elizabeth Ann Freeland Nine, not Nine Freeland as the column stated. We regret the error.

Rabies Clinic Cats Only

Date: Monday, August 26

Time: 5-6 p.m.

Place: Grantsville Fire Hall

COST: $3.00 per cat

This clinic is for vaccination of cats only. Cats are the greatest domestic animal rabies threat today. Recent legislation makes vaccination of all cats over three months of age mandatory. Failure to comply could result in a $500 fine. Protect your cat and yourself by bringing it to this low cost clinic. No dogs will be allowed.

Vaccination is good for three years on cats one year of age and older. For cats three months of age to one year, revaccination will be required after 12 months.

areas to talk with students and to provide them with information about the college. They also said the computer system was also being used to track inquiries to provide a timely and appropriate follow-up and that surveys are conducted to ascertain reasons of students not returning to the college. "In addition, an institutional research study is being conducted to better define our student market," the letter stated. Regarding faculty status, the board explained that when faculty positions are open, ads in the Chronicle of Higher Education and other local publications are run. The board also explained the salary levels and benefits provided for the faculty and staff.

Questions of what was being done to investigate or correct the problems brought to the attention of the board and what steps were being taken to restore public confidence were also submitted to the board. They replied by saying that a subcommittee of the board was formed previous to the public meeting to pursue the hiring of an outside firm to do a management and manpower study of the college and that they had met with representatives of the Forum to hear any factual information. The letter further stated, "We are continuing to bolster the public confidence in the institution by: (1) Providing answers to concerns raised at the public meeting, (2) Including public input into the selection of the interim president and president, and (3) Pursuing management and manpower study."

In a question concerning leadership standards, the board replied by saying leadership standards are set forth by job descriptions which include duties and responsibilities and also by an employee evaluation system. Further, the board stated that they felt the college had been responsive over the years to the needs of the community, citing the Hotel-Restaurant Management Program that will be initiated this fall. They also mentioned other special programs and the Continuing Education courses provided by the college.

Regarding retrenchment plans, the board said they are in the process of collecting and studying retrenchment plans used in other community colleges in the state, with a recommendation coming to the board at the October meeting. When asked if trustees could be removed if there was a continued failure to respond adequately, the board responded, "Trustees are appointed by the Governor with approval by the Senate. More appropriately, this should be addressed to our state officials."

Under the heading, Personnel Policies and Procedures, many questions were asked that were considered personnel matters and were not to be discussed at the public meeting. The board did state that there are job descriptions, job requirements and expected credentials for all employees and that the college does have a residency officer and transfer counselors. The board also stated that there is an affirmative action/EEO plan administered by the controller in conjunction with legal counsel.

When asked to explain adjunct faculty, the board said that academic directors are responsible for finding qualified adjunct faculty and that an active file is kept on such faculty. They also stated that student evaluations are used for performance of adjunct faculty.

Under Curricular Management, the board was asked to respond on the termination of the Vet Tech program. The board stated that no new students had been enrolled in the program following the announcement of the termination, but that the programs would continue for the two remaining students and that there would be no impact on students who sought to transfer or seek professional certification. Concerning the future of the Garrett County Animal Shelter, the board stated that the shelter is owned and operated by the Garrett County Commissioners, but that the college would be working with that government body for a satisfactory solution to the shelter.

Further, the board stated that there would be no redesign of the Health and Physical Education program and that occupational degree programs would be continued at GCC to provide for the needs of the community.

In the Fiscal Management section of questions presented to the board, the trustees stated that residency audits are part of a routine yearly audit completed by independent auditors and that routine adjustments are made yearly. They said any irregularities are adjusted with the final state aid check. Other questions asked in that category were issues handled by means of legal counsel, according to the letter.

When asked why the president, under fire at the time, was given a salary increase, the board stated, "Because of his performing his duties as outlined by the board of trustees, an appraisal by the board was done and a raise was merited."

Finally, the board was asked how the freeze of scholarship funds, imposed pending clarification of these issues, be handled, to which the board responded, "It is unfortunate that a scholarship was frozen as this only hurts the students; however, the college will work diligently to clarify any misunderstandings and will continue to aid students in their pursuit of education."

In a recent letter to Delegate George Edwards from Dr. James Tschechtel, executive director for the State Board for Community Colleges, Tschechtel stated, "The college is a vital element in the life of the community, and we intend to do everything we can to support and sustain it."

The director said he and members of his staff have been following the situation at GCC very carefully and that helping the college "find successful solutions to its problems is a high priority of the state board."

given to the interim president, when chosen, with a request that it be reviewed and a recommendation be made to the board.

In another matter, the board's subcommittee on the management, manpower and communication survey reported that three written proposals have been received and reviewed. William Grant, chairman of that subcommittee, said each firm will be contacted and asked to come to the college and further discuss their proposal to the subcommittee. He said the actual survey and study will not be done until later this fall after the new administration is in place.

The board also discussed the reappointment of Randall Harman to the faculty of the college. Harman resigned as president of the college on August 6. Throughout his tenure as president, Harman had maintained, through his contract, his status as a professor. In addition to having served as president, Harman has over twenty years of teaching experience at institutes of higher education including GCC, University of Delaware and West Virginia University. He has a masters degree in agricultural engineering and has had over thirty articles published in various trade and professional publications.

Grant stated, "A full teaching load awaits Harman in the Science Division where he will instruct in agricultural courses and math courses. His instruction in the math field will, in part, relieve the problem caused by the recent loss of Gary Devine King from that division."

Washed Lamb Contest Is Held At County Fair

Bathing, grooming, and showing a wild, untrained lamb brought directly to the fairgrounds from pasture, is the object of the Washed Lamb contest at the Garrett County Fair. Seven 4-H shepherds, four juniors and three seniors, took part in this year's contest on Friday evening. Contestants were given one hour to groom and fit the lamb while the judges watched. They were then asked several questions by the judges before proceeding with the showing part of the contest. The junior winners were: Monica Miller, first place; Barbara Leininger, second place; Jenny Weller, third place; and Trisha Marple, fourth place. Senior winners were: Eric Bowser, first place; Blaine Bowser Jr., second place; and Tim Kepple, third place. Judges for the event were Marshall and Shirley Strite of Eglon, W.Va., and Alice Wilhelm of Grantsville. Oakland attorney Robert Watson donated the trophies which were presented to the first-place winners in each division.

Extended Coverage By ROB MICHAEL Agent

No matter how carefully we drive, and how well our cars are maintained, accidents DO happen. It's wise to know beforehand what to do in case of an accident.

First priority is getting medical aid for the injured. Do call the police to investigate; they may provide medical help and traffic control, and their accident report can be helpful.

Get names and addresses of all drivers and passengers involved. Note the year, make, model and license number of the other car or cars, and the name and addresses of the insurance company or agent.

Check for witnesses. Get their names, addresses, phone numbers. For your accident report, diagram what happened and where. Any skid marks? Debris? If you've got a camera, take a picture.

Don't admit responsibility for the accident, don't make any statements, except to the police. Do not divulge details of your insurance coverage.

BITTINGER-GLADES

Church News

Rev. Beryl Maurer, Morgan-town, W.Va., conducted worship services and administered Holy Communion at each of the three churches of the Bittinger parish on Sunday. Rev. Maurer announced that Communion services will be held on the second Sunday in September, rather than the third one as it was in August.

Dr. Donald Anderson, secretary of the W. Pa.-W. Va. Synod, met with the councils of the three churches on Tuesday evening, August 6. Methods to be used in calling a new pastor were discussed, and a call committee from each church will meet on August 25 at Bittinger. Discussions concerning some improvements in the parsonage and the grounds around it were held and referred to the property committee. It was decided that the joint council will meet again on September 3, and will meet each month.

The Casselman Valley Crusade for Christ, sponsored by 11 local Mennonite churches, is being held at Grantsville in a large tent, next to the Goodwill Mennonite Home. It will continue through to next Sunday evening. William Mayer, Irwin, Ohio, is the evangelist. Pastor E-mier Maust reported that on Sunday evening the tent was filled with 1,000 people. The public is invited to attend the meetings.

Cherry Glade Mennonite Church will not have its regular Sunday services due to the Crusade, but will again have services on September 1.

Farewell Party
About 200 friends and relatives attended the farewell party given for Jeff Green by his parents and sister, Melissa, last Friday evening and Saturday. His parents are Wayne and Linda Green. Out-of-town guests included Francis Green, Gaithersburg; Sue Bowman and Marie Tschaneler, Falls Church, Va.; and Bob and Nancy Tetler and sons, Short Gap, W. Va. Jeff has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force as a security specialist and will leave on Thursday for Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Taking Orders
Wayne Bittinger, who lives in Bedford, Pa., attended the Bittinger Picnic on Saturday, and he wishes to have it known that he is taking orders for his book on the "History of the Bittinger Family" at the present time.

One Person's View of the Fair
Mrs. Harley Brenneman, a worker at the Garrett County Fair for many years, reported that people liked the new way initiated for paying for entering the Fair. It was $3.00 for everyone, including children, allowing them to ride, see all side shows and every form of entertainment available. The children received a stamp on their hand, with a different one each day. She reported that there were many observers from other counties seeing how it would work. She said that the largest crowd in the history of the Fair attended on Saturday evening. Mrs. Brenneman's life story appeared recently in the Garrett County Citizen paper.

Attends Dinner
Martha Glatfelly was one of the guests at a 60th wedding anniversary dinner held for former Senator Clifford Friend and his wife, Nell. The dinner was given by their three children and grandchildren, and was held in the Casselman Hotel Tuesday evening.

Opel Reunion
The annual Opel reunion was held on Sunday, with 200 members of the family in attendance. There were persons from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and some other states present.

Personal Items
Carl and Mary Stephens, Bel Air, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Bowser. They attended the annual Bittinger picnic and the Opel reunion on Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Laura Metzler, who will spend sometime visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Bowser.

Bronke and Kerry Green and Lindy, Laurel, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stanton.

Maho Fukada, Toyota, Japan, returned to her home on Monday after spending a month with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brenneman. Members of the family took her to Laurelville, Pa., on Monday for the first part of her journey home. She had been with the family since July 24.

Sunday dinner guests of Amelia and Miriam Brenneman were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beitzel, Herndon, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Brenneman and sons. Other Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Tuffinburg, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young, West Lafayette, Ohio, and Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Zehr.

Herbert Buckel, Jr., and Virginia Trujillo returned from Colorado. Kenneth Buckel visited Leonard Buckel on Saturday evening.

Bernadette Henson, St. Albans, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nolder, Baltimore, were in the area over the weekend, and had their mother Beatrice Glatfelly, home for a few days. Mrs. Glatfelly is in the Goodwill Home in Grantsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay McElroy, Mount Airy, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Buckel. On Saturday they attended the Bittinger picnic.

Mrs. Marion Stephens accompanied her niece, Dorothy Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Steven Brantley, Richmond, Va., to various places in Ohio, last week. While on the trip, she visited Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hulslander, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Broadwater, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broadwater and Mr. and Mrs. David Broadwater. They spent Monday at the Sea World and visited the Zoo in Cleveland, Ohio. A Broadwater reunion was held at State Park on Lake Erie, with 40 members of the family present. Mrs. Stephens returned home Sunday. She spent Saturday night in Salisbury with Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Helen Englar, Westminster, spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Emma Glatfelly and her brother, Dale. Hanuli Glatfelly spent the weekend with his mother, Martha Glatfelly. Visitors on Tuesday of Mrs. Glatfelly were Kathryn Tedrow, Markleton, Pa., and Melba Bittinger.

COVE

The Mennonite Churches of the area are sponsoring a revival service each evening this week until Sunday, August 25, at the Maple Glen Mennonite Church, Grantsville, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

There will be no worship service on Sunday, August 25, at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, so that the members can attend the annual mission festival service at Zion Lutheran Church, Accident, that morning. Sunday School at Zion will begin at 9 a.m. and the Mission Festival Service, with guest speaker Rev. Harry Corner, will begin at 10 a.m.

The State Line United Methodist Women's Group will meet on Wednesday, August 28, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Powell Hall, Grantsville.

Rev. and Mrs. Mark Ochsankehl and son returned to their home here on Monday night after spending a week's vacation with relatives in Michigan. Miss Diana Etelamaki accompanied them to Michigan and remained at her home at Midland after spending 30 days vacation with her brother-in-law and sister, Rev. and Mrs. Ochsankehl. Rev. Ochsankehl visited on Tuesday with Miss Emma Krause at the Meyersdale Community Hospital, Meyersdale, Pa.; William Harman at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, and with Mrs. William Harman at her home here. He visited on Monday with Albert Smith, Accident, at the Meyersdale Community Hospital where he is a surgical patient. Rev. and Mrs. Ochsankehl and son were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oester.

Miss Emma Krause died last Tuesday, August 13, at the Meyersdale Community Hospital. The funeral was held on Friday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, with Rev. Mark Ochsankehl officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery. A funeral service was held on Sunday at the same church with Rev. Ochsankehl officiating for Mrs. Clara (Miller) Harman, who has been a resident of the Milton Manor Nursing Home, Lake Milton, Ohio, for a number of years. Her husband was the late Harry Harman and they were former residents of this community. Burial for Mrs. Harman was also in the church cemetery.

Miss Alma Opel returned to her home on Tuesday after being a patient at the Meyersdale Community Hospital, Meyersdale, Pa., for several weeks. Mrs. Esther Margroff was a Sunday visitor of Misses Alma, Esther and Claudine Opel. A Monday visitor was Rev. H.H. Drout, Salem Ind. Supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Harman and family, Muncie, Ind., and Walter Harman, Accident. Rev. Mark Ochsankehl was also a visitor.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glatfelly, McHenry, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harman were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Anderson and daughter, Ashley, Manassas, Va. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Harman. William returned to his home Tuesday after being a patient at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, for the past two weeks. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Joslin, left to go to their home at Robbins Air Force Base, Macon, Ga., on Wednesday after spending sometime with Mr. and Mrs. Harman here and at the hospital. Other visitors this week included Mr. and Mrs. John Harman and family, Muncie, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harman, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haentfing, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Harman and sons, and Walter Harman, Accident, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harman and daughter, Holly; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harman and daughter, Danille, and Edgar Harman. Loring Green was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Wednesday and remains a patient there.

Ronnie Stark, Reston, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kolb-fleisch were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelley, Rockville, and attended the wedding and reception of Miss Denise Osmond, Frederick, to Luciano Pusterla, Italy, on Saturday evening at the Civic Center Mansion, Rockville.

A number of relatives and friends were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwing and attended the wedding of Frank (Skip) Schwing and Miss Holly Price on Saturday at the Schwing home, where a picnic reception was also held.

Jeff Bender spent the weekend at Greensboro, N.C., and attended the wedding of Kristopher Hardesty and Eva Alcorn there. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bender, and family, Mrs. Craig Miller and Miss Pam Rosage attended the Bender family reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Yoder, Meyersdale, Pa., on Sunday afternoon.

Several families from Kentucky and Ohio spent several days last week with Rev. and Mrs. Oren Bender and attended the Mennonite Church Conference at Grantsville. The Benders' daughter, Sheila, was recently selected Maryland State Dairy Princess. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Savage and Kenny Miller, Grantsville, and Sheila spent Sunday at Baltimore to attend the Orioles-Texas baseball game. In commemoration of "Dairy Day at the Ballpark," Sheila presented a milk can to Cal Ripken, Jr., from the Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Area.

Mrs. Charles Needer and daughters, Reisterstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft left on Tuesday to go to Fort Knox, Ky., to attend the 1985 ROTC Basic Camp Briefing and Training Facilities Tour on Wednesday. On Thursday they attended the U.S. Army ROTC Basic Camp graduation ceremony at Brooks Field, where their daughter, Miss Melrose Hanft was one of the cadets in the graduating class. They attended the reception at the officers' club and were given a tour of Fort Knox Facilities and Patton Museum, and were sightseeing at the Fort Knox Bullion Depository. Melrose returned to Reisterstown with the Needers and is spending a vacation with a family at North.

Witt Cards 212 To Win Annual Golf Tournament

Ron Witt, Masontown, W. Va., carded a 212 to take first place in the 22nd Annual Western Maryland Amateur Golf Championship, held this past weekend at the Oakland Country Club course. It was the second time Witt has won the event in the past four years. Larry Spotloe, Philippi, W. Va., who took the title the past two years and would have received a large cup had he won this year, was five strokes back at 217, good for second place. Eric Adams, Fairmont, W. Va., finished third with a 219, one stroke ahead of Jim Goodwin, Bridgeport, W. Va. A field of 138 golfers participated in the 54-hole event, with the top 30 finishers and their scores as follows:

WESTERN MARYLAND WINNERS — A field of 138 amateur golfers participated in the 22nd annual Western Maryland Amateur Golf Championship, held this past weekend at the Oakland Country Club course. Ron Witt, Masontown, W. Va., the winner of the event in 1982, carded a 212 to capture the title again this year, while Larry Spotloe, defending champion from the past two years, finished second. In the photo, left to right, are Spotloe, Witt, Charlie Miller, who carded low gross for seniors, and Eric Adams, who finished in third place.

Fire Departments To Compete In Softball Tourney

Softball teams representing six local volunteer fire departments will participate in a tournament this Sunday, August 25, at the Broadford Park field. The event is being sponsored by WXIE/WMSG Radio Station and The Republican Newspaper and all proceeds will go to the Garrett County Firemen's Association, earmarked for a new air cascade vehicle.

Slated to play in the tournament, which is open free of charge to the public, will be Oakland, Deer Park, Deep Creek, Friendsville, Bloomington, and Elk Garden volunteer fire departments. Trophies will be awarded to the top three teams and the most valuable player.

Games will get underway at 8 a.m., with Oakland facing Bloomington, followed by Deep Creek against Friendsville, Elk Garden against the winner of the Oakland-Bloomington game, and Deer Park against the winner of the Deep Creek-Friendsville contest. The final game in the double-elimination tourney will probably get underway at about 5 or 6 p.m.

The Deer Park Community VFD Auxiliary is planning to sell concessions at the field.

Walt Neveker Is Member Of Jr. World Series Team

Walt Neveker, 16-year old son of Nancy Mummert Neveker and Julius Neveker, just returned from two trips with the Pikesville Maryland baseball team. While on those two trips, the team captured the NABF National Championship at the University of Akron in Ohio, and then went to Northville, Michigan, and won the NABF Junior World Series title the first week in August.

There were cable TV interviews from a Detroit station, along with interviews with baseball scouts from Detroit and Philadelphia. Walt is an all-county centerfielder at Liberty High School in Carroll Co.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Walter Mummert, of Deep Creek Village, who also made the trip with the family to both states to see the play-off tournaments.

Final Results Of Tennis Tourney Are Announced

Final results of the 64th annual Western Maryland Amateur Tennis Championships, held earlier this month in Mountain Lake Park, were released this week by the Mountain Lake Park Tennis Association.

A field of 123 players from Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Washington, D.C. participated in the event, one of the oldest, continuous sanctioned amateur tourneys in the nation.

Kevin Manning, Arlington, Va., was the overall men's singles champion as he defeated Gary Fry, Columbus, Ohio, in the finals, 7-5, 6-0.

Barbara Roland, Morgantown, W. Va., emerged as the overall women's singles champion by trouncing Ann Lucy, Bethesda, in the final match, 6-0, 6-1.

Mike Barnes, Westminster, edged Gary Ganahl, Morgantown, in the finals of the junior men's singles (up to age 35), 7-5, 6-4, while Paul Barnes, Richmond, Va., topped Pete Mudre, Galena, Ohio, 5-7, 6-2, 6-2, to capture the senior men's (age 38-45) title.

Other senior men's title winners were Russell Fink, New Carrollton, who defeated John Noble, Columbus, Ohio, 7-6, 7-5, in the 46-55 division and Doyal Royal, Bethesda, who stopped Larry Smith, Parkersburg, W. Va., 6-2, 6-4, in the finals of the over-55 age class.

In men's doubles competition, the team of Kevin Manning and Rob Arner defeated Mike and Chuck Barnes, 6-1, 6-4, while the mother-daughter team of Janet and April Phillips topped Joyce Baker and Ann Lucy in the women's doubles finals, 6-0, 6-2.

Fred McNair and Charles Atherton teamed up to whip Dan Ayala and Ozzie O'Leary in the senior men's (45) doubles, while Fred McNair and Phil Neff stopped Earle Brown and Slater Clark in the men's (60) doubles, 7-5, 6-2.

The mixed doubles division was won by the team of Fred and Barbara Drilling, which defeated April Phillips and Gary Giles, 6-2, 7-5.

Numerous prizes in the form of men's and women's sunglasses were contributed by Bausch & Lomb and presented to the various finalists.

The drawing for the five-inch desk television was won by Charles Atherton.

A spokesman for the Mountain Lake Park Tennis Association stated that excellent weather conditions, a large number of participants, and co-operation from the Garrett County Board of Education as well as various members of the community made the 64th annual event "one of the best ever."

Pen-Mar League Tournament To Resume Sunday

The Pen-Mar Baseball League Tournament, which was postponed this past weekend because of inclement weather, will resume this Sunday with Oakland facing Hyndman at 1 p.m. on the Allegany Community College diamond and Cumberland meeting LaVale at the same time at Donahue field, also in Cumberland. The winners of these two games will meet at 3:30 on the ACC field to determine the tourney champion.

Ironically, the two top finishers in the Eastern and Western division of the league, Moorefield and Tri-Towns, were both eliminated in the single-round tournament this past weekend. Top-seeded Tri-Towns fell to LaVale, 4-2, on Saturday and Cumberland topped Moorefield, 6-4.

Meanwhile, Hyndman whipped Elkins, 8-4, while Oakland gained a win via a forfeit by Idamay, which was unable to field enough players to compete.

Also taking place this weekend will be the League Championship series between Tri-Towns and Moorefield. It will be a best of three series.

Tri-Towns and Everett, a team no longer in the Pen-Mar League, have dominated the Pen-Mar circuit for several years until this season, as Oakland took three of four games from Tri-Towns in the regular season and Cumberland swept a doubleheader from the division champs on the last day of regular season play. Oakland could have finished in a tie with Tri-Towns for first place in the Western Division because Elkins used an ineligible player in a win over Oakland on the last day of the season. Oakland filed a protest and was awarded a forfeit win, but withdrew the protest and accepted the loss "for the good of the league and out of respect for the other coaches," a spokesman stated. Oakland's game this Sunday against Hyndman will pit two of the league's top pitchers against each other. Stan Fitzwater, who holds an incredible 8-0 record, will toss against Hyndman's Troy Ritchie, who is currently 7-2. The tournament games are nine-inning, rather than the regular season seven-inning games.

Ruffed Grouse Society Chapter Slates Banquet

The Allegheny Mountain Chapter of the Ruffed Grouse Society has announced its First Allegheny Mountain Ruffed Grouse Society Banquet will be held Friday, September 13, at the Maplehurst Country Club, Frostburg.

This fund-raiser will begin with a reception at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m. A selection of items for the outdoor enthusiast will be auctioned after the dinner. There will also be an assortment of raffle and door prizes.

The Society reports it is maintaining vital sponsorships of forest habitat research, helping fund the field work, while at the same time continuing to help sponsor an expanding group of educational projects throughout ruffed grouse range to get the latest information to forest landowners.

Persons wanting to attend the banquet should make reservations as soon as possible.

Tickets are $30/person, $45/couple, with a $15.00 tax-deductible membership included in either ticket price. Persons should contact Charles W. Newhall, ticket chairman, at 334-2686 for information.

Commodore Cup Regatta Slated For Labor Day

The Commodore's Cup Labor Day Regatta is scheduled for August 31 through September 2, at the Deep Creek Lake Yacht Club, located on the southern portion of Deep Creek Lake near Turkey Neck.

A variety of sailboats, including the Laser, the Rebel and the locally-built Flying Scot A & B fleets, will participate in these races. Saturday and Sunday will each feature two races, with one race on Monday. All races will begin at noon daily in the vicinity of the yacht club.

Anyone interested in participating in these races should contact Terry Bell at (301) 334-2353, or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council at (301) 334-3388.

"THE PLAQUE" — This 20 by 24 inch bronze memorial is dedicated to the Indian warriors and their brothers who served in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam era. A member of the Crow Tribe of Montana conceived the idea for the plaque in the early 1980's, and saw to it that it was produced. Donated to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, it was hoped that it would receive proper recognition and be enshrined at a national site for all Americans to see. Dedicated on the Washington Mall along with the national Vietnam memorial, the plaque was scheduled to be placed in the Department of Interior's museum, but on July 22, John Fritz, deputy assistant secretary of Indian Affairs, donated the plaque to the Vietnam Era Veterans Inter-Tribal Association. On Sunday, September 1, there will be a special ceremony in the afternoon at which time the plaque will be formally placed in the hands of the National Vietnam Era Veterans Inter-Tribal Association. Thereafter it will serve as a traveling memorial in Indian country until its permanent enshrinement at a national site.

Pow Wow

era veterans. Kelly produced the plaque at his own expense and on behalf of the indigenous people of America, donated it to the Bureau of Indian Affairs in hopes that it would receive proper recognition and perhaps be enshrined at a national site for all Americans to see.

The plaque was dedicated along with the National Vietnam War Memorial on the Mall in Washington, D.C., but was then scheduled to be stored in the archives of the Department of the Interior. However, through the continuing efforts of concerned individuals like Leroy Clifford, of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and organizations such as Vietnam Era Veterans Inter-Tribal Association, there is a campaign underway to have the plaque enshrined at an appropriate site for all to see.

On July 22, John Fritz, deputy assistant secretary of Indian Affairs, donated the plaque to the Vietnam Era Veterans Inter-Tribal Association, and on Sunday, September 1, there will be a special ceremony in the afternoon at which time the plaque will be formally placed in the hands of the National Vietnam Era Veterans Inter-Tribal Association, and will thereafter serve as a "traveling memorial" in Indian Country until its permanent enshrinement at a national site.

An Indian Honor Guard for the plaque will be on hand until the transfer takes place. The plaque will be kept in a small arbor lodge, next to the teepee village where the Indian people will be camped.

At 11 a.m. both days, a mass colorguard will form for a grand entry. The combined colorguard will include many local units. Planning to attend and take part in the ceremonies are: Grantsville American Legion Post No. 214; Accident American Legion Post No. 208; Deer Park VFW Post No. 10077; Proctor Kildow American Legion Post No. 71; Sons of American Legion Post No. 155 in Westport; Kelly Mansfield American Legion Post in Piedmont, W.Va.; the Mt. Top Disabled American Veterans; and the auxiliary members of all these organizations.

Members of the colorguard urge area veterans to attend to honor the American Indian veterans, as well as all veterans.

Many special guests are expected to attend the Pow Wow. Among them will be Bob Kelly, originator of the plaque; Will Sampson, movie and TV actor; Allen Parker, a Vietnam veteran and president of the American Indian National Bank in Washington, D.C.; and National Vietnam Era Veterans Inter-Tribal Association Commander Jodie Stevens, of the national office in Oklahoma City, Okla.

The Black Leggings Warrior Society of Oklahoma, which rarely leaves that area, will attend, along with The Kiowa Gourd Clan, The Warrior Mothers (the Gold Star Mothers during World War II were based on the Indian Warrior Mothers Society), and The Comanche Indian Veterans Association.

Newspersons from USA Today, The Republican, and other local news media will attend the Pow Wow.

Dancing is an important part of the Pow Wow, and dancers come in all sizes and in an array of dress, buckskins, cloth, ribbonwork, beads, bones and feathers.

One of the dances to be performed is the Gourd Dance. Originally for the Warrior Society, it is now extended to veterans. Red and blue blankets worn by the dancers represent the red blood shed by the warriors, with blue meaning victory. The blanket is worn with the red over the dancer's heart.

The Feather Dance for women is a fast paced, high stepping style done mostly by young girls. The Round Dance is the first dance segment of each pow wow. It is a social dance where everyone joins in to honor the returning warrior. The dancers move in a circle clockwise around the drum with a side-step, the faster dancers move in double time in the inner circle with the slower outside, further from the drum.

The Snake Dance is a descriptive type of dance where dancers form a long line, single file. At various times the line will reverse, with the twisting line curling into a coil. Other dances including the Buffalo Dance and the Hoop Dance will be seen. Planning to attend the Pow Wow is Woogie Watchmaker, the national grand champion dancer of five years.

Adults will be charged a $2 donation at the gate, and children under 12 will be admitted free. This money will be used by the AIITCO to start a scholarship for Indian children and to help the needy on some of the western reservations.

Accident Woman "Satisfactory" After Mishap

An Accident woman remains in "satisfactory" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-vehicle mishap which occurred yesterday at the intersection of Rt. 219 and King's Run Road.

Edna Elizabeth Artice, 56, was a passenger in a 1980 Chevrolet Citation driven by Ray Eugene Artice, 60, Accident.

The Accident vehicle was traveling behind a 1977 Ford F-150 pick-up truck operated by Robert Dale Beitzel, 39, Mtn. Lake Park, Beitzel, who was northbound on Rt. 219, was preparing to make a left turn onto Mt. Nebo Road. Artice applied the brakes to his vehicle, but failed to stop, striking Beitzel's vehicle in the rear.

The Dale Williams investigated the incident, charging Artice with failing to reduce speed to avoid collision.

Apparently, Beitzel was not seriously injured, and William Lewis, 25, Oakland, a passenger in the Beitzel vehicle, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Ray Artice was treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, then transported to West Virginia University Medical Center.

Responding to the scene along with the state police were the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

JUST A LITTLE SMOKE FROM UNDER THE HOOD is what Cathy Lipscomb, the driver of this automobile, noticed as she drove along Sang Run Road Sunday morning. Upon seeing the smoke, however, she pulled off the roadway and left the car seeking assistance. The above scene is what she encountered upon her return shortly thereafter. Deep Creek fire fighters were called to the scene and extinguished the blaze, but the vehicle was declared a total loss. Photo courtesy of Chrissie Spiker.

GNB Board Elects New Members

Wendell R. Beitzel

Carl R. Fike

The Board of Directors of Garrett National Bank elected two new directors at its regular meeting held July 25. The election of Wendell R. Beitzel and Carl R. Fike brings the total number of bank directors to 12. At a meeting of the Board of Directors of GNB Bankshares, Inc., held on the same day, similar action was taken electing Beitzel and Fike as directors of GNB Bankshares.

Beitzel is a native of Garrett County and a graduate of Northern High School. He earned a bachelor of science degree in biology from Fairmont State College and a master of science in management from Frostburg State College. He is currently the administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, as well as an owner of Point View Motel and Restaurant. Prior to his appointment as head of the sanitary district, he served as a sanitarian with the Garrett County Health Department for ten years. Beitzel also worked as a microbiologist for the National Institute of Health in Bethesda for three years and served three years in the United States Army in the 485th Preventive Medicine Unit in Germany.

Beitzel is currently a member of the Deep Creek Business Association, Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association, the Federal Water Pollution Control Federation, the American Water Works Association and Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion in Oakland. In addition, he is a past president and director of the Deep Creek/Lake Garrett County Promotion Council. He attends St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Accident.

He and his wife, Ruth (Blocher) Beitzel, reside in the Rock Lodge Road area, near Accident. They have two children, Christopher, 16, and Tanya, 11.

Fike is also a native of Garrett County and a graduate of Southern High School. He earned a bachelor of science degree in mathematics from Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va. He is employed by Beachy Lumber Company in Oakland.

Fike is a director and past president of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, past chairman of the Salary Study Commission of Garrett County, and member of the Ethics Committee of Garrett County. He attends the Kitzmiller Assembly of God Church.

commander in the CCC in West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana from June 1939, to April 1942.

He was called to active duty in 1942 and served as Armored Infantry commander with General Patton's Third Army in Europe during World War II. He was captured by the Germans in September 1944, and remained a prisoner until his escape in January 1945. Col. Riley also served tours of duty in Hawaii, Korea and at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During his 30 years in the Army, he received a B.S. degree in Military Science from the University of Maryland and completed the associate course at the Army Command and General Staff College in Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

In addition to the Legion of Merit, he was awarded the Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Combat Infantry Badge, Army Commendation Medal with oak leaf cluster and Medal for Humane Action.

Surviving, besides his father, are his wife, Frances (Clement) Riley; a son, First Lieutenant Jack C. Riley, Idar-Oberstein, West Germany; two daughters, Mrs. Fran C. McCaskill, Miss HyunSue Riley, both of Atlanta, Ga.; two brothers, Warren E. Riley, Miami, Fla.; William S. Riley, Abingdon; a sister, Mrs. Eleanor D. Day, Simi Valley, Calif., and two grandchildren.

The body will be cremated.

A memorial service will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church by the Rev. Allen Ridenour.

The family suggests memorials take the form of contributions to the James A. Riley Memorial Fund, in care of Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The Durst Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

evening. The State Police medevac helicopter was also up for some time aiding in the search.

Drew Sheally, from Emergency Management, said this morning that Randy Shaffer from that department had taken the Mobile Command Post to the scene and that three Deer Park firemen had remained at the scene throughout the night with portable radios. State Police also stated this morning that a search team from Cumberland is now aiding in the search.

The trio is reported to be wearing blue jeans. Smith said Richard has on a purple shirt and Donna, a white jacket.

intense" and that the surrounding buildings sustained some damage. However, the firemen were successful in keeping the damage to a minimum.

Teets, who was observing his 61st birthday yesterday, has long been a strong supporter of youth 4-H and FFA programs. Carola stated that Teets has insurance on the barn.

Also called to the scene was the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, while Grantsville and Friendsville fire-fighters were placed on standby. There were no injuries reported.

Oakland firemen were called out moments after the alarm for the barn fire to extinguish a blaze that engulfed a combine on the farm of Robert Smith along the Oakland-Deer Park Road, just north of Harvey Winters Drive. A spokesman said that the machine, which was rather old, was totally destroyed. Firemen remained on the scene for about 45 minutes.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Mary (Lytle)

DaWitt

July 11, 1900 -

August 26, 1984

The rolling stream of time rolls on but still the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice, the smile of Mother, who once sat there. The flowers we lay upon your grave may wither and decay, but the love we have for you dear, will never fade away. A loving Mother so true and kind, no friend on earth like her we find. For all of us she did her best. May God grant her eternal rest.

Her Children

Mrs. Eva Gerard, Piedmont, W. Va.; 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Boal Memorial Chapel, Barton. A service was conducted Saturday at the First Assembly of God Church, Lonaconing, by the Rev. Christopher Crawford. Interment was in Rest Lawn Memorial Gardens, LaVale.

LEAD CONTEST WINNERS — The Lead Contest at the Garrett County Fair, for 4-H and FFA sheep owners who also had sewn and modeled an outfit made from 60 to 100-percent woolen material, was won by Karen Wilhelm, left, with second place going to Monica Miller, right. The contestants were judged on how well their sheep looked and led, and on the construction and fit of the woolen outfit they had made. Karen was presented a trophy donated by Joe DeSimone, with both winners receiving sewing kits from Lenora's Fabric and T-shirts from Sport About Unlimited in Grantsville. Judges for the contest were Janet Paugh and Shirley Strile.

Private Pesticide Applicator's License

I have had several people call me concerning the renewal of their pesticide license. As of July 1, 1985 the Maryland Department of Agriculture changed the policy on obtaining licenses. In the future, licenses can only be obtained by taking an examination under the direction of the Maryland Department of Agriculture. I still will be responsible for assisting you in the educational part of the program. At the present time I have not received any information on when, where and how the program will be handled. As soon as details come through I will let all the county farmers know.

Oats Prices—Depressing

If you have been trying to sell your oats, you know the price is low. I have heard of prices dropping to 65¢ per bushel. As a result I have had several farmers contact me for advice on whether to sell oats now or store for future sales. I wish I had the answer. There are several factors you have to consider in making your marketing decision. First and foremost the USDA is predicting a record crop of grain across the country this year exceeding the production level of 1982. Secondly, we have not expanded the grain exports to other countries. With these two factors in mind I personally cannot see a great increase in grain prices for the coming year. In making your decision you must consider the additional costs of drying, storing and transportation of the oats if you decide to hold for future marketing. A hard decision—just make sure you push your pencil.

Watch for Slugs in New Alfalfa Seeding

I have had reports of heavy slug damage in new alfalfa seedings. It would be wise to keep an eye on your alfalfa field if the weather remains wet. If you have a problem give me a call.

TRACTOR DRIVING SKILL AND KNOWLEDGE were exhibited by the participants of the 4-H and FFA Tractor Driving Contest held Friday at the Garrett County Fair. The contest included a written test, a trouble-shooting exam with the contestants looking for tractor problems which ranged from an empty radiator to a low tire, and the driving test itself. John Friend is pictured above backing a manure spreader between two poles which represented a building, leaving only inches to spare on each side. Each phase of the contest was timed and points were deducted from the contestant's score if he touched or knocked down a pole or operated the tractor in an unsafe manner. In addition to backing the manure spreader, contestants had to maneuver the tractor and spreader through tight turns and back them through a long, narrow passage. Senior contestants were also required to back a hay wagon into a "barn". Pictured below are the contest winners. In the front is first place junior, Eddie Meeks, who received a trophy donated by Arnold Brothers Equipment of Oakland. In the second row, left to right, are: Mike Kepple, first place intermediate who received a trophy from Springs Equipment in Springs, Pa.; Jeremy Gordon, third place intermediate; and Farm Queen Daina Savage. In the back row, same order, are: Chad Malone, second place senior; John Friend, second place intermediate; Tim Gordon, first place senior who received a trophy donated by C.E. Jackson Equipment of Oakland; and Mike Tichnell, third place senior. Tractors used in the contest were provided by C.E. Jackson Equipment and Springs Equipment. Larry Tichnell and George Bishoff served as contest superintendents, with Larry Miller of Springs Equipment and Steve Kisner, Oakland FFA advisor, helping judge the contest. Janet Tichnell and Debbie Fulk were in charge of scoring the written exams.

Miss Ware Becomes Bride Of Mr. Fisher In May Ceremony

The Clarksburg, W.Va., Faith Fellowship Church was the setting for the marriage of Sheila Irene Ware to Gregory Fisher, Saturday, May 11. Rev. Gordon Shoemaker officiated. Terry Warne and Degee Ashby provided the music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Greaver, Clarksburg, and the late James Lynn Ware. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Fisher, Oakland.

The bride wore a floor-length white gown with train, featuring a high neckline and sheer yoke of lace. The long full sleeves were cuffed at the wrists with the same lace as was the yoke. Her matching white lace hat featured a large bow in the back. She carried a bouquet of lavender and white carnations interspersed with white baby's breath and greenery.

The maid of honor was Connie Lamm. She wore a floor-length lavender gown overlaid with lace of the same color and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of lavender and white carnations, baby's breath, and greenery.

The bridesmaid was Adrian Bailey, who wore a floor-length gown of lavender with a lavender lace overlay. Her flowers were lavender and white carnations, baby's breath, and greenery in a fan shape.

Brian Lamm served as best man. Ushers were Gary Simon, Frank Pulice, Paul Simon, Allen Randolph, and Bill Francis. Darlene Biafore registered the guests.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Washington Irving High School and is currently attending Salem College. The groom is a graduate of Southern High School and Fairmont State College with a degree in business.

The couple resides at 525 Stanley Ave., Clarksburg.

Miss Friend To Wed Mr. Jenkins

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee Friend, Friendsville, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Danita Jean, to Joseph Andrew Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jenkins, also of Friendsville.

Miss Friend is a recent graduate of Northern High School. Mr. Jenkins is enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps and is stationed at Camp LeJeune, N.C., where the couple will reside.

The ceremony will take place August 31 at 1:00 p.m. at the Friendsville Methodist Church. A reception will follow at the Friendsville Fire Hall.

The couple and their families invite all friends and relatives to attend.

Walsh-Knox Wedding Vows Recited In July 6 Event

Kimberly Ann Walsh and James Irving Knox Jr. were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony at Zion Lutheran Church, Accident.

Rev. Wilfred Karsten was the officiating clergyman. Mrs. Lynette Karsten was the organist and Louise Younkin was the vocalist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Walsh Jr., Accident.

Mr. Knox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Knox Sr., McHenry.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace. The raised bodice was accented with lace and pearls. The gown featured a Queen Anne neckline and Bishop sleeves with deep cuffs trimmed with Chantilly lace.

The A-line organza skirt swept to a semi-cathedral train beneath lace and organza pleated ruffles. Her hat was covered with matching lace and pleated organza with a floor length veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of blue and white azaleas and white roses with a white ribbon, accented with ferns and baby's breath. The bride's bouquet, as well as all other bouquets used in the ceremony, were made by Sherry Georg.

The bride's only jewelry consisted of diamond earrings given to her by her late grandmother, Ella Mae Walsh.

Charlotte Snyder, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Shirley Knox, sister of the bridegroom and Amy Walsh, sister of the bride. April Walsh, also a sister of the bride, served as flower girl.

Acting as best man was Earl Knox, Jr., cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Roger Knox, cousin of the bridegroom, and Dale Bowser, uncle of the bride. Robert Butler, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer.

Sollars To Be Honored On 50th

The children of Edward and Helen Sollars, Deer Park, will host an open reception to honor their parents on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. The event will be held this Sunday, August 25, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Deer Park fire hall.

Although the family members have sent some invitations, they invite all friends and relatives to attend. They request that gifts be omitted.

Angela Mayfield, Thomas Beeghly Wed During July 19 Ceremony

Angela Sue Mayfield and Thomas Ray Beeghly were united in marriage on July 19. The double-ring ceremony took place at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren with the Rev. Gail Hixon officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Mayfield, Swanton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beeghly, Mtn. Lake Park. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

Becky Cosner was the organist and vocalist, who along with Jerry Kessner sang, "Like A Bridge Over Troubled Water." Sheila Dean Landis served as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Shelba Dean Harvey and Sheila Bowman.

Jeff Uphold served as best man, and ushers were Jim Murphy and Dave DeWitt.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement, with Beverly Collins and Rebecca Rhodes, cousins of the bride serving the cake and punch. Dawn Bowman, aunt of the bride attended the guest book.

Shelly Mayfield, sister of the bride, and Trisha Rinker, cousin of the bride, passed out rice.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School and is employed by Bauer Home Center. The groom is also a graduate of Southern High School and is employed by Devlin, Inc.

Dawn Friend Becomes Bride Of Michael Bowman In July Ceremony

Dawn Mechelle Friend and Gilbert Michael Bowman were united in marriage on July 12. The double-ring ceremony took place at the Glendale Assembly of God, with the Rev. Gail Hixon officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Friend, Swanton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bowman, also of Swanton.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. Becky Cosner was the organist and vocalist, and sang "The Wedding Song." Sheila Bowman, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and Jamie Rinker, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Roy Ahern was best man, and ushers were, Monty Bowman, brother of the groom, and Kenny Friend, brother of the bride.

Paula Friend, Trisha Rinker and Shelly Mayfield, all nieces of the bride, passed out rice.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Serving the cake and punch were: Helen Mayfield, sister-in-law of the bride, Cynthia Rinker, sister of the bride, and Wanda Friend, aunt of the bride. Sue Friend, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School and is presently employed by the Silver Tree Inn.

The groom also is a graduate of Southern High School and is employed by Alpine Village.

Bittinger-Bittinger Couple Wed

Eric Bittinger and Bernadine Bittinger exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, July 27 at the Bethesda Church of the Brethren. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Connell Chaney.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bitttinger, Boynton, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Melba Bittinger.

Martha Glatfely furnished the wedding music and accompanied Margaret Chaney, who sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride wore a white floor-length gown with a train and carried a blue silk corsage.

Both the mother of the bride and the mother of the groom were dressed in white.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church social room, which was decorated in blue and white. A three tiered heart shaped cake was also decorated in blue and white.

The groom is employed in Mechanicsburg, Pa. in building construction. The bride is employed at Meyersdale High School. The couple plans to take up residence near Mechanicsburg.

Bus Trip Sponsored By Eastern Star

A number of persons from Oakland, Friendsville, Westernport, and Cranesville traveled by bus to Jennerstown, Pa., on Sunday, July 28, to see a matinee of the musical "Annie". The trip was sponsored by the Oakland Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Following the performance, the group proceeded to the Oakhurst Tea Room near Somerset, Pa., for a smorgasbord dinner. The Oakland Chapter is planning several other trips, including one to Williamsburg, Va., in October, one to the Century III mall in November, and one to Bedford Village for its annual Christmas show.

These trips are not limited to members of the Eastern Star, but are open to the general public, according to Marie Shroud, chairman of the ways and means committee. Persons may obtain more information about the trips from Ms. Shroud by telephoning her at 334-9757 after 5 p.m.

Lees Celebrate 50th Anniversary

A celebration observing the 50th wedding anniversary of Lillian and Robert Lee, Deep Creek, was given by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, on June 22.

Rev. Martin Feild, St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, officiated at an anniversary Mass at 10 a.m., assisted by Deacons Jim Comfort and Ron Zoubek. During the Mass the couple renewed their wedding vows in the presence of their children, grandchildren and relatives.

A reception, including a buffet and open bar was held at Will 'O the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Over 130 guests attended. Music was provided by the Melody Lane Band, Frostburg. Rev. Feild gave the blessing, and their son, Robert E. Lee, proposed a toast.

During the reception musical selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lee's children and grandchildren: Bob, Kathy and Sharon Lee and Suzanne and Patrick Mitchell. Martin Heise entertained guests with several classical piano selections.

The three-tier anniversary cake was baked and decorated by daughter-in-law, Lynne Lee, Catonsville, and served by Martin Heise.

Out-of-town guests came from Baltimore, Ellicott City, Joppatown, Clarksville and Catonsville, Harrisonburg, Va., and Long Valley, N.J.

Mrs. Lillian Lee is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holtschneider, who resided in Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Lee were married on June 22, 1935, by Bishop John Russell at St. Martin's Catholic Church, Baltimore.

Lucinda Galloway, Mark Graham Wed During June 29 Ceremony

Lucinda J. Galloway and Mark C. Graham exchanged wedding vows June 29 at the Wesley United Methodist Church, Kingwood, W.Va. John Negley performed the afternoon, double-ring, candlelight ceremony.

Nelle Hileman Celebrates 90th

Nelle Hileman, who was 90 years old on August 15, celebrated her birthday on Sunday at her residence, the home of Donald and Mildred Rodeheaver in Accident. Besides the Rodeheavers, those attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Mason Rodeheaver and Gerald, of Friendsville; Kelley Uphole Sr. and Kelley Uphole Jr., both of Accident; Doug, Ward, and Belinda Friend, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Donald and Sharon Rodeheaver, Dixie and Morgan, of Sang Run.

Mrs. James Crane, Kingwood, was the organist, and Nancy Joliffe, North Carolina, was the soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Galloway, Kingwood, and the granddaughter of Paul E. and Jean Jenkins, Oakland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham, Albright, W.Va.

The bride wore a white taffeta gown with a high neckline, ornately designed with Schiffl embroidery and Venice lace. The leg-of-mutton style sleeves were also trimmed with lace. The waistline was accented with a taffeta sash, candy box bow, and streamers. The bottom flounce of her full skirt was trimmed with a lace ruffle.

She carried a cascade bouquet of lavender rosebuds, white orchids, blue monk's hood and baby's breath. She also carried a hand-made lace handkerchief which belonged to her great-great grandmother.

Rebecca Galloway, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a whisper blue taffeta tea length gown and carried a bouquet of lavender roses, orchid daisies and agapanthus.

The bridesmaids were Joan Murphy, Huntington, W.Va.; Erin Arthurs, Morgantown, W.Va., and Pat Bennett, Bridgeport, W.Va. Their gowns were of whisper blue taffeta similar to that of the maid of honor.

Sarah Thott, cousin of the bride, and Angela Crank, niece of the groom, served as flower girls. They wore white flowered batiste floor-length gowns with blue sashes and carried lace baskets of rose petals.

John Sausen, Morgantown, served as best man. Groomsman were Jeff Swecker, Morgantown, Todd Mace, Columbus, Oh., and Danny Thistlewaite, Charleston, W.Va.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Preston Country Club near Kingwood.

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom, was held at The Inn, Kingwood.

The bride is a graduate of West Virginia University School of Nursing and is employed by the Monongalia County Health Department.

The groom is also a graduate of WVU and is employed by the Preston County Board of Education in the Bruceton Elementary School.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania, the couple will reside in Morgantown.

Maude Phillips Celebrates 103 Years

Maude Lantz Phillips, a resident of Dennett Road Manor, Oakland, celebrated her 103rd birthday recently and was honored at a tea attended by family members, staff and other residents of the home.

Maude was born on August 3, 1892, to Andrew and Arabelle Lantz in Greene County, Pa. She was married to Thomas G. Phillips, also of Greene County, on September 7, 1904, in the home of her parents. The couple lived on a farm in Greene County until Mr. Phillips' death in 1961. She then moved to Waynesburg, Pa.

The Phillips were the parents of 10 children, three of whom died in infancy. A son, David, was killed in the "Battle of the Bulge" in World War II. Surviving children include two sons, Lawrence, Nineveh, Pa. and Charles, Waynesburg; and three daughters, Carrie Clutter, Accident; Pearl Grimm, Elyria, Oh.; and Margaret Blair, Monaca, Pa.

Maude also has 11 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren, and 13 great-great-grandchildren. She also has one surviving brother, Lawrence Lantz, Waynesburg.

She is a member of the Swart United Methodist Church and for many years was active in the United Methodist Women's Society. She has been a resident of Dennett Road Manor since August 1979.

"Maude Phillips Day" was declared at the home on August 7.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on September 5, 1985 at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Grand Jury Room (Third Floor Courthouse, Oakland). The Board will review applications on the following docketed cases:

1) Docket SE 141, an application made by Jerry L. Humberston for a Special Exception permit to allow the construction of a drive-in restaurant on their property located on U.S. Rt. 219 in Thayerville (Zoned TC).

2) Docket SE 142, an application made by Jerry L. Humberston for a Special Exception permit to allow the establishment of a real estate office in an existing residence on his property located along Bumle Bee Road across from Garrett Community College (Zoned TR).

3) Docket VR 126, an application made by Ms. Barbara Bowman for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the side yard setback requirement for residences. Specifically Ms. Bowman is requesting a Variance to allow construction of a porch addition to her residence which would extend to within 9 ft. of the side property line. The property is located on Thousand Acres (Zoned LR).

4) Docket SE 143, an application made by Mr. Paul E. Friend for a Special Exception permit to allow the placement of a mobile home on his property for use as a storage building. The property is located on Glendale Road (Zoned LR).

5) Docket SE 144 and VR 127, an application made by Mr. Bill Sisler on behalf of Bill's Marine Service for a Special Exception permit to allow the expansion of a marina operation. Specifically Mr. Sisler wishes to construct a boat storage rack on his "back" property located on Harvey's Peninsula Road. Mr. Sisler is also requesting a Variance to allow construction of the rack to within 20 ft. of the rear property line (Zoned LR).

6) Docket VR 128, an application made by Mr. Anthony G. Scariano, Trustee for the Estate of Fannobel S. Reider, for Variances from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the lot width requirement and the requirement that a lot not be divided by a right-of-way. Specifically Mr. Scariano wishes to use an unrecorded lot of the Fannobel S. Reider Subdivision which is 100 feet wide and divided by a private road right-of-way (.46 acres on the lake side and .54 acres on the "back" side). The property is located on Marsh Hill Road (Zoned LR).

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

The following Articles of Association of the new First United National Bank & Trust is published pursuant to a reorganization of First United, which reorganization was consummated effective at 12:01 a.m., July 1, 1985. The reorganization effected a merger of First United National Bank & Trust into the charter of First United Interim National Bank, the resulting bank, but with the name of the former. The resulting bank then became a subsidiary of the holding company, First United Corporation, with the exchange of two shares of stock of the holding company for each share of the bank.

FIFTH: The authorized amount of capital stock of this Association shall be 5,000 shares of common stock of the par value of Ten Dollars ($10.00) each, but said capital stock may be increased or decreased from time to time, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the United States.

No holder of shares of the capital stock of any class of the Association shall have any preemptive or preferential right of subscription to any shares of any class of stock of the Association, whether now or hereafter authorized, or to any obligations convertible into stock of the Association, issued or sold, nor any right of subscription to any thereof other than such, if any, as the Board of Directors, in its discretion may from time to time determine and at such price as the Board of Directors may from time to time fix.

SIXTH: The Board of Directors shall appoint one of its members President of the Association, who shall be Chairperson of the Board, unless the Board appoints another director to be the Chairperson.

SEVENTH: The Board of Directors shall have the power to appoint one or more Vice Presidents, and to appoint a Cashier and such other officers and employees as may be required to transact the business of the Association.

ELEVENTH: These Articles of Association may be amended at any regular or special meeting of the shareholders by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND

Proposed issue of industrial development revenue bonds Sincell Publishing Company, Inc.

On Tuesday, September 10, 1985, at 10:30 a.m. in the County Commissioners' Meeting Room of the Garrett County Court House Addition, 203 Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, the Director of the Garrett County Economic Development

Department will convene a public hearing with respect to the issuance and sale by Garrett County, Maryland as its limited obligation and not upon its faith and credit or taxing power of one or more series of its industrial development revenue bonds.

The bonds, if issued, will be issued pursuant to the Maryland Economic Development Revenue Bond Act for the purpose of financing the cost of the construction and renovation by Sincell Publishing Company, Inc., a Maryland Corporation, (the "Facility Applicant") of a certain facility (the "Facility") to be located in Garrett County, Maryland. The Facility will consist of (a) the construction and renovation of the existing improvements located in Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, and (b) the construction and installation of certain necessary and useful equipment and machinery. The Facility shall also include buildings, structures, machinery, equipment, furnishings, or other personal property necessary or desirable in connection with the foregoing construction.

The maximum aggregate Facility amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued with respect to the proposed facilities is $260,000.00. The Bonds may be issued at one time or from time to time and in one or more series.

If the Bonds are issued, Garrett County, Maryland will lend or otherwise make the proceeds of the Bonds available to the Facility Applicant, which will use the proceeds for the purpose of financing the cost of acquiring and renovating the Facility.

Interested persons are invited to attend the public hearing and will have a reasonable opportunity to express their views, both orally and in writing, on the proposed issue of Bonds and the location and nature of the proposed facilities to be financed.

Written statements must be submitted to the Director of the Garrett County Economic Development Department at or prior to the time of the public hearing. Any person wishing to submit a written statement prior to the hearing or wishing to receive copies of the resolution authorizing the Bonds should contact the Director of the Garrett County Economic Development Department, Garrett County, Courthouse, 203 Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland 301 334 4200.

This hearing is being held pursuant to Article 25, Section 33(r).

Park Events Set At Herrington, Swallow Falls

Several events have been slated for this week at Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls State Park, according to Buck Jarusek, park interpreter.

There will be a campfire program at Herrington Manor this evening in the park's amphitheater. The program will be on tautermy and will be presented by Denny Shaffer, conservation assistant. It will start at 8 p.m. and will last 1½ hours.

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND, Joseph Curran, visited Bausch & Lomb's Facility in Oakland on July 25. He was accompanied by Mike Lofton and John Kirby, both from the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development. The trip was one of many that Curran makes to industrial sites throughout the state on a monthly basis. John Sheltra, Plant Manager, Allen Barr, Manufacturing Manager, and Jack King, Human Resources Manager, made presentations to Curran and the staff which emphasized the importance of industrial incentives for manufacturing operations in Western Maryland. Tom Jones, of the Garrett County Development Corporation, and Richard Schick, vice president of Human Resources at Bausch & Lomb in Rochester, New York, were also in attendance. Pictured above, left to right, are Allen Barr, John Sheltra, Joseph Curran, Mike Lofton, and Richard Schick.

There will be a 4½ mile track walk on Friday, August 23, at 10 a.m. The walk will deal with tracking wild game and mountain herb identification and use. This walk, part of the Herrington Manor folk program, will begin at the Herrington Manor boathouse and will last 2½ hours.

There will be a beaver dam walk on Saturday, August 24, starting at the Swallow Falls office. This walk will be along Toller Creek to a beaver dam. The walk, which will begin at three p.m., will be 2½ miles long and will last 2½ hours. That evening at Swallow Falls, there will be a campfire program in the park's amphitheater. This program will be about forest management and will be given by Louise Slaughter, one of the forest rangers in this area. The program will start at 8 p.m., and will last 1½ hours.

There will be a canyon trail walk on Sunday, August 25, at Swallow Falls. The walk will be along Muddy Creek and the Youghiogheny River, where visitors can expect to see virgin timber along with natural waterfalls. It will begin at the park's large, lower parking lot at 10 a.m. and will last 1½ hours.

A junior Ranger Program will be offered on Monday, August 26. This program encourages basic outdoor activities and promotes an appreciation of the Garrett County outdoors. This program is available for ages seven through fourteen at no charge. It will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will be held at the Herrington Manor new office.

A non-denomination Bible Story Hour will be conducted by Mrs. Irene Hixon on Tuesday, August 27. There will be songs, stories, games, and prizes for the participants. This activity will begin at 10 a.m. at the Herrington Manor amphitheater and will last one hour.

All of these activities are open to the general public. Persons desiring more information may contact Herrington Manor State Park at 334-9180.

Taking to the high seas with actress in tow

By Maria Tarbell

Al Giddings spent last year sailing the seas in search of underwater adventure. That's not unusual for the 47-year-old Emmy Award-winning naval cinematographer, who shared his high-seas hijinks with a six-man crew and Shawn Weatherly, Miss Universe 1980. The result of such adventure? "oceanQuest," a five-part series that premiered on NBC last week.

In the show, audiences can watch Miss Weatherly dive for treasure, ride a manta ray, sing with a humpback whale, touch the bottom of the world under Antarctica and share close encounters with a Great White shark.

"oceanQuest" began with a conversation on Catalina Island. "I was on (producer) Peter Guber's boat," Giddings remembers. "We'd met when I filmed the underwater sequences for 'The Deep.' We had a long conversation about how frustrating it is to try to present underwater images to the networks. So we came up with the idea of doing a series that would place a neophyte in the middle of an underwater adventure — so that the audience could live it through the eyes of someone who was new to it all."

So Giddings, who also filmed the underwater action for two James Bond movies, started sifting through more than 1,000 resumes in search of the perfect sidekick.

"Most of the models who submitted resumes were gorgeous ladies, but not what I was looking for," he recalls.

Al Giddings

"Even when Shawn's picture came in, I was irritated — I didn't need a pretty face — I needed a super-athlete, somebody who could be on the front lines."

After passing the initial interview, Giddings took Miss Weatherly sailing on the choppy waters of San Francisco Bay. "We rode through enormous swells and waves, and she didn't get seasick," he recalls.

What is Giddings' worst memory of those days on the high seas? "It got tough in Antarctica," he confesses. "The temperature was 70 degrees below zero, and underwater, it was 28.5 degrees. Shawn cried a lot after that swim!"

His best memory? Giddings doesn't miss a beat. "When it was over," he says, with a wide grin.

Betty White returns as a TV 'Golden Girl'

By Marc Minelli

Advance word for "The Golden Girls" seems to indicate the show will be a hit. The NBC sitcom (it will air Saturday nights) focuses on the trials and tribulations of a senior-citizen quartet who have decided to live out their golden years in Miami, not-so-good-as-gold women played by Beatrice Arthur, Betty White, Rue McClanahan and Estelle Getty. Their characters may be slightly tarnished, but judging from the pilot, "Golden Girls" looks like a 14 karat smash.

Betty White

There are laughs here — genuine, belly-aching laughs — but there are also poignant, heartfelt moments. This is no sickly sweet sitcom, the only juggling occurs when medicine bottles are shaken. It's not that these ladies can't juggle, it's simply that they're too busy juggling — their lives, loves and losses.

"This show is going to serve as a great platform for an army of women," says Miss White, 61. "Women must realize senility doesn't have to rule their lives. We're digging up an unplowed field, we're dealing with real-life problems by lacing them with humor. That way none of us come across as preachers."

Is the actress concerned that "The Golden Girls" will only attract the 50-plus crowd?

That was a worry," she admits. "but doesn't everyone have a mother? An aunt? A grandmother?"

The thing that Miss White is more concerned with is the advance acclaim the show has received. "Everybody's been calling us all kinds of great things," she says. "It's nice, but it's also scary. We're going in with all this pre-hype — I only hope we can live up to it."

There's no reason they shouldn't. The "GG" pilot was produced by Susan Harris ("Soap," "Benson," "Hill to the Chief") and directed by Jay Sandrich ("The Mary Tyler Moore Show").

When I heard Jay was directing the show," says Miss White. "I said I would do it because of the success we had with 'Mary.' Why, I did anything for Jay."

Even take second billing to Beatrice Arthur? Miss White's Olive Oyl voice screeches to a halt. "There is no star to this show," she snaps. "There is no room for egos. We are not starlets trying to outdo each other. We are four grown, established stars. If we had to fight each other off, we might as well hang it up."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carew

I used to love Larry Wilcox when he starred with Erik Estrada on "CHiPS." What's the actor up to now that the show has left the air? — R.H., Richmond, Minn.

Larry Wilcox

When "CHiPS" went off the air in 1973 it had a highly successful six-year run on NBC. Wilcox left for an extended South American vacation. He now heads his own production company, called (what else?) Larry Wilcox Productions. The actor, who produced NBC's "The Dorothy Stratten Story," has already sold a series based on Ray Bradbury's short stories to Home Box Office. He also has a CBS film, "Harvest of Evil," about to go into production. Wilcox confided to me that as busy as he is, he misses acting, and is presently looking for the "right" role.

I think Sharon Gless is a terrific actress, and I always make sure I watch "Cagney & Lacey" every week. One question: A friend of mine told me Miss Gless's actual surname is Glass. Is this true? — J.O., Portland, Ore.

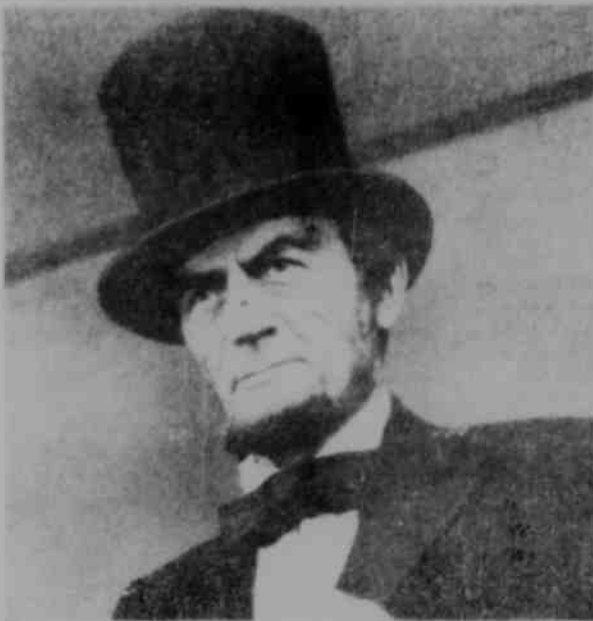

The actress's name is — and always has been — Sharon Gless. Perhaps your friend caught a proofreader's error or is mixing up Miss Gless with composer Philip Glass.

Many years ago, I knew a man named Leo Majors, who always insisted that, one day, he was going to become a famous actor. Could he be "The Six Million Dollar Man," Lee Majors? Or do you think the two Majors are related? — D.L., Redgranite, Wis.

Sorry, D.L., but I don't think they are the same person. Lee Majors was born Lee Yarex in Wynadotte, Mich. His father was killed before he was born, his mother was killed before he was 3 years old. Lee Majors was reared by relatives in the coal-mining regions of Kentucky.

Underwater 'Quest' for Shawn Weatherly

By Renee Ross

Some people play tennis or jog to stay in shape. But for the past year, former Miss Universe (1980) Shawn Weatherly worked out by diving beneath polar icecaps and plunging into the sea to face Great White sharks. The dangerous ventures were part of her amazing role on "oceanQuest," the five-part adventure series that premiered on NBC last week.

Shawn Weatherly

The producers wanted a woman with no diving experience to explore the sea," says Miss Weatherly. "That way, oceanQuest" would be more personal, not just another underwater documentary."

After Miss Weatherly, who played an exercise instructor on the ABC comedy "Shaping Up," got the challenging seafaring role, she joined an all-male crew for an 11-month, 300,000-mile worldwide voyage.

In the course of their "oceanQuest" project, Miss

Weatherly and her crew, including Emmy-winning underwater producer Al Giddings, netted a gigantic shark in the Pacific, searched for buried treasure in the Caribbean, sang with a humpback whale and explored the frigid icecaps of the South Pole.

At times I was miserable and lonely," admits Miss Weatherly, 28, because I was the only woman on board. The year was as difficult emotionally as it was physically. My whole life seems on a different level now. The show made me realize something about human nature. If someone gives you a task that's above your head, you can usually rise to the occasion. I doubt I'll ever have a job as tough as this one," adds the 5-foot-8, 125-pound actress.

Miss Weatherly thinks she might be considered a role model for other women because of her courageous plunge into physical challenge.

It may spur women on to take part in more physical adventures," she explains. "We've all been through the emotional challenge of trying to compete with men in our careers, and we have proven ourselves in athletics. But going out into the wilderness is a whole different ballgame."

I'm from South Carolina, where social tradition says women should be passive. oceanQuest" has taught me that I'm the one who can make things happen in my life. The mind and body must work together. When you get a good relationship between the two, you can accomplish a lot more than if you just use one or the other," adds Miss Weatherly.

Amy's former role; Hunky Lau's past

By Kimberly Redmond

My daughter didn't believe me when I told her that Amy Gibson, the actress who plays Alana Anthony Jackson on "The Young and the Restless," used to be on "Love of Life." Am I right? — C.H., Columbia, Md.

You're right. On "LOL," Miss Gibson portrayed teenage reformed alcoholic Lynn Henderson.

Amy Gibson

I would like to know how daytime dramas got to be known as "soap operas." — L.M., Turner, Me.

In the days of the early radio soaps, they were dubbed "soap operas" because most of them were sponsored by companies who sold soap, such as Procter & Gamble. Today, the company still produces daytime dramas.

I've always thought that "All My Children" star Laurence Lau is a great actor, as well as being a great hunk. I spend every afternoon with him, so why not give me information about him? — B.H., Brinkley, Ark.

Am I right? — C.H., Columbia, Md. Lau, who portrays Greg Nelson on "AMC" was bitten by the acting bug while in college. The actor, who was majoring in finance, won roles in several student productions. Upon graduation, he moved to Hollywood, where he landed roles in such nighttime series as "The Waltons." "Eight Is Enough" and "Happy Days." He appeared in the ABC After-school Special "Tough Girl," and his role in the TV movie "Best Little Girl in the World" led to his screen test for the role of Greg Lau in "Married... with Children," which lives in Manhattan.

Laurence Lau

Robert Redford plays a Chicago conman trying to pin a Manhattan bigwig in "The Sting," the Oscar-winning film airing Sunday, Aug. 25 on ABC. Even the rollicking music is fun! (Rebroadcast)

Shawn Weatherly, Miss Universe 1980, explores the wonders of the deep as she nets sharks, swims with giant clams and sings with humpback whales in "oceanQuest," a special series airing Sunday, Aug. 25 on NBC.

Celeb scribble: Worth big bucks to fans

By Cindy Adams

Oliver Hardy

Something To Think About

R. Mark Durst
DIRECTOR

PUTTING HOUSE IN ORDER

Many people who are good providers all their lives make a terrible mess of things when it comes to providing for their death. Survivors' difficulties can range from the petty and annoying to the truly horrific, especially if the estate becomes enmeshed in court technicalities and governmental red tape.

For this reason, it is truly essential to have a will. If there's property of any consequence in the estate, make sure you get the best attorney possible. The legal fees are small in comparison to what is risked by cutting corners. You should make a simple will even if you think you don't have much wealth to leave.

Also, you should have some sort of inventory. Millions of dollars in bank deposits and valuables sit idle and unclaimed because no one knew of their existence. So make a list of all accounts, safe deposit holdings, insurance policies, properly, etc.

Fraud Hotline Success Noted By Maryland DET

Since it began operation on June 18, 1984, more than 1,000 calls have been received through the Unemployment Insurance Fraud Hotline, according to officials at the Maryland Department of Employment and Training (DET).

Resulting in the detection of over $103,224 in overpayments, the U.I. Fraud Hotline, 1-800-492-6804, has enabled Maryland citizens to assist DET in maintaining the integrity of the Unemployment Insurance program explained Brent Johnson, Secretary of Employment and Training.

The U.I. Fraud Hotline is one component of the Unemployment Insurance Claims Investigation Unit where several programs have been implemented in a continuing effort to reduce improper and fraudulent collection of Unemployment Insurance benefits. Those programs include various random audit procedures and Cross-match, a computerized system which compares benefits paid to claimants with employer wage reports.

Over the same period of time, all of these programs have been instrumental in the conviction of 387 persons for Unemployment Insurance fraud and the identification of $2,437,490 in overpayments.

Secretary Johnson explained that while the overwhelming majority of persons collecting benefits are entitled to them under the law, DET recognizes its responsibility to make every reasonable effort to detect and prevent fraud within the program. The Hotline provides the public a no-cost, confidential and direct means of assisting in this regard.

To report incidences of suspected fraud, callers should be prepared to provide the department with as much information as possible such as the name, home address, work address and physical description of the claimant as well as the social security number, if known, and an explanation of the alleged violation.

While there are many actions which could constitute fraud within the program, Unemployment Insurance officials say that the following are the most common for claimants: self-employment and unreported earnings; receiving income from other sources such as Workmen's Compensation, pensions or social security; not actively seeking work because of imprisonment, attending school full-time, or vacationing out of town; and not accepting suitable job offers.

Employers also defraud the system by paying wages "under the table" and listing fictitious employees on payroll records.

In the coming weeks, the Maryland Department of Employment and Training will be using television and radio public service announcements, notices of Unemployment Insurance claimants, posters and handouts to promote the Unemployment Insurance Fraud Hotline.

New Horizons To Sponsor Office Skills Course

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Continuing Education Dept. of GCC, will offer Basic Office Skills and Procedures I and II this fall beginning Monday, September 9. These classes will be held twice a week, Monday and Wednesday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for 14 weeks.

Included in the training will be beginning typing, filing, bookkeeping, telephone etiquette, public relations, proper appearance for offices, proofreading, spelling skills, proper grammar in business, and correct English structure in letters and office correspondence.

New Horizons has tuition assistance plus child care and transportation financial assistance available for eligible persons interested in enrolling in this training program. Class size is limited to 15 and enrollment will be on a first-come, first-serve basis.

For more information, persons may call New Horizons at 334-9184 or to register for this training program, visit the New Horizons office at the Oakland Center of GCC in Room 607 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Phosphate Ban Will Go Into Effect Dec. 1

The 1985 General Assembly has enacted legislation that will ban the sale of phosphate detergents in Maryland, effective December 1, 1985, according to Richard Sellars of the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

A ban on the sale of phosphate detergents in Maryland was enacted in an attempt to reduce phosphorus loads in the Chesapeake Bay. The DHMH is responsible for the implementation of this legislation.

This first advisory is being issued to make the public aware of the ban and inform industries, wholesalers and retailers to plan for product line changes, as necessary, by the implementation date of December 1, 1985.

The phosphate ban states, "A person may not use, sell, manufacture, or distribute for use or sale within the State any cleaning agent that contains more than 0.0 percent phosphorus by weight expressed as elemental phosphorus, except for an amount not exceeding 0.5 percent phosphorus that is incidental to manufacturing."

Because the legislation contains numerous exemptions for specialty cleaning products, the DHMH intends to implement the ban only in the area of laundry detergents and dishwashing compounds. Dishwashing detergents containing up to 8.7 percent phosphorus by weight are also exempt from the ban.

Consumers are expected to experience minimal changes in purchasing habits because of the numerous phosphate free or low phosphate products presently available on the market.

The major suppliers of phosphate detergents in Maryland have been working with the DHMH on the implementation program to assure, through proper inventory management, that the supply of detergents containing phosphates will no longer be available in retail outlets by December 1, 1985. The Department is working to assure cooperation between industries and retail stores during this implementation phase.

The legislation provides penalties for consumers, businesses, and industries found in violation of the ban. Personal use of phosphate detergents is a misdemeanor and subject to a fine not exceeding $100. Selling, manufacturing, or distributing phosphate detergents is a misdemeanor and subject to a fine not exceeding $1000.

Further advisories on the Maryland phosphate ban will be available in the near future.

Committee Bond Winner Announced

Paul Frantz, secretary of the Garrett County Republican State Central Committee, announced that Mrs. Dianna Breeden, Reva, Va., was the winner of the $50 savings bond drawing which was held at the Garrett County Fair last week.

Frantz said, "The central committee would like to thank all who stopped to sign up for the bond and the many workers who gave of their time to work at the booth."

PEOPLE AND MEDICINES SOME LIKE IT HOT!

Every body has a different tolerance to heat. Some people no matter what the temperature seem to be cool and unaffected. Others start to wilt at the first signs of warm weather. Drugs to react to temperature changes in different ways. With some medicines special storage precautions must be taken to insure that a sudden change in temperature does not occur and effect the potency of the drug.

Every Man's Home Is ...

Sure, once it was comforting to think that your home was your castle. Castles don't provide the security they once did.

Better to view our homes as moral and spiritual fortresses. Here we can live our beliefs and principles, and provide example to our children. Here we shelter those we love from ideas and influences that would harm them.

Except that today only a fraction of life is lived at home. The individual must gain a strength and integrity to carry to the street!

It is gained—and shared with those we love—as families worship God.

At home and at church we build our castle!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

LIFT YOUR EYES ...AND SEE!

August 25, 1985

Background Scripture:

Malachi

Devotional Reading:

Malachi 1:6-14

One of the biggest problems with human nature is that we see things differently than God does. And sometimes those differences can be vitally important.

This is particularly apparent in the Book of Malachi. For example, Malachi begins his book with one of these important differences: "I have loved you very deeply," says the Lord. And the people reply, "Really? When was this?" (1:1). God and his people looked at the same data, but each saw it differently. To God, his acts were the proof of his love. But obviously, the people saw these same acts differently. So, Malachi proclaims, "O Israel, lift your eyes to see what God is doing all around the world; then you will say, 'Truly, the Lord's great power goes far beyond our borders!'" (1:4).

WHO? US?

Malachi passes on quickly to another area of misunderstanding: what constitutes sin? God says, "I am your Father and Master, yet you don't honor me, O priests, but you despise my name" (1:6). And the priests reply incredulously, "Who? Us?...When did we despise your name?"

Through Malachi, God says that when they made offerings of lame animals (thinking God didn't really mind if they gave him less than their best), they were, in effect, making polluted sacrifices. Once again, they saw it one way and God saw it another. So they need to "lift" their eyes and try to "see" as God does.

Another area in Malachi 3 the prophet foresees the coming of God's Messenger. "But who can live when he appears?" asks the prophet, "Who can endure his coming?" To God's children, the coming of his Messenger seems to be an ominous event. It is seen as a time of punishment and retribution.

A REFINER'S FIRE

But even this God sees differently. The purpose of his coming will be salvation, renewal, not punishment and condemnation. Yes, the Messenger will come like a fire, but it will be as a refiner's fire—a fire to burn away the sin and the dross. As in refining silver, the finished product is not something broken, but purified. Things haven't really changed all that much since Malachi, have they? Like the people then, we look at our lives and say, "What has God done for me lately?" We wonder how it could be that he is dissatisfied with us. And when we are called to face tribulation, we complain bitterly, even though it is a refiner's fire.

So, also to us: "Lift your eyes...and see!"

*Personalized photos and phone calls:

Make sure your grandchildren are given a photograph of you so that they can carry it around. Too often, pictures end up on top of the TV. Try to send a photo of yourself holding the telephone—that way, the little ones can visualize you when you speak on the phone.

*Low-cost kiddie stationery:

Write to your little grandchildren, even the ones who can't read yet. Use left-over scraps of gift wrap, and draw hearts and x's with a felt-tip pen. Draw a smiling face with some glasses on—or some other symbol. The toddler who can't read can recognize grandma's sign.

*Writing up family good news:

Put together a family newsletter. Write a weekly one-page letter, complete with headlines, and make copies that go to all members of your far-flung family. The headlines could be "Matthew Gets Good Grades on Report Card;" or "New Teeth for Jennifer." Kids love to read about themselves, and the whole family gets news. It's not big news, but it's exciting for kids to see that grandma thinks what they've done is great.

LONG DISTANCE GRANDPARENTING TIPS

There are a variety of reasons why grandparents may not be able to see grandchildren such as death, divorce, or custody problems. When there is a distance between grandparents and grandchildren, the following tips will help to foster positive relationships across the miles:

*Story-telling across the miles:

Tape stories for your grandchildren. Sometimes you can do it when they visit. As you read the story together, record it. Other times, do it alone, but talk to the child as you read the story. Personalized stories like this are really precious to the child. Grandchildren can play the tapes on long car trips. Even if your grandchild is nearby, the tape may come in handy for naptime or other times when you or his parents are too busy to concentrate on a

Medical Receptionist Training Scheduled By New Horizons

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College has made arrangements through the Continuing Education Dept. of GCC to enable eligible participants of the program to receive training as medical receptionist by enrolling in a class beginning on Monday, September 9, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The class will be held twice weekly for 10 weeks.

The course will cover medical terminology which will enable the student to learn the spelling and definition of medical terms. It will also include basic office skills, telephone etiquette, patient appointments and scheduling, billing, insurance forms, logging doctors' orders on patient charts, and other pertinent information required for a medical office.

New Horizons has tuition assistance available to interested persons who qualify for the program as well as money to assist in child care and transportation who may wish to enroll in medical receptionist training. For more information, call New Horizons at 334-9184, or to register for this training, visit the New Horizons office at the Oakland Center of GCC in Room 607 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Postal Service To Seek Increase In Zip/4 Discount

The Postal Service has reinforced its commitment to ZIP + 4 coding by announcing plans to seek an increase in rate incentives for business mailers who use the expanded ZIP code.

Postmaster General Paul N. Carlin announced the plans during an August 6 meeting of the Postal Service's Board of Governors, in Anchorage, Alaska.

Carlin said postal officials will recommend to the Governors that late this fall a filing be made with the independent Postal Rate Commission for greater incentives for ZIP + 4 presorted mail. The present discount for such mail is one-half cent per piece.

The Postmaster General also announced plans to test optical character readers capable of reading a multi-line address, assigning a correct ZIP + 4 code and applying a bar code that can be read by automated sorting machines at destination post offices.

The feasibility of converting some existing optical character readers to multi-line reading capacity also will be tested.

Carlin emphasized that acquisition of new machines would not diminish that importance of ZIP + 4 coding to the Postal Service's efforts to cut costs and stabilize postal rates.

"I would like to make it clear," he said, "that mailer application of the ZIP + 4 code is the priority means of encoding mail. Mailer-encoded ZIP + 4, coupled with multi-line equipment, will provide the highest productivity gains for the Postal Service, which, in turn, will help to hold down postal rates."

"The Postal Service will continue to pursue mailer conversion to ZIP + 4 now and in the future," he concluded.

Representative of New Horizons To Visit Friendsville

A special representative of the New Horizons Program will be at the Friendsville Library on Thursday, August 29, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. to provide services to participating clients in that area who are in need of re-registering for the program's services and to register for credit and non-credit vocational training as well as child care and transportation financial assistance.

New Horizons provides services for single parents and homemakers who need to enter or re-enter the job market. There have been changes in program operation for the 1985-86 funding year and it is necessary for previous clients to re-enter the program by filling out new intake forms in order to continue to receive services from the program. Any newly interested persons are also encouraged to attend this special meeting arrangement at the Friendsville Library in order to become familiar with the program services of the New Horizons Program and to learn if they may be eligible for the program.

Persons are asked to phone New Horizons at 334-9184 weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. to inform the staff members of their desire to participate in this special meeting.

Park Employees Are Recognized

Larry Streets and James Walker have been selected as "Safe Employee of the Month" respectively for the month of June and July at Herrington Manor State Park. Each received a complimentary pizza from the Oakland Pizza Hut and two cases of soft drinks from Oakland Coca-Cola and Cumberland Pepsi-Cola. These three companies have been long term supporters of the local state forest and park safety incentive program.

Streets, a 17 year old first year park employee, is a native of Garrett County and resides with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rodeheaver at Underwood near Crellin. He is a junior at Southern High School and enjoys hunting and fishing. Commenting on his position at Herrington Manor, Streets said, "I enjoy working in the park and meeting the visitors. This is my first real job. The work is challenging and varied. That keeps my interest high. I try to work safely and to set an example that will help others to work safely. No job is so important that it can't be done safely." After graduation Streets expects to enlist in the U.S. Army.

Walker, age 35, has worked at Herrington Manor for two years. He finds park work to be both challenging and satisfying. Walker explained that his duties range from lawn maintenance and simple cleaning tasks to appliance repair, road and trail maintenance and re-roofing buildings to mention a few.

However, helping visitors to have a safe and pleasurable park visit and to instill in them the desire to return to Garrett County tops Walker's list as his most satisfying accomplishments.

Walker resides at 400 E Street, Mt. Lake Park, with his wife Judy and children Jimmy and Erin. He enjoys trout fishing, all types of hunting and searching for ginseng. Being a Viet Nam army veteran, Walker is enrolled at the Diesel Institute of America at Grantsville and will graduate next spring.

Newcomers Club Meeting Stated

The Newcomers Homemakers club of Oakland will be meeting at Cindy Stonesifer's farm near Terra Alta, W. Va., on August 30, from 10:00 a.m. until noon with a brown bag lunch following the meeting.

Members, along with those interested in joining the club, are asked to meet promptly at 9:30 a.m. in the parking lot of St. Mark's Lutheran Church for car pooling and directions to the farm.

According to Amy Rudy, president of the club, the purpose of the meeting will be to plan programs for the 1985-86 club year. Rudy said the Newcomers' regular meeting time is 10:00 a.m. until noon, the first Friday of every month at St. Mark's church basement.

The president extended a welcome to all persons, regardless of sex, race or religious beliefs. Further information may be obtained by calling Rudy at 334-2220 or Sharon Schwalm at 334-9331.

Mathias Favors Six-Year Term For President

Calling the Presidential term "a horse and buggy mechanism," Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) today said that Presidents should serve only one six-year term.

Mathias has become co-sponsor of Senate Joint Resolution 171, which would amend the Constitution to limit the President to a single six-year term.

"A single six-year Presidential term would remove the temptation for the President to confuse what's best for the country with what will be best for his party—or for himself—at reelection," explained Mathias.

He pointed out that the idea is not new and that it was debated at the Constitutional Convention in 1787. Constitutional amendments on a six-year term have been proposed more than 150 times in the Congress over the years. Several Presidents, from Andrew Jackson through Jimmy Carter, have also advocated the concept.

"The chief executive, and his supporters and opponents in Congress can't keep their eyes on the ball if they are continually distracted by the prospect of a campaign a few months—or years—down the road," argued Mathias.

"In recent years we've seen some troubling indications of the price we pay for the current system: lack of continuity and predictability, particularly in foreign policy; inability to take the long view that's needed for wise policy choices; and increased difficulty in forging a bipartisan approach to tough national problems," he said.

Hearings on a six-year term were last held in the Senate in 1971. Since then, four men have occupied the Oval Office and each was involved in a hard-fought campaign. "This recent history has a lot to teach us about the contradictory roles of the President, as chief executive and as a political partisan," Mathias added.

"Elected officials, constitutional scholars, and other citizens will no doubt draw divergent lessons from the recent past," Mathias observed. "A thorough national debate on a single six-year Presidential term can only enrich our political discourse."

Stanton Family Reunion Held

The 33rd annual reunion of the late William T. and Annie Mary (Durst) Stanton family was held August 11 at "The Maples" near Grantsville. Seventy-six members and guests were present for a picnic lunch, followed by a business meeting conducted by William T. Stanton, president.

Officers elected for 1986 are: president, Donald Stanton; vice president, William T. Stanton and secretary-treasurer, Sally Stanton Jarrett.

The following were presented gifts: oldest, Almira T. Stanton; youngest, Guy S. Stanton, III; longest married, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton; most recently married, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Beiler; longest hair, Lucretia Stanton; least hair, Wilbur Myers; most eligible bachelor, Robb Cass; most eligible bachelorette, Holly Stanton; farthest travelled, Bob Johnson; largest family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Upole. The M&M candy count was won by Mrs. Terry Stanton and an all-around good sport gift was presented to Wayne Myers.

The 1882 wedding certificate of William T. and Annie Stanton was on display. Also available were other family pictures, scrapbooks and genealogy material. All family information is welcomed to be included and to update the Stanton family genealogy.

The next reunion is scheduled for the second Sunday in August 1986 at the same location.

Bowser Family Meets August 4

The 13th annual Bowser reunion was held at the residence of Wilbur A. Bowser, Rock Lodge Road, on Sunday, August 4. There were 75 relatives and friends present, attending from Paraguay, South America; California, Arizona, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

Gifts were presented to Earlene Richardson, travelling the greatest distance; William Hardesty, oldest person present; Terry Bowser, youngest present; and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bowser, largest family present.

Nordeck-Shaffer Reunion Held

The 65th annual family reunion of the Nordeck-Shaffer families was held recently at Loch Lynn.

The recipient of the traditional Phillip Nordeck cup was Emma Shaffer. Awards were made to Bessie Shaffer as oldest family member present; to Karl Shaffer as youngest present; and to largest number of family in one household, David Shaffer and to Bernard Shaffer, a tie. Other awards were given to Thelma Shaffer and Emma Shaffer for the largest number of descendants present.

Lewis Clan Has 24th Reunion

The 24th annual Lewis reunion was held Sunday at the Swallow Falls pavilion with 107 descendants in attendance. Those attending travelled from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Mississippi and California.

The children of Emory E. and Mary Matilda Hardesty Lewis who attended were Henry C. Lewis, Minnie Teets, Bessie Criss, Anna Lee, Raymond Lewis and Grace Rush. Because of ill health, Charles and Oliver Lewis were unable to attend.

Games were played by the children and singing was provided by various groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lee Harvey and Dr. and Mrs. Alvin P. Friend were elected as officers for the 1986 reunion which is planned for the second Sunday in August.

Survey Results Are Meeting Topic Of Presbyterians

The Grafton Presbytery New Church Development Committee of the Presbyterian Church, USA, will be holding a meeting on August 25, from 6 to 7:30 p.m., at the Mtn. Top Seventh Day Adventist Church, to review the survey results and plan future activities for those interested in the Presbyterian denomination in the west central part of Garrett County.

All those interested in establishing a Presbyterian presence in that part of the county are invited to attend the meeting and vespers, conducted by the Rev. Donna Lee Shogren, pastor of the Terra Alta Presbyterian Church. After the committee has met, coffee and cookies will be served.

The committee reported the following results from the post-card survey conducted last month:

Of the 285 cards returned, those interested in a Presbyterian presence in West Central Garrett County numbered 45. Of those interested, 31 are full-time residents, six are weekenders, and five are seasonal residents. Eight stated that they are unchurched and the remainder are members of established Protestant denominations, 18 from the Oakland area, 15 from McHenry, six from Swanton, and four from Deer Park.

Rev. Shogren strongly urges all those who have not returned their survey cards to do so immediately so that the survey can be terminated. She emphasizes that the survey will be more credible if the number of returned cards is larger than that returned so far.

Preston County History Book Again Available

The Executive Committee of Preston County Historical Society has released the second printing of its "1979 Preston County, West Virginia History" to Walsworth Publishers.

Delivery of preordered books to individual addresses is expected the last week in September. Only 50 extra copies were ordered. Anyone interested in securing one of those fifty books should contact the Society promptly at 215 Jackson Street, Kingwood, WV 26537, (304) 329-1468.

Home Destroyed
The 140-year-old home on the Glenn Fint farm at Aurora was reduced to ashes in an August 17 afternoon fire which erupted suddenly and consumed the frame home quickly. There was no one at the home at the time and the structure was totally involved before flames were noticed. Aurora, Mt. Grove and Rowlesburg, VFDs answered the call, but were unable to save any of the structure or its contents. This home was uniquely constructed and one of the oldest homes in the Aurora area.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fint and their children, Courtney, Joey and Rebecca, vacationed last weekend at Nag's Head, N.C., along with Joe's sisters, Linda Carol Roberson and Jamie of Morgantown, Nancy and Carl Winters and three children of Manassas, Va., and his mother, Mrs. Ilene Fint. They returned on Tuesday to their home in Aurora.

Jean and Herb White, Dickerson, Md., spent last week in their Younghigheny Forest home and visited with Mrs. Nina Bess at Aurora.

Visiting in Egdon this weekend were Gene and Thelma Simpson of Martin's Ferry, Ohio. On Saturday evening they were guests of her brother-in-law and sister, Robert and Dorothy Spaid, in Aurora, for a family cookout and on Sunday dinner were joined at her mother's, Mildred Wilt's, by Robert and Dorothy Spaid, Bernard and Alden Wilt, her brothers.

Bill and Sandra Hauser and their children, Wade, Joe and Beth of Stemple Ridge, visited in Ashland, Ky., this past weekend with his sister and brother-in-law, Bonnie and Charlie Douglas.

Mike and June Sisler and their three children of Amboy were weekend visitors at Martinsburg with his brother-in-law and sister, Ron and Jana Freeman and Skylar, and on Saturday toured Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Lee (Maxine) Martin returned last week to her home following surgery at Monongalia General Hospital.

Mrs. Lucy Wilt was transferred Thursday from Preston Memorial Hospital to Monongalia General where she remains a patient.

Mrs. Lucille Arnold of Egdon, was taken Thursday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital and remains a patient there.

A cook-out Thursday evening at the home of Alden and Carolyn Wilt in Egdon, was planned by her coworkers in the dietary department of Cortland Acres Nursing Home and attended by them and their families as a farewell gesture. Carolyn is now employed as an aide at the home.

Coliene Shaffer was transferred last week from Cranberry Glades Nursing Home to Cortland Acres.

Knotts Family Reunion
With 152 in attendance, the Knotts family met for a reunion at the Lantz Ridge Community Building on August 11. Following the 1:00 p.m. basket dinner, a business session was held during which officers were elected. They are: president, Junior Knotts; vice president, Wanda White; secretary-treasurer, Elizabeth Stemple, and program committee, Homer Knotts, Wanda White, Edna Wiles and Connie Knotts. The Gospel Four Quartet from Rowlesburg, provided entertainment and they were assisted by Junior Knotts and the Rev. Beth Russell of Christ Methodist Church in Rowlesburg.

Robert Knotts of Salisbury, N.C., told of Knotts family history and distributed books with history of the Knotts family in Nevada.

Gifts were presented to: oldest lady present, Amy Lantz, 92, of Fairmont; youngest child, Benjamin Adams; travelled farthest, Lanny Knotts and family; largest family there, Don and Elizabeth Stemple; most recently married, Robin Knotts and Greg Trenum and oldest man, Willard Knotts, 81.

Celebrates 70th
A birthday dinner was given by Helen Knotts and daughter, Donna, on August 12 at their Manheim home to honor Helen's husband, Homer, on his 70th birthday.

Guests present at the cookout were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pyles, Pat Waller and granddaughter, Amanda, Dave and Debby Knotts and Jamie, James and Grace Knotts, Gloria Uphold, Alma and Junior Knotts, Bob and Edna Wiles. Also attending were Homer's and Helen's children and grandchildren, Lanny and Faye Knotts and three children of Ypsanti, Mich., and Allen and Donna Goff and Buddy of Rowlesburg.

of oats into the threshing machine; Heyward, Clarence, JoAnn, and visiting niece Sarah Imber, sacking the oats. The family feels that sometimes the old way is still the best way, which is proven to them by the quality of grain they produce and the economy of threshing compared to the alternatives on their small farm. Oakland Agrees To Comply With Court Lawsuit

Oakland will go ahead with its planned sewage treatment plant, and has agreed to have it completed within a two-year deadline, or will be required to pay the state a $10,000 fine.

After attorney for the town of Oakland, Robert E. Watson, ironed out a difference between the shortened deadlines contained in a consent agreement filed in Garrett County Circuit Court on August 9, and was able to have the allotted times changed back to the original deadlines, the Oakland mayor and council signed the consent agreement that same day.

The consent agreement was filed simultaneously with a lawsuit against the town by the state health department for its failure to build a suitable sewage treatment plant.

The consent agreement states that within 30 days of signing, the town must pay $10,000 in civil penalties. The payment of that amount into an escrow account was authorized by Robert Boal, councilman in charge of the sewer project, two weeks ago.

If the town complies with all the deadlines, the town will get $8,000 of that money back at the end of the allotted time when the treatment plant is constructed. In addition to the $8,000 the town will get back, it will be able to draw interest on the principal ($10,000) in the escrow account.

"It's a shame we had to pay anything when we're making such an effort to begin the

"Pay One Price" Worked For '85 Garrett Co. Fair

Spectators, exhibitors, and fair board members all seem to agree that the "pay one price" gate fee worked for the 1985 Garrett County Fair.

According to Lee Shillingburg, fair board president, the carnival owner and manager were pleased with the large crowds that took advantage of riding all day for the price of gate admission, and that fairgoers were pleased to be able to ride "free" after paying $3 to enter the fair.

Although the fair board is not positive at this time that record crowds attended this year's fair, they feel that the crowds equal other record years.

The fair board public relations director, Loretta Opel, said that good crowds attended the free entertainment on stage, and that local talent seemed to bring in as many spectators as the "big name, high price" groups which performed at the fair in the past.

Good sales were reported by many of the food booths, although totals are not available at this time.

The tractor pull, one of the most popular events at the fair, definitely had record attendance, while attendance at some of the events later in the week was low, possibly because of the wet weather.

Exit surveys were taken, asking questions about the persons age and residence, the amount of money spent on food, how the person liked the "pay one price", how the fair can be improved.

Coal Magnate, Carl DelSignore, Dies Wednesday

Carl DelSignore, of Mtn. Lake Park, owner of Buffalo Coal Company, Davis Trucking, DelSignore Lumber Company, and Bison Coal Company, died at age 64, Wednesday, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born September 26, 1920, in Bayard, W.Va., he was a son of the late Paolo "Paul" DelSignore and Vincenza "Jennie" (Pizzaferrato) DelSignore.

Mr. DelSignore was the owner, chief executive officer, and chairman of the board of Buffalo Coal Company in Bayard. He was the owner of Davis Trucking, DelSignore Lumber Company, Bison Coal Company, and Del-Acres.

He was a member of St. Peters Catholic Church in Oakland, a Navy veteran of World War II, member of Proctor Kid-dow Post 71 American Legion, and the VFW. He was a lifetime member of the Eagles in Davis, W.Va., and the Oakland Lodge VPO Elks. He was a member of the board of directors of The Garrett National Bank, Oakland, and a member of the Oakland Country Club. Mr. DelSignore was past chairman of MARC and director and outgoing chairman of the West Vir-

Civil Air Patrol Conducts Search For Downed Plane

A search is being conducted by the Civil Air Patrol to locate a single-engine plane believed to have gone down as early as Saturday in the tri-state area.

A relative of the two people on board the Cessna 182 plane notified Garrett Central alarm at 11:36 a.m. Monday. Apparently, the plane left from Manassas, Va. on Saturday on its way to Morgantown, W.Va., but never arrived at its destination. A weak signal from an emergency transmitter was received Sunday.

A sergeant with the Civil Air Patrol at Scott Air Force Base in Illinois said that the group is essentially looking from Morgantown, along the border of Maryland, over to Martinsburg, W.Va.

The National Capitol Wing of the CAP will enter the search today.

Carlson Named Southern Middle Vice Principal

William Carlson, Pupil Personnel Worker for the Garrett County Board of Education, has been named the new assistant principal of Southern Middle School by the Board of Education. Carlson will succeed Wilda Massi who recently was appointed principal of Northern Middle School.

Carlson holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Frostburg State College, with a minor in English. He received his master's degree in counseling and guidance from West Virginia University, Morgantown, W.Va. He has also earned 60 credit hours beyond his master's at various colleges including W.V.U. and Frostburg.

He holds a Maryland Certificate for supervisor of pupil personnel, secondary principal and supervisor, school psychologist for grades kindergarten through 12, pupil personnel for grades kindergarten through 12, guidance for grades seven through 12, and secondary English and psychology.

Carlson has worked for the Garrett County Board of Education since September of 1968, when he began teaching at Northern High School. During his five years at Northern, Carlson taught English and psychology.

In September of 1973, he was transferred to the central office of the Board of Education under the title of Elementary Resource Teacher Guidance. Within a year, he was working for the Board of Education as a Pupil Personnel Worker.

In discussing his new position, Carlson said, "I am very pleased to have the opportunity to work with such a good staff, and I'm looking forward to having some good years."

Carlson resides in Mtn. Lake Park with his wife, Sandra (Duda) Carlson, and his two children, Brian and Natalie.

"Hello, Dolly" Tryouts Slated

Tryouts for the Garrett Choral Society production of "Hello, Dolly" will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, September 4 and 5 at 7:30 p.m. at Southern High School.

The Choral Society has given many concerts in the past eight years and has put on such productions as "Fiddler on the Roof" and "South Pacific."

"Hello, Dolly" will be co-directed by Jane Avery and Nancy Learey, with lighting by Fred Learey and sets by Asa McCain and crew.

There are casting parts for men, women and children and, according to the co-directors, new talent is always welcome.

Labor Day Closing

The Republican office will close on Monday, Sept. 2 for Labor Day. Regular business hours will resume on Tuesday, Sept. 3 at 8 a.m.

Dessa Harvey Sees 100 Years Of Change In County

Dessa Callis Harvey celebrated her 100th birthday with family and friends this week at the Goodwill Mennonite Home in Grantsville, where she resides.

She was born at Hoyes on August 22, 1885, the daughter of William Callis and Caroline Deal Callis. Her father was a blacksmith and wheelwright and could build a wagon from the ground up. She attended the elementary school at Hoyes, known then as the Johnstown School of Hoyes.

She became a teacher, receiving her training by attending the Normal School at Oakland. She is proud of the fact that she had a botany class taught by Dr. Joseph E. Harned, an Oakland druggist, who later wrote the book "Wild Flowers of the Alleghenies."

She saw it that each of her children received a copy personally autographed by the author.

She taught at the Frazee Ridge School, District 4, in the Friendsville area, during the term of 1906-1906; at the Gendale School, District 1, in the North Glade community, during the term of 1906-1907; and at the Shook Shop School, District 8, in the Ryan's Glade community, during the term of 1907-1908.

In August following the 1908 term, she married Calvin Guy Harvey, whose father and uncle were trustees of the school. At least seven of her husband's brothers and sisters had been her pupils. One survives.

After their marriage, they lived in several places for short periods of time, including about a year and a half at Hoyes where her husband worked on the building of the paved road from Keyser's Ridge to Oakland, now Route 219.

In the spring of 1914 they moved to a farm belonging to the Dan Offutt family of Oakland, where her husband was the farm manager for several years. A few years later they became the owners of a farm adjoining the Offutt farm and where they spent the remaining years of their farming career. In 1958 they retired from the farm and moved to Mountain Lake Park.

Mountain Lake Park was especially dear to Dessa and her husband. It was the center of their courtship days. Not far from there one snowy day or night, their sleigh upset and both of them were dumped into

Search For Three Missing Persons Ends In Double Murder/Suicide

What began as a search for three persons reportedly lost while picking berries in the Eagle Rock area last week, ended in an apparent double murder and suicide, according to the Maryland State Police.

Richard Allen Smith, 24, and his wife, Donna Sue Smith, 29, both of Swanton, were found shot to death last Thursday at 3:36 p.m., nearly 24 hours after they were reported missing. Connie Sue Smith, 13, Donna's daughter, was also found shot to death the following day between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Detective Sgt. John F. McGowan, head of the investigation at the LaVale barracks, said Richard and Donna Smith's bodies were found in the quarry at Eagle Rock, while Connie's nude body was found on the other side of the road, nearly a mile away.

McGowan said a family member first located a pail on Thursday and then the bodies of Richard and Donna Smith and that a member of the search team located Connie Smith's body on Friday.

All three were pronounced dead at the scene by Garrett County Medical Examiner James Feaster and were transported to Baltimore for autopsies. When asked to comment on the case, Feaster declined, saying, "The newspaper is no place to hash out matters such as these."

McGowan did confirm that Richard Smith sustained one gunshot wound to the head, while the two females both sustained two gunshot wounds each to the head and neck areas. Donna Smith was reportedly found nude from the waist up. The weapon believed to have been used in the shootings was identified by police as a .22 caliber rifle.

McGowan stated Friday that the State Police is continuing an extensive investigation into the motive and background of the shooting. State Police said preliminary information showed Donna and her daughter to be homicide victims. McGowan, along with Sgt. M. R. Mattingly, head of investigations at the McHenry detachment, both said all indications are that Richard's fatal injury was self-inflicted.

According to police, the preliminary investigation shows Richard Smith had taken his wife, Donna's daughters, Connie, 13, and Becky, 3, and his niece, Teresa, 12, into the woods at Eagle Rock to pick berries. He was reported to have taken his wife down a road claiming to be looking for another area of berries. McGowan said the other three heard shots being fired and then saw Smith return.

When he returned, he reportedly told the three girls to look for Donna. Connie allegedly told him she couldn't see and that he should show her where to look. McGowan said Teresa and Becky were told to wait at the car, a 1973 Buick, and to get help in an hour if they did not return.

Connie Smith was shot approximately a mile away and Richard Smith then apparently moved his wife and shot himself, police said.

The State Police were notified of the missing three persons after Teresa and Becky Smith walked down the road to a trailer and called their grandmother, who in turn called Teresa's father, Joseph Smith. He reportedly got in touch with Garrett County Emergency Management and the State Police.

At that point, an extensive search was begun Wednesday afternoon for the three initially reported lost in the Potomac State Forest area.

State Police, along with several family members and volunteer searchers, remained at the crime scene through the night Thursday. On Friday, a search warrant was obtained for Richard Smith's house, said police.

Although a motive has not yet been established for the murders, several details and background information have been revealed by police:

-Prior to the double murder-suicide, Richard Smith reportedly told his three-year-old stepdaughter, Becky, and his 12-year-old niece, Teresa to stop crying or he would kill them. Reportedly, that was just before Smith reentered the woods to "search" for his wife and her 13-year-old daughter, Connie. Connie Smith was reportedly the natural daughter of Richard's brother, Joseph Smith, making her a niece as well as a stepdaughter of Richard Smith.

-Approximately six shots were fired. Teresa Smith said she heard her first cousin Connie scream just before she heard some gunshots. Teresa Smith is the natural daughter of Joseph Smith and Donna's sister.

-Richard Smith resided in Swanton with his wife whom he met last Christmas through Donna's sister, who is married

DESSA CALLIS HARVEY IS 100 YEARS OLD — Dessa Callis Harvey, a life long resident of Garrett County, was 100 years old on August 22. Dessa resides in Grantsville at the Goodwill Mennonite Home, where she attends chapel regularly, likes to read, and loves flowers and visitors. Hospital Plan Effective Date Now Deferred Maryland's hospital capacity plan will take effect November 1, not October 1, if the Maryland Health Resources Planning Commission accepts a legislative recommendation, according to James R. Stanton, executive director of the MHRPC.

Stanton confirmed that if the commission takes that expected action Friday, a local hearing scheduled for September 12 will be postponed until early October.

The hospital capacity plan will include interim regulations to reduce excess acute care hospital beds in the state.

Those interim rules would apply until the 1986 General Assembly convenes in January and the joint Administrative, Executive and Legislative Review Committee is expected to take action on the initiatives before November 1.

Stanton told members of the lawmaking committee that the request "would be honored" when the MHRPC holds a special meeting on August 30.

The director said he expects the commission needed time to "produce a higher quality plan." He explained that the plan will be considerably different than the institutional specific study released recently.

The consultants, Booz-Allen and Hamilton, who prepared the study, recommended the closing of 5,126 acute care beds across the state by 1988. The study would have little or no effect on Garrett County Memorial Hospital, since the consultants recommended closing only 13 beds at the local hospital, yet saw a need for 29 additional beds by the end of 1990.

Stanton also said the delay will give the commission more time to consider comments made at public hearings held early this month in each region. He said many hospitals are already talking about ways to voluntarily reduce excess acute care beds, citing them as "good, creative and sound ideas."

The Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland is coordinating a local public hearing which may be held at Frostburg State College's Lane Center, the original site of the September 12 hearing.

Bambacus Comments

Senator John N. Bambacus said Friday he was not surprised that the MHRPC agreed to a 30-day delay before it implements a hospital capacity plan in the state.

Bambacus recently criticized state health care regulators who permitted the existence of over 5,000 excess acute care beds in the state.

"The regulators were not doing their jobs and now they come back and say there are excess beds. That's almost an Alice in Wonderland attitude; looking into a deep hole and then can't believe what's going on down there," Bambacus said.

The senator, a member of the Economic and Environmental Affairs committee, said, "We felt like we had a gun to our heads."

"Their talk about closure of hospital beds as the first recommendation instead of the last resort caused a great deal of concern for me," he said of the consultant-written study.

"They got a clear message. Issuing a press release prior to telling hospital boards or administrators was a terrible way to release a report about a sensitive issue. There were many legislators, like me, who were outraged by that," said Bambacus.

He also contended that the initial report "devoted too much attention to numbers and not to sensitivity to community needs."

Several Mishaps Result of DWI

Three persons were cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol in area mishaps over the past week, according to reports filed by the Maryland State Police.

Roger J. Tilgner, 29, Grantsville, was charged with DWI and crossing the center line by Tfc. Dale K. Williams following a mishap which occurred on Rt. 495 Sunday at approximately 12:20 a.m.

According to police reports, Tilgner was operating a 1983 AMC Eagle at an apparent high rate of speed. He failed to negotiate a right hand curve and ran off the left side of the road into a yard, coming to rest several feet inside the basement of a house belonging to Julia L. Brennenman.

The Northern Garrett Rescue Squad transported Tilgner to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Dixie D. Spear, 45, Listonburg, Pa., was also charged with DWI and crossing the center line following an accident which occurred around 8:10 p.m. Saturday on U.S. Route 40.

According to the police, Spear was traveling west in a 1977 Chrysler LeBaron. While negotiating a left hand curve, the vehicle ran off the right side of the road, then crossed the roadway, struck an embankment, and overturned.

Apparently, Spear sustained no serious injuries. Cpl. G.A. Berkebile investigated the incident.

Charles R. McGinnis, Mason-town, W.Va. was charged with passing in a no-passing zone and DWI by Tfc. D.G. Riggelman following a 6:30 p.m. incident Saturday.

According to the police, Edna P. Sines, 44, Terra Alta, was traveling west on the Hutton-Oakland Road in a 1982 Dodge Aries. The McGinnis vehicle, a 1979 Dodge Aspen, struck the left front of the Sines vehicle, pushing it off the road into a field.

The Southern Garrett Rescue Squad transported Sines and four passengers to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The driver, Barbara Thomas, 34, Tonya Thomas, 10, Tracy Thomas, 15, all of Deer Park, and Amy Shaluta, 5, Grafton, were all treated and released from the hospital.

Tfc. D.G. Riggelman investigated a single-vehicle accident which occurred on the Hutton-Oakland Road at approximately 3:00 p.m. Saturday.

According to police reports, Delores R. Potteroy, 40, Terra Alta was traveling east in a 1985 Mercury Grand Marquis in a heavy rain. The vehicle crested a hill, and Potteroy observed a disabled vehicle in the road ahead. She applied the brakes, causing the vehicle to hydroplane and run off the right side of the road, striking an embankment.

The Southern Garrett Rescue Squad transported Opal J. Roy, 70, Terra Alta, a passenger in the vehicle, to Garrett Memorial Hospital where she was admitted and later released.

Troy L. Margroff, 21, Accident, was traveling west on the Cove Road. Accident, in a 1985 Ford Ranger last Wednesday. When rounding a curve on a downgrade, the vehicle had a blowout, causing it to overturn.

Keith E. Harman, 19, Accident, a passenger, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Tfc. David W. Broadwater investigated the 11:00 p.m. incident.

Wayne M. Tabor, Jr., 16, Friendsville, was traveling south on Rt. 53 in a 1982 Chevrolet Monte Carlo Saturday afternoon when the vehicle ran off the road into wet grass. According to police reports, the vehicle then skidded out of control and struck a utility pole.

Apparently no one was seriously injured in the mishap.

Mark A. Wolf, 16, Oakland, a passenger on a 1985 Honda 250, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following an accident Sunday afternoon.

The vehicle, operated by Guy W. Fazenbaker, 17, Oakland, was traveling east on a private drive near the Herrington Manor Road. According to police reports, Fazenbaker was attempting to do wheelies when the vehicle overturned, throwing both Fazenbaker and Wolf from the vehicle. Tfc. D.G. Riggelman investigated the incident.

Connie Lee Sisler, 18, Friendsville, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following an accident Sunday evening.

Sisler was operating a 1984 Honda TR200 in a field near the Trap Run Road when the front wheel went into a ditch, causing the vehicle to overturn and throw the operator off.

Tfc. D.G. Riggelman investigated the incident.

DWIS

According to reports filed by the Maryland State Police, four people were charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol during the past week.

Lester K. Beavers, 45, Keyser, W.Va., was charged with DWI by Tfc. R.C. Resh on August 27 when his vehicle was found in the ditch on the North Glade Road at 3:56 a.m.

Tfc. R.C. Resh charged Michael W. Savage, 31, Oakland with DWI on August 24 at 12:25 a.m. on Second Street, Oakland.

Charles W. Roberson, 23, Mtn. Lake Park, was charged with DWI by Tfc. R.C. Resh on August 24 at 12:55 a.m. on Second Street, Oakland.

Tfc. R.C. Resh charged Theodore H. Hamrick, Morgantown, W.Va., with DWI on August 24 at 7:50 p.m. on Route 42.

Ruth Enlow Library Increases Circulation

The Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County recently had a substantial increase in circulation, according to head librarian, Edith Brock. The total of books and other items borrowed from all branches of the library and the bookmobile during the period July 1, 1984 through June 30, 1985 was 192,366 as compared to 173,222 in the previous fiscal year. The total circulation for July 1985 was 21,214, the highest monthly circulation yet recorded for this library system.

Other library services are also being used more heavily. A second microfilm reader now makes it possible for two people to do microfilm research at the same time. Brock said the almost-complete sets of The Republican newspaper on microfilm and of the Garrett County census (and the Allegheny County census through 1870) are proving a "real treasure" to those interested in local history and genealogy.

Dr. George Stoltzfus' talk at the recent Garrett County Historical Society dinner sparked with anecdotes drawn from The Republican files," said Brock. The new microfilm reader, a Northwest Microfilms 2020 model, is not equipped with a printer but offers a comfortable angle for reading. It was given as a memorial to Howard and Sudie Turner.

A new Xerox photocopier has been placed in the Accident Branch and is being well used, according to the head librarian there. "The Friendsville Branch now has a plain-paper copier also, not a new machine but a considerable improvement over the old coated-paper copier," stated Brock.

"Summer reading clubs in all branches are now ending and have provided many interesting library-related activities for children as an incentive to keep reading through the summer," Brock concluded.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Mary (Lytle) DeWitt

July 11, 1900 - August 26, 1984

The rolling stream of time rolls on but still the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice, the smile of Mother, who once sat there. The flowers we lay upon your grave may wither and decay, but the love we have for you dear, will never fade away. A loving Mother so true and kind, no friend on earth like her we find. For all of us she did her best. May God grant her eternal rest.

Gould Appointed GCC Instructor

John A. Gould, Flintstone, has been appointed instructor of business at Garrett Community College, according to Dr. Lillian Mitchell, acting dean of academic affairs for the college.

Gould taught business and management courses at Allegany Community College and Frostburg State College for the past several years. He was formerly employed by C.B.S. in Los Angeles, and worked for several years in the motion picture industry there in the field of production management. A native of Louisiana, Gould received a B.A. degree from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge. He completed his master's degree at California State University in Sonoma, Calif.

Gould will teach economics, accounting, and other business courses at Garrett beginning in September.

"It feels great to be able to stay in Western Maryland and work full-time at something I enjoy as much as teaching. I am looking forward to being part of the expanding business program at GCC," said Gould.

Financial Aid Still Available Through GCC

It's not too late to apply for financial aid for the 1985-86 school year at Garrett Community College, according to Cissy VanSickle, financial aid officer for the college.

The deadline for applications for several local scholarships have been extended until September 3, and applications for Guaranteed Student Loans and Pell Grants can be made at any time during the semester. Students eligible for financial aid who have not yet been awarded their money may arrange a deferred payment plan for tuition and fees until their grant arrives, VanSickle said.

Among local scholarships not yet awarded for the upcoming year are the Hugh Sisler Memorial Fund, a $200 scholarship available to Garrett County residents enrolled full-time at GCC who maintain a 2.0 grade point average and demonstrate financial need.

The Aza Stanton Art Scholarship will be awarded to a full-time student in the art transfer program or a student who has a concentration in art while majoring in general studies. Applicants must demonstrate financial need and preference will be given to Garrett County residents.

LOHR DISTRIBUTORS BOOST SCHOLARSHIP FUND — The Veteran's Scholarship Fund of Garrett Community College received a boost of $359.06 this week from a local beer distributor. Lohr Distributors, Inc., sponsored a Memorial Day promotion which involved placing canisters in different retail outlets in the county. A total of $179.53 was collected in the canisters, which was matched dollar for dollar by Lohr Distributors. The Veteran's Scholarship Fund offers assistance to Garrett County students who are the children of veterans. Canisters which contained the most money were those placed at the American Legion in Oakland, Midway Discount Liquors, Hometown Market, and P.J.'s Liquors. In the photo, left to right, are Bill Ewing, director of admissions at GCC and veterans' coordinator; Cissy VanSickle, GCC financial aid officer; and Cathy Lohr, vice president of Lohr Distributors.

C&P Telephone Company has made available $1,200, which may be divided between two or more Garrett County students who maintain a C average and demonstrate financial need.

Also available to Garrett County residents is the Bill Ravenscroft Memorial Scholarship, sponsored by the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club. This scholarship is available to full-time students who maintain a C average and demonstrate financial need.

Women who have been out of school for several years who are now embarking on a college career may apply for the Patience Grant Memorial Scholarship, sponsored by the Civic Club of Oakland. Applicants must maintain acceptable academic progress and show financial need.

Southern High School graduates who are residents of the county may apply for the Oakland Rotary Scholarship. Applicants must demonstrate financial need and good academic progress in high school.

Two scholarships are available to returning sophomores in the Veterinary Technician program. The Lisa Ann Nowers Memorial Scholarship is available to sophomores who maintain acceptable academic progress, demonstrate financial need, and who are Maryland residents. The Earl Smith Memorial Scholarship, sponsored by the Potomac Valley Kennel Club, will be awarded to the returning vet tech student with the highest grade point average who can show a financial need.

Guaranteed Student Loans, which are interest-free during the student's education, are available through most local banks and lending institutions. Repayment of these loans does not begin until six months after the student graduates or leaves school. Students who are interested in applying for a loan should contact their bank for applications and information.

Pell Grants, which need not be repaid, are also still available for students wishing to attend GCC. Pell Grants are awarded on the basis of the number of credit hours the student is enrolled in. Tuition, fees, books, and other college expenses may be paid with a Pell Grant.

To apply for one of the local scholarships or a Pell Grant, persons should contact the Financial Aid Office at GCC at 387-6666, or stop by the McHenry campus for information and application forms as soon as possible.

Labor Day Events Are Scheduled At Bloomington Lake

The Corps of Engineers has released a schedule of events for the Labor Day weekend at Bloomington Lake.

Two films will be presented at the campground on Saturday, August 31, (weather permitting) featuring a cartoon and "The Potomac Highlands of West Virginia".

Tours of the dam area will be conducted on Sunday and Monday, September 1-2, between 1 and 4 p.m. each day.

The events are open to the public, free of charge.

Registration At GCC Extended To Evening Hours

Registration for the fall semester at Garrett Community College will extend into the evening hours beginning Tuesday, September 3. Admissions personnel and academic advisors will be available until 7 p.m. to assist students with the registration process.

Regular registration hours will continue today through Monday, September 2, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Extended registration will be available September 3 through September 10 until 7 p.m., except Friday, September 6, when it ends at 4 p.m. September 11 through 17, registration will be accepted until 6:30 p.m., except Friday, September 13, when it will close at 4 p.m.

Registration will be accepted at the Oakland Center September 3 through 17 from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., except for Fridays, when it ends at 4 p.m. Students may register for classes before the completion of the third class hour, which is usually the second meeting of a class.

A number of classes are full or nearly full at this time, so students are encouraged to complete the registration process as soon as possible to ensure a place in the class of their choice.

For new full-time students, the registration process includes placement testing in the areas of English, math, and reading; academic advisement; and selecting and registering for classes. New students are urged to set up an appointment for the registration process to avoid delays and ensure that the appropriate academic advisor will be available to discuss their program of study. To make an appointment, persons should contact the Admissions Office at 387-6666.

Garrett County History Course To Be Repeated

In response to many requests, the Garrett County History course, "Rivers, Roads and Railroads" will be repeated during the fall semester at Garrett Community College, according to Joan B. Crawford, coordinator of Extended Learning. The class will meet at the McHenry campus of the college and at various other locations throughout the county on Tuesday evenings from September 17 to December 10.

Mary I. Love will again be instructor of the course, with many other Garrett Countians participating as guest speakers and resource persons. Format for the course includes lecture, field trips, slide presentations, and viewing of maps and other historical artifacts. As with the first course offered last spring, some class sessions will be held at locations such as the Mercy Chapel, Accident Fire Hall, Mt. Lake Park Town Hall, the Log Church, Penn Alps, and Will O' the Wisp so that students can become familiar with the regions being studied.

The two-credit course presents a history of Garrett County as it was first settled and later developed, in the context of early explorations and travel-first along rivers, then by trails, and finally by roads and railroads. It covers the period of time from the mid-18th century to the present, focusing on the economic, social, political, religious, educational, and recreational aspects of life in the early settlements and later developing areas.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY — An open house was held at American HV Test Systems, Inc., in Accident Friday evening to celebrate that company's tenth year of operation. Guided tours of the facility, along with refreshments, were part of the observance. Earlier in the week the Garrett County Commissioners and Tom Jones, executive director of the Garrett County Development Corporation, stopped by to congratulate the officers of the company and present them with a certificate. In the photo, left to right, are Jones, James F. DeCarlo, vice president of American HV, and county commissioners Elwood Groves, Ernie Gregg, and John Braskey.

A second semester sequel to the course is being planned for spring semester, according to Crawford. "The first course was so successful because of the efforts of Mary Love and a number of other Garrett Countians, that we are pleased to be able to offer it again for those persons who were unable to take it this summer," she stated. "We will then offer a second semester of Garrett County History with a different focus later in the spring semester." Students may register for the course at the Registrar's Office of the college during business hours, 9-4 Monday through Friday, and during early evening hours September 3-September 17. Tuition for the course is waived for persons 60 years of age or older. Anyone desiring more information about it may call Mrs. Crawford at 387-6666.

Senate Committee To Hold Public Hearing, Sept. 10

The Senate Economic and Environmental Affairs Committee will hold a public hearing on two issues of local interest on Tuesday, September 10, according to Senator John N. Bambacus, a member of that committee.

Committee members will receive testimony on mandatory boating safety education (Senate Bill 351 of 1985) beginning at 2 p.m. in room 200 of the James Senate Office Building in Annapolis.

The proposal, which was defeated during the last session of the General Assembly, would have required most boaters, with some exceptions, to take courses in marine safety before taking to the state's waters.

"Recreational boating in our area is growing in popularity, especially at Deep Creek Lake," Bambacus commented. "I'd like to hear from anyone who has a particular interest in this bill, and would welcome any district citizens who are able to attend the hearing."

The committee will also discuss state regulation of rivers, and will review current state policy regarding the role of the Departments of Natural Resources and State Planning.

"My overriding concern is that there seems to be a lack of consistency in public policy regarding the regulation of rivers across the state," Bambacus noted. "For example, following enactment of the 1908 Patuxent River Watershed Act, the Patuxent River Commission was created and the Department of State Planning was charged with preparing a policy plan. On the other hand, the Youghiogheny River Advisory Board is within the jurisdiction of the Department of Natural Resources. It would seem to me that the interest of our rivers would best be served by a uniformity in agency responsibility," he concluded.

Written testimony may be sent directly to the EEA Committee in room 200, James Senate Office Building, Annapolis, 21401.

Case Of Discrimination

Anyone who has ever resided in Garrett County for any length of time soon realizes the sad fact that this beautiful, but isolated, corner of the state usually gets the short end of the stick when it comes to state-level decisions, be they political or otherwise. Another blatant example of this has occurred two years in a row now and we feel obligated to vent our anger and frustration about it.

Last year a young local woman represented Garrett County in the Maryland State Farm Queen Contest at the state fair in Timonium. She was without a doubt, far and away, the best candidate in that state contest. After the presentations, the great majority of the audience was convinced there could be no other choice than Criss Kepple from Garrett County. The judges of the contest did not see it that way, or at least did not judge it that way, however, and Miss Kepple was not only written off as the choice for queen, but also was not even selected as runner-up or a member of the court. The audience, composed of people from all over the state, was stunned.

This year, another outstanding young woman from Garrett County participated in the state contest, which was held this past weekend. After the presentations, in which Daina Savage excelled even beyond her own expectations, the choice was again clear as to who should reign as the Maryland Farm Queen. Even the organizers of the event, following Daina's verbal presentation, stated that she had the title hands down. The judges did not select Daina, however, not as queen and not even as runner-up or a member of the court. One explanation given by a contest official was that even though Daina was the best candidate, Garrett County is too far away from the center of the state and a person from such an area could not adequately represent the state in all of the events and functions which occur throughout the year.

Politics, manipulation, game-playing, and contest-fixing should have no place in an event that is supposedly geared to expanding the horizons of young people. We are convinced that these types of things are indeed happening, however, in this contest. Our first reaction is to never again participate in this sham in which our contestants have no chance of winning. Telling the contest organizers and judges just what they can do with their contest would certainly feel good, but would probably not do any good.

Therefore, perhaps we should continue to send our county's representative to this contest just to show the judges and persons from all over the state that Garrett County really does produce some outstanding young people. Perhaps this gross unfairness should be used as a catalyst for our young people to excel even further and become more involved in the state farm picture, thereby helping to bring about changes in the system and procedures that seem so desperately needed.

To many, this example of our county's being discriminated against may be insignificant. But to us, and certainly to the past, present, and future Garrett County Farm Queen contestants, it exemplifies a much larger problem that we may always have to live with here in Garrett County.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Under the heading "New Industry Needed" you advance a possible solution to raising money for the purpose of bringing "new" industry to Garrett County. It sounds simple enough: create a new tax. The question is who and how do we tax?

Since the tourist and recreation goose is still alive, maybe we should squeeze it a bit more.

I say a "bit" more, because we are already being squeezed. For example:

	State Sales Tax	Admissions Tax Garrett Co. State	Total
Wisp Lift Tickets		4%	1%
Wisp Ski Rentals	5%	4%	9 1/2%
Golf		4%	4%
Golf Cart Rental	5%	4%	9 1/2%
Boat Rentals	5%	4%	9 1/2%

In addition, we pay a county personal property tax on all our equipment and machinery.

Before I go on, I would like to remind you that we do have to compete with neighboring state businesses who, because of present taxes in Garrett County, have about a 10% advantage.

Since we do not want to kill this goose, and since we are all farmed and want to share the burdens of our county, I'm sure the other segments of our community will want to help in this worthy endeavor.

No doubt the drugstores, clothing stores, grocery stores, gas stations, etc. will be happy to merely collect and file a few percent tax.

Oh, yes, hospitals, doctors, lawyers, bankers and other professional people shouldn't be left out. They are in business too, and would be only too happy to collect and file this tax.

Agriculture being also an industry of long standing certainly will want to do their share. Let's have them start paying the same personal property tax that is levied against our machinery and equipment. We are both seasonal in nature, capital intensive, and high risk due to weather.

Belly up, boys: we are asking nothing more than what some of us are already paying. Let's not kill the goose. Let's share the burden.

Very truly yours,
Recreational Industries, Inc.

Dear Mr. Heise:

Your points are well taken. Thanks for your response.

Editor

To the Editor:

We are writing to express our feelings about the Board of Trustees answers concerning the problems at Garrett Community College. These answers are for questions posed at the July 30th public meeting.

First, the statements given were barely any answer at all. The statements rarely matched the point of the question. When the Board members did connect, their idea of an answer had little meaning. Their answers were like a lazy junior high school student that didn't want to research his homework.

Second, when the Board concerning personnel matters, they displayed a cowardly attitude to serious problems. Their indifferent attitude of not answering questions pertaining to the personnel matters leaned from laziness to "personal" safety. In a letter from Senator Bamacus, it clearly stated...

this meeting will address no personnel matters, which are properly reserved for the Board and Administration." The meeting did not deal with personnel matters. It did not place to start by asking questions about faculty, administration, and Board members. We want answers to all of these

JERRY FALWELL AND HIS IMMORAL MINORITY...

QUESTIONS.

One comment at the public meeting was that some of the faculty were being treated as second class citizens. With the responses we received, what class does that put us in? We were part of Garrett Community College and we are citizens of Garrett County. We deserve more than arrogant belittling. We deserve the truth.

Furthermore, like ex-Board member Goldsborough once stated: "We can go to the Governor, too!"

Ellen Barnard
Linda Smith

To the Editor:

I am much concerned about the problems of our Garrett Community College. I was very proud of the fact that we were able to get the Community College started in 1970. Many times I have enjoyed attending meetings, programs and sessions at the College. I feel that the College has provided a great opportunity for students to become better educated. I have talked to many students who have had courses at the College and practically all have said that they have benefited very much from the instruction which they received.

Instead of trying to find some one or some group to blame for the untoward things happening at the College, all interested persons should be looking for a way and means of improving the situation.

Because of personal physical difficulties, I was not able to attend the recent public meeting held in connection with problems which have developed at the College. I am, however, very much interested in the future welfare of the College. I believe that Garrett Community College has a great future, and I sincerely hope that the Board of Trustees will succeed in getting things moving forward toward the goal of giving students the educational opportunities which they desire.

Sincerely and respectfully,
B.O. Aiken

To the Editor:

Once again the Garrett County Fair has come and gone for another year, leaving behind memories of cherished purple ribbons, grand champions, french fries and exhibits. But the one thing that sticks out in my mind is the tractor pulling contest. Ten years ago the pull drew a handful of spectators, but during the last few years it has grown into the biggest event the fair has. This year was no exception.

Tractor pulling has become a very competitive sport among area farmers. From the tractor used daily on the farm to the shining modified tractors that thrill and delight each of us. But the purpose of this letter isn't to praise the tractors, but the men who work all day and into the next morning keeping things running as smoothly as possible. These men were paid very little or nothing for their effort. Three men deserving special thanks are Jock Jones for pulling the weight sled back to the start and John Mattingly and Randy Ashby for operating the sled.

But the man who seems to enjoy every moment, be it good or bad, is Charlie Mason, superintendent of the tractor pull for the last several years. He listens to complaints, settles arguments, measures distance, and is chief flag man. I watch him run up and down the track like an athlete, wondering what keeps him going after midnight. He tries to be fair to every puller and truly wants every person pulling to have a good time even if they don't win. Charlie doesn't pull any more, he leaves that job to his son, Andy. But his spirit and dedication to the tractor pull has made the pull what it is today. I just want to say thanks "Chuck" for a job well done and we all hope we will see you out there again next year, and thanks to all you pullers, for without you there would be no tractor pull.

Sincerely,
A spectator

A Mom's Favorite Things
by Susan Alvarez

(Sung to the tune of "My Favorite Things" from "The Sound of Music." My apologies to Rodgers and Hammerstein. Julie Andrews, who is a mother, will understand.)
Pencils and sharpeners and boxes of crayons,
Notebooks and paper and name tags that stay on,
Shiny new lunchboxes, binders with rings.
Yes, these are a mother's favorite things!

Bluejeans and tee-shirts, two sizes too big,
New shoes and socks to complete the whole rig,
Bookbags and Velcro's, praises we sing,
Oh, these are a mother's favorite things!

'Cause it means that...
Summer's over...
And school begins!
No more shuffling and running and chasing the kids.
No more "Gee, mom, I'm bored!" again.

Bright yellow schoolbuses, loads of announcements,
Back-to-School nights and the teachers' pronouncements.
Lists of supplies that each kid needs to bring.
Yeah, these are a mother's favorite things!

When the kids moan,
And start fighting,
Just remember that...
Real soon they'll be going off to school,
Leaving you to say, "Now, what?"

Dr. Ryscavage Testifies Before State Officials

In the last two weeks, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage attended two hearings with the State Board of Education, addressing two separate issues. The first was a public hearing on state funding of all-day kindergarten and pre-kindergarten programs, and the second was a testimony to the task force to examine the school construction program.

At the first hearing, Ryscavage stated that the issue of pre-kindergarten education in Maryland can be sub-divided into three areas of concern: philosophical, financial, and logistical.

Ryscavage mentioned that the county had two classrooms of pre-kindergarten children on a full-day basis last year. He went on to discuss the possibilities of expanding the preschool program, noting that transportation and finances would make the expansion difficult.

At the second hearing, Ryscavage opened his testimony by saying, "We believe that an examination of the school construction program is overdue in light of the past several years' allocations of less than $50 million and the school construction needs that still exist in a state that serves over 650,000 public school students with over 1,200 schools."

Ryscavage went on, "Although much has been done in Garrett County over the past 12 years in terms of school construction/renovation, two projects remain which we feel need attention..."

He then mentioned the Loch Lynn Elementary School and Southern High School, saying, "We fear that continued 'fiscal constraint' will make our plans for comparable high school spaces in the northern and southern portions of the county only wishful thinking."

In his closing statements, Ryscavage suggested an increase in the total allocation to $50 million for the next five years, retaining the current practice of local contribution, and providing the LEA's an opportunity to participate in a state loan program which could be used to fund local costs.

"SEAT BELTS BUCKLED?" SIGNS INSTALLED

A friendly reminder cautions drivers who have stopped at the exits of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Garrett County Health Department to fasten their seat belts. These health institutions have combined efforts to promote the wellbeing of people who use their facilities by installing the "Seat Belts Buckled?" signs. It is the first of many cooperative community projects, collectively known as "Wellness Together," that will support the pursuit of healthier lifestyles by Garrett County.

Only 14% of young people and adults who drive or ride in vehicles in Maryland use their seat belts, according to a report jointly prepared by the Maryland Department of Transportation and Maryland State Police in January, 1985. If usage rates in Maryland rose to 50%, approximately 51 to 60 lives would be saved annually and thousands of serious injuries would be prevented. "A fastened seat belt is also the only defense against a drunk or reckless driver on the road, a dilemma innocent people may face any time they are on the road," a hospital spokesman said.

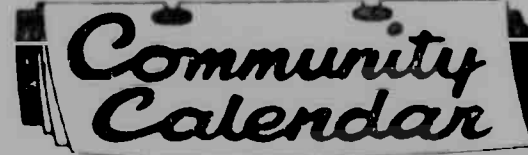

More infants and children under five years of age are killed or injured from motor vehicle accidents than all causes of common childhood diseases combined. Most of these children could have been spared if they had been properly restrained in safety seats or seat belts.

Maryland's Child Passenger Protection Law requires that children under three years old must ride in a car safety seat. Children three and four years old must ride in a car safety seat or use a seat belt. Drivers can be given a ticket and fined if these children are not buckled up.

Garrett Memorial Hospital Obstetric Department and Garrett County Health Department's Child Health Program both have safety seat loaner programs. All infants born in the hospital must leave in a safety seat, so short-term loans of seats are available. Project KISS (Kids In Safety Seats) at the local health department, loans infant and toddler seats for a small fee for longer periods. The "Grandparent Program" enables visiting children to be properly restrained while in Garrett County.

Drivers are advised to require all occupants to buckle up, because unrestrained passengers can seriously injure those who are restrained. It is important to be certain that seat belts and car safety seats are installed and used properly and that only federally approved safety seats, manufactured after January 1, 1981, are used.

"Make it a family affair to use seat belts, and each time the car's ignition is started, ask, 'Seat Belts Buckled?'" the spokesman concluded.

Born April 7, 1961, in Oakland, he was the son of Joseph R. Smith, Oakland, and Gladys V. (Keefer) Smith Snyder, Mtn. Lake Park.

He was a former employee of Naylor's Hardware in Oakland, and was a surveyor's assistant with Steinhilber Associates in Oakland for the last two years. He received his GED in 1978.

His wife, Donna, also died Wednesday.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a stepdaughter, Rebecca K. Berrier, Swanton; six sisters, Nancy Paugh, Barbara Sweitzer, June Baker, Cindy DeWitt, all of Oakland; Mary Sweitzer, Swanton, and Sharon Reans, Deer Park; three brothers, Joseph E. Smith and Donald W. Smith, Swanton, and Roger L. Smith, Bruceton Mills, W. Va.; also his stepfather, L. R. (Bud) Snyder,

In Memoriam

Harland G. Ream

Do not stand at my grave and weep, I am not there. I do not sleep. I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glints on snow. I am the sun light on ripened grain. I am the gentle Autumn's rain. When you awaken in the morning's hush, I am the swift uplifting rush of quiet birds in circle flight. I am the soft stars that shine at night. Do not stand at my grave and cry, I am not there, I did not die.

BUTCHER & SINGER INC. recently announced that its office at 207 S Second Street in Oakland is now open by appointment. The registered representative in charge is Robert P. Sharps, CFP, and appointments can be scheduled Monday through Friday by calling 334-1841. Butcher & Singer, Inc. is an investment banking & brokerage firm headquartered in Philadelphia that now has 31 offices in 11 states. The firm is a member of the New York and other major stock exchanges and offers a full range of investment banking and brokerage services. Sharps, a certified financial planner, has been with Butcher & Singer for three years and has been appointed to the President's Club the past two years. In 1983 he also received the firm's annual award which is given to a recently registered broker who demonstrates the most outstanding sales leadership for that year. Sharps will have primary responsibility for serving clients in Garrett, Preston, Tucker, Grant, and Mineral counties.

Presbyterians
Meet To Discuss Survey, Future

Fourteen Presbyterians met Sunday at the Mountain Top Seventh Day Adventist Church north of Oakland to discuss the results of its recent religious preference survey and future activities to be conducted as a continuing Presbyterian presence in west central Garrett County. Rev. Robert Culp, Clarksburg, W.Va., chairman of the Grafton Presbytery's New Church Development Committee, conducted the meeting.

Rev. Donna Le and Paul Shogren, who were in charge of the survey, reported on the results and the vespers which have been conducted every weekend since June 8. The survey showed that 47 families have some degree of interest in a Presbyterian Fellowship being developed in this part of the county. Most respondents (32) were fulltime residents, split evenly between Oakland city and the Deep Creek Lake area. There was a total return of 289 survey cards of the 5,624 sent out (5% return rate). Persons who have not returned the cards may still do so if they desire, Rev. Shogren said.

On the basis of information derived from the survey and discussion with the local interested residents and the Shogrens, it was decided to continue vespers, Bible study, and other related activities at the Seventh Day Adventist Church. The Presbyterians noted their appreciation to this church for allowing them to use their facilities.

Rev. Phil Zebley, Bridgeport, W.Va., and Executive Presbyter of Grafton Presbytery, discussed the future funding that will be necessary to continue local Presbyterian Fellowship activities. Funding requests must be received at the General Assembly office in New York City by October 1. It is expected that funding will be available to continue weekly activities in the west central area of the county.

This past Sunday's meeting was closed with a vespers service conducted by the Shogrens. Refreshments were served. The offering received during the vespers was donated to the

The group will continue to meet on Sundays for fellowship, vespers, and Bible study. Interested persons are asked to bring their Bibles to the next gathering, which will be this Sunday, September 1, at 7 p.m.

Safety Incentive
Awards Presented
In Local Parks

The 1985 Safety Incentive Award Program at Potomac-Garrett State Forest and Herrington Manor-Swallow Falls State Parks rewarded six area employees with a variety of prizes last week.

The prizes included a cash award from the Oakland Knights of Pythias, presented to Jeff Bittner, a Swallow Falls employee. Don Rohrbach, a seasonal ranger at Herrington Manor, also received a cash award from the Oakland American Legion. Other persons receiving awards were Kelvin Fearer, Robert Stemple, Johnny Stemple and Foster Lewis. Prizes for these individuals included a flashlight, kerosene lamp and tool set provided by the Annapolis Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service Safety Officer and two cases of soft drink donated by the Cumberland Pepsi Cola Bottling Company.

Richard Sines, Safety Committee representative, and Rick Wakefield, local safety officer, echoed each other in their appreciation of the Knights of Pythias, American Legion and Pepsi Cola Bottling Company for their continued support of the forest and park safety program effort. Sines commented that "sometimes a small incentive is all it takes to encourage workers to give a second thought before going ahead with a doubtful procedure." Wakefield passed his congratulations on to those receiving the awards for their safety ideas, suggestions and example and added his thanks to the programs community supporters.

Family Movie Night
Scheduled At Pleasant View Baptist Church

The Pleasant View Baptist Church will hold a family movie night Saturday, August 31 at 7:00 p.m.

The featured movie will be "Nite Song", the story of two inner city teens who are made aware of the presence of Satan in the poverty, adversity, and bitterness which is often hidden by the lights and glitter of the city.

A spokesperson for the church said, "The movie is especially good for teenagers and families. 'Nite Song' demonstrates that God watches over all who trust in him, whatever their situation. No problem is too great for him to solve."

There will be no admission charge for the movie.

A CASH AWARD was presented recently to Jeff Bittner, above center, a Swallow Falls State Park employee, who participated in the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service Safety Incentive Award Program. The prize was provided by the Oakland Knights of Pythias Lodge, represented by Max White, right. At left is Rick Wakefield, park safety officer. Below are other park employees who received similar awards. Pictured left to right are Wakefield, Johnny Stemple, Bittner, Donald Rohrbach, Robert Stemple, and Kelvin Fearer, all of Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Parks. Foster Lewis, an award winner from Potomac-Garrett State Forest, was not present for the photograph.

Charles McIntyre Is Appointed To
Mtn. Lake Council

The mayor and town council of Mtn. Lake Park recently appointed a new council member. Charles C. McIntyre was appointed to the position following a letter of resignation from Tommy J. Ritchey which was accepted by Mayor Russell B. Alexander and read to the council at the August 8 meeting. Ritchey stated that he had served on the council nearly seven years and now, due to an increase in his business and other activities, he feels he does not have the time to adequately serve the people of Mtn. Lake Park and therefore must resign from the council.

Mayor Alexander stated that Ritchey had been an excellent council member and had done a very good job and will be missed by the council and the people of Mtn. Lake Park. Council selected Charles C. McIntyre as the new councilman to serve out the remaining term of Councilman Ritchey. The mayor feels that McIntyre, a retired businessman, will have the time required to serve in this position. The oath of office was administered to McIntyre by Mayor Alexander.

Dick Devlin, of Devlin, Inc., was present at the meeting to express concern over the weight limit signs the town has installed on Youghiogheny Drive and N Streets. The weight limit set on these streets is 10 ton. Devlin, the contractor for a new senior citizen apartment complex being built on P Street in Mtn. Lake Park, was concerned about this weight limit because most all the equipment and trucks going to the complex would exceed the weight limit. The council, by unanimous decision, voted to issue a special permit to exceed the weight limit on these streets.

Also discussed was proposed legislation the town wants introduced into the Maryland General Assembly. This will consist of (1) permanent funding of the Circuit Rider program, (2) making sanitary commissions under full control of county government, and (3) franchising taxes for all utility companies. In Mtn. Lake Park these companies are Columbia Gas of Maryland, C & P Telephone Company, and Potomac Edison Electric Company. Mayor Alexander feels that all three of these utilities should pay franchise tax to the town and will do everything possible to see that such a tax is forthcoming.

An operation and maintenance agreement with the Garrett County Sanitary Commission for the town of Mtn. Lake Park was discussed. This agreement met the approval of the mayor and town council.

Correspondence from the State Planning Commission, regarding a grant which the sanitary commission had apparently applied for was read and discussed. Maryland State Planning asked for comments from the mayor on this project. The mayor talked to Sam Baker, of state planning, by telephone and told Baker he would not make any comments on the proposed project until the sanitary commission informed the town as to exactly how much this project would cost; how much federal money, state money and local share. He wants to know whether it will in fact raise the ad valorem tax rate for the people of Mtn. Lake Park and whether it was in fact a 100 percent grant, as at this time, the town has received no documentation from the sanitary commission on this project.

Mayor Alexander informed the council that Robert Ridder Contractors has completed the sewer project on Broadford Road and everything is paid to date. He stated that Ridder did an excellent job on this project. The town received $23,253 from the state for this project.

The extension of Wheeling Avenue was discussed. The mayor said that the right-of-way had to be cut and that the Wheeling Avenue extension would most likely be completed this year. This will give the citizens living on Q Street and R Street another access street to this development.

A petition for a four-way stop sign at the intersection of D Street and Oakland Drive was presented to the council. The mayor talked to George Small of the State Highway Administration about this matter. The town clerk sent a copy of the petition along with a letter to Small. The town is also requesting that something be done to reduce the speed limit on Rt. 135 in Mtn. Lake Park. The state has agreed to investigate these problems and upon completion of their study will advise the town of their comments and/or recommendations.

Morgan France of Franklin Associates, Inc., the engineering firm for the sewer rehabilitation project of which Frank Arnold Contractors is the contractor, explained to the council four change orders regarding the sewer rehabilitation project. The council approved all four change orders. The mayor stated that the payment request due Frank Arnold for $30,117 and Franklin Associates for $6,212.55 must be paid. Council voted to pay requests.

Rams, Huskies To Open Seasons Friday, Sept. 6

The 1985 high school football season will open for Southern and Northern high schools next Friday, September 6, as both the Rams and Huskies will be playing at home.

Southern, a team which is coming off a 10-1 regular season last year, plus a trip to the state playoffs, will take the field without several of the outstanding players of last season who were lost to graduation.

Northern managed to win only two games last season, but one of them was the biggest upset of the year, a 21-14 defeat of Southern in the last game. Although the Huskies also lost some key players to graduation, they have the likes of Kevin Sines at quarterback, who could be one of the area's best.

Next week's issue of The Republican will contain a full season preview of both teams, plus up-to-the-minute line-ups and scouting reports of opening opponents. Southern will host Beall next Friday, while Northern will entertain Bruce.

C.P. Martin Wins Women's League Volleyball Title

The team sponsored by C.P. Martin & Son, Mountain Lake Park, captured the Mt. Top Women's Volleyball League championship this past week by topping runner-up Brenda's Body Shop in the final match. Peters Fuel Corporation finished in third place.

The first place winners will receive their choice of individual trophies or t-shirts, along with a team trophy. A team plaque will be presented to the second place team.

The tournament concluded the summer season of the league.

VFD SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT WINNERS — The Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department captured the first volunteer fire department softball tournament held this past weekend at Broadford Park and sponsored by WXIE Radio and The Republican Newspaper. Six local fire departments participated in the double elimination event, proceeds from which will be donated to the Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association toward the purchase of a new air cascade vehicle. Deep Creek firefighters, pictured below, won second place in the tournament. Pictured above, left to right, kneeling, are Ed Sines, Scott Bittner, Terry Spear, Greg Umbel, and Larry Harding. Standing, same order, are Kenny Harding, Jimmy Spear, Steve Williams, Roger Sines, and Dave Sines. Roger Sines, in the individual photo, was named Most Valuable Player. Below, left to right, kneeling, are Pete Brosnihan, Ed Carr, Chuck Thomas, Ed Wilburn, Jim Thomas, and Harland Tichnell. Standing, same order, are Allan DeWitt, Gary Carr, Gary King, Jim Glofferty, Ron Doerr, John DeWitt, and Phil Workman. Other fire departments participating were Deer Park, Bloomington, Elk Garden, and Oakland.

Rucker, Miller Capture Third Triathlon Titles

Steve Rucker, Westminster, captured his third straight Coors Light Western Maryland Triathlon championship on Saturday, finishing the swim/bike/run event in one hour, three minutes and 32 seconds. Kyle Norris, Cumberland, who finished about two and one-half minutes behind Rucker, took second place with a time of 1:06:04.

Ninety athletes participated in the triathlon, which involved swimming one-half mile in Deep Creek Lake, followed by a 13-mile bicycle race, and concluding with a three-mile run up and down Marsh Mountain at the Wisp Ski Area.

Dianne Miller, Pittsburgh, also won her third straight title in the women's competition, finishing the course in 1:14:06. Placing second for the third consecutive year was Rebecca Jones, Cumberland, who recorded a 1:17:23.

Cumberland athletes also captured the men's 39-40 and 40-49 age groups. Howard Strauss captured the former with a time of 1:13:15 and Marvin Jones took the latter with a finish of 1:21:18.

Holt Schneider Wins Eighth County Horseshoe Title

Cecil Holt Schneider won an unprecedented eighth Garrett County Horseshoe Pitching Championship at the Garrett County Fair by edging out his brother, Carl, also a former champion, in the best-of-seven-game finals.

It took all seven games of the finals to determine the winner, as Cecil pitched 119 ringers, one more than Carl's 118. Cecil was the county champion in 1975, 76, 78, 80, 81, 82, and 83, while Carl was county champion in 1973, 77, and 79, and Maryland state champ in 1979 and 80.

Placing third was Jerry Tichnell, Swanton. Jim LaRue won the Class B competition, in which Dane Nugent was the runner-up. Class C champion was Jeff Meyers, who edged out Nancy Lewis.

Cash prizes and ribbons were awarded to the winners.

Slalom, Barefoot Championships Results Noted

The Western Maryland Slalom Water Ski and Barefoot Championships, held this past weekend at Deep Creek Lake, drew a total field of 80 competitors from four states, the largest turnout ever in this annual event. Sixty persons participated in the slalom event on Saturday, while the barefoot tricks and wake-crossing competition involved 20 skiers.

Steve Landau, Bethel Park, Pa., successfully rounded 33 buoys to capture the open division championship in the slalom event on Saturday. Neil Beggy, Pittsburgh, took second place with a score of 29 buoys, while Rick Troxell, Hagerstown, took third with 25 and one-half.

Chris Furman, Deer Park, rounded 34 and one-half buoys to take first place in the Men's I (17-25) division, followed by Mark Ruhe, McHenry, with a score of 31, and Daran Stuhlmueller in third place with 17 and one-half.

Jeff Carlson, Philadelphia, won the Men's II (26-35) competition with a 66 and one-half, followed by J.R. Jamison, Pittsburgh, 63, and John Yoder with a 39.

In the Veteran Men's class (36 and older), Ned Holloway, McHenry, won with a score of 21 and one-half. Lee Rouse was second and Ferrol Devericks, third.

Dean Nickolson captured the Boys' 16 and under class, followed by Triston Toston and Glen Loveland.

Randy Greenberg scored a 20 and one-half to win the Women's 17 and older class. Shereen Rothman was the runner-up, followed by Carol Doctor.

Julie Stein finished in first place in the Girls' 16 and under division with a 25, followed by Audria Devericks and Lynn Devericks.

In the barefoot tricks event, Dale Carpenter, McHenry, racked up 845 points to easily capture the Open Class trophy. Jeff Carlson, Pittsburgh, was a distant second with 235 points.

Hagerstown's Chuck Weaver took the Men's I division with a score of 525, followed by Greg Estoker, Canonsburg, Pa., with 250 points and Neil Beggy, Pittsburgh, 220 points.

The Men's II division was won by Jim Devens, Westernport, who edged out Michael Brooks, Morgantown, W.Va., 190 to 185. John Agler, Navarre, Ohio, was third with 125 points.

Herb Burgess, Williamsport, won the Veteran Men's competition with 90 points.

Joe Pudlak, Bethel Park, Pa., was the winner of the Boys' 16 and under event with 450 points. Doug Walker, Bridgeville, Pa., and Triston Toston, Smithsburg, finished second and third with scores of 100 and 90, respectively.

The Junior Boys' division winner was Paul Throm, Butler, Pa., with a score of 85.

Carpenter also took the Open Class title in the wake-crossing event, scoring 300 points, compared to Jeff Carlson's 140 points for second place.

Greg Estoker, Neil Beggy, and Chris Furman finished in the top three places of the Men's I class with scores of 180, 170, and 160, respectively.

Devens, Brooks and Agler finished in the same order in the wake-crossing event as they did in the tricks competition, scoring 160, 80, and 40 points, respectively, in the Men's II division.

Herb Burgess scored 80 points to win the Veteran Men's class.

Joe Pudlak also took the Boys' division championship with 160 points, followed by Triston Toston, 130, and Bill Meyers, 120.

Paul Throm won the Junior Boys' trophy with 10 points.

Both events were held in the Paradise Point Cove at the lake. The championships were sponsored by Mountaineer Marina, Bill's Marine, Deep Creek Water Sports Center, Bowman's Equipment, and the Deep Creek Lake Water Sports Club.

Sines Winner Of Slinger Tourney

Vernon Sines was the Class A winner of a singles tournament sponsored Sunday afternoon by the Ringer Slingers horseshoe pitching club at the Backbone Mountain court. Carl Holschneider finished in second place, followed by Joe Lewis.

Chuck Ward captured first place in the Class B competition, followed by Jesse Fearer. Winners in both classes received trophies.

The next event sponsored by the club will be a doubles tournament on September 15 at 3 p.m. The next singles event will be September 22 at 2 p.m. Both will be held at the Backbone Mountain court.

Persons need not be members of the club to participate in these tournaments.

Brown went on to say that the above list of nominees has now put the DNR and the commissioners at the point of agreement, and requested their reply.

He informed the commissioners though, that during the time it has taken to form this board, the Youghiogheny planner who worked on the project the past two years has recently left state employment to work for the Natural Lands Trust, and that recruitment for his replacement is in progress. A new Youghiogheny Board, therefore, would not be called to meet until a new planner is hired and has had time to become familiar with the background of the project.

County Fair

Continued from Page 1 proved, and other comments. Answers show that the majority was happy with the "pay one price" gate admission, and the biggest complaint concerned the restroom facilities, followed by the condition of the walkways.

The fair board realizes that the restrooms are not adequate, and that improvement holds top priority, according to Loretta Opel. Also in the planning stages are dressing rooms with showers for exhibitors.

The fair board is open to suggestions for improvements from county residents. These suggestions should be mailed to any fair director as soon as possible to help the board plan for the 1986 Garrett County Fair.

Yough Board

Brian Thomas, and Robert Thomas, at least two members who own land that is not contiguous to the scenic or wild river; Elwood L. Groves I, one member representing the local governing body; John E. Hinebaugh, and Shaun Sanders, two members from the County Soil Conservation District.

The commissioners intend to send a letter in reply giving their concurrence. The Scenic & Wild River Review Board will then take action on the proposed appointments. The Scenic & Wild River Review Board includes the secretaries from the Department of Natural Resources, State Planning, Agriculture, Health & Mental Hygiene, and a member of the Garrett County Commissioners, who is a voting member of the board only on matters pertaining to the wild portion of the Youghiogheny River.

A Youghiogheny River Advisory Board has been non-existent since 1980. As Sec. Brown stated, "The appointment of this board has proved to be an extremely time consuming, grueling effort, and has been much more complicated than any previous wild or scenic river local advisory board appointments we have made, including those of the two previous Youghiogheny River boards."

He blamed part of the delay on a disagreement between the county commissioners and the DNR regarding the appointment of five qualified county residents the DNR hoped to see appointed. The commissioners felt that each of those nominees represented a special interest (primarily environmental) and it was the commissioners' position that no special interest groups be represented on the board.

"I felt, on the other hand," said Brown, "that each of those five nominees had the personal commitment and the professional and technical backgrounds that, if appointed to the board, would provide the balanced membership needed to address the full spectrum of issues that must be thoroughly explored during the preparation of a river management plan that ensures the wise management and protection of the Youghiogheny's natural resource values."

None of those DNR nominees received the required "consent" from the Garrett County Commissioners.

to eat spinach by the discipline of a razor strop. In the 1920's there was a Dr. Royal S. Cope-land from New York who had a health program on the radio, from which she got the idea of writing to Washington for government bulletins. One of them told how to cook smartweed, a weed growing on farms, as a green to eat.

Her husband declared that he had lived that long without eating smartweed and he didn't intend to eat it now. One day the family was served a "new green" with a sophisticated name. It didn't taste too bad. It was sometime later that they learned that they had been served smartweed.

a snow bank. One summer Dessa worked at a hotel in Mountain Lake Park and she tells how she and some of her friends paid $1 each to ride a high-wheeled automobile from Mountain Lake Park to Oakland, and then walked back to Mountain Lake Park.

Dessa and her sister, Mrs. Mary Feather of Cranestown, W.Va., are the only survivors of six children. Two brothers and two sisters are no longer living. Mary is the youngest of the family.

Dessa's father, in addition to his blacksmithing, was for several years a partner in the store business with Will Smith at Hoyes. When she was about ten years old, she accompanied her father on a trip by train from Friendsville to Pittsburgh, Pa., where they sold chestnuts, dressed chickens and turkeys, and made purchases for the store at Hoyes.

In 1961 her husband died and she continued to reside in Mountain Lake Park until seven or eight years ago. She has been a resident of the Goodwill Menonite Home at Grantsville for six and one-half years.

Her son states that she is what you might call a food fadist. She believes in a balanced diet with lots of leafy vegetables. She forced her children

Oakland Police Report Arrests

The Oakland City Police Department reported two arrests in the last week.

Cpl. Ron Beeghly was on patrol of Liberty Street when he noticed a silver Datsun 280Z with dealer tags registered to Ralph Pritts and Sons, Oakland. A check on the license number revealed that the plates were from a car that had been stolen from the company in 1982.

Cpl. Beeghly arrested Steven Mark Gibson, 27, charging him with criminal theft and six traffic violations. Cpl. Beeghly stated, however, that the automobile Gibson was driving was not a stolen vehicle.

The traffic charges against Gibson, included operating an unregistered vehicle, unauthorized use of registration, failure to display license, operating an uninsured vehicle, driving with expired tags, and driving without validation tabs.

James Ernest Sybolt, 27, Terra Alta, was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol at 1:30 a.m. Saturday. Cpl. Beeghly made the arrest on Route 39 West.

The Department also reported two incidents of theft in the last week.

Ronald Friend, Terra Alta, reported that $200, mostly in $20 bills, was stolen August 16 around 9:30 p.m. from his 1978 Dodge pickup truck.

Chief John Sines reported that the doors to the vehicle, which was parked at the Oakland Service Station, were locked, but a sliding window in the rear of the vehicle was unlocked.

Sandra Weeks, Mtn. Lake Park, reported that her pocketbook was stolen from the Oakland branch of the Ruth Enlow Library on August 19 at 11:00 a.m.

According to reports, the pocketbook was a small brown clasp type with a shoulder strap. Inside was a red wallet containing a calculator, driver's license, military identification card, various credit cards, and about $10 in cash.

Chief Sines investigated the incident.

totalled $23,166,000, equal to 80 cents a share. This compares with record earnings of $40,873,000 equal to $1.45 a share, for the third quarter of 1984. For the nine months, the company's net income amounted to $68,849,000, or $2.40 a share, compared with $88,766,000, or $3.15 a share, earned in the same period in 1984.

David L. Luke III, Westvaco

Chairman, said, "The strength of the dollar continues to exert a heavy drag on the industrial sector of the U.S. economy. Although the dollar has declined in recent months from its February peak, its value needs to come down considerably more before even the stronger sectors of American industry can return to being fully competitive in the markets of the world."

In loving memory of our dear husband and brother

Kenneth E. Wilt

Who passed away Labor Day, September 3, 1984. Your labor is over, to heaven you have gone, while your beautiful memories still linger on. God saw the road was getting rough, the hills were hard to climb, so he took you gently by the hand and led you to that promised land. Then we saw you resting so peaceful free from pain, how could we wish you back to suffer again? Many a heartache, many a tear, but beautiful memories of the one we loved so dear. It broke our hearts to lose you, no words can even say, how much we love and miss you each and every day. Hon, you didn't go alone, for part of us went with you the day God called you home. Sadly missed by wife, sister, brothers, nieces and nephews.

Westvaco Reports Lower Sales In Third Quarter

Threshing Oats Creates More Than Memories For The Clarence Custers

by Bernice Kepple

Shocks of grain drying in a field can still be seen in areas of Garrett County where small farmers cling to old ways for various reasons. Many small farmers, like Clarence Custer of Oakland, who farms 29 acres with approximately seven acres planted in oats each year, find the old way to be more economical and more productive than hiring custom combining.

The Custer family all take part in the threshing (see picture on the front page), including Clarence's 81-year-old father, Heyward, wife, JoAnn, and three sons: Allen, Bryan, and Coit. Clarence learned the procedure from his father and is passing the knowledge and tradition on to his three sons.

Clarence bought the McCormick-Deering threshing machine 20 years ago from Clarence Paugh in Swanton, and has been using it ever since. Mr. Paugh still takes great interest in his old machine and the family who now owns it. Although nearly blind, Mr. Paugh can tell from the sound of the machine if everything is working smoothly. The Custers use a McCormick-Deering binder to cut the oats and tie it in sheaves. Seven sheaves of oats are stacked to form a shock. The shocks are picked up and hauled to the thresher by one of the family's tractors and a wagon. At times the shocks are taken apart so the sheaves dry faster before hauling.

The threshing machine is belt driven from a 35-horsepower Farmall H tractor. The sheaves are fed into the threshing machine by hand. Inside the machine the grain is separated from the straw and comes out one chute, while the straw comes out another chute and forms a pile. Screens inside the threshing machine also sift out weed seeds, making a cleaner product which is better for replanting.

As the grain comes out of the chute, members of the family hold sacks underneath to catch the oats and then pass the sack to another family member who ties it. The harvest from seven acres last year was 362 bushel of oats. Clarence says he gets about twice the amount of straw by threshing than from combining and the grain is much cleaner.

The whole process is normally done inside the Custers' barn with the loose straw going directly into the mow. This year, the mow filled quickly, forcing the operation to move outside. When the threshing was completed, the grain was stored in bins, and the straw that had piled up outside, was baled for storage.

Many retired farmers who read this will recall harvesting oats and other grain this way. They will remember when the steam engine and threshing machine traveled from farm to farm, they'll remember how the farmers joined together for the harvest, and they might even remember those great meals farm wives prepared for the threshing crew. It may be done differently today and on a smaller scale, but threshing is still creating memories for members of the Clarence Custer family.

Something To Think About

R. Mark Durst
DIRECTOR

CHANGING ATTITUDES TOWARD DEATH

In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, there was a great fearfulness about death, and a pre-occupation with its more horrible and melancholy aspects. This attitude reversed itself sharply in the nineteenth century with the romanticization of death. To generalize about our own century, or the early part of it, one could say that the prevailing attitude was one of denial.

Increasingly, death has occurred among the elderly, and more often away in hospitals than at home. The circle has narrowed so that often only the immediate family attended. Death was not only kept from most of society, it was often kept from the dying person.

Recently, however, we have come to realize how such avoidance and denial can have negative effects—on both the individual and the family. There is a new attitude spreading, to deal realistically and meaningfully with death.

Parole Office
Slates Training
For Volunteers

A new group of volunteers will begin training through the Garrett County Parole and Probation office next month. This group will be added to the hundreds of people who have served as volunteers throughout the state in the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation since the program began 15 years ago.

According to Sandy Strickland, volunteer coordinator, volunteers can serve in several capacities. "People with special skills can serve as resource aides, assigned to provide professional or technical services such as tutoring, employment counseling, life skills training or transportation," said Strickland.

Strickland explained that those who want to gain greater experience in the criminal justice system can serve as unit aides. College students wishing to fulfill college requirements as interns can also serve in this capacity. They are assigned to work with one parole/probation agent.

The volunteer is assigned to work with an adult probationer or parolee in a one to one relationship. The role of this volunteer is to provide guidance and supervision and to act as an advocate for the client in dealing with other service agencies in the community. Helping the person on probation or parole find a job is often the greatest assistance the volunteer can offer since employment is often a major problem for people on probation or parole.

Strickland says that completion of a 12-hour training program is required of all volunteers. This free training program will be offered to anyone interested in the operation of the Division of Parole and Probation in Garrett County. Topics to be covered include an introduction to the criminal justice system, an overview of the Division of Parole and Probation with emphasis on typical activities in Garrett County and a mini workshop on counseling techniques and listening skills.

The training session will be held at the Parish Hall of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Oakland on Friday, September 6, beginning at 7 p.m. and Saturday, September 7, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and concluding on Monday, September 9, at 7 p.m. For further information or to register for the course, persons may contact Mary Jane Berry at 334-8729 or call the probation office at 334-933.

TERRA ALTA NEWS

Rotary News

The District Governor, Herbert Stotts, made his official visit to the Terra Alta Rotary Club on August 15.

A resident of Bucklannon and a member of that city's Rotary Club, he was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Stotts, who has been active as a Rotary Ann.

The topic of Stott's speech was "You are the Key," emphasizing the participation of every individual citizen for the benefit of all services of Rotary in the community.

Mrs. Stotts joined her husband with a brief speech, urging world understanding for peace, acclaiming each individual contribution and avoiding generalities. To symbolize the motto "You are the Key," Stotts presented a tie pin, in the form of a key, to the local club president, the Rev. Bruce Reed.

Truet Rogers from the Morgantown Rotary Club was a visitor.

Ladies Night will be observed August 29 at Silver Tree Inn on Deep Creek Lake.

Methodist Women Meet

The Trinity United Methodist Women met Tuesday evening, August 20, at the home of Wotring. Loverah Johnson opened with prayer.

The fall district meeting was discussed. Catherine Burns showed the group the butterflies that were made.

"WHAT AM I BID FOR COOKIES BAKED BY THE FARM QUEEN?" Cookies baked by Farm Queen Daina Savage were only one of the items offered for sale at the 4 H Bake Auction held Wednesday night, August 14, at the Garrett County Fair. Auctioneer Rodger Ware donated his services to the Garrett County 4 H and auctioned off all ribbon winning baked goods which had been entered by 4 H members on Tuesday. Included in the sale was the champion decorated cake, entered by Cindy King, which sold for $25. A total of $190 was made from the auction; half will pay scholarship money toward out of state 4 H trips, and the other half will pay for some needed repairs and improvements to the 4 H building at the fairgrounds. Helping with the contest were: Farm Queen Daina Savage, 4 H members Lori Dodge and Pam Evans, baked goods superintendents Rosalee Evans and Colleen Ingram, and bake auction committee members LaVerna Evans, Alice Will, Alice Wilhelm and Sandy Yoder.

Are You Keeping Up With The Farm Bill?

Maryland Farm Bureau members received a letter from Henry Holloway, State President, dated August 15, 1985. Mr. Holloway pointed out that the Farm Bureau philosophy on the Farm Bill is in trouble. According to U.S. News Magazine, it appears that President Reagan will receive a Bill from Congress loaded with a lot of additional items which the President in all likelihood will veto. It is then expected that the Congress will come back with a middle-of-the-road Farm Bill. It is not too late for farmers to make their influence felt by our government representatives. I believe that the Farm Bureau philosophy on the Farm Bill best represents the total farm industry. The Farm Bureau opposes mandatory controls, assessments and diversion programs. All have been tried, all have failed. If you would like a copy of Henry Holloway's letter, contact my office.

Western Md. Ag Field Days

The University of Maryland Western Research Center at Keedysville, Md. (just south of Hagerstown) will have a two-day program on September 4 and 5. Some of the research demonstrations are Corn Variety Test Plots, Fertilizing High Yield Alfalfa, Alfalfa Insect Management, Hay Mowing and Conditioning, Use of Desiccants, Variety of Equipment Demonstrations, Nitrogen on No-Till Corn, Weed Control Studies, and many more topics. If you would like a copy of the complete program, give my office a call (334-2145). You are invited to attend all or any part of the Ag Field Days.

Annual Garrett County Farm Bureau Picnic

The Annual Picnic will be held on Sunday, September 8, at the Lion's Club Pavilion at the McHenry Fairgrounds. The Farm Bureau will provide the meat and beverages. Each family should bring a covered dish casserole. A member of the State Farm Bureau staff will be on hand to update members on concerns of farmers. Also there will be special entertainment. All members and their families are invited to attend.

Rains Blanket Most Of State

Most of Maryland was blanketed with rains during the past week with much of the rainfall coming on the weekend. Topsoil and subsoil moisture are both mostly adequate, according to the Maryland Crop Reporting Service.

About 4.5 days were suitable for fieldwork this past week.

Corn is in mostly good condition across the state. As of August 25, about 83 percent of the crop had reached the dough stage with 58 percent having reached the dent stage. Last year at this time 84 percent of the acreage had reached the dough stage, while the 5-year average (1980-1984) shows 82 percent for this time of the year. Corn in the dent stage is ahead of last year's progress of 24 percent and the average of 44 percent. Twelve percent of the State's corn acreage is now mature and ready for harvest.

During the week, grain harvest got underway in some areas of the Eastern Shore. Silage harvest continued to progress and is now about 25 percent complete. This compares with 1984's pace, which showed 17 percent of the silage cut by August 25 and with the normal pace of 20 percent.

Apple harvest was just beginning in western areas this past week, while it was about a third complete on the Eastern Shore. The apple crop is in good condition. Peach harvest is now 88 percent complete compared to 67 percent for August 25, 1984.

The third cutting of alfalfa hay is now 93 percent complete, ahead of the normal 88 percent but the same as last year's progress. The fourth cutting is 13 percent complete compared with the average 19 percent. The third cutting of other hay has been virtually completed, well ahead of the normal rate of 60 percent cut by August 25. The fourth cutting is 10 percent complete.

Harvest progress for the State's vegetable crops is as follows: sweet corn, 92% harvested; potatoes, 97%; watermelons, 90%; cantaloupes, 80%; tomatoes, 80%; cucumbers, 95%; and lima beans, 95%.

WEATHER

Weather for the week ending August 23 was cool and wet. Temperatures averaged one to three degrees below normal. Highs were in the mid to upper 80's and lows were in the mid to upper 50's. Precipitation averaged 1.91 inches with the lower Eastern Shore receiving the heaviest amounts. Rainfall for the week ranged from a low of 0.12 inch at Oakland to 6.60 inches at Salisbury.

East Preston High Student Wins State FFA Competition

William D. Lantz, Jr., Aurora, and a member of the East Preston FFA Chapter, won the State FFA Diversified Livestock Production Proficiency Award at the West Virginia State FFA Convention. Now Lantz has submitted his application form to compete against other state winners to be named one of the four National finalists. Only one winner will be selected from each of the four FFA administrative regions. The four National finalists in Diversified Livestock Production will receive a plaque, a $250 check and partially paid travel expenses to the National FFA Convention in November. Lantz was presented a check for $100 for winning the state contest.

The National FFA Convention will be held in Kansas City, Mo., where one of the four National finalists will be chosen as the national winner. The national winner will be awarded a plaque and a check for $500.

The Diversified Livestock Production Proficiency Award Program helps FFA members develop the skills and competencies necessary for the efficient production and marketing of a combination of two or more specific livestock enterprises. Enterprises may include beef, swine, dairy, horses or sheep.

Wolfe Attends Water System Training School

Harry M. Wolfe of Bruceton Mills, Southern States, Fratz Division, recently returned from a four-day Southern States Cooperative's Water System Training School that was held at Delavan, Wis. The session—a factory training course—was held in the pump manufacturing plant of Sta-Rite Products, Inc., which cooperated with Southern States in holding the school. The session was devoted to an intensive study and working laboratory sessions with pumps. There was actual assembling and testing of various pump models as well as studying basic hydraulics and operating principles of pumps. Instruction was also given in planning water systems as well as the correct method of sizing and pricing.

A tour of the manufacturing plant where all Southern States water systems are manufactured was an added highlight of the trip.

Do-it-yourself home projects can be satisfying and economical—but they can be dangerous if safety precautions are not followed. If you use a power sander of any kind, be sure to wear safety goggles to protect your eyes. Unless you're working in a well-ventilated area, a respirator is advised, too. With chemical paint remover, wear rubber gloves and a long sleeved shirt to protect your skin. If there's danger of splattering, wear goggles and a hat. Open the windows and use a fan to carry away fumes.

Wear work gloves when working with steel wool or scrapers. They'll protect against steel wool splinters, even scraped knuckles.

If you use a blowtorch to remove paint, or even an electric heating gun, keep it moving—never let the source of heat stay in one place long enough to char the wood.

Keep wafer or a fire extinguisher on hand.

Your safety is our concern. We'll help you protect all that you own at Wayne Johnson Named Director Of Hospice Inc.

The Hospice of Garrett County, Inc., Board of Directors met and approved the appointment of Wayne R. Johnson, former principal of Broadford Elementary School, as executive director for the program on a part time basis. Johnson assumed his new duties August 19, and will be working from the Garrett County Health Department quarters. He can be reached through their offices at 334-8111 or 895-5650.

The Hospice has operated in the past strictly with volunteer help and assistance from the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Health Department staff. Johnson will be responsible to the president and board of directors. His main functions will be to provide direction and administration of activities required in the management of Hospice of Garrett Co., Inc.

Such activities will be to develop and maintain positive, constructive relationships with

THE GARFIELD CADETS DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS recently won a third Drum Corps International World Championship in Madison, Wisc. Kristi Bowling, a member of the color guard unit of the corps, is a graduate of Southern High School. The group, stationed in Garfield, N.J., has been in competition since June, covering much of the United States and Canada. They have won two previous world championships, and competed against approximately 40 other top corps from around the world for their latest title. Second place went to Santa Clara Vanguard, Santa Clara, Calif., and the Blue Devils, Concord, Calif., took third place. Kristi, the daughter of Nancy Spiker, Frederick, and the granddaughter of Carl and Flora Burton, Oakland, recently returned to Hood College.

public, quasi-public and private organizations and individuals to engage their interest, cooperation, resources and expertise with Hospice of Garrett Co. to achieve mutually desired goals. These goals are aimed toward enabling the terminally ill patient and their families to maximize the quality of life by offering patients the opportunity to live to the fullest in the presence of familiar surroundings. All medical, social and psychological care is geared toward making the patient as pain free as possible and providing needed emotional support to both patient and family.

Persons having questions about or an interest in the program can contact Johnson at the above number. A hospice volunteer training class will begin on Thursday, September 12, through Garrett Community College.

Naylor Elected Private Industry Council Chairman

Janna Naylor, manager of A.D. Naylor & Company, Inc., was elected chairman of the Garrett County Private Industry Council on June 18. She was also elected chairman of the Western Maryland Private Industry Council (consisting of committees from Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties) on July 10. Naylor will serve as chairman for one year.

The Private Industry Council is made up of businessmen and women, educators, labor representatives, economic development specialists, and employment specialists from Western Maryland. They are responsible in overseeing and providing policy guidance for all employment and training programs operated by the Western Maryland Consortium under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA). JTPA provides skill training programs for the unemployed. The Private Industry Council also takes an active role in promoting the program to the business community.

Ms. Naylor received a B.S. degree from the University of Maryland and completed one year of graduate study at the University of Colorado. She worked for the Veterans' Administration Medical Centers in Denver and San Diego for 10 years as a research chemist before returning to Oakland to join the family hardware business which is now 101 years old. Naylor is the secretary of the Greater Oakland Business Association, a member of the Park Board of Herrington Manor & Swallow Falls State Park, and a leader of cross-country ski and backpacking trips for a national conservation organization.

Reward Offered By Crime Solvers, Nu Way Cleaners

A $1000 reward is being offered by Crime Solvers and Nu Way Dry Cleaners for any information leading to the arrest of the person or persons involved in a breaking and entering theft. The incident occurred on July 26, when band equipment was removed from the back room of Nu-Way Dry Cleaners.

Most of the stolen equipment was Peavy brand, including speakers, guitars, equalizers, and microphones valued at $6,310.

Chief John K. Sines of the Oakland City Police Department said, "The Police Department has no leads, and we are asking for help from the citizens."

WVU Professor Will Lead Bird Watch In County

Want to observe some of the world's most magnificent birds in flight or perhaps at rest on a perch framed against the sky?

You can by joining William L. Wylie, associate professor of forestry at West Virginia University, in a bird watch on Backbone Mountain along U.S. 50 in Garrett County during four weekends in September.

The site is two miles east of Red House. Persons should follow U.S. 50, turn off on Table Rock Road and look for the signs.

Wylie will be sitting there at 9 a.m. each Saturday and Sunday on the weekends of September 7-8, 14-15, 21-22 and 28-29.

Participants are likely to see the fall migration of birds including the soaring broad-winged hawks, bald eagles, ospreys, March hawks, ravens and song birds. The bald eagles will be heading for the southern states and some of the hawks and ospreys will wind up in South America.

"Ordinarily, we don't get to see many hawks in this area, but it seems that some of these magnificent birds have developed lazy traits, just like some of us," Wylie laughed.

"When the hawks that come out of Canada hit the plains, they just spread their wings, catch the wind currents and soar eastward. When they hit the mountains," he said, "they pick up the swirling currents and float southward, letting the winds do all the work for them."

Wylie recommends bringing a chair, something to eat and drink, and binoculars for a better view.

Miss Liddle Becomes Bride Of Mr. Sines In August 3 Ceremony

Linda L. Liddle and Thomas Sines, Sr. exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, August 3 at Lockwood United Methodist Church, Boardman, Oh.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Janet Crandell and William Crandell of Newton Falls, Oh. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mabel Sines, Oakland, and the late Woodrow Sines.

The Rev. Eric Martin officiated the ceremony, which preceded a reception in the church fellowship hall.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a designer gown of ivory tulle and English netting over taffeta, featuring a rounded neckline with schiffli trim. Her three quarter length puffed sleeves with schiffli lace were embroidered at the cuff. The skirt, which ended in a semi-cathedral length train, was fitted at the waist and scattered with rose appliques.

Her small ivory picture hat was overlaid with Chantilly Venise and enhanced by silk flowers around the rim. A large pouf at the back lead to a fingertip veil. She carried an ivory lace cascade bouquet of silk ivory roses, pink carnations, and baby's breath.

Her honor attendant, Ms. Eleanor Ziobert, and junior bridesmaid Kim Reedy, the bride's niece, wore Daphne Rose chiffon gowns with double flounced necklines, cap sleeves, and full draped skirts gathered at the waist with ribbon tie sashes. Each wore silk flowered combs in their hair and carried ivory lace fans with ivory roses, pink carnations, and baby's breath.

Terri Lynn Carlson, also a niece of the bride, served as flower girl. Her Cinderella style gown of Daphne rose and maroon taffeta was gathered at the waist with a ribbon tie sash. Her headdress was a floral wreath. She also carried a lace fan bouquet, all of which were made by Mrs. Rose Hidayes, sister of the bride.

Nick Koutopoulos served as best man, and Jim Bishop served as usher. Tommy Sines, Jr., the groom's son, served as ring bearer.

The bride is employed by Austintown Ambulatory Surgical Center, Austintown, Oh., as a purchasing agent. The groom is employed at the Assembly Division of General Motors in Lordstown, Oh.

The bride and groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at Luciano's, Boardman.

Following a honeymoon trip to Williamsburg, Va., the couple will take up residence in Austintown.

Hardy-Wheless Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Connor, Glen Burnie, announce the engagement of Mrs. O'Connor's mother, Irene Hardy, Arbutus, to Bud Whetsell, Oakland.

Following a fall wedding, the couple will reside in Oakland.

Broom-Margroff Couple Will Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Broom, Grantsville, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Pamela Jean, to Phillip James Margroff, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Margroff, Accident.

Miss Broom is employed by Penn Alps, Inc., Grantsville, and Mr. Margroff is employed by Cornerstone Construction, Accident. Both are 1983 graduates of Northern High School.

The wedding ceremony will take place on September 21 at St. John's Lutheran Church in the Cove.

Park Events Set At Herrington, Swallow Falls

Several events have been slated for this week at Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Park, according to Buck Jarusek, park interpreter.

Starting on Thursday, August 29 at Herrington Manor, the staff will be making apple butter. This activity is part of the park's folk program and will be done in an early settler fashion, starting with peeling the apples and then cooking over an open fire in a large copper kettle. The preparation work will be on Thursday beginning at 8 a.m. behind the Herrington Manor new office.

There will be a campfire program at the Herrington Manor amphitheater that evening at 8 p.m. The program will be about fish management and will be presented by Ken Pavol, fisheries biologist from Mt. Nebo. Pavol will present a slide show and answer questions. This program will last 1½ hours.

At Herrington Manor on Friday, August 30, the apple butter will cook over the open fire all day. Visitors will receive a sample when the butter is ready.

The apple butter making will be moved to Swallow Falls on Saturday, August 31. The butter will be cooked up beside the pavilion. When it is ready, visitors will receive a sample. This activity, running from Thursday to Saturday, is open to the public. Visitors' help and support will be appreciated, according to Jarusek.

That evening at Swallow Falls, there will be a campfire program in the park's amphitheater. The program will be presented by Ruthvan Morrow and will be on Garrett County history. The program will start at 8 p.m. and will last 1½ hours.

There will be a canyon trail walk on Sunday, September 1, at Swallow Falls State Park. The walk will be along Muddy Creek and the Youghiogheny River. Visitors will see virgin timber along with natural waterfalls. It will begin at the park's large, lower parking lot at 10 a.m. and last 1½ hours.

A Junior Ranger program will be offered on Monday, September 2. This program encourages basic outdoor activities and promotes an appreciation of the Garrett County outdoors. The program is available for ages seven through 14 at no charge. It will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will be held at the Herrington Manor new office. A non-denomination Bible story hour will be conducted by Mrs. Irene Hixon on Tuesday, September 3. There will be songs, stories, games, and prizes for the participants. This activity will start at 10 a.m. and will last one hour at the Herrington Manor amphitheater.

All of these activities are open to the public. Persons desiring more information may contact Herrington Manor State Park at 334-9180.

St. Agnes Church, Niantic, Conn., was the setting for the Eagle Scout Court of Honor for former county resident, Mark Oliver Reams.

Reams is a member of Troop 66, Pequot District, Indian Trails Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

A senior at East Lyme High School, he has been a Boy Scout since attaining his Cub Scout Arrow of Light in 1979. He has earned a total of 27 merit badges and is one of the few scouts to earn all 12 skill awards. Other Scouting awards Mark has earned include: the Year-Round Camper, 50-Miler, Snorkling, Mile Swim, Polar Bear, Iceberg, Honor Camper, Ad Altare Dei, and Scout of the Year. He has been inducted into the elite camper society, Order of the Arrow, and completed a week-long training course in Junior Leadership. While a leader in Troop 66, he has served as bugler, patrol leader, senior patrol leader, instructor, and junior assistant scoutmaster.

For his Eagle Service Project, Mark chose to renovate the Loan Equipment Room of the East Lyme Visiting Nurses' Association. He repaired broken equipment, repainted the storage room, built storage racks, and organized a card catalog of all the equipment.

Some of the non-Scouting achievements for which Mark won recognition on July 25 include his being an Altar Server in his church for the past eight years, consistently being an Honor Roll student and recently being notified that he is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. While in high school, Mark has been a lead trumpet player in the award-winning East Lyme Viking Marching Band, Concert Band, and Jazz Band, as well as acting as an assistant trumpet section leader for the past year.

For the past five years, Mark has been a member of the Niantic Sportsman's Club Junior Rifle Team receiving awards such as Honorable Mention for the Connecticut All-State Rifle Team, second place in the 1985 Niantic Sportsman's Club Match, and 90th Percentile in the Statewide Connecticut Rifle Match. In April of this year, Mark was awarded the "Distinguished Expert" medal, the highest National Rifle Association Junior Rifle Award.

Mark is the son of former county residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reams, the paternal grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bliss Reams who GUARD COMPLETES WORK AT PARK — Members of Company C, 121st Engineering Battalion, Army National Guard, Oakland, under the command of Captain William Metcalf, recently completed work to develop the ball field at Snowy Meadows Park in Crellin. SSG John Hetrick was in charge of the excavating and grading work, plus a variety of other jobs at the site, such as building dugufts for the field. Fencing, grading, seeding, and construction of the parking lot have all been completed this year, according to Barney Bolyard, chairman of the committee responsible for developing the park. Bolyard stated that without the "dedicated help" of the guardsmen, the project would have taken many years to complete.

were residents of Swallow Falls, and the maternal grandson of Mrs. Nelle Garrett and the late Robert Garrett, Deer Park.

Moon Scholarship Recipients Named

St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland recently announced the recipients of the Moon Scholarship. Receiving $1,000 of the scholarship funds is Daniel J. Meese, 17, Frostburg, a 1985 graduate of Northern High School, Catherine J. Alexander, 33, Mtn. Lake Park, a nursing student at Allegany Community College, is receiving $350 in textbook allowances.

The Moon Scholarship was set up by Ida Durben and Barbara Benson, in memory of their parents, Byron C. and Dorothy M. Moon, for the purpose of aiding students or apprentices who seek education and have exhausted all traditional or family sources.

A spokesman from the scholarship committee said seven persons applied for the scholarship and that this is the first time it has been given. "This is a scholarship, not a loan. However, if any recipient is in a position later to donate toward the fund, new applicants would also be able to benefit," said the spokesman.

Meese, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Meese, is currently enrolled at Capital Tech, Laurel, where he is pursuing a degree in electronic engineering.

Alexander is planning to obtain a nursing degree and travels back and forth to Cumberland each day for classes. She resides with her husband, Ernest, and their four children.

Persons interested in either applying for or supporting the Moon Scholarship should contact St. Marks Lutheran Church, 6 South Second Street, Oakland.

Bowser Recipient Of Achievement Award

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Stephen D. Bowser, Morgantown, has been named a 1985 award winner in the field of industrial arts. Bowser, who attends Suncrest Junior High School, was nominated for the award by Robert Walters, an industrial arts teacher.

The academy selects award winners upon the recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon certain criteria, such as academic performance, citizenship, and leadership abilities.

Bowser is the son of Charles and Barbara Bowser, Morgantown, and the grandson of Delmar and Beatrice Hughes, Terra Alta, W.Va., Nora Bowser, Crellin, and the late Eugene Bowser. His name will appear in the academy's yearbook.

Charles Warren Successful As Band Director

Charles O. Warren, a former resident of Oakland, is now a band director at Plaza Junior High, Norfolk, Va. Recently, noted composer John Kinyon, a retired music professor of the University of Miami, wrote and directed a four-minute composition for the band's spring concert.

Warren said, "You can pick up any program at any junior high school concert and they're bound to have a Kinyon number on it."

Warren is a 1950 graduate of Oakland High School. He served for three and one half years in the 509 Air Force Band, and graduated from Fairmont State College with a major in music. He then attended the University of Michigan and William and Mary College, where he received his master's degree.

He has taught at Plaza Junior High for eleven years, and has also been a woodwinds instructor at the All Eastern Junior High School Band Camp at James Madison University, Harrisburg, Va.

Both Warren's advanced and intermediate bands, as well as some individual members, have won several awards. The concert, marching, and state bands received three superior ratings at the district music festival.

At the solo and ensemble festival, the band from Plaza Junior High was rated superior 42 times and excellent 14 times. They placed second in the Williamsburg Christmas Parade and received five first place awards recently at the Festivals of Music Competition in Washington, D.C.

Of the entire band, 12 members were chosen as regional band members.

Warren is the son of Shirley Warren, Oakland, and the late Charles A. Warren.

BITTINGER-GLADES

Church News

Harry Fox again conducted worship services in all the churches of the Bittinger parish on Sunday. Lectors were Barbara Herbert, St. John's; Sharon Lowery, Einmuanal, and Leota Baker, Zion.

Altar flowers at Zion were given in loving memory of Stewart Stahl by his wife, Nora, and family.

All members of Zion are invited to participate in a wash cloth shower for the Lutheran Home at Kane, Pa. They should be at the church by September 4.

All loose offerings from each church in the Bittinger parish on Sunday were given to the World Hunger Appeal.

The Crusade for Christ held in Grantsville closed on Sunday evening. It was reported that there were large crowds each evening.

Dennis Maust and Angela Bender will be married at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church this Sunday at 2 p.m.

Opel Reunion
The Opel family and friends gathered together on Sunday, August 18, at the Bittinger Fire Hall for their 63rd annual reunion. Members of the family from out of state attending were from Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Florida and Louisiana.

Games and prizes were given by Margaret Knox, Mary and Tom Stewart, and members of the Dan Opel family. Door prizes were won by Kelly Evans, Treva Kerns, Betsy Wilson, Margaret Knox, Rhonda Opel, Koo Opel and Mike Krause.

Other prizes were oldest man, Ed Sliger; oldest lady, Naomi Smith; largest family, Rob Opel; youngest baby, Andrew, son of the former June Opel; youngest grandfather, Rob Opel; youngest grandmother, Betty Opel; most recently married, Mike and Chris Krause; and travelling, the longest distance, Jim Tressler, who travelled 1,350 miles.

Joke prizes were given by Doris Cooper to Norma Evans for having the oldest car, Mildred Opel for being the nearest to 63, Carolyn Reiss received a hint on telling when middle age begins, Bob Opel and Lou Detrick received a fisherman's excuse list, Paul Tressler's prize was for a perfect head, and Carl Stephens received a plaque concerning bees.

Those remaining officers for one more year are: Charles Tressler, president; Doris Cooper, secretary; and Melda Georg, treasurer.

Mishap at Brenneman Home
On Saturday at about 12:15 p.m., a car driven by Roger Tilgner, Grantsville, drove off the road at the intersection of 495 coming from Swanton, missed the road, drove through the yard of Mrs. Lottie Brenneman, and came to rest in her basement. As it came through her yard it tore up shrubbery, a picnic bench and her lawn. As the car hit her basement, it tore off a door and half of her basement wall. The car was demolished, and Mrs. Brenneman called the police and the rescue squad. The driver of the car was taken to the hospital and the police charged him with DWI.

Rotary Club

Martha Glatfely was the guest of George Shawley at the dinner meeting of the Grantsville Rotary Club on Tuesday evening, and was the evening's speaker. Mrs. Glatfely spoke on "The Power of Faith," and read an article in the Maryland Farmer magazine on the status of the Bittinger peat industry. The dinner was held at Penn Alps restaurant.

Attend Festival
Mrs. Russell Brenneman and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kerns and two children, Rockville, attended the C&O Canal Festival on Sunday.

Personal Items

Martha Glatfely entertained the residents of the Goodwill Nursing Home on Wednesday with a half-hour piano recital of marches and hymns.

Final Program Of Season Slated At New Germany Park

"Programs going on at New Germany State Park."

This is the last week that special programs are offered at New Germany State Park for the summer. One final program will be presented at a campfire this Saturday, August 31.

Jim Rogers, a recruiter for General Braddock, will visit the park and explain French and Indian War activities in the area. He will also seek volunteers to fight, and he will demonstrate how to operate the "Brown Bess" musket.

The program will begin at 8:30 p.m. at the Old School House Nature Center Amphitheatre and is open to the public. In the event of rain, the program will be moved to the Rec. Hall located near Parking Lot #4.

For further information persons may call 895-5453.

Local Seniors Now Specialists In Home Repair

The outdoor pavilion at Town View Apartments, Accident, was the setting for the commencement exercise and luncheon for eight home repair specialists on Thursday, July 25. The eight graduates are: Lillian Bates, Beryle Foy, James Friend, Genevieve Friend, Howard (Benny) Moats, Mildred Rodeheaver, Pearl VanSickle and Raymond Wilt.

The JTPA Home Repair Training for Older Workers, sponsored by Garrett County Community Action Area Agency on Aging, was conducted at Garrett Community College and taught by Howard Countryman and Marsha Kitzmiller.

Countryman taught the participants basic home repair skills in carpentry, masonry, plumbing and electricity. Mrs. Kitzmiller taught basic record keeping and business skills.

The purpose of the JTPA home repair training is to enable seniors to be self-employed home repair specialists and to contract and complete home repair jobs in order to supplement their income while providing a service in the community.

Although the training was coordinated through Community Action, the Home Repair Specialists are trained self-employed individuals who set their own fees for the services they provide. However, anyone interested in retaining services of a home repair specialist may call Rich Tepper, Training Coordinator, 334-2151, for a referral.

CAC Accepting New Applications For Surplus Food

The Garrett County Community Action Committee is accepting new applications for the Surplus Commodity Program. Any household that did not receive a Commodity Card in June, but would like to apply, may do so at the Community Action Office, 360 W. Liberty Street in Oakland. Eligibility is based on total household income. Distribution date is Thursday, September 26.

Also, any household previously receiving surplus commodities that has had a change of address, household size, or income should contact Community Action at 334-9431, ac-ording to a CAC spokesman.

The deadline for receipt of applications for the distribution, planned in September is September 11. Households receiving surplus Commodity Cards in June do not need to re-

Area Residents Invited To Enter Photo Exhibition

State Senator John N. Bambacus extends an invitation for District 1 residents to participate in the General Assembly's juried photographic exhibition, "The 1986 Maryland Annual."

The show will be displayed in the Senate and/or House of Delegates office buildings during the next session of the Maryland Legislature.

The exhibition is open to all photographers who reside in the state of Maryland. All entries must be prints or original work photographed within the past two years. Entry deadline is October 16.

Crosses Erected
Three crosses have recently been placed at the Eglon Cemetery, also in place at Aurora, and this is the project of the Bernard L. Coffindaffer family of Craigsville in Nicholas County, W.Va. These crosses are to be a daily reminder of Christ to remind persons to pray for repentance and the need for communities and persons to turn to His ways." No sect, no cult, and no religious denomination supports this effort, it is done by Mr. Coffindaffer in his gratitude for his healing. He is attempting to locate them in all of the counties in West Virginia, in Bible-named towns, and one each in adjoining states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and Kentucky. The project is now about 85% complete.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Heckert of Elgin, Ill., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Heckert and Barbara in Eglon, visited with Mae Artis at the Goodwill Mennoute Home in Grantsville and with other area relatives, and on Sunday attended the Arnold reunion at the Island Creek Park at Bayard.

Ira Werner, Eglon Native, Dies At 108

Word was received here this week of the death on August 10 of Ira Werner, 108, at the St. Petersburg Bay Pines Veterans Administration Center in Florida. Born in Eglon, Mr. Werner was the son of the late Hampton and Lucinda (Miller) Werner. He was preceded in death by one brother, two sisters, and one half sister. He is survived by several nieces and nephews, among them Karl Gustafson of Tjeras, N.M.

Mr. Werner joined the Army in 1898 and saw action in the Spanish-American War in the Philippines. Returning to America, he lived in Chicago where married his first wife. According to the clipping from the Tampa Tribune, Mr. Werner recalled on of his most memorable jobs when in 1893 he worked at the Chicago World's Fair piloting replicas of Columbus' three ships.

He was a member (lifetime) and honorary commander of the VFW Post 1057 in Chicago, being named in a commendation from Tampa Mayor Bob Martinez in 1980. He was also a member of Winsor Park Masonic Lodge 836 F&AM in Chicago.

Another event which stood out in his mind was the assassination of President William McKinley in 1901.

Werner eventually worked at the Weirton Steel Co., in Weirton, W.Va., at the time the largest in the world, until his retirement in 1940 when he and his second wife moved to Acadia, Fla. They reared her granddaughter who also accompanied them there. In 1942 the family moved to Tampa where he was a member of the VFW there. In a 1984 Tampa Tribune article, Werner is quoted as saying, "It is getting time to die, but I don't care, my flag still flies high."

Arrangements were made by Garden of Memories Funeral Home in Tampa.

Sheriff's Office Reports DOP, Theft Cases

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department reported four breaking and entering thefts and one destruction of property incident in the past week.

Ralph T. Feick, Pittsburgh, reported a theft at his residence on the Yacht Club Road last Thursday. According to reports, the following items were stolen: a 1985 Ford pickup truck, a Yamaha snowmobile, a riding lawn mower, a 17-foot canoe, and several valuable antiques. Losses totaled $17,510.

According to the Sheriff's Department, the lawn mower, snowmobile, and canoe have been recovered, and a suspect is being sought at this time. Everett Boyd Weimer, Oakland, reported that sometime before July 1985, someone broke into his residence on the Oakland-Sang Run Road.

According to reports, the following items were stolen: a 44 magnum revolver, a compound bow, a Sears circular saw, and various sporting equipment. Total value of the items was $700.

Deputy L.E. Gnegy reported that there are no suspects at this time, but the investigation will continue.

The Department reported that sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 6:45 p.m. Sunday someone entered the Garrett County Animal Shelter, Oakland, by smashing a window in the rear of the building.

According to reports, two radios and a video cassette recorder are reported as missing, but no estimate of loss is known at this time. Investigation of the theft is continuing.

The Department reported that, during the early morning hours of August 21, someone removed several bottles of liquor, several cartons of cigarettes, and an unidentified amount of cash from the V.F. Post 1007, Deer Park.

The Sheriff's Department investigated an incident of destruction of property to a 1985 Ford truck belonging to Guy William Fazanbaker, Oakland.

According to reports, the vehicle was dented in several places, while parked in the Midtown Plaza Parking Lot.

Deputy L.E. Gnegy reported that two juveniles are being investigated in regard to the damage, and no estimate of damage is available at this time.

Teen Center To Celebrate Second Anniversary Sat.

"If you don't drink or use drugs and like to dance, have fun, or just be with friends, the Teen Center is for you," said Dave Terlizzi, coordinator for the center. The Teen Center is beginning its second year with a dance party at its new location, the Oakland fire hall.

The "New Year Party" celebration will be held this Saturday, August 31, from 8 p.m. until midnight. All teens, 13-19, are welcome to attend any functions sponsored by the Teen Center, according to Terlizzi. Cost of the dance is $2.50 per person or $4.50 per couple. Music this week will be provided by local WXIE radio personality, Pat Gregg.

The Teen Center is a non-profit organization operated by the coordinator and teen representatives from Southern and Northern High Schools.

A spokesman from that committee said, "We charge a small fee to cover operational expenses only. Activities at the center include dances, disc jockeys, contests, prizes, socializing and just plain fun. I highly recommend it."

For more information about the Teen Center, interested persons may call Terlizzi at 334-9398.

High blood pressure is listed as the primary cause of death for 60,000 people each year.

Tractor Pull At Fair Attracts Large Crowd

The largest crowd ever witnessed the 1985 Garrett County Fair Tractor Pull, held Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 13.

Helping Superintendant Charles Mason were Tom Sheme, Doug Livingood, Don Friend, Randy Ashby, Steve Paugh and John Mattingly. Mason says that plans are under way for another tractor pull to be held during the Autumn Glory Festival.

A special award this year, the Richard Broadwater Memorial Trophy, given to a junior puller (under 16), was presented to Mark Miller who pulled in the 9,000-pound class.

There were nine classes for stock tractors. The winners of the 5,000-pound class were Steve Margroff, first; and Steve Keister, second. The 6,000-pound class winners were: Paul Custer, first; Steve Margroff, second; and Steve Keister, third.

THE FRONT END BOBS IN THE AIR and the tires buckle, fighting for every last bit of traction, as the weight comes slowly forward on the transfer sled. The right combination of weight, balance and horsepower earned third place in the 8,000-pound stock tractor class for Jeff Sheffield, the driver pictured above, on an International owned by Lowell Merrell, at the 1985 Garrett County Fair Tractor Pull. Action like this, and the "Voice of Maryland Agriculture," Bill Clem, on the microphone, made the 1985 tractor pull an exciting contest. Pictured alongside the tractor above, helping officiate the contest are: left to right, Tom Sheme, Doug Livingood, Don Friend, and Charles Mason, tractor pull superintendent. Not pictured are helpers Randy Ashby, John Mattingly, and Steve Paugh.

ter, third. In the 7,000-pound class, Bob Schnudt won first place, Mark Miller won second place, and Leonard Custer won third place.

Winners of the 8,000-pound class were: Bob Schnudt, first; Eric Martin, second; and Jeff Sheffield, third. In the 9,000-pound class, Dan Gano won first place, Rodney McKenzie won second place; and Gary Bachtel won third place. The 11,000-pound class winners were: Ron Junkins, first; Mike Bishoff, second; and Dan Gano, third.

The 13,000-pound class winners were: I.H. Phantom, first; Ron Junkins, second; and Jeff McClintock, third. The 15,000-pound winners were: I.H. Phantom, first; Lowell Merrell, second; and Ron Junkins, third. The 17,000-pound stock class winners were: Lowell Merrell, first; Bud Friend Jr., second; and Ken Beachy, third.

There were five modified tractor classes this year. Winners of the 5,000-pound class were: Jr. Martin, first; Charlie Custer, second; and Randall Steyer, third. The 5,500-pound class saw Randall Steyer in first place, Wayne O'Brien in second place, and Ed Friend in third place. Winners of the 6,000-pound class were: Doug Fitzwater, first place; Wayne O'Brien, second place; and Scott Hinebaugh, third place.

In the 6,500-pound class, Doug Fitzwater won first place, Randall Steyer won second place, and Brent Fratz won third place. Winners of the 7,000-pound class were: Doug Fitzwater, first; Wayne O'Brien, second; and Scott Hinebaugh, third.

Trophies for the event were sponsored by Miller Brothers of Springs, Pa., Arnold Brothers of Mtn. Lake Park, C.E. Jackson Equipment of Oakland, and Thomas Firestone of Oakland.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Collections Up And Down

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reports that alcohol and tobacco tax collections for Fiscal Year 1985 totaled $95,693,864, slightly higher than the $95,469,546 collected during Fiscal Year 1984.

"For the fiscal year just concluded, wine and tobacco tax revenues posted increases while distilled spirits and beer tax collections declined," Goldstein said.

Wine tax receipts showed the fastest growth during Fiscal Year 1985, largely as a result of heavy marketing of wine cooler type beverages, according to the comptroller. Wine taxes produced $4,064,310 during Fiscal Year 1985, up nearly 7% over the $3,799,249 collected during the previous fiscal year.

Tobacco tax revenue totaled $66,675,712, an increase of about three-quarters of one percent over the prior year.

Distilled spirits tax collections totaled $15,012,629 for Fiscal Year 1985, down 1.6% from the $15,255,843 received the previous fiscal year. Beer tax revenue amounted to $9,586,691, down 2.8% from Fiscal Year 1984 levels.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on September 5, 1985 at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Grand Jury Room (Third Floor Courthouse, Oakland). The Board will review applications on the following docketed cases:

1) Docket SE 141: an application made by David and Allen Buft for a Special Exception permit to allow the construction of a drive in restaurant on their property located on U.S. Rt. 219 in Thayerville (Zoned TC).

2) Docket SE 142: an application made by Jerry L. Humberson for a Special Exception permit to allow the establishment of a real estate office in an existing residence on his property located along Bumble Bee Road across from Garrett Community College (Zoned TR).

3) Docket TR 126: an application made by Ms. Barbara Bowman for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the side yard setback requirement for residential property. Specifically, Ms. Bowman is requesting a Variance to allow construction of a porch addition to her residence which would extend to within 9 ft. of the side property line. The property is located on Thousand Acres (Zoned LR).

4) Docket SE 143: an application made by Mr. Paul E. Friend for a Special Exception permit to allow the placement of a mobile home on his property for use as a storage building. The property is located on Glendale Road (Zoned LR).

5) Docket SE 144 and VR 127: an application made by Mr. Bill Sisler on behalf of Bill's Marine Service for a Special Exception permit to allow the expansion of a marina operation. Specifically, Mr. Sisler wishes to construct a boat storage rack on his "back" property located on Harvey's Peninsula Road. Mr. Sisler is also requesting a Variance to allow construction of the rack to within 20 ft. of the rear property line (Zoned LR).

6) Docket VR 128: an application made by Mr. Anthony G. Sciarano, Trustee for the Estate of Fannobel S. Reider, for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the lot width requirement and the requirement that a lot not be divided by a right-of-way. Specifically Mr. Sciarano wishes to use an unrecorded lot of the Fannobel S. Reider Subdivision which is 100 feet wide and divided by a private road right-of-way. (.46 acres on the lake side and .34 acres on the "back" side). The property is located on Marsh Hill Road (Zoned LR).

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF EXPLANATION

The Town of Kitzmiller, MD will undertake a Single Purpose Program to meet Public Facilities and Housing Needs. Portions of the Project Area are located in the 100 year Floodplain. Structures in this Area need to be addressed by housing rehabilitation measures. There is, therefore, no practicable alternative to the Project. Failure to provide these improvements would result in the continued deterioration of the housing stock in this Area. It is the Town's judgment that the continued viability of this Area outweighs consideration of Executive Orders 11988 and 11990.

A more detailed description of the Project and the FIA flood maps are available for citizen review at Town Hall Kitzmiller, MD.

United Interim National Bank, the resulting bank, but with the name of the former. The resulting bank then became a subsidiary of the holding company, First United Corporation, with the exchange of two shares of stock of the holding company for each share of the bank.

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION FIRST UNITED NATIONAL BANK & TRUST

For the purpose of organizing an association to carry on business of banking under the laws of the United States, the undersigned do enter into the following Articles of Association:

FIRST: The title of this Association shall be First United Interim National Bank.

SECOND: The main office of the Association shall be in Oakland, County of Garrett, State of Maryland.

The general business of the Association shall be conducted at its main office and its branches.

THIRD: The Board of Directors of the Association shall consist of not less than five nor more than twenty-five shareholders, the exact number to be fixed and determined from time to time by resolution of a majority of the full Board of Directors or by resolution of the shareholders at any annual or special meeting thereof. Each Director, during the full term of his directorship, shall own a minimum of $1,000 par value of stock of the Association or $1,000 par value, market value or equity interest in the Association's bank holding company.

Any vacancy in the Board of Directors for any reason, including an increase in the number thereof, may be filled by action of the Board of Directors. FOURTH: There shall be an annual meeting of the shareholders the purpose of which shall be the election of directors and the transaction of whatever other business may be brought before the shareholders. It shall be held at the main office or other convenient place as the Board of Directors may designate, on the day of each year specified therefore in the Bylaws, but if no election is held on that day, it may be held on any subsequent day according to such lawful rules as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

Nominations for election to the Board of Directors may be made by the Board of Directors or by any stockholder of any outstanding class of capital stock of the Association entitled to vote for election of directors. Nominations, other than those made by or on behalf of the existing management of the Association, shall be made in writing and shall be delivered or mailed to the President of the Association and to the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D.C., not less than four days prior to any meeting of stockholders called for the election of directors, provided, however, that if less than twenty-one days' notice of the meeting is given to shareholders, such nominations shall be mailed or delivered to the President of the Association and to the Comptroller of the Currency not later than the close of business on the seventh day following the day on which the notice of meeting was mailed. Such notification shall contain the following information to the extent known to the notifying shareholder: (a) the name and address of each proposed nominee; (b) the principal occupation of each proposed nominee; (c) the total number of shares of capital stock of the Association that will be voted for each proposed nominee; (d) the name and residence address of the notifying shareholder; and (e) the number of shares of capital stock of the Association owned by the notifying shareholder. Nominations not made in accordance with the laws of the United States.

EIGHTH: The corporate existence of the Association shall continue until terminated in accordance with the laws of the United States.

NINTH: The Board of Directors of the Association, or any three or more shareholders dance herewith may, in his/her discretion, be disregarded by the Chairperson of the meeting, and upon his/her instructions, the vote tellers may disregard all votes cast for each such nominee.

FIFTH: The authorized amount of capital stock of this Association shall be 5,000 shares of common stock of the par value of Ten Dollars ($10.00) each, but said capital stock may be increased or decreased from time to time, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the United States.

No holder of shares of the capital stock of any class of the Association shall have any pre-emptive or preferential right of subscription to any shares of any class of stock of the Association, whether now or hereafter authorized, or to any obligations convertible into stock of the Association, issued, or sold, nor any right of subscription to any thereof other than such, if any, as the Board of Directors, in its discretion may from time to time determine and at such price as the Board of Directors may from time to time fix.

The Association, at any time and from time to time, may authorize and issue debt obligations, whether or not subordinated, without the approval of the shareholders.

SIXTH: The Board of Directors shall appoint one of its members President of the Association, who shall be Chairperson of the Board, unless the Board appoints another Director to be the Chairperson. The Board of Directors shall have the power to appoint one or more Vice Presidents, and to appoint a Cashier and such other officers and employees as may be required to transact the business of the Association.

The Board of Directors shall have the power to define the duties of the officers and employees of the Association; to fix the salaries to be paid to them; to dismiss them, to require bonds from them and to fix the penalty thereof; to regulate the manner in which any increase of the capital of the Association shall be made; to manage and administer the business and affairs of the Association; to make all Bylaws that it may be lawful for them to make, and generally to do and perform all acts that it may be legal for a Board of Directors to do and perform.

SEVENTH: The Board of Directors shall have the power to change the location of the main office to any other place within the limits of Oakland, Maryland, without the approval of the shareholders, but subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, and shall have the power to establish or change the location of any branch or branches of the Association to any other location, without the approval of the shareholders, but subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency.

EIGHTH: The corporate existence of the Association shall continue until terminated in accordance with the laws of the United States.

NINTH: The Board of Directors of the Association, or any three or more shareholders owning, in the aggregate, not less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the stock of the Association, may call a special meeting of shareholders at any time. Unless otherwise provided by the laws of the United States, a notice of the time, place, and purpose of every annual and special meeting of the shareholders shall be given by first-class mail, postage prepaid, mailed at least ten days prior to the date of such meeting to each shareholder of record at his address as shown upon the books of the Association.

TENTH: Any person, his/her heirs, executors, or administrators, may be indemnified or reimbursed by the Association for reasonable expenses actually incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, to which he/she or they shall be made a party by reason of his/her being or having been a director, officer, or employee of the Association or of any firm, corporation, or organization which he/she served in any such capacity at the request of the Association. Provided, however, that no person shall be so indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in such action, suit, or proceeding as to which he/she shall finally be adjudged to have been guilty of or liable for gross negligence, willful misconduct or criminal acts.

Eleventh: The Association shall not be bound by the terms of any contract, agreement or arrangement entered into by any person, his/her heirs, executors, or administrators, may be indemnified or reimbursed by the Association for reasonable expenses actually incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, to which he/she or they shall be made a party by reason of his/her being or having been a director, officer, or employee of the Association or of any firm, corporation, or organization which he/she served in any such capacity at the request of the Association. Provided, however, that no person shall be so indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in such action, suit, or proceeding as to which he/she shall finally be adjudged to have been guilty of or liable for gross negligence, willful misconduct or criminal acts.

The Association may, upon the affirmative vote of a majority of its Board of Directors, purchase insurance for the purpose of indemnifying its directors, officers and other employees to the extent that such indemnification is allowed in the preceding paragraph of such insurance policy, but need not, be for the benefit of all directors, officers, or employees.

ELEVENTH: These Articles of Association may be amended at any regular or special meeting of the shareholders by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the stock of the Association, unless the vote of the holders of a greater amount of stock is required by law, and in that case by the vote of the holders of such greater amount.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF PUBLIC HEARING

Department of Human Resources, Maryland Energy Assistance Program, Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program, Program Year October 1, 1985-September 30, 1986.

The purpose of the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Act is to provide assistance to eligible households to offset the rising costs of home energy that are excessive in relation to household income. Funds provided under the Act are administered by the state through the Maryland Energy Assistance Program.

Public Hearings for citizen participation in program procedures have been scheduled at the following locations:

Region: Western Maryland
Date: September 4, 1985
Time: 11:00 a.m.
Location: Allegany County Human Resources Development Commission
New Addition Building
19 Frederick Street
Cumberland, Maryland 21502

Copies of the Maryland Energy Assistance Program Summary will be available for public review and comment. Included in the summary are program eligibility requirements, application procedures and other details regarding program operations.

The program summary may be obtained at the following to Allegany County Human Resources Development Commission, 19 Frederick Street, Cumberland, Maryland 21502. Contact: Kathy Nale, Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., 360 West Liberty Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550. Contact: David Maust.

The program will be subject to on-going evaluation and revision throughout the program year, therefore, written public comments regarding program procedures and machinery. The Facility shall also include buildings, structures, machinery, equipment, furnishings, or other personal property necessary or desirable in connection with the foregoing construction. The Facility to be used by the Facility Applicant in its business of publishing a weekly newspaper and providing publishing services to the business community and general public.

The maximum aggregate Facility amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued in respect to the proposed facilities is $260,000.00. The Bonds may be issued at one time or from time to time and in one or more series.

If the Bonds are issued, Garrett County, Maryland will be authorized to issue the proceeds of the Bond available to the Facility Applicant, which will use the proceeds for the purpose of financing the cost of acquiring and renovating the Facility. Interested persons are invited to attend the public hearing and will have a reasonable opportunity to express their views, both orally and in writing, on the proposed issue of Bonds and the location and nature of the proposed facilities to be financed.

Written statements must be submitted to the Director of the Garrett County Economic Development Department at or prior to the time of the public hearing. Any person wishing to submit a written statement prior to the hearing or wishing to receive copies of the resolution authorizing the Bonds should contact the Director of the Garrett County Economic Development Department, Garrett County, Courthouse, 203 Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, 301 334-4200.

NOTICE
OF PUBLIC HEARING

GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
Proposed issue of industrial development revenue bonds.
Sincell Publishing Company, Inc.

On Tuesday, September 10, 1985, at 10:30 a.m. in the County Commissioners Meeting Room of the Garrett County Courthouse Addition, 203 Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland, the Director of the Garrett County Economic Development Department will conduct a public hearing with respect to the issuance and sale by Garrett County, Maryland, of its limited obligation and not upon its faith and credit or taxing power of one or more series of industrial development revenue bonds.

The bonds, if issued, will be issued pursuant to the Maryland Economic Development Revenue Bond Act for the purpose of financing the cost of the industrial development project proposed by Sincell Publishing Company, Inc., a Maryland Corporation, (the "Facility Applicant") of a certain facility (the "Facility") to be located in Garrett County, Maryland. The Facility will consist of (a) the construction and renovation of the existing improvements located in Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, and (b) the construction and installation of certain necessary and useful equipment and machinery. The Facility shall also include buildings, structures, machinery, equipment, furnishings, or other personal property necessary or desirable in connection with the foregoing construction. The Facility to be used by the Facility Applicant in its business of publishing a weekly newspaper and providing publishing services to the business community and general public.

The maximum aggregate Facility amount of the Bonds proposed to be issued in respect to the proposed facilities is $260,000.00. The Bonds may be issued at one time or from time to time and in one or more series.

If the Bonds are issued, Garrett County, Maryland will be authorized to issue the proceeds of the Bond available to the Facility Applicant, which will use the proceeds for the purpose of financing the cost of acquiring and renovating the Facility. Energy Office Offering Audits

The Maryland Energy Office will be providing free energy audits for small businesses, located in economically depressed areas, enterprise zones or participating in revitalization programs for a one-year period beginning in the fall of 1985. This office plans to reach 100 of these types of businesses throughout the state and is designed to encourage businesses to conserve energy. There will be follow-ups to all participating business to evaluate the effectiveness of the program.

For additional information about the program, persons may contact Mrs. Harriet Hertz, Manager, Small Business, Maryland Energy Office, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, telephone toll free in Maryland 1-800-492-5903.

SCHOOLS ARE OPEN AGAIN and Michael Sines, supervisor of transportation for the Garrett County Board of Education cautions motorists to be alert and aware as youngsters are again boarding buses around the county to go to and from school. Above, bus 35-A utilizes an off-road loading zone north of Oakland. See story.

Insight Into Education

This article was written by Michael Sines, supervisor of transportation, Garrett County Board of Education.

PUPIL TRANSPORTATION-A COOPERATIVE EFFORT

Transporting students to and from school is a function of the Board of Education of Garrett County. This system of pupil transportation allows all children in the county equal opportunities to attend schools which are large enough to provide the best possible educational program at the lowest possible cost within a reasonable riding distance of their homes. The pupil transportation system is also used to transport children to and from approved educational activities as a part of the school program.

In planning and carrying out this program, major consideration is given to: the safety of the children transported; securing adequate and comfortable service; maintaining an efficient service which gets children to and from school with the least possible interruption to the school program; and, providing the above services in the most economical manner.

During a typical school year Garrett County's buses travel in excess of one million miles while serving over 5,000 students.

The Garrett County Public School Pupil Transportation Program operates under regulations enacted by federal, state and local government agencies. Day-to-day operations require close cooperation with the Garrett County Roads Department, Maryland State Department of Education, Motor Vehicle Administration, State Roads Department, Maryland State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

To illustrate the necessity for the cooperation and understanding of the entire community in contributing to the success of the pupil transportation program, the focus of this article will deal with a single area of the pupil transportation program—the school bus stop.

The proper placement of the stop location is important to the student, bus driver and motoring public. Quite naturally, most families would like to have the stop designated as close to their residence as possible. In many cases this is not only impractical, but can contribute to the probability of an accident occurring. Each stop location should be reviewed to determine the accessibility to each family, sight distance for the motorist for early identification, and efficiency for the school bus driver. A series of school bus stops in close succession increases the "risk factors" to the students awaiting the arrival of the school bus and to those already on board.

The state and local boards of education have adopted a one-fourth mile interval between school bus stops as a minimum desirable distance. In targeting this distance between stops, no student is required to walk further than 660 feet to the stop location; the contractor is provided a margin great enough to ensure compliance with the school bus stop law and to assure efficiency, and the motoring public is not unduly inconvenienced. All parties become active participants in contributing to the safe and efficient transport of our children.

PRESENTATION OF THE OFFER

You will probably hear first by telephone that a written offer has come in on your property. Because offers must be presented immediately, you might even be notified while out of town. This is a good reason to keep your agent apprised of your whereabouts if you are of the travelling kind.

Most homeowners react by immediately asking how much the buyers are prepared to pay. However, if there are several minor provisions or a major one included in the offer, don't be put off if the agent would prefer to set up a time and place to discuss the offer with you personally and explain the details and financial elements. What may sound extremely good or bad over the phone may look a lot different when explained on paper.

If several offers come in, it is best to consider all at the same time. The first one signed by would-be buyers does not have any precedence. As long as you have not acted on any offer, you are free to consider all of them and respond to whichever one you choose.

This issue of The Spotlight is the final of a series designed to assist area vacationers. We hope you have enjoyed receiving the latest in local news, TV listings, movies and other lake advertising.

The Spotlight will resume its regular format with the September 5 edition of The Republican newspaper.

Summer residents who wish to continue receiving news of Deep Creek Lake and Garrett County are invited to call our office at 334-3963 for subscription information.

Drivers Failing To Make Full Stop For RTOR

An increasing highway safety concern as school starts, according to the Maryland Department of Transportation, is the failure of drivers to come to a full stop at a red light that allows a right turn on red. According to Maryland transportation safety specialists, nearly 70 people have been injured since 1983 because motorists failed to stop before turning right.

Soon thousands of school children will be returning to the classroom. This is the time when motorists should be particularly careful of the law. "School buses and children walking to school have an effect on the morning and evening flow of traffic," said Tom Hicks, Deputy Chief Engineer of the Traffic, State Highway Administration. "This is a topic of great concern to community groups; the right-turn-on-red after stop issue needs action as well as exposure."

The "right-turn-on-red" law states that unless a sign prohibits a turn, vehicle traffic facing a steady red light must stop, then cautiously proceed into an intersection to make a right turn.

In Maryland in 1984, the primary cause of 14 accidents was the failure of drivers to stop before determining it was safe to turn at a red light. Four of these accidents involved pedestrians. The right on red issue was the secondary cause of 22 accidents. None of the mishaps ended in death. Statewide in 1983 the primary cause of 24 accidents was failure to stop when turning on red. This was the secondary cause of seven accidents.

Maryland was the 48th state to enact a right turn on red law. It was passed by the 1977 legislature and went into effect July 1, 1978. The law was adopted to conform with a uniform interstate traffic rule designed to simplify interstate driving. An idea spawned by the energy crises of the 70's, the law allowed for a smoother flow of traffic and saved the driver time, frustration and fuel.

Soon after legislation went into effect, studies made by the State Highway Administration indicated that 64 percent of drivers did not come to a full stop before turning right. Observation since then shows that the rate of violators has risen greatly.

DEMONSTRATES NEW EQUIPMENT — Clarence Whitehair, chief of the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department, Mt. Grove, W. Va., demonstrates the latest piece of equipment purchased by the department. It is a Holmatro multi-purpose spreader, used primarily for the extrication of persons from wrecked automobiles. The cost of the device, along with various accessories, was approximately $5,000. Mt. Grove VFD purchased the equipment from Ashby Fire Equipment, Oakland.

Dr. Hoyt To Be Speaker At Grace Brethren Church

The annual Bible Prophecy Conference and Homecoming Sunday will be held August 28-September 1 in the Accident Grace Brethren Church along Bumble Bee Road just south of Accident.

Dr. Herman A. Hoyt, president emeritus, of Grace College and Seminary, Winona Lake, Ind., will be the Special Conference and Homecoming speaker. Dr. Hoyt will speak each night at 7:30 and his subjects will be:

Wednesday, August 28 — "Does predictive prophecy have any value for us today?"

Thursday, August 29 — "The storm is about to break and you can hear the thunder."

Friday, August 30 — "Inflation, starvation, persecution, and convulsions."

Saturday, August 31 — "The most thrilling theatrical of the millenniums."

Sunday, September 1, Sunday School — "The great society and the golden age of civilization."

Sunday, September 1, Workshop Service — "The true church before the judgment seat of Christ."

Following the Sunday morning Sunday School and worship services, the homecoming Day Dinner Fellowship will be held in the Accident Fire Department Dining Hall.

All pastors and people of the area are welcome and encouraged to share in these events, according to the pastor, Rev. Paul L. Mohler.

New Horizons Rep To Visit Finzel Library

The New Horizons program of Garrett Community College, a special program which provides services for single parents and homemakers who need to enter or re-enter the job market, will have a representative at the Finzel Library on Thursday, September 5, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. to assist program participants and prospective program participants with entry or re-entry into the program.

There have been changes in the program operation for the 1985-86 funding year and it is necessary for previous clients to re-enter the program by filling out new intake forms in order to continue to receive services from the program. Also, any new persons who may wish to begin participation in the program are asked to meet with the New Horizons staff representative, Lena Fratz, at the Finzel Library to facilitate ease of entering the New Horizons Program.

If clients wish to register for credit or non-credit classes in vocational education at this time and need child care financial assistance and/or transportation assistance, forms can be filled out at that time.

Interested persons who have not previously participated in the services offered by New Horizons are encouraged to visit the Finzel Library to learn about the program and services offered to the public.

Persons may call New Horizons at 334-9184 weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. to pre-register for this special meeting at the Finzel Library.

No Release Of Water Slated At Bloomington Lake

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' Baltimore District has announced that water released from the Bloomington Dam cannot be scheduled to accommodate white water rafters.

The corps normally tries to assist white-water rafters, when requested, with increased releases from its projects, but the situation at Bloomington demands that environmental considerations, namely water quality, take precedence.

The North Branch of the Potomac River has a high acid content because of drainage from abandoned coal mines. The corps improves water quality in the river by withdrawing water from different levels of the Bloomington Lake, creating the best available mixture of water and acid to release downstream.

Corps personnel continually monitor the acid content of the water in the reservoir before determining the timing of a release. Usually only a week's notice can be given before such an action is taken. Even then, there are no guarantees because conditions can change in both the water level and acid content to make a release unnecessary, or unwise. This constant testing of the water and the subsequent timed releases have improved downstream water quality of the river significantly, according to

BACK IN THE SADDLE AGAIN — For the third year, participants in Special Education Camp at Camp Hickory got the chance recently to ride horseback with help from volunteers of 4-H Riding for Exceptional Equestrians (FREE). Three volunteer helpers are needed per horse to ensure the safety and confidence of the riders as they sample the thrill of being in control of a large, powerful horse. In the photo, below, an encounter with a goat was on the agenda when county special education students, spending a week at Camp Hickory, took part in a riding session with FREE. Pictured, left, is Rob Germain, Camp Hickory counselor, and right, camper George Swinson, being entertained by FREE's mascot goat, Charity.

corps personnel. The Corps of Engineers built Bloomington Dam, near Elk Garden, W.Va., to improve water supply and quality in the Potomac River which is the source of drinking water in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area. In addition, the lake provides flood protection for downstream communities and flat water recreation.

Completed in 1981, the dam is made of rolled earth and rock-fill construction and has a maximum height of 296 feet and a top length of 2,130 feet. It is the third largest dam of its type east of the Mississippi.

Whenever a water release is planned from Bloomington Lake, the corps will gladly notify outfitters and rafters as much in advance of the action as possible. Further questions should be addressed to the Baltimore District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Hydrology-Hydraulics Section, Box 1715, Baltimore, Md., 21203, or phone (301) 962-4840.

Judge Convicts Four Persons In DWI Cases

Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney in the past week has convicted five persons of driving while under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol.

Timothy Allen Kitzmiller received a $1000 fine. The judge fined William DeWayne Stemple $500, but suspended $300 of the fine.

John Richard Thompson received a $1000 fine. The judge fined Paul Junior

District Court Cases Noted

Rodney G. Guthrie, 19, Mtn. Lake Park, has been found guilty of a charge of unlawful possession of marijuana by Garrett County District Court Judge Jack Turney.

In court last Wednesday, the judge fined Guthrie $100 and sentenced him to one year, then suspended the sentence. He then placed Guthrie on 18 months supervised probation.

Tfc. C.H. Hinnant of the Maryland State Police charged Guthrie following a February 6 incident in the parking lot of Par-Matt Lanes, Oakland. According to reports, Guthrie sold a bag of marijuana to Hinnant.

Charges of unlawful manufacturing of marijuana, maintaining a common nuisance, and conspiracy filed by Hinnant were not prosecuted by the court.

Guthrie was represented by Ralph M. Burnett, Oakland.

The judge granted probation before judgement for Kevin J. Hanlin, 20, Accident.

Hanlin was charged with battery and malicious destruction of the property of another following a July 5 incident at Friendsville Texaco. The complaint was filed by Wilbur F. Sines, Friendsville.

The judge fined Hanlin $100 and placed him on six months unsupervised probation for the battery charge. He was fined $50 and placed on six months unsupervised probation for the malicious destruction of property charge. The two probation periods will run concurrently under the same conditions.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Michael W. Wilburn, 24, Grantsville.

Wilburn faced charges of battery and intoxication filed by Jody Wilburn, Accident, following a June 29 incident on the Accident-Bittering Road.

The judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Randall Eugene King, 33, Deer Park. King faced a battery charge filed by Wanda C. King following a July 3 incident.

Cases placed on the set docket were a battery charge against Philson D. Hinebaugh filed by Carolyn L. Russel and two battery charges against Carolyn L. Russel, filed by Philson D. Hinebaugh and Brenda L. Perando. All charges concerned a July 2 incident at B.J. Whistler's Bar, Oakland.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Katherine takes on double 'Boss' duty

By Marc Minelli

Who's the Boss? Most people may consider Tony Danza the star of the Tuesday night sitcom, but this season Katherine Helmond will be ruling the set of the ABC series — at least temporarily. Not only will the actress continue to star as the unpredictable Mona Robinson, but she'll also be directing two episodes of the show.

Katherine Helmond

Though the 51-year-old actress claims, "This is the first time I'll be wearing two hats," the move behind the cameras doesn't mark her directorial debut. In 1983, she directed "Bankrupt," a short film that earned her a place in the prestigious American Film Institute's Directing Workshop. She's currently trying to expand the 35-minute film to 90 minutes, so it can have a shot at cable TV. Miss Helmond followed "Bankrupt" by directing several episodes of Benson.

"I love acting, but I don't want to wake up one day and find that I'm some dotty old lady playing dotty old roles," says Miss Helmond, who claims she fell in love with acting because I was such a mousey, creepy kid.

"I'm a realistic person. I know I won't be desirable forever," she adds. "So I'm planning for my future, and directing is the easiest, most natural way to do it."

The actress pauses, catching her faux gas. "Did I say easy?" she laughs. "Directing isn't easy, especially when you're directing and acting at the same time. When the producer's first approached me about directing 'Boss,' I thought, 'Hm, I wonder if I'll have to give up acting.' But they didn't want to write Mona out of the show," Miss Helmond adds, "because they had confidence I could play both roles."

Is the former "Soap" star in a lather because of her double duty?

"I think I can handle it all," she admits, "and I've already warned Tony (Danza) that he better not act up. Tony also wants to get into directing, and I told him I'd help him all I could as long as he behaved and was good to me. I may come across as an airhead," she adds with a smile, "but I'm not afraid to prove I'm a dictator."

Producer gives teens their own 'Soapbox'

By Marta Tarbell

Beth Curley likes working with kids. "They react to the camera very differently than adults do," says the 33-year-old producer of the PBS series "Soapbox with Tom Cottle."

They forget it's there. I have never seen an adult forget that they were on camera."

Beth Curley

Curley came up with the idea for the show in 1981, while working as a producer for the Springfield, Mass. PBS station. "I had done a couple of local shows with kids," she recalls, "and I thought, 'Let's try to get something going here.'"

After raising funding from a local private school — "Its headmaster is a staunch believer in teenage issues and concerns" — "Soapbox" was born. This year, prominent psychologist Tom Cottle joined the series as host.

Miss Curley and her assistant handpick the show's core group of 25 to 35 teens, on the show, the teens have a chance to discuss such taboo topics as sexuality, depression, drugs and drinking.

Their studio taped conversations (yes, they sit on actual soapboxes) are interspersed with field footage of other teens talking candidly about the same topics.

What does Miss Curley look for when selecting teens for the show? "We don't want kids who feel the same way about everything," she says. "We don't want all the top kids in the class. We look for as much diversity as possible, and try for a balance between boys and girls, minorities and whites and kids from urban, suburban and rural areas."

Miss Curley recently taped a show about runaways that will air in September on the 33 PBS stations that broadcast "Soapbox." She has no qualms about calling it "the most compelling Soapbox" to date.

Tom talked to three runaways," Miss Curley explains, "and he just let them tell what happened to them. They talked about prostitution, drugs, crime, they talked about being physically and emotionally abused at home. It's very powerful looking at their faces as they tell about things that kids shouldn't have to go through."

This show is something every kid can relate to," Miss Curley adds. "Either they'll think, 'Wow, I've got it good,' or they'll know somebody who doesn't have it so good at home."

Bill Hayes keeps busy by touring in musicals

By Kimberly Redmond

Whatever happened to Bill Hayes, the actor who portrayed Hope Williams' father on "Days of Our Lives"? I always enjoyed his performances and I miss him. — M.H., Fresno, Calif.

Hayes and Susan Seaforth Hayes, the actor's real-life wife who also played his "Days" wife, were written out of the soap nearly three years ago. Miss Hayes now portrays Joanna Manning on "The Young and the Restless," while her husband has been concentrating on musical theater. Since leaving "Days," Hayes has been on the road appearing in such musicals as "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever," "Song of Norway" and "Guys and Dolls."

During an episode of "Wild Side," an actress named Meg Ryan was in the cast. The actress looked familiar, wasn't she on a soap? — G.G., Trenton, N.J.

For several years, Miss Ryan portrayed Betsy Andropoulos on "As the World Turns." She left the soap to pursue other acting jobs, including "Charles in Charge" and "Wildside."

Dame Judith Anderson

Please give me some information on Dame Judith Anderson, the actress who portrays teisty Miss Lockridge on NBC's "Santa Barbara." — K.R., Oshkosh, Wis.

Dame Judith is regarded as one of the most respected actresses in American theatre. She left her native Australia in 1918 to pursue a theatrical career, and has had leading roles in productions of "Macbeth," "Dear Brutus," "Mourning Becomes Electra" and "Medea." She's also appeared in such film classics as "Rebecca," "Laura" and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." She won an Emmy in 1954 for her performance in the Hallmark Hall of Fame production of "Macbeth." Dame Judith was knighted in 1960 by Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace.

THURSDAY

No, it's not Telly Savalas' sister. It's simply Camila Ashland as she appears in "The Belles of St. Clete's," the episode of "Cheers" airing Thursday, Sept. 5 on NBC. (Rebroadcast)

(Casting: reserve the right to make last minute changes.)

MONDAY

Yes, even Captain Kangaroo makes mistakes. You can catch his blunders on "TV's Bloopers & Practical Jokes," airing Monday, Sept. 2 on NBC. And don't be surprised if Mr. Moose pops up. (Rebroadcast)

Actress tries keeping trim without dieting

By Renee Ross

Though she's just 19, Danielle von Zerneck is an old troupier when it comes to the realities of show business. "I trained in gymnastics since I was 8, and quickly learned how scary competition can be," explains Miss von Zerneck, who makes her screen debut in the current film, "My Science Project."

Danielle von Zerneck

"People say acting is a tense profession, but the tension in serious gymnastics is incredible," adds Miss von Zerneck, who for two years portrayed teenage runaway Linda Swenson on "General Hospital."

The actress dreams of becoming a professional acrobat, but she's not sure if it's a good idea. "I don't want to be a circus performer," she says. "I want to be a professional actress."

Miss von Zerneck says she's attempted to combat occasional overindulgences by dieting. "I went through a phase where it seemed like I tried every diet," she laughs. "But I'm trying to stop dieting because it doesn't seem good for your body to keep doing that."

her current film role reflects the problems many teens face today.

"I play Ellie, an awkward girl who wears glasses and a retainer. She thinks she needs experience with boys and decides to ask one out. I don't think I ever would have been so daring," the actress adds, "but I like the fact that Ellie sees her faults and tries to do something about them. I think every teenager has the ability to do that."

Miss von Zerneck admits she and her character have a lot in common. "Ellie's awkwardness was like mine in the 7th grade," explains the actress.

"I was very muscular with short hair and braces. I looked like a boy. In fact, that's why I love gymnastics."

She now stays in shape with other workouts. "I do weight training with a coach three times a week," she says. "And in the summer I love to swim."

Facing the camera means piling on thick makeup, and Miss von Zerneck knows that can mean misery for the skin. "I get a facial once a month and don't wear makeup if I'm not working. I don't care how I look," she says, "because it's important to let your skin breathe."

Like many other people, Miss von Zerneck says she's attempted to combat occasional overindulgences by dieting. "I went through a phase where it seemed like I tried every diet," she laughs. "But I'm trying to stop dieting because it doesn't seem good for your body to keep doing that."

I'm going to see a nutritionist and work with him to find a sensible eating balance. I think balance is the real key to good health."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By Val Carey

I used to watch "Dallas" every week, but since the producers axed Patrick Duffy, I will never set foot in Southfork again. One suggestion, however, if Bobby's living returns, why not give the role to Bert Convy? — E.P., South Portland, Me.

It's an interesting idea, E.P., but you've got to keep in mind that the "Dallas" scripts for next season have already been written. Thus, it would be nearly impossible to disinter Bobby. But who knows? Television is such a capricious medium, maybe Bobby will be brought back. As for suggesting Bert Convy, nice idea. Why not write to the show's executive producer and tell him yourself? Address your letters to Philip Capice, Lorimar Productions, 3970 Overland Ave., Culver City, CA 90230.

Bert Convy

Is Ken Wahl related to Sam Elliott? The actors look so much alike! — S.E., Frewsburg, N.Y.

Both men may be husky actors, S.E., but that's all they have in common. They are not related.

Malcolm-Jamal Warner

Every Thursday, my lite stops for 30 minutes as I watch "The Cosby Show." The show is great, the cast superb. Especially like Malcolm-Jamal Warner, the actor who plays Theodore on the ABC series. What can you tell me about him? — S.K., Santa Rosa, Calif.

Malcolm-Jamal Warner, who was born on Aug. 18, 1970 in Jersey City, N.J., grew up in Los Angeles. Though he has made guest appearances on "Fame," "Matt Houston" and "Call to Glory," "The Cosby Show" marks the actor's first regular series role. Warner has also appeared in various stage productions, including "In Command of the Children," co-starring "Facts of Life" regular Kim Fields and "Alice Is That You."

For his work in "The Cosby Show," Warner received the Youth in Film Award for Best Young Supporting Actor. He was also voted Actor of the Year by the Community Development Youth Ensemble of Newburgh, N.Y.

Shades of Auntie Mame! Katherine Helmond stars as the unpredictable Mona Robinson in "Who's the Boss?" airing Tuesday, Sept. 3 on ABC. (Rebroadcast)

No Regrets

Frank and Blanche find the "senior citizen" scene a mighty happy one. Not just because of discounts and other thoughtful breaks. Rather it's that with children grown-up and grandchildren brightening every visit they can look back over the years with no regrets.

Maybe that's an exaggeration. Things didn't always work out right. Dreams had to confront reality. But in the deepest relationships of life Frank and Blanche truly have no regrets.

They're convinced the key has been Faith. Family life was built on a religious foundation. Children had the vital blessings of spiritual training at Church. Now the grandchildren are growing up with deep-rooted convictions.

Accept the Lord's help in raising your family!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

—BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE—
FINDING YOUR PLEOMA
 September 1, 1985

Background Scripture: Colossians 1:10-11
 Devotional Reading: Colossians 1

Do you ever feel that you may be missing out on something in life? Perhaps there is something specific that has—and maybe always will—eluded your grasp. Or it may simply be a gnawing feeling that there is "something more" to life and you don't know what it is. It might be physical, material, intellectual, artistic, aesthetic, spiritual—or maybe something else, indefinable.

There are times when I may say to my wife, Valerie: "I'm hungry for something—but I don't know what." So it may be that, quite beyond the physical appetite, we are all "hungry for something," yet "don't know what." Our stomachs may be full, but there is a vague sense of an empty corner that cries out for filling.

THE PLEOMA

People often attempt to fill this emptiness with things that cram our stomachs and overload our lives—yet still leave us feeling less than full. Food, power, fast cars, drink, sex, possessions, success, gadgets, perfectionism—yes, even religion—may leave us feeling that there must be something more.

I have said "even religion" because religion may not always be spiritual. Religion may simply be the means we use to enable ourselves to live as we wish: following our rules, holding on to our prejudices and ascribing this lifestyle to divine inspiration. But our religion may not bring us the spiritual pleroma we are seeking and without which we feel incomplete and empty.

But what is this pleroma?

Pleroma is a Greek word which is not easily translated into English because there is no one English term that catches its meaning. As it is used in the New Testament, pleroma can mean "that which fills," "the sum total," "completion," and "completing." In the English translations it is generally rendered as "fullness." Thus, in Colossians 1:19, Paul says of Christ, "For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell." And in 2:9 he says again: "For in him the whole fullness of deity dwells bodily"—which I. B. Phillips renders: "It is in him that God gives a full and complete Timmy Wayne Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gordon, Route 3, Deer Park, has joined the United States Navy Delayed Entry Program and is slated to begin recruit training at San Diego, Calif., next June.

Following basic, Gordon will attend Machinery Repairman School here he will be familiarized with machines, shop tools, equipment and methods used on the job. Young men and women in this profession overhaul and repair auxiliary machinery, operate machine shop equipment such as lathes, drill presses, shapers, bench grinders, milling machines, boring mills and power hacksaws, work with precision measuring instruments such as micrometers, depth gauges, verniers, calipers, gauge blocks, protractors, dial indicators and engrave metal and other materials.

Gordon will earn college credits toward an associate's or bachelor's degree in the Navy's College Program. He is a senior this year at Southern High School.

Cadet Carlos M. Powell, son of Carlos L. and Lenora Powell, Route 2, Oakland, received practical work in military leadership at the U.S. Army ROTC advanced camp, Fort Riley, Kan.

The six-week camp, attended by cadets normally between their third and fourth year of college, includes instruction in communications, management, and survival training.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from college results in a commission as a second lieutenant in either the U.S. Army, Army Reserve, or National Guard for the cadet.

Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice Tammy K. Jenkins, daughter of Charles L. and Pauline F. Jenkins, Mount Storm, W.Va., was graduated from Coast Guard recruit training.

Jenkins attended the eight-week training at the Coast Guard Training Center, Cape May, N.J. Among the subjects she studied were first aid, Coast Guard history and seamanship, communications, damage control firefighting and physical conditioning.

A 1980 graduate of Elk Garden High School, she joined the Coast Guard in May 1985.

Marine Pfc. Joseph A. Jenkins, son of James R. and Brenda C. Jenkins, Friendsville, recently reported for duty with 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

He joined the Marine Corps in June 1984.

Pvt. Stephen V. Moyer, son of John H. and Donna R. Moyer, Rural Route 1, Oakland, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

His is a 1983 graduate of Greenbrier East High School, Lewisburg, W. Va.

Fred A. Bell III, son of Fred and Joyce Bell of Oakland, recently returned home from McClellan Air Force Base in California, where he was an undergraduate in advanced navigational training in the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps.

Fred is a junior at West Virginia University where he is in the R.O.T.C. program, and is majoring in mathematics. After graduation from WVU he will serve in the Air Force as a navigator.

Fred graduated from Southern High School in 1982, where he was listed among the Distinguished American High School Students and Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Pvt. Rodney C. Swiger, son of Connie and Ernest B. Swiger, Rural Route 1, Oakland, has completed the tactical communications systems course at Fort Sill, Okla.

During the course, students were taught basic electronics, receiver and transmitter repair for tactical communications.

He is a 1984 graduate of Southern High School.

Airman 1st Class Donald E. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Davis, Rural Route 219, Accident, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force communications operations specialist course at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas.

Graduates of the course learned how to operate communication systems and analyze the effectiveness of communication security measures. In addition, they earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Davis will now serve in South Korea with the 6903rd Electronic Security Group.

His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reed, Rural Route 110, Accident.

The airman is a 1979 graduate of Northern High School.

Army Private Jeffery L. Bowman, son of Clarence E. Bowman, Route 3, Deer Park, and Nancy J. Willoughby, Route 1, Bowling Green, Kent, has completed the heavy wheeled-vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the course, students were instructed to perform maintenance and assist in the repair of heavy duty vehicles and associated equipment.

He is a 1980 graduate of Southern High School.

Second Lt. Jerry W. Hanlin, son of Arthur J. and Letha R. Hanlin, Route 1, Oakland, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force information systems staff officer course at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

During the course, students were taught to develop and supervise computer programs and operations for administering and managing the worldwide data automation program. Hanlin is scheduled to serve with the 9th Tactical Intelligence Squadron at Shaw Air Force Base, S.C.

He is a 1983 graduate of West Virginia University, Morgantown.

George and Joy White, Oakland, recently attended the graduation of their son, David Tressler, from the Great Lakes Naval Training Command, near Chicago, Ill.

While there they visited with Morgan Uphold who is also a recent graduate.

Both David and Morgan will be attending "A" School at the Service School Command at Great Lakes for the next 26 weeks.

Housing Policy Commission Sets Public Meeting

Western Maryland residents will have a chance to discuss solutions for regional housing problems at a state housing meeting to be held in Hagerstown.

The Maryland Housing Policy Commission will hold a public meeting on Thursday, September 5, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Classroom Building, C11, of Hagerstown Junior College, 751 Robinwood Drive, Hagerstown.

"Our recent report documented the serious housing problems in Maryland," said Commission Chairman Robert E. Hecht, Sr. "The public meeting in Hagerstown is part of an ongoing effort to solve these problems with the help of concerned people throughout the state. We invite innovative proposals suggesting how the state can provide more affordable housing."

Governor Harry Hughes has asked Thomas H. Maddux, Secretary of Economic and Community Development, to develop a Housing Initiative for his consideration. The Housing Policy Commission will be working in conjunction with the department to develop the recommendations for the governor's initiative. The governor will evaluate the recommendations and submit his proposal to the 1986 session of the Maryland General Assembly. The ideas discussed at the Housing Policy Commission meeting will be considered by them and the Department of Economic and Community Development as the Housing Initiative is developed.

To help guide the discussion, participants are requested to complete a questionnaire outlining their housing proposals. For additional information about the public meeting, or to obtain the questionnaire, call (301) 269-2468.

The Maryland Housing Policy Commission was created in 1983 to develop a state housing plan and to recommend ways for the Department of Economic and Community Development to improve housing opportunities for low and moderate-income residents of Maryland.

Members of the commission include 12 representatives of the building industry, lending institutions, local officials, state legislators, civic groups and the general public. The Commission chairman, Robert E. Hecht, Sr., is chairman of the board and president of Baltimore Federal Financial FSA.

Bell Earns Degree, Accepts Position

Samuel C. Bell, a 1981 graduate of Southern High School, recently received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of Maryland School of Engineering, College Park. He has accepted a position at the Naval Ordnance Station at Indian Head.

Bell is the son of Howard and Carolyn Bell, Underwood Road.

Diabetes Chapters Plan Volunteer Training Session

The Garrett County and Allegany County Chapters of the American Diabetes Association have joined with Allegany Community College, Cumberland, to offer a volunteer training program on September 7, from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., at Frostburg Village Nursing Home.

This program is not only for residents of Western Maryland, but also for citizens of and nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania. It will prepare them to be skilled volunteers and it could also be a first step toward a possible career in health care work, according to Terry Knotts, president of the Garrett County Chapter. "The skills developed by American Diabetes Association volunteers (leadership, counseling skills, trainer skills, etc.) are in demand by many health care organizations and by a wide variety of other employers," Knotts said.

"The American Diabetes Association needs a wide variety of trained volunteers. Many important volunteer jobs require very little commitment of time. Some volunteer work involves only an hour or two each month, and some volunteer jobs can be done at home." Volunteers are needed to help conduct diabetes screening clinics where blood-sugar levels are tested to determine which individuals may be diabetic and need to see a physician for further testing. Speakers are needed to explain diabetes to community groups. Trained volunteers are needed to counsel diabetics and families of diabetics. Especially needed are volunteers to work with diabetic children or teenagers. As with any program, volunteers are needed who can help raise the funds that local Chapters need in order to serve the community.

The September 7 program will include instruction in the areas of patient services, public education, and fundraising. Part of the patient services session will involve learning how to conduct diabetes screening tests. There will also be discussion sessions concerning support groups, special fundraising projects, and other topics. Diabetic and nondiabetic refreshments will be available and Frostburg Village Nursing Home will provide lunch at cost.

The registration fee is $1.10 for Garrett County residents and $1.20 for residents of other states. Registration forms may be obtained from the Center for Continuing Education at Allegany Community College. Individuals lacking transportation should call 724-7700, extension 278 or 280, as early as possible to arrange for registration forms to be mailed to them. Registration deadline is August 30. Transportation to and from Frostburg Village Nursing Home may be arranged by calling 334-1424 no later than August 30.

Knotts To Speak To Allegany Co. Diabetes Group

The September meeting of the Allegany County Chapter, American Diabetes Association, will be held on September 4, at 7:00 p.m. at Parkside Elementary School. Guest speaker will be Terry Knotts, president of the Garrett County Chapter.

Parkside Elementary is on Parkside Blvd. which intersects with National Highway one block east of LaVale Fire Station Number 2. The school has handicapped parking and easy access for wheelchairs.

The subject of the September 4 meeting will be a continuation of "Coping with Diabetes." The meeting will begin with a new film produced by the American Diabetes Association, "The Journey and the Dream." Following the film, Knotts will discuss why many people find diabetes difficult to accept, and why they sometimes feel unable to cope, psychologically, with the fact that they, or a family member, have diabetes.

Knotts is also a diabetes counselor at the Garrett Medical Group in Oakland. He has been a Type 1 diabetic since his teens, so has experienced the problems of being an active teenager with diabetes. He also has faced the problems of marriage and childbearing, finding and holding jobs, and all the other tasks of everyday life that are made more difficult and more complicated by diabetes.

At the August meeting, Patricia Stevens discussed the special problems that her family has encountered in coping with diabetes. Of her four children, two developed diabetes, both at age 12. At the September meeting, Patricia's husband, John Stevens, will continue the discussion of how the Stevens family has coped with diabetes. He will also share a number of suggestions for other families with members who are diabetic.

"Blood-glucose monitors will be available at all Chapter meetings so persons may have their blood sugar level tested, without charge."

All meetings are open to the public. For more information persons may contact Elvis Jones at 222 McCulloh Street, Frostburg, MD 21532; telephone 689-6042.

WVU Arts Series Schedule Noted

Trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie, who helped usher in the bebop era in jazz, will be the first of eight attractions in the West Virginia University Arts Series during the 1985-86 academic year.

Gillespie will kick off the series with a concert on September 8. Other attractions will include:

Violinist Stephanie Chase, to appear with the University-Community Symphony Orchestra on October 10; The Acting Company presenting Shakespeare's "As You Like It" on October 15; the Nebraska Theatre Caravan's staging of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" on December 11; the Soviet Emigre Orchestra on February 25; the Washington Ballet on March 3; jazz pianist Marian McPartland on April 13; and the New York Gilbert and Sullivan Players performing "The Pirates of Penzance" on April 22.

All performances will be at 8:15 p.m. in the Creative Arts Center Concert Theatre.

Season tickets, which are processed in order of their receipt, are $35.00 each for faculty, staff, senior citizens or children under 12. Students subscriptions are $25.00 and the general public $45.00 each.

Tickets also may be purchased at varying prices for individual performances by calling 293-4406 or 293-3919 about three weeks in advance of the performance date. Those unsold may be purchased at the Creative Arts Center box office at 7 p.m. the night of the performance only.

Teachers Attend Training Institute

Three members of the Garrett County Teachers Association participated in a state-wide Leadership Training Institute sponsored by the Maryland State Teachers Association during the week of August 12-16.

The purpose of the training institute was to present local leaders with the most recent information about current issues in education, as well as increase skills to serve as officers. Those attending had a choice of classes about such topics as child abuse and neglect, computers, political action, public relations, parent conferencing, bargaining, volunteers, the Hatch amendment, grievance processing, teacher certification, and career counseling.

In the opening session, MSTA past president, Janice Piccinini, introduced MSTA's new executive director, Michael Butera, who gave the keynote address. The closing session was a breakfast where incoming president, Beverly Stonestreet, was welcomed by the membership.

A request by Ms. Stonestreet that GCTA president, Michael Pula, serve on the finance committee of the Maryland Teachers Association for the 1985-86 term was accepted by Pula.

Margroff Accepted At Fashion School

Jill Margroff, Route #2, Accident, has been accepted at the Fashion Institute of Pittsburgh in the Fashion Merchandising Department. Miss Margroff is a 1985 graduate of Northern High School.

The Fashion Institute of Pittsburgh, a division of the Art Institute of Pittsburgh, is a Design School with an enrollment of almost 2,000 students from the United States and abroad. FIP offers an Associate in Specialized Technology Degree and is accredited by the Accrediting Commission of the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools.

Williams Earns Doctoral Degree

Beverly E. Williams, a resident of Cumberland and Garrett County, was certified a doctor of education April 23 by the faculty of the University of Maryland, College of Education. Her doctoral dissertation was entitled "Senior Nursing Students in the Clinical Setting: an Ethnographic Study."

Dr. Williams, who holds a life certificate in primary education in West Virginia, has also been employed at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, as a staff nurse, a supervisor of pediatrics, and an instructor in anatomy, physiology, and microbiology at the time Sacred Heart Hospital operated a school for practical nursing students.

Dr. Williams and her husband, Dr. Richard J. Williams, are summer residents in the Green Glade area of Deep Creek Lake. She plans to be a freelance writer on the subject of nursing education.

THE 50TH CALLIS REUNION was held Sunday, August 18, at the Loch Lynn Pavilion, with 115 people present. The first reunion, organized by the late Charles Callis, was held at the Hayes Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday, August 18, 1935. The late Callis' grandson, Daniel Callis, was president for the reunion this year. Featured activities were a meal, business meeting, and games for all ages. Present at the reunion were friends and relatives from various states, including California. Pictured above are those who attended the reunion, including several who were present at the first Callis reunion 50 years ago.
